Nixon's The One . . .

Has crime subsided? Has budget been balanced, even once? Have frequency and intensity of strikes diminished? Has inflation slowed down? Have civil disorders ceased? Has poverty disappeared? Has Pueblo steamed home? Have Communist aggressions stopped? Has public confidence in federal government increased? How many Americans are proud to admit they voted for Lyndon Johnson and Hubert Humphrey four years ago.

Nixon offers the only real hope for doing something about the mess this country is in. Wallace tells people what they like and want to hear and tells it in language they understand. But telling it like it is is one thing; doing something to change it is something else.

The only thing that could deny America the change the vast majority cry out for would be support of Wallace at the polls.

No one can logically dispute Nixon's qualifications for the presidency, and if elected he would be backed in Congress by a powerful and well organized party, and could staff his administration with other able and qualified men.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

To The Editor:

Most of us in the County are acquainted with 4-H Club work. We are especially proud of our 4-H'ers during National 4-H Week, October 6 - 12.

The green and white four-leaf clover emblem is appearing in newspapers, in stores, and other public places. Our 500 4-H'ers are a part of a membership of three million boys and girls, and we saluate the work they are doing to make a better America. But our praise cannot end with the members.

We'd like to make sure the adult 4-H'ers, the volunteer leaders, get a well-deserved "pat on the back!". These dedicated Americans give their time and skills not only for 4-H club meetings, but also for project study, for teaching and individual attention to members, demonstration teams, for County Fair exhibits that must be supervised, for recreational projects that are part of a successful 4-H program, and for local, state, and national leader training sessions that help them do a better job.

These are just some of the activities of the volunteer leader and a much longer list could be recited as they devote time and talents in helping the youth of Garrett County and America in developing into mature and stable adults.

To These Volunteer 4-H'ers And Leaders We Salute For: A Job Well Done!

Miss Alice Hevner

Accident School Plans PTA Meet

The Accident Elementary School P.-T. A. will hold its first meeting Monday evening, October 14th, with room visitations starting at 7:30. The general meeting will start at 8:00 o'clock. Glotfelty is the retiring President.

No Turkeys Will Be Released

Banded turkeys being stocked by the Game and Inland Fish Department are not going to be released this year, according to a report prepared by Bernard F. Halla, forest wildlife project leader.

Mr. Halla, who calls the present turkey release program an "economic disaster", says that in 1967, 775 banded turkeys were released by the department. Only 186 bands were returned by hunters, along with 17 unbanded turkeys and two birds bandtd in 1966.

Mr. Halla feels this represents a failure of the game farm turkey to survive after release in the wild.

To counter this, wild turkeys are being trapped in Western and Central Maryland and established on Catoctin Mountain in Frederick County. Later some turkeys will be removed from that range and released in suitable habitat in Western Maryland.

4 Men Sentenced In WV Conspiracy

Special Federal Judge J. Robert Martin handed down sentences last Friday to four men, two of them former West Virginia state officials, convicted on conspiracy charges.

Elkins attorney Bonn Brown and Clarksburg auto dealer Alfred W. Schroath each were sentenced to four years in prison and fined $10,000.

Former State Road commissioner Burl Sawyers was sentenced to two years and fined $5,000 and his former deputy, Vincent Johnkoski, was sentenced to two years and fined $10,000.

The four men, former Gov. W. W. Barron and former Finance Commissioner Truman Gore, were indicted by a federal grand jury on charges of conspiring to commit bribery in the award of state contracts. Barron was acquitted and Gore was dropped as a defendant because his attorney became ill during the trial. Gore remains under indictment.

Martin sentenced the four men after rejecting motions for new trials. All four, who remained free on bond, indicated they would appeal the sentences.

Solons Suggesting Water Authority

The Legislative Council gave unanimous approval yesterday to a bill which will clear the way for construction of the Bloomington Dam on the Potomac river in this county.

The proposed legislation, cleared earlier by the council's Natural Resources committee, would provide for creation of a Maryland Potomac Water Authority to finance the state portion of construction costs for the dam and reservoir.

The bill would permit the authority to charge water users both in Maryland and outside the state to help pay for the project.

The U. S. Congress has authorized construction of the dam by the Corps of Army Engineers, contingent upon plans being completed for provision of the non-federal share of the money.

Delegate J. Glenn Beall, Jr., had introduced legislation at the last session of the General Assembly for the creation of a Maryland Potomac Water Authority. The measure was referred to the Legislative council.

The Natural Resources committee conducted a public hearing in June and there was general agreemen at that time in support of the proposed dam. There was opposition to the Army Engineers' assessment that Maryland should pay 89 percent of the non-federal costs of the dam. It was contended that the District of Columbia, Virginia and West Virginia should pay larger portions of the non-federal costs.

Two Young Men Killed In Crash

Two Beverly, W. Va., young men were killed late Saturday night after the car they were in went out of control on West Virginia route 90, some two miles south of Bayard, and hit a tree.

Raymond Leonard Louk, 21, driver, and Delmas Owen Lambert, 17, died of skull fractures after being thrown from the automobile.

Trooper C. R. Burner, Petersburg detachment of the West Virginia State police, who investigated, said Louk apparently lost control of his automobile while rounding a curve. He said the automobile left the highway, ran through some guard rails, went into a creek and then hit an oak tree.

The wreckage was not discovered until Sunday morning when Bayard city policeman Robert Guthrie, noticed the guard rails torn out.

Louk's body was found about 11 a. m. 45 feet from the car and Lambert's body was discovered a few hours later about 140 feet from the wreckage. The Lambert youth was born in Beverly, son of Dalphin and Donna Alkire Lambert. He is also survived by three brothers and two sisters. WASHINGTON AND Small Business

BY C. WILSON HARDER

Burecucratic Don Quixotes

It would be unfair to compare the Federal Trade Commission with Don Quixote. Unfair to Quixote, that is, because while this worthy was off tilting at windmills, he was not neglecting any duty he was supposed to be performing.

The FTC has again entered the lists to seek new regulations on the advertising of cigarettes, calling for the establishment of greater notices that cigarettte smoking may be hazardous.

Now no matter what is the true situation regarding cigarette smoking, the facts are these. One is that no one so far has taken the position that cigarette smoking is beneficial to health. As a matter of fact, from childhood the lesson is taught that smoking should be refrained from as a bad, harmful habit. In fact, there are many people living today who remember an era when smoking cigarettes was the eighth deadly sin.

But despite this strong position, people continue to smoke, in one of these perverse manifestations of human nature. Likewise, people are quite aware that driving at excessive speeds, or driving while drunk, is hazardous to health, yet thousands of traffic tickets are written every year. No one, since the German philosopher Hegel speaks kindly of war, yet an average of 2,000 Americans a month are being killed in southeast Asia.

Thus for the FTC to emphasize that cigarette smoking is not too desirable is akin to restating the obvious.

But the FTC ring-around-the-rosy involvement with this issue goes deeper than this blatant fact. The FTC is supposed to work for free competition and fairness in the market place. It was never given authority to step into the arena of public morals or habits.

Obviously, enforcing the nation's antitrust laws is a hard, tough grind. It also is bound to make enemies, some of whom apparently have the ear of those who hire and fire the commissioners. Thus, for job security, it is often preferable to branch off into matters which are none of the FTC's business to become involved in what might be called a "safe" issue.

But in doing so, there is flagrant neglect of performing tasks that the FTC is charged with. One current task is issuing regulations on the use of cooperative advertising funds as ordered by the U. S. Supreme Court when it overruled previous FTC regulations on this subject which reflected a fatuous ignorance of the realities of marketing practices.

Proper regulations on the use of cooperative advertising allowances would solve one of the major problems of independent business.

But instead of complying promptly with a Supreme Court order the FTC prefers to fritter away time and money seeking to tell people more strongly what they already know about cigarettes. Next thing the FTC will probably want to do, instead of performing the job it is supposed to do, is issue an endorsement of the Ten Commandments.

UNICEF Day for Oakland Will Be Wednesday, Oct. 23

Plans are underway for the youth of Oakland to join in observing National UNICEF Day. The time for Oakland will be Wednesday, October 23.

Under the auspices of the Oakland Area Council Church Women United, UNICEF Trick or Treaters will visit homes in small supervised groups. Instead of "treats" of candy and apples, these children will ask for pennies, nickels and dimes —money to support the work of the Nobel Peace Prize-winning United Nations Children's Fund.

"UNICEF is assisting over 500 long-range programs in over 100 countries", Mrs. Edward Bowser of CWU said. "This is done with an annual budget equivalent to what is spent on world armament in two hours of one day. Coins collected by the children of Oakland will save children's lives".

The UNICEF Trick or Treaters will be identified by an official collection box: an orange and black container with a small symbol of a mother and child. "Only children carrying this carton will be authorized to collect for UNICEF", the spokesman pointed out. Children or groups interested in participating in the program this year should first have the approval of their parents or advisor and should then contact Mrs. Bowser through their youth leaders.

After the collection, which will be from 6:00 to 8:00 p. m. on October 23, refreshments will be served to the workers at St. Paul's United Methodist Church in Oakland.

Swanton PTA To Meet

The Coldstream Guard, Part I

Part I

Western Maryland history and geography are so closely allied with Edward Braddock and the Seven Years' War that it is almost impossible to separate them. The struggle of the English and French to gain a continent was interwoven with our Appalachian highlands and the first military road ever constructed in America.

The French had upset the balance of power between the two nations in this New World by claiming the territory embraced by the tributaries of the Mississippi River, since their explorer DeSoto, had claimed the entire river valley for France in 1682, naming it Louisiana. The French had subsequently found fur-bearing animals for an extensive trade in Europe, and claimed the Ohio Valley from their headquarters in Canada. They had buried lead plates along the Ohio as proof of their claim, and then had begun to infiltrate. If one looks at the North American map and imagines a huge T, with top bars extending east and west from the Great Lakes to the regions of Oregon and Washington, and the vertical depth extending south through the Ohio Valley to the west, one gains a perspective of the vast extent of French penetration. Another factor which presaged woe was their alliance with most of the Indians, who looked upon the British as trespassers who did not even bother to trap or to donate trinkets to natives.

The English, too had claimed all of the Atlantic seaboard and far inland because an Italian, John Cabot, flying under the English flag, had contacted the coast of North America, and claimed lands for the British. Thus the latter had admitted settlers to the "Big Woods" of the Ohio country, and western Virginia, whose grant from the king had included the sea-to-sea provision, giving it a westward expansion to the Pacific. The English turned out to be the best colonizers, for whole families, and settled farmers at that, prove infinitely superior to a number of rough coureurs de bois, who roved from one trap line to another and emerged only once annually to engage in civilized pursuits.

One road had already been laid to the site of Fort Duquesne, this beginning being made by Chief Nemacolin of the Algonquins and our Oldtown settler, Thomas Cresap. The route west, such as it was, was laid further by the Ohio Company, a group of speculators, George Washington and George Mason among them, who organized in 1747 to develop a large trading enterprise as the settlers populated the West.

At the forks of the Ohio, now the city of Pittsburgh, Washington had observed a well-situated site for a fort commanding the junction of the Allegheny and Monongahela River. After English soldiers had been driven from here in 1754, the invading French proceeded to build their own fort which they named for the Governor General of Canada. It was at this time that Washington, who met the retreating English and built Fort Necessity, was defeated by the oncoming French and turned out of the territory. This caused great alarm among the English subjects, particularly in Virginia, where it was interpreted as an act of war to drive out soldiers by violence, and help was requested from the mother country by Virginia.

So onto the scene stepped General Edward Braddock, who arrived with His Majesty's soldiers at Hampton Roads, Virginia, in February 1855. He had been appointed major general, and had been given the North American command after proving his ability in a distinguished way as a member of the Coldstream Guards, a crack regiment of the king's troops which would compare with the Commandos or Hitler's SS troops in World War II. He had fought in Holland in 1747 and now began a four-part strategy in battle, of which three expeditions became disasters. Perhaps the worst and most infamous was the one in which he lost his own life.

After another year of striving for a more perfect Volkswagen, we bring you the only visible results.

Four nice new shades.

Of course, some people won't be terribly impressed.

The way they see it, we let year after year go by without ever really trying to improve our appearance.

Never a bug with dramatic new tail fins. Never a bug with a revolutionary new grille.

Well, making sensational outside changes just isn't like us. Right from the start we've believed in unsensational inside changes.

Take this year's bug. Nice though all its 13 improvements are, there's not a one you can exactly call the stuff of high drama

Certainly not the new night-and-day inside mirror.

Or the better kind of weather stripping between the engine cover and the body.

Or the new electric rear window defogger.

Or even the new ignition lock that combines with the steering wheel lock.

Over the years, the result of our striving has mostly been little things. 2218 little things to be exact.

But it's the little things that make for perfection.

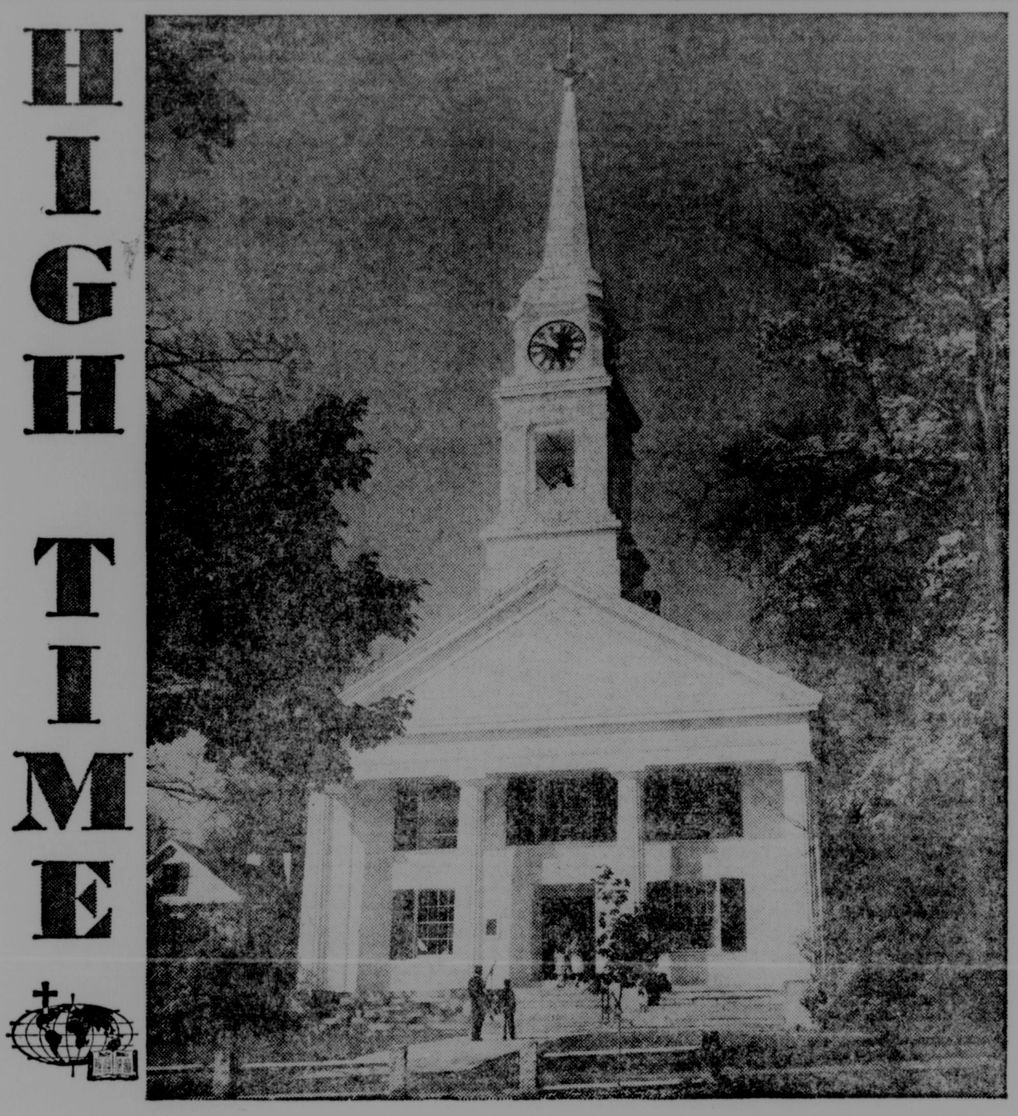
WSCS Meets Thursday

The Women's Society of Christian Service met at the home of Mrs. Alice Rodeheaver on October 3. Mrs. Laura Flanigan led the devotions. Mrs. Mary Rollman had charge of Bible study. The World Day of Prayer was observed.

Following the business session refreshments were served by the hostess.



Holy Communion was observed at the United Methodist church on October 6, with Rev. Canterbury in charge.

Ray Friend, Mrs. Laura Flanigan and Miss Lola King were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Webb, Parsons, W. Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Rodeheaver and family, Mt. Vernon, O., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie M. Rodeheaver.

Mrs. Edward Fitzwater and son Gary, Mrs. Oliver Shaffer and son Barry, were week-end guests of their sister, Mrs. Lois Steyer, of Elkins. They attended the 32nd Mt. State Forest festival.

Peruvian troops overthrew Pres. F. B. Terry in Peru.

HIGH TIME

Ten minutes early! The service of worship begins at eleven, and the Anderson family has had time to saunter a little . . . gratefully aware of the glorious autumn morning and the serene beauty of their church building. Afterwards, like Christians the world over, they will go home refreshed and inspired by God's Word, ready to meet whatever the week may bring.

Turning from self-service to God's service is never easy, but it is immeasurably worthwhile. When our hearts are completely God-centered, all other concerns fall into their proper places . . . and our lives become richer and more significant than our minds can imagine.

"Everything else can wait . . . but your search for God cannot wait." There is still time. Come to church this Sunday and share in the bounty of His strengthening love. It is yours for the asking.

Lesson for October 13, 1968

Background Scripture: Hebrews 4 through 6; 8 through 9.
Devotional Reading: Hebrews 9:11-15.

A certain man carried for years a great burden of guilt for a sin he committed as a young man. Finally, when it seemed he could bear this burden in secret no longer, he confessed it to a friend. It was helpful to be able to share it with his friend, yet he was still not relieved of his terrible guilt. "Why don't you go to your pastor and talk about this?" suggested his friend. "My pastor," the man gasped, "how could he ever understand something like this?"

Rev. Althouse

A higher plane?

Quite obviously, he was one of those persons who conceive of clergymen as a breed of men apart from the rest of the human race. For some reason, these people assume that the minister is not subject to the same temptations and weaknesses that plague other mortals. Thus, they might avoid sharing their troubles with a pastor because they would assume a pastor could hardly understand or appreciate the evil forces at work within "ordinary men." It is not that they would want him to approve of their sins, but to at least understand them.

It is for somewhat similar reasons that some people hold Jesus Christ at an arm's length. Knowing themselves as sinful and weak, they find it impossible to believe that he could comprehend their frailty. Putting him on such a higher plane, they see no possibility of ever being like him and are thus uninspired by his example.

In the early days of the Christian Church there was a heresy very similar to this. Some men in their zeal to exalt Christ emphasized his divinity to the exclusion of his humanity. Christ, they believed, only appeared to be human. Thus their Christ was too different from men to be of any help to them.

In every respect

The New Testament, however, stresses both the divinity and the humanity of Christ. This is evident in the Epistle to the Hebrews where the writer says pointedly: "For we have not a high priest who is unable to sympathize with our weaknesses, but one who in every respect has been tempted as we are, yet without sinning." (Hebrews 4:15 RSV).

If we take this passage seriously, we come face to face with some startling ideas. The writer is saying that Jesus was "tempted in every respect as we are . . ." In other words, sinful thoughts and urges found their way into his life. He felt tempted to sin just as we do. And we must not think that his temptations were trifling either, for the writer says "in every respect" he was "tempted as we are."

This means that some of the same disturbing thoughts and feelings that we know troubled him. Lust, pride, envy, and deceit must have appealed to him as they do to us. Jesus, then, can understand our difficulties with temptation because he himself had to deal with them in his own days as a man among men.

Yet without sinning

Hebrews also tells us: ". . . yet without sinning." Though Jesus felt the urge to sin — just as we do — he successfully withstood those urges and refused to let them control his life. Like us, he could not keep these sinful urges from coming into his mind and heart, but he could refuse to give in to them.

The sin is not in being tempted, but in entertaining the temptation and holding on to it once it has come to us. As the old saying goes, we cannot prevent the birds from flying over our heads, but we can keep them from building nests in our hair. Jesus was tempted but he did not succumb to his temptations. That is why he is so qualified to be our mediator, our high priest.

He bore what we bear so that we might achieve what he achieved. Like us, he was tempted. Like him, we can be victors over our temptations.

RAW SURFACE WATER IS NOT SAFE TO DRINK

It is no longer considered safe to drink raw surface water from either lakes or streams. Civilization, with its potential contamination, has invaded even the wilderness area.

When traveling distances from approved public water supplies, it is wise to have a filled Thermos or canteen. For an emergency use, two drops of Tincture of Iodine in a pint of water, left to stand for a half hour before drinking is safe. Easier to use is a product we carry called Halazone. One tablet purifies a pint of water. Explorers use them.

Events Above The Mountain Top

By Paul S. Frank Jr.

October 10 - 16

There are elevent hours and twenty-four minutes of daylight today, but only eleven hours and nine minutes of daylight next Wednesday. The sun rises at 7:23 a. m. today and sets at 6:47 p. m. On the sixteenth sunrise is at 7:29 a. m. while sunset is at 6:38 p. m.

Friday finds the moon at its apogee at noon. This is the farthest that the moon will get from the earth this month, a distance of 251,700 miles. On Monday the moon will be passing through its last quarter at 11:24 a. m. During the week the moon will rise around midnight.

Four planets may be visible to the unaided eye this week. Mercury is directly between the earth and the sun on Tuesday at 11:00 a. m. Of course, Mercury is hidden in the brilliance of the sun. Saturn will rise at sunset on Tuesday. It is 774,600,000 miles from earth at that time. Venus sets about an hour after the sun. Mars rises about three hours before the sun. Jupiter rises only two hours before the sun. Venus and Jupiter may be invisible to Garrett Countians since we do not have a flat horizon. The mountains may hide them.

The constellation following Sagittarius in the Zodiac is Capricornus. It is midway across the southern sky when Deneb, the northernmost star in the summer triangle, is overhead. This constellation has no conspicuous stars nor does it have a definite figure, which can be described. The sun is in the direction of this constellation from the end of January until the middle of February.

Today the Allegany County Outdoor School studies the northern skies in the science center.

The Highlanders were even with the Parsons Panthers with eight first downs each but long runs by Parsons decided the contest which Parsons won 26 to 6.

Steve McDonald and Frank Watring scored two touchdowns each in sparking the Panthers to their victory over Southern last Friday night at Oakland on Parents' Night.

In recording their fourth win of the season against two setbacks the Tucker countians scored all their points in the first three quarters. McDonald started the scoring parade with a 74-yard touchdown gallop in the first period and made it 12-0 later in the same quarter by plunging over from the one. A pass and a run for the conversion failed.

Frank Satring dashed 35 yards for the third score in the second quarter and Simmons ran the extra point. In the third period Watring thrilled the crowd with an 85-yard dash to paydirt and Wayne passed to Smith for the conversion.

Southern's score was registered in the third period when Harold Cannon skirted end for the final five yards. An attempt to run the point failed.

The game was played in cool, crisp weather and attracted a good sized crowd.

Halfback Steve McDonald was the game's outstanding player. The loss was the second for Southern against three victories. Terra Alta and Southern will clash at Oakland on Friday night in the first Turkey Bowl game, at 8 o'clock. The game originally had been arranged to be played at Terra Alta, but the change was made on account of the Turkey Festival.

25 Are Killed On State Highways

Twenty-five persons were killed on Maryland highways last week, according to the weekly survey published by the State Police. Eleven of those killed were drivers, thirteen were passengers, and one was a pedestrian. Alcohol was a contributing factor in five of the deaths, speed in eighteen, and "driver error" in all but one.

"During the past week fatal accidents averaged almost four a day", noted Lt. Col. George E. Davidson, Deputy Superintendent of the State Police. "Two of the accidents resulted in three deaths each, and three accidents took the lives of two each. Of the twenty-five deaths, nineteen occurred at night. Speeding and driver error were present in all but one of the accidents.

"Until the operators of motor vehicles accept the responsibility of keeping their cars under control, this "slaughter', we fear, will continue".

Garrett Summer Theatre Alumna

E. J. Peaker, co-star with Robert Morse in the new Tuesday night television show, "That's Life", played to audiences several years ago at the Garrett County Playhouse on Deep Creek Lake.

Miss Peaker started in the production of "Gigi", at the playhouse, in which a Keyser girl, Mrs. Elrose Tibbetts Smith, then of Piedmont, played the supporting role of the maid. In reviews of the play Miss Peaker's performance was described as "a joy to behold".

Miss Peaker went on to TV stardom. Mrs. Smith, who is a niece of Mrs. Laura Kelly, of Deep Creek Lake, provided the information about Miss Peaker. She was a Deb star on TV for 1966. She also was in the movie, "Bye Bye Birdie", and was often seen in "Occasional Wife", on TV last season. She now has the female lead in "That's Life".

Mrs. Smith is now a member of Bruct High school faculty as an English teacher.

Before you buy any Color TV,

give Philco Color TV the Face Test

Model 6650WA
23" picture measured diagonally.
295 sq.in. picture

How to give THE FACE TEST:

1. Look closely at some faces on the screen. Are they too red? Too green? Philco's special color circuit produces a wider range of flesh tones. It catches the subtle shades of color that make faces more life-like.
2. Try the tint control. Do the faces jump to violent red or green? If so, you'll have a hard time adjusting that set. Philco's color circuitry provides a wider range of flesh colors—gives you room to adjust skin tones more accurately.

Philco gets the faces right. The rest is easy.

Now with Philco Tuning Eye plus A.C.T. (Auto-lock Channel Tuning) Now you can fine tune Philco Color TV in an instant. Just turn the tuning dial until the lighted Tuning Eye narrows and flick the A.C.T. switch. Picture and sound come in sharp and clear every time.

PROCLAMATION OF THE GOVERNOR OF MARYLAND DIRECTING THE PUBLICATION OF BILLS PROPOSING AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION OF MARYLAND

WHEREAS, at its regular session of 1967, the General Assembly enacted Chapters 245 and 474 proposing amendments to the State Constitution; and

WHEREAS, at its regular session of 1968, the General Assembly enacted Chapter 617, proposing an amendment to the State Constitution; and

WHEREAS, it is the duty of the Governor, under Section 1 of Article XIV of the Constitution, to order the publication of the bills proposing said amendments in advance of the General Election of November 5th, 1968; and

WHEREAS, there will be presented on the ballot at said election the following proposed amendments to the Constitution for adoption or rejection by the voters:

CHAPTER 245

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Article III of the Constitution of Maryland, title "Legislative Department," by adding new Section 40D thereto, to follow immediately after Section 40C thereof, providing for an optional procedure for the acquisition of land and interest in land by the Board of County Commissioners for Prince George's County for the construction or extension of county roads and streets, providing for a contingency by which this amendment may be void and of no further effect and providing for the submission of this amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for their adoption or rejection.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, (Three-fifths of all the Members elected to each of the two Houses concurring), That the following new Section 40D be and it is hereby proposed as an amendment to Article III of the Constitution of Maryland, title "Legislative Department," to follow immediately after Section 40C thereof, if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State as herein provided, to become a part of the Constitution of Maryland.

The General Assembly shall enact no law authorizing private property to be taken for public use without just compensation, to be agreed upon between the parties or awarded by a jury, being first paid or tendered to the party entitled to such compensation, except that where such property, located in Prince George's County, is in the judgment of the Board of County Commissioners of Prince George's County needed for the construction or extension of county roads and streets. The General Assembly may provide that such property, except a building occupied as a dwelling, may be taken immediately upon payment therefor by the condemning authority to the owner or owners thereof or into the Court to the use of the person or persons entitled thereto, such amount as the condemning authority shall estimate to be the fair value of said property, provided such legislation requires that the condemning authority's estimate be not less than the appraised value of the property being taken as evaluated by at least one qualified appraiser, whose qualifications have been accepted by a Court of Record of this State, and also requires the payment of any further sum that may subsequently be awarded by a jury. This section, if adopted by the voters in the year 1968, at the time it becomes effective, is void and of no further effect if the voters of the State prior thereto have adopted a revision of the Constitution of Maryland proposed by a Constitutional Convention.

SEC. 2. And be it further enacted, That the aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of this State shall, at the next general election, to be held in this State in the year 1968, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters thereof for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of this State, and at the said general election, the vote on the said proposed amendment shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For Constitutional Amendment" and "Against Constitutional Amendment," as now prescribed by law, and immediately after said election, due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment, as directed by said Article 14 of the Constitution, and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article 14.

BAND INSTRUMENT rental and purchase plan—It is true, Barbera Music Center does not have a representative calling on your school to sell or rent an instrument, but we do have a plan which is even better. If you come to our store in Keyser for a band instrument purchase, will give you more than a commission of the amount (20%) normally given to a salesman. Be your own salesman and save money. We have seven major brand names of band instruments: Conn, Bach, Olds, Buescher, Holton, LeBlanc and Slingerland drums. We also carry instruments of lesser priced brands for the beginning band students. Instrument prices start at $89.95 less 20%. Glenn Beall faces the issue:

"Many of our cities have been torn apart by tension and violence, by rising crime rates and by disregard for law and order. While we must recognize and meet the needs of our people, this must be done solely within the framework of democracy and the laws upon which it is based."

THE REPUBLICAN

A Great Start . . .

Garrett County's first Autumn Glory Turkey Festival truly had a great beginning, due in large measure to members of the Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion council, most all other local organizations, and many individuals.

The Saturday program was easily the most outstanding, although there were interesting events on the other days. The parade certainly topped all other parades ever held in Oakland, and the smoothness of its progress through the streets of Oakland was due to the effectiveness of the committee in keeping the participants moving.

Of course there were some bugs which must be ironed out, and they will be before the next one rolls around. But those in charge were enthusiastic about its reception and deeply grateful to the many hundreds who cooperated fully.

Most festivals start in a modest way. The ones at Elkins, Kingwood and Meyersdale were no exception, but look at them now. There is no reason why the Annual Turkey Festival will not grow immensely during the next few years if the enthusiasm of the residents remains high, and there is little likelihood that it will not do so.

So our hats are off this week to all who had any part in making our first festival successful.

"Mac" Mathias urged citizens attending the Republican dinner on Monday evening to vote for the Republican candidates in the November 5 election, to prevent any chance of the election being decided by the House of Representatives, and to insure a change for the better at the federal level. On the right, in the photo, is Lewis R. Jones, Oakland attorney, who was master of ceremonies.

Overflow Group Hears Mathias, Glenn Beall, Jr.

Republican Committee Is Sponsor Of Dinner At Northern Monday

An overflow crowd, 287 persons, to be exact, gathered at Northern High School near Accident on Monday evening for the Republican dinner sponsored by the Republican State Central committee, to hear Rep. Charles McC. Mathias, candidate for the United States Senate, and Delegate J. Glenn Beall Jr., candidate for the Congressional seat vacated by Mathias.

Both talks were brief but hammered effectively for the new leadership necessary if the problems of war, crime, taxes and inflation were to show any improvement. "The country is hungering for new leadership", Mathias told the enthusiastic gathering.

Mathias touched on the cost of living which had risen over 4 percent during the past year and how inflation had eaten up all the wage gains made in the past three years. He called for a leadership which would cut spending and provide sensible economic policies.

Concerning the war in South Vietnam he pointed out it was the longest American war in history, even exceeding the Revolutionary war, with over 28,000 American men killed by enemy action and the cost being $30 billion per year and $80 million per day, more than the cost of the entire proposed Bloomington dam.

He also touched on the 16 percent increase in nationwide crime with Maryland the fourth highest in serious crimes and

Jimmy Currence Places First In Fiddling Contest

Jimmy Currence, Collier, W. Va., placed first in the Maryland State Fiddlers' Contest held Saturday evening as part of the first Autumn Glory Turkey Festival in Oakland.

Along with the $150 first place prize money, Mr. Currence won the opportunity to appear on the "Big Country" jamboree on WWVA television, Wheeling, W. Va.

Second place winner was a Parsons resident, Jimmy Walker, who took $100 in prize money. A Garrett County man, Milton DeWitt, Sang Run, placed third after a three-way tie was broken. His cash prize amounted to $50.

The music during the contest was picked up by three radio stations in the vicinity, WMSG, Oakland; WUOK, Cumberland, and WCST, Berkeley Springs, which carried coverage as far as the Clarksburg and Hagerstown areas.

Jimmy Currence, who had just taken first place the previous Saturday in a fiddling contest in Elkins, played "Mockingbird" as his winning selection; Jimmy Walker fiddled "Black Mountain Rag", and Milton DeWitt won third place with "German Waltz".

Twenty-five contestants took part in the event.

Week's Weather Brings Both Sunny And Cloudy Days

The weather picture for the week showed an unsettled pattern for the area, with generally warmer temperatures noted especially in the mornings.

Last Thursday had showers throughout the day, with a high of only 57 following an 8 a. m. reading of 50. Friday was clear and warmer, although Saturday once again brought clouds over the mountaintop.

However, only a few showers were seen Saturday, despite the clouds, and the sun did manage to make an appearance around 5:30 p. m.

Cloud-covered skies started off the day again Sunday, but the clouds soon made way for sun and warming temperatures. High for the day was in the 70's.

Both Monday and Tuesday mornings brought soupy fog to the area, with poor visibility on nearly all roads. Monday remained slightly overcast all day, with a high of 72, while Tuesday had sunny skies following the morning fog. Seventy-five was the high noted Tuesday.

The mercury stood at 51 degrees at 8 a. m. Wednesday, and rose steadily to a peak of 71 before dropping off in the mid-afternoon. The day was sunny at first, with clouds later appearing. Thursday dawned with sunny skies, and a temperature reading of 58. The mercury rose to 64 by 8:45.

AWARDED FIRST PLACE among commercial floats in Saturday's Autumn Glory parade was the First National Bank of Oakland entry. Riding aboard the float were Mary Ellen Silber, Garrett County Farm Queen 1968; Debbie DeWitt, Vicki Teets, Joyce Bishoff, Diana Cropp, Sally Sisler and Lois Winters.

The Republicans are more numerous in all but two polling places, the exceptions being district 9, Johnson, and district 13, Kitzmiller.

Some of the larger gains were in No. 1, 15; No. 6, 13; No. 7, 40; No. 10, 13; 14-1, 16; 14-3, 24; and 16, 37.

A breakdown of the figures by districts is being published in this week's issue of The Republican.

Garrett County's 1967 taxable net income jumped over $1 million since 1966, according to figures released by Louis L. Goldstein, comptroller of the treasury.

The county's taxable net income for 1967 totaled $13,773,390, $1,693,987 more than the 1966 net income. Garrett County's returns contributed .23 of one percent to the Maryland state total of $6,114,511,506 in 1967 net income.

The state experienced an overall gain of 15.8 per cent in returns for 1967 as compared to 1966, with Garrett County collecting 14 per cent more than in 1966.

A part of the gain in net taxable income is attributable to taxation of capital gains, which since adoption of the Federal adjusted gross income base in 1967, must be included in the Maryland return.

Montgomery county, with $1,270,070,942 taxable net income, ranked number one, Somerset county number 24 among the counties and Baltimore City. Somerset had $12,867,101 in taxable income.

First Festival Parade Turnout Overwhelming

Viewers Of Last Saturday's Events Estimated At 20-30 Thousand

Overwhelmed with the response for the first Autumn Glory Turkey Festival parade and other activities of last week-end, the Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotional council members and civic officials are already making plans for next year's event.

It was estimated by various persons that twenty to thirty thousand persons lined the streets in Oakland for the parade which lasted almost two hours and was said to be the largest crowd ever to assemble here for any similar event.

The parade climaxed the celebration which had begun earlier in the week. Special police and extra contingent of Maryland state troopers were on hand to direct traffic. Units in line of march came from three states.

The colorful parade was led by the 75th army band drill team and color guard from Fort Belvoir, Va., plus the Department of Maryland American Legion champion color guard from Silver Spring. The revue included dozens of floats, bands, drill teams, twirlers, marching units and drum corps.

Lonnie Marsh, Oakland, state commander of the American Legion, was parade marshal and the championship color guard came in honor of him.

Prizes went to a number of units but there were other attractions which did not compete for prizes. These included the Army units, a number of local entries and an entire division made up of Cumberland's Ali Ghan Shrine Temple band, drill team, motor corps, scooter corps and other marching and official units which appeared with spe-

Festival Highlights

That six-horse team owned by Robert W. Decker, of Garrett, Pa., which appeared in the festival parade last Saturday has an interesting tale connected with it, according to Jim Lininger, of Friendsville. Jim says the harness for those Clydesdale horses cost some $17,000. The accoutrements are all silver. The collors which the horses wear cost $600 each. The owner keeps the harness under lock and key in his home and under a type of cloth which prevents discoloration. They were an impressive sextet.

Another impressive individual was Mrs. Helen Prichard, of Grantsville, on her decorated white horse.

Robert O. Decker, Garrett, Pa., owner of the six-horse hitch seen in Saturday's parade, won the heavyweight horse pulling contest Sunday at the McHenry fairgrounds. N. Wilt won the lightweight pulling contest.

County Committee For ASC Named

Farmers recently named to serve as the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee are: Chairman, I. William Umbel, Friensville; Vice Chairman, John Walter Margroff, Accident; and Regular Member, Arthur G. Fitzwater, Swanton. ASCS procedures now provide for one man to be elected each year for a three year term. Mr. Margroff was elected for a three year term to begin on November 1. He will replace Darrell O. Martin who has served on the committee for the past four years. Mr. Fitzwater's term began in 1966 and Mr. Umbel's in 1967. Alternates elected for one year terms to begin on November 1 are: First Alternate, Wayne B. Hamilton, Red House; and Second Alternate, Harley Brenneman, Grantsville.

The election was held at a county convention at the ASCS Office on October 8. Electors were farmers chosen as convention delegates at recent community committee elections throughout the county.

Mr. Umbel points out that the ASC county and community farmer-committees are in charge of local administration of such national farm programs as the Agricultural Conservation program, the Cropland Adjustment program, the Feed Grain program, the Wheat program, the National Wool program, and The Appalachian program.

Commission Recommends Merit System Here

A commission formulated by the legislature to study the feasibility of establishing a merit system for county employes, met Tuesday and after considerable discussion recommended that such a system be established by legislative action. The recommendation would be sent to B. O. Aiken, House of Delegates member, prior to formulating a bill for passage at the next meeting of the General Assembly.

Of the seven-member commission appointed, one person signified he was against the measure for this county. He was Clifford Friend, one of two members named by the County Commissioners to serve on the commission.

The other members include Joseph Welch, appointed by the commissioners; George Vitez, representative of the county roads employes; Earl Opel and Jack Turney, appointed by Delegate Aiken and State Senator George R. Hughes; Connie Eisentrout, appointed by the ernor; and Charles L. Briner, appointed by Associate Judge Stuart F. Hamill.

Mr. Friend gives reasons for his lack of support in a letter to the editor today.

Thieves Enter Skeweris Place On Route 50

A breaking and entering was reported this week from the Sheriff's office and the theft of several turkeys by five juveniles.

Some thieves entered the Skeweris place on route 50, near Gormania, on Tuesday and took cash and merchandise amounting to some $130, according to John Evans Jr., deputy sheriff. Entrance was made through a window. No arrests have been made thus far.

This morning after a theft of some turkeys from the Sterling Processing plant, authorities discovered that five juveniles from Oakland area were involved. They will be brought into juvenile court for hearings next week, it was stated.

Commissioners Will Meet Next Tuesday

The Board of Commissioners of Garrett County will meet on Tuesday, October 22 rather than on Monday, its regular meeting date.

Turkey Season Now In Progress

Two new regulations regarding turkey hunting have been listed by the State Game and Fish Commission for the turkey season which opened yesterday in the county.

For the first time in nearly a decade hunters are required to report their kills within 24 hours after taking the bird. Also hunters must have a big game stamp affixed to regular hunting license. The cost of the big game stamp, which allows hunting of both deer and turkey, is $5.50.

Those shooting a turkey (bag limit is one per year), whether the bird is banded or unbanded, may take it to one of the following checking stations: Matt Storey, Deep Creek Lake; Edwards Garage, Grantsville; Bob's Sport Shop, Oakland; Savage River Inn, Bloomington.

Turkey season ends October 31.

Children's Egg-Drop

The science classes of Red House School, instructed by Mrs. Virginia Hayhurst, had an Egg Drop, Monday, October 14. Each student packaged one raw egg from material procured and designed by themselves, in a container no larger than 6 x 6 x 6. The initial problem to solve was to develop a method to package the egg in a light weight container so that when thrown from a height of thirty feet it could be recovered unharmed, the shell and the yolk not broken. Parachutes, balloons and other air-drag devises were ruled out.

When launching delicate instruments to soft land on the moon, a particular problem exists in packaging these instruments to protect them from vibration, acceleration and deceleration during launch, reentry and landing. This experiment involves the launching of chicken eggs into space to help solve the mysteries of weightlessness.

Paul Frank, director of the Garrett County Science Center attended the event and assisted in the launching. Lewis Domenick, elementary supervisor, assisted in the recording.

The following children were successful in the packaging: Fourth Grade: Darla Terrent, Aleta DelSignore, Gary Beckman and Kenneth Groves: Fifth Grade: Leona Wilhelm, Wayne Bittinger, Patricia Martin, Ralph Wolfe: Sixth Grade: Denise Bowen, Janice Gillespie, Danny Bosley, Dennis Stahl and Rick Skeweris.

BOY, AM I TIRED?—At any rate, little Anita Mahaffey, aged 3, of Underwood road, watched a portion of Saturday's parade on her feet, but before it was over assumed this position to review the last half hour of the procession. She was still interested, however.

After the meeting Del. Aiken conducted members of the Tourism Committee, Robert Naylor and Mr. Ellington on a short tour of the county, which included a boat trip on Deep Creek Lake, made available through courtesy of William Sisler's "Bill's Marine Service". The group also went to Swallow Falls and Herrington Manor, and were taken on the Ski Lift at the Wisp, courtesy of H. M. Heise.

All delegates and those accompanying them were greatly impressed by the parade in Oakland on Saturday, the beauty of the mountains, and the wonderful tourist opportunities which exist in Garrett County, Mr. Aiken stated.

Hunting Violation On Criminal Docket

A hunting violation was the only case listed on the criminal docket of Robert M. Maroney, Oakland Trial Magistrate, for the past week.

Stephen R. Gank, Loch Lynn, was charged by Leo Friend with hunting without a license, and was tried October 11. Gank pleaded guilty and was fined $20 and costs.

17 Persons Killed On State Highways

Seventeen persons were killed on Maryland highways last week, according to the weekly survey published by the State Police. Eight of those killed were drivers, two were passengers, and 7 were pedestrians. Alcohol was a contributing factor in seven of the deaths, speed in six, and "driver error" in eleven.

"In Maryland last week alcohol certainly stood out as the major contributing factor in highway fatalities", noted Lt. Col. George E. Davidson, Deputy Superintendent of the State Police. "It was responsible for seven of the seventeen lives lost.

"Although few areas of the highway safety problem have received as much publicity as that of the 'drinking driver', and this publicity contains supporting evidence of the hazards caused by the operator under the influence, there is every indication that the problem is getting worse rather than better".

Lt. Col. Davidson concluded: "As long as operators fail to curtail their driving when they have been drinking, we can't hope to see any improvement in the situation".

The United Mine Workers union signed a 3-year contract giving immediate $1 per day increases.

the worst in violent crimes. He said a massive effort was needed here for law enforcement and to provide justice. Mathias also pointed out the importance of voting Republican so that the selection of a president would not be left to Congress.

Delegate Beall spoke concerning the need for revisions in responsibilities of federal, state and local governments. Beall asserted states should have more say and more responsibility in dealing with their various local problems. He also indicated more incentive in the welfare system to encourage recipients to become job-holding citizens.

Delegate Beall said the election of a Republican Congress to support the Nixon administration was essential to thwarting the trend of bigger and more expensive federal bureaucracy in Washington.

Also speaking briefly for the Nixon-Agnew national ticket was State Senator Thomas Anderson Jr., from Montgomery county.

Lewis R. Jones served as master of ceremonies. Seated around the head table area also were Melvin Sloan, Allegany county GOP worker; Mr. and Mrs. Asa Wilhelm, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Vernie Smouse, Mrs. Anne Stottlemeyer and Edward Tasker, Rev. and Mrs. August Kreutz; Ed Mason, Allegany County campaign chairman for Mathias; Mrs. Dorothy Stahl, personal secretary to Mathias and her husband, Kenneth Stahl, both former county residents; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Clark. Mr. Clark sang "God Bless America", while Rev. Kreutz delivered the invocation.

Mrs. Smouse, Wilhelm and Tasker are members of the Republican State Central committee. Mrs. Joe Peck was presented a floral arrangement as a door prize.

Irvin R. Rudy Jr., was chairman of the parade committee and he was credited with masterminding the event which attracted so many entries from three states, and organizing the parade structure that resulted in the smooth operation of entire procession. Members of the Mt. City band were marshals of the parade and Jerry Minnich was in charge of the procession in the reviewing stand area. Jesse Jacobs, deputy state fire marshal, of Frostburg, was in attendance last Thursday prior to the gigantic fireworks display at the carnival grounds last Thursday night to insure all safety and fire features.

Concluding the celebration was the second Autumn Glory excursion train from Baltimore and Washington with several hundred visitors coming here for a view of the autumn scenery and participating in the bus tour of the Swallow Falls and State Park areas, on Sunday afternoon. Earlier there had been a rodeo, a dance in the Southern High gymnasium with Billy Joe Royal and his band providing music; a State Fiddlers' contest, turkey shoots, the first annual Turkey Festival football bowl game between Terra Alta and Southern; and a show by Jim and Jesse and the Virginia Boys in the Grand Ole Opry. There were chair rides at the Wisp Ski area, to the top of the slope for a view of the area from an observation tower that was erected there last year.

There was a one-day art show, placed in the parking area of the First National Bank which attracted large numbers of viewers.

Sponsors of the festival declared "We are overwhelmed with the response of people and organizations in Cumberland and the whole Tri-State area to our invitation to participate in the festival and especially the parade. It exceeded our hopes, dreams and expectations. We are planning already for next year".

Those in charge admitted there were a few problems to iron out but that none of them was insurmountable and they planned to map out their strategy for the second annual event, to be held sometime next October.

Photographs of parts of the parade and activities prior to it were televised by station WBOY, Clarksburg, on Saturday night and again on Sunday. The Oakland radio station WMSG, provided on the spot coverage of the parade.

Saddle Tramps Tour Sterling Farms Oct. 5

Thirty-one members and guests of the Saddle Tramps 4-H Club toured J. W. Ruby's Sterling Farms at Reedsville, W. Va., on October 5.

While there, the group saw comparison jumping between a Thoroughbred and two Quarter horses; the stallion, "Cajun Creek", which was the thirteenth horse in the nation to receive AAA plus and ROM Quarter horse champion; and a comparison of Cajun Creek with other Sterling Farms mares and stallions.

They also watched a veterinarian remove bone fragments from a horse, and saw where the bones of a horse's leg are located through use of a cast.

Before leaving for home, the group also saw Sterling's brood-mares and foals.

Making the trip were Denise, Sandy, Debbie, and Gary Harvey; Lisa Eary; Jessica Webster, Joan and Carol Glotfelty, Betty, Kay and Mike Glover; Joyce Pendergast, Sharon, Debbie and Becky Fike, Karen Kaufman; Lena, Calvin, Wesley and Eugene Durst, Becky Turney, Debbie Clatterbuck, Judy Maphis, Rhonda Duckworth, Jerry Lynn Storey, Donnie DeWitt, Mrs. Jean Wright and Sharon and Susan Wright, Mrs. Lawrence Glover, and Billy DeWitt, bus driver.

WASHINGTON AND Small Business

BY C. WILSON HARDER

Token War Against Crime

In the nation's capitol right now, bus drivers are not allowed to carry money to make change. Instead, they issue scrip to customers who don't have the right amount of coin, or tokens, to drop into the box. The purpose of this order by the city's two transit companies is to reduce the amount of money bus drivers handle and make them less attractive holdup targets.

The public in Washington is advised that bus drivers no longer sell tokens. Handbills explain that scrip is being used "to protect drivers and passengers from continuing and increasing crime."

The companies cite one murder of a driver and 479 holdups, many involving violence, within one year.

All around town, public transportation patrons are advised, "Have Exact Fare Ready" and "Bus Drivers Do Not Sell Tokens." Tokens can be bought and scrip exchanged for money, at six offices in the city. Obviously, this inconveniences thousands of residents and tourists.

So the impact of crime in the streets is brought home to Washingtonians daily. It is hard to believe that this is happening in the nation's capitol, where the Justice Department, FBI and Supreme Court buildings stand as graphic evidence of law and order machinery.

The tourist business has suffered badly in Washington, from crime and recent civil disturbances, forcing the historic Willard Hotel to close. People around the country who had put Washington on their sightseeing lists now think twice about visiting D. C.

Understandably, George Wallace gets a big ovation when he tells an audience, "If I'm elected President, citizens will be able to travel in any section of our nation's capitol without fear, even if I have to order 35,000 soldiers into the city."

Driving a bus once was not considered a dangerous occupation, but this has changed with the rise of crime in the big cities. In San Francisco, the transit company temporarily cancelled service on several routes following the murder of a driver at the end of one line. Three teenagers are charged.

"Law and order" is a major issue in this Presidential campaign, and millions of Americans are perhaps more worried about crime, riots and militant threats than about the possibility of a nuclear war.

Gun registration is a controversial and related issue, and its opponents point out that its most likely result would be inconvenience to honest, law-abiding American citizens.

The crime record shows that the courts' go-easy approach to lawbreakers has failed and that too often the victims, not the villians, suffer the most.

Washington's bus patrons are a case in point, as thousands are inconvenienced each day in an effort to save a bus driver from a violent "end of the line."

The Northern Huskies blanked the Kingwood Stags last Friday night at Kingwood 32 to 0, the latter's homecoming encounter.

The visitors were tough from the start, scoring 12 points in the first quarter. Northern tallied its first TD when Glotfelty ran the ball from the ten-yard line. The extra point try failed.

The visitors came roaring back a few minutes later to tally again as Brenneman took the ball over on a two-yard run with the extra point attempt again missing.

The Huskies scored in the second period when Glotfelty intercepted a Kingwood pass in the end zone. Again the kick failed, leaving the score at 18-0 at halftime.

The Marylanders tallied twice in the third period to conclude the scoring and ice the victory. The Stag coach wasn't happy with the playing of his team and said he hoped they would bounce back when they visit Parsons tomorrow night.

The Huskies are scheduled to play Masontown Valley high school, of Masontown, W. Va., on Friday evening, October 18, on the home field.

Recognized For Scholarship

Marilyn Englander

John Purbaugh

Two students of Southern High school were recognized recently for scholarship attainment in the National Merit Scholarship qualifying tests.

Marilyn Englander was a national merit scholarship semi-finalist, and John Purbaugh was given a letter of commendation honoring him for his high performance on the same test.

As a participant Marilyn must be endorsed by her school and fulfill certain requirements such as having high scores on the SAT tests and National Merit Scholar Qualifying Test examination. If she scores high in these tests she automatically becomes a finalist. A finalist would be eligible for one of 3,000 scholarships.

She is ranked number one in her class and has been an honor roll student since seventh grade. She was class president in tenth grade and in eleventh grade was representative and secretary for the Student Council. She is president this year.

Miss Englander represented Southern at the Junior Science Humanity Symposium at Baltimore last year and spent last summer in Mexico under the Experiment in International Living. This year she spent eight weeks in France.

Purbaugh was honored for his high performance in the qualifying test, being among the 39,000 students in the United States who scored in the upper two percent of those who will graduate this spring. The commended students rank just below the 15,000 semi-finalists.

Purbaugh is a member of the National Honor Society, is an honor roll student and is ranked second in his class. He has been a member of the band throughout high school. His community activities include Methodist Youth Fellowship and boy scouting. He attended Boys' state last summer and also spent time at the Philmont Scout ranch in New Mexico. He is a son of Mrs. Dorothy Purbaugh, and the late John Purbaugh.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my husband, Everett M. Friend, who passed away October 20, 1967.

I'll remember you dear, while there's life in my heart,
Tho' God in His wisdom has torn us apart.
In you're home up in heaven, you must know that I'm true
To the love and esteem that was only for you.
And I pray that when life for me comes to an end,
I will meet you in heaven, my own dearest husband.
My friend and my sweetheart,
My one dearest love,
God keep you and guard you,
My darling husband in heaven above.

Your Loving Wife, Ruby

The Coldstream Guard, Part II

Edward Braddock was born in 1695, the son of General Edward Braddock, who was commissioned in the Coldstream Guards in 1710, the same year in which his son became a member. It has been said historically that he was rough of speech and overbearing, but we must turn the facet of his fatal mistake to see that his own militarily trained mind approved of nothing save the principles of a gentleman in war; thus, you fight valiantly in organized ranks by frontal attack, without a thought for the cowardly method of using an ambuscade, where objects give you some protection. Braddock had little respect for the local American fighting units, remarking to Benjamin Franklin, who had warned him of the Indian ferocity, "These savages may, indeed, be a formidable enemy to your raw American militia, but upon the King's regular and disciplined troops, sir, it is impossible they should make any impression". However, he had never been on this continent to see the colonial spirit or the ways of American fighters. A great admirer of both Franklin and Washington because of their respective abilities, he had secured Washington as his aide-de-camp when the Virginian's commission as a colonial would have prohibited his commission as a regular English officer.

In 1754, after 45 years of service, Braddock was given the North American command. His plans included the division of an already small army into four campaigns, those against the French forts of Niagara, Crown Point, Beausejour, and Duquesne. This last was to be the strongest military thrust, but Braddock so underestimated the danger that he could see being detained no longer than three or four days to take Duquense and then proceeding to Niagara with no obstructions. It may be noted that only at Fort Beausejour was there a British victory in which French men surrendered to New England militiamen. The British defense was to require more vigorous tactics after other years of waiting on their back country frontier.

Upon his arrival, Braddock conferred with Governor Dinwiddie at Williamsburg and with the Ohio Company stockholders at the home of John Carlyle. His immediate concerns were the feelings of the other colonies regarding this expedition, also for the detachments of 450 militiamen under Washington, men who left homes in Virginia, New York, South Carolina, and Maryland for the colonial cause. He was also in haste to procure wagons for transporting army supplies. Franklin, who was deeply involved in the colonial cause, assisted in obtaining 150 Pennsylvania wagons, which were a necessary part of this army, along with 500 baggage horses and a unit of artillery. Braddock could get only 30 Indians for allies and scouts; of these, he released all but eight. A famous local Indian hunter, Captain Jack, was willing to join the group but could not accept this rigid army discipline.

At last, on a day in early June, the 1,400 British regulars, consisting of the 44th regiment under Sir Peter Halkett and the 48th under Col. Thomas Dunbar, and 500 men from America moved out from the courthouse in Alexandria, with the band playing, most ironically, "The Girl I Left Behind Me". The main body of troops proceeded up the Virginia side and the wagon train under Dunbar went by way of the Potomac to Rock Creek at Washington, thence to Frederick and Cumberland. It has been noted that two days were needed to reach the "Conogagee" or Conococheague from Frederick. Progress was extremely slow, for 300 axmen were obliged to cut a twelve foot swath for the wagons, and this in country which heretofore had been forested and never cut. Poulson's Virginia carpenters cut trees, built bridges, and did other clearing duties as the road-building party under the engineers. Scouts were posted front and rear to guard against surprise attack. A force of 30 sailors was also present so that rivers could be crossed more easily.

Perhaps the reader may note that such laborious clearing was a real necessity in the New World, where Indians had yearly burned for improving browse for wild animals, but where the huge trees remained in mature growth, presenting scenes devoid of much undergrowth, but filled with obstacles to wide vehicles. Armies in those days often were accompanied by loads of women who washed and prepared meals for in the open and unsettled regions there were no facilities except those maintained by the military. Thus Braddock completed his road, leading to disaster and eventually to the decline of the Ohio Company.

Pat Flanagan score two touchdowns on long pass plays from Richard Skipper and Harold Cannon, and tallied again on a short run to spark Southern High Rams to a 40-19 triumph over Terra Alta in the first Annual Turkey Bowl last Friday night on the Southern gridiron.

The Rams scored 20 points in the final period and came from five points behind at the half to breeze to their fourth victory in six games played.

Flanagan's aerial receptions were for ten and twelve yards and his final six-pointer, coming during the final period rally, was on a four-yard run.

Rich Browning scored twice for the victors on runs from scrimmage of two and three yards. Dave Bosley accounted for Southern's other touchdown when he took a 25-yard scoring toss from Skipper in the fourth quarter.

"Towny" Grant set up one TD in the final period when he recovered a fumble and ran to the Terra Alta four. The entire Southern defensive line, combined with linebackers Flanagan and Al Marucci, halted a number of Terra Alta threats.

Ron Feather scored all three Terra Alta TDs on runs of ten and thirty-five yards and on a 65-yard pass play from Charles Franz.

Southern had 16 first downs to 6 for Terra Alta and gained 233 yards compared to 161 for Terra Alta.

The Highlanders will travel to Westernport on Friday evening, October 18, to meet Bruce High Bulldogs.

Issued Veiled Warning To Mail Box "Anarchists"

William B. Jaspert, Pittsburgh attorney and summer resident of Deep Creek Lake, last week enclosed an article published in the Pittsburgh Press of October 2, regarding the shooting of two youths that were blowing up mailboxes with firecrackers.

He felt that as a courtesy to some of the youths in this area who were doing the same thing that the item should be published as a warning, since his mailbox at his cabin on the lake was blown up recently with a "cherry bomb".

The article:

"A South Park Township man, charged with shooting two 17-year-old youths as they rode past his house in an open convertible, has waived a preliminary hearing and is free on $500 bond.

"Robert Felix Sr., of Snowden road, posted the bond before Squire Hannah O'Rourke, who said the case will be filed in Criminal Court. Felix, who said youths blew up his mailbox with a firecracker, was arrested September 15 by South Park police.

"The youths suffered buckshot wounds of the head and were in St. Clair Memorial hospital for several days.

Events Above The Mountain Top

By Paul S. Frank Jr.

By Paul S. Frank Jr.

On Sunday the Orionid meteor shower will be at its maximum at midnight. The best time to observe the shower will be after midnight. The meteors will appear to originate from the constellation, Orion. Twenty-five meteors may be observed per hour during this meteor shower.

If a very bright, fiery object is seen, notify Mr. Frank in the Garrett County Science Center. The planetarium is one of 250 planeariums participating in a nation-wide meteorite recovery network. Recovering meteorites is important for many reasons, one of which is the measurement of radioactivity from cosmic rays.

The moon passes through its new phase on October 21 at 6:03 p. m. During the week the moon will not be seen very easily since before Monday it will be a small crescent in the early morning just before sunrise. After Monday the moon will be a small crescent in the late afternoon just after sunset.

Next Wednesday the moon will be the closest to the earth that it will get this month. This perigee is at a distance of 224,500 miles.

The sun makes its appearance at 7:30 a. m. today. It remains for eleven hours and seven minutes setting at 6:37 p. m. Next Wednesday the daylight remains for ten hours and fifty-two minutes. The sun rises at 7:36 a. m. and sets at 6:28 p. m.

There are four planets visible to the unaided eye during the week. Venus is very bright in the western sky setting within two hours of the sun. Saturn is also bright rising in the east as the sun sets. Before the sun rises Mars and Jupiter are well above the eastern horizon. Jupiter is the brightest and closest to the horizon of the two planets. Mars is rather faint and reddish in hue.

The twelfth constellation of the Zodiac is Aquarius, which consists of very faint stars north and east of Capricornus. The constellation represents a man pouring water from a jar or urn. A y-shaped asterism marks the water jar and is easily found north and east of Capricornus.

On Tuesday the Allegany County Outdoor School studies the northern sky. That evening Cub Pack 33 of Piedmont visits to also study the northern sky at 7:30 p. m. On Monday and Wednesday Mr. Wolfe's seventh grade will study the solar system in the planetarium. Mrs. Kolb's fifth grade from Grantsville will study planets in the science center on Monday.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our father and grandfather, Earl W. Staub, who was killed four years ago, October 14, 1964, while working with a road construction job in Chardon, O.

Loving memories never die
As the years and days pass by Whose parting has brought sad tears
Down through the long years
As we who have known and loved him
He lives with us in memory still.

Sadly missed by his daughter, son-in-law and two of his grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn E. Frazee, Joyce Ann and Lynn.

Area Mines Bagin After Pact Signing

The signing of a three-year contract by the United Mine Workers of America and the Bituminous Coal Operators association had area organized mines going back to work this week.

Men at the North Branch Coal company at Bayard returned to their jobs. The mine owned by Maust Coal and Coke Corporation, feeds the Mt. Storm Power station of Virginia Power and Electric company.

The power plant used 10,000 tons of coal per day but the company had on hand a 1,000-000 ton stockpile and was not affected by the strike.

Maust's two other mines, Alpine Coal at Bayard, and Chapel Coal in Preston county were scheduled to return to work Wednesday.

Both the B. and O. railroad and the Western Maryland railway were affected by the strike. Few coal hoppers were moved during the past week and both railroads laid off train crews and curtailed yard switchers.

In A Glass House . . .

The powerful AFL-CIO labor union has gone on record in favor of more federal regulation of the investor-owned utility industry. In endorsing an electric power reliability law, it proposes that the legislation be strengthened "to achieve the goal of lower-cost power to all consumers. . . ." The powerful union also believes that government "yardsticks" are indispensable to reasonable electric rates. The nation's major labor union is in favor of virtual distatorial control by government over one of the nation's most basic industries. Its advocacy of government control stops just one step short of outright socialization — a curious position for a union that enjoys the geratest beneftis of the capitalistic system to take.

So far as electric power reliability is concerned, it has become apparent that further federal control would have just the opposite effect. Needed power projects have been delayed time and again by the cumbersome mechanism of existing regulation. The electric power reliability measure now before Congress would simply be another step down the road toward paralyzing federal control. An official of a leading power company* notes, "Clearly, this is a bill which deals with reliability of power supply only incidentally. Basically, it is a bill that provides for centralized federal management of the entire electric power industry in this country, both public and investor-owned".

The nation's labor unions, in asking for control of the electric industry, may find themselves in an exceedingly fragile glass house, since their own "reliability" leaves much to be desired. They have demonstrated a willingness to capriciously disrupt production lines in the most vital services. We should all remember that the principle of the right of private ownership and management of business is no less valid then the principle of the right of collective bargaining. Together, they are what we call the U. S. economic system.—Industrial News Review.

Gov. Agnew criticized the war escalation as too slow, saying quicker action might have ended the conflict.

PARADE COMMITTEE MASTERMIND—Here is Irvin R. Rudy, Jr., who was chairman of the Turkey Festival Parade committee and who is credited with masterminding the event which produced one of the most colorful parades ever to be held in Oakland. Bob, as he is known by most everyone, is a member of the Mt. Top Chamber of Commerce, the Merchants' committee of the Chamber, a member of the Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council and the Economic Development committee. He also is a member of the Mt. City Band, the Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions club, the Ali Ghan Shrine of Cumberland and the Shrine band. Obviously he didn't play in the Shrine band during Saturday's parade because he had other and more important local duties in seeing that the parade ran smoothly, which it did. He had others assisting him, of course, but it was his contacts with many organizations which resulted in such a response for participation in the parade.

Red House PTA Meets

The first regular meeting of the Red House P. T. A. was held Thursday, October 10, in the school cafeteria. Dr. Raymond O. McCullough, Superintendent of Garrett County Schools, was the speaker.

The main topics of discussion were the membership drive and plans for the Hallowe'en Party and parade to be held October 31 at 1:30 p. m., at the school.

Following adjournment by president, Earl Clark, refreshments were served and teacher-parent conferences were held.

Vicki Jean Smith Is Bride of Patrick Murphy, Sept. 14

Miss Vicki Jean Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Smith, Red House, and Patrick Michael Murphy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Murphy Sr., Terra Alta, were united in marriage Saturday, September 14, at St. Paul's United Methodist Church in Oakland, with the Rev. Lawrence Sherwood officiating.

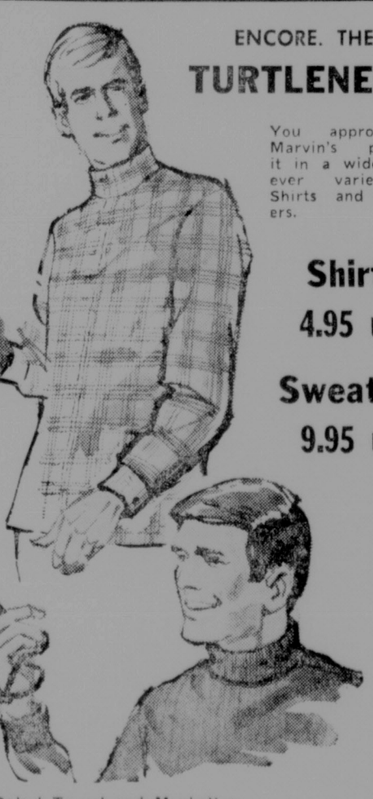
The church was decorated with vases of white and pink mums. Traditional wedding music was provided by Mrs. Delaine Travis at the organ with Joseph DiSimone, soloist, singing "Because", "O Promise Me", and "The Lord's Prayer".

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in an empire sheath gown of silk organza with a Chantilly lace bodice adorned with sequins and seed pearls, scalloped neckline and Kabuki sleeves. Chantilly lace also trimmed the hemline. An over coat of silk organza with the lace motif repeated formed the chapel train. She had a bouffant veil of English illusion falling from a scalloped Chantilly lace crown studded with seed pearls and sequins. Her flowers were a cascade of white rose buds and carnations.

Miss Nancy Callis served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Linda Richardson, Miss Jennifer Grove, Miss Rebecca Arnold. The maid of honor wore a floor length gown of strawberry and the bridesmaids' gowns were posh pink.

Best man was Thomas Bobo with Robert Stuck, Thomas Manier, and Pete Murphy serving as ushers.

The bride's mother was attired in a two-piece pink brocade dress with matching jacket. She wore a matching hat of pink feathers and black patent accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations with a pink ribbon bow.



The groom's mother wore a two-piece knit suit of royal blue with black accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations with a blue ribbon bow.

A reception followed the ceremony at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Stuck, uncle and aunt of the bride. Mrs. Stuck served the cake with Mrs. Ellen Stuck and Mrs. Gloria Murphy presiding at the punch bowls.

For their trip to South Carolina the bride chose a gray and white knit sheath with a matching coat and black patent accessories. Her corsage of white rose buds and carnations was lifted from her bridal bouquet.

The rehearsal dinner was given by the uncle and aunt of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. George Stuck, at the Chimney Corner restaurant. A miscellaneous shower was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Grove by Mrs. Sue Grove and Miss Jennifer Grove on August 7.

The couple is now residing on Adair Avenue, Terra Alta.

It's easy—when you know the answers

All of life is not far removed from the classroom. There are truths to be learned every day. And there are questions to be answered.

But some people don't have the answer when they need it. And some people do...

Any teacher will tell you it's a question of preparation. And any preacher will tell you the same.

The people who go to church on Sunday have no more problems than those who stay home. Nor do they expect as a result to have any fewer.

They believe simply in preparation—preparation of the mind, conscience, heart and soul . . . faith.

This is the preparation God offers men . . . for the questions that will confront us all tomorrow!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
. . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

International Uniform Sunday School Lessons

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

THE PRIZE

Lesson for October 20, 1968

Background Scripture: Hebrews 11 through 12.
Devotional Reading: Hebrews 11:1-3, 8-15.

"I'd give everything to be able to play the piano like that!" said an admiring friend to a pianist. "That's what it takes," replied the pianist, "everything!"

Many of us would like to excel in this or that, but excellence remains beyond our grasp because, in reality, we are not willing to "give everything." We might wish to throw a football with the skill of Johnny Unitas or play golf like Gary Player, but we would scarcely be willing to spend the hours and hard work to perfect our skills as they do. Anyone who has ever participated in athletics knows that for each hour of glory on the playing field, there are many, many hours of practice, conditioning, and discipline that must come first.

Rev. Althouse

The lonely runner

So it is too in living the Christian life. We would all like to live lives that radiate faith, hope, and love, yet most of us are unwilling to practice the disciplines that make such a life possible. We are like the man who would like to be a major league baseball star, but without having to go through the ordeal of spring training.

The writer of Hebrews was well aware of the analogy between Christian living and athletics. Possibly he was a sports fan, perhaps even an athlete, a runner, for he compares Christian discipleship with running a race at a track meet.

For example, he knows that trying to follow Jesus Christ can seem to be a very lonely task. It's like running a race without any competitors or spectators. Perhaps the people to whom he was writing were beginning to feel this way. They may have been the only Christians in their area. Their business is quite understand

A cloud of witnesses

The writer, however, reminds them that they are not alone. Though unseen, there surrounds them a great cloud of sympathetic witnesses, men like Abraham, Isaac, Moses, David, etc. These men have run the same race before them and they are a sympathetic crowd who not only watch the race with kindly concern, but run the race beside us as well. Thus, the Christian who feels all alone in this great race needs to remember this cloud of witnesses and take heart.

Next, the epistle turns from inspiration to strategy. For one thing, the runner must travel light. He cannot wear anything or carry anything that will impede his movement. His hands must be free of any restrictive burden. So it is with the Christian: he must "Lay aside every weight, and sin . . . (Hebrews 12:1 RSV) Too many of us would like to run the race without giving up the things that would hinder us. It cannot be done!

Secondly, the runner must train and discipline himself. Discipline is the key to control. The runner must be able to gauge his speed, measure his step, regulate his energy, control his breathing. It comes only with constant practice and discipline, both in running a race and living the Christian life. We may not like discipline, but it is essential: "For the moment all discipline seems painful rather than pleasant; later it yields . . . fruit." (Hebrews 12:11 RSV)

The pacesetter

Third, we need perseverance, "staying-power." The runner who folds-up in the home stretch cannot win the race. As the runner nears his goal, his muscles ache, his lungs burn, but he must not give up. So in discipleship we must continue on if we want the prize.

Finally, we must keep our eyes upon the goal. The runner cannot watch other runners or eye the stands. "Don't look back" is good counsel for both runners and disciples. Instead, we must continually be "looking to Jesus," our pacesetter who has run the race before us, showing us both the way and the prize in store for us.

APPENDICITIS IS STILL A KILLER

Anyone's appendix can be affected. This disease is common among children and particularly dangerous for the elderly. Their appendix tends to perforate easily, leading to serious infectious complications.

Cramp-like pains, nausea, and a slight fever are warnings of a possible appendix infection. If these symptoms persist, it is wise to consult a physician. Self-medication may delay treatment too long, sometimes actually permitting a dangerous appendix rupture. Often appendicitis is difficult to diagnose, for its symptoms mimic other abdominal diseases.

Against Merit System

To The Editor:

It has been clear to me from the very first meeting that the majority of the members of this committee are determined to burden our county down with a Merit System, no matter what the cost.

I can understand why some of the members here might be willing to rubber stamp the ideas of their fellow Democrat who happens just now to represent us in the Legislature. I cannot, however, understand some of the other members.

Only five other counties in the State have a Merit System for their employees, and they are large counties, mostly situated in close proximity to Baltimore and Washington.

To my thinking we could not do a greater dis-service than to burden the people of our small county with this entirely new and additional expense. Every item of information we have been able to obtain has indicated that a merit system for the employees of this county is not feasible.

It would force our County Commissioners to furnish additional office space and there is none available inside the Court House. It would be necessary to lease outside space.

It will create approximately three new jobs. One, a Director for the Merit System, and at least two new clerks. The County would have to purchase office equipment in the form of desks, filing cabinets, typewriters and bookkeeping machinery.

It will be an invitation to future Boards of County Commissioners to create eligibility lists composed of their own relatives and friends, and make it possible to featherbed them down in county jobs for life at the expense of our taxpayers.

This will not improve the efficiency of our County Government in any way. Instead, it will tend to destroy the initiative of our employees, and it will place the hard working conscientious worker on a par with the work dodgers and the clock watchers.

They are recommending the creation of a new office that is not needed. It will prove to be an unproductive and expensive office that will eat up our tax dollars that should be used to buy useful and needful services for the county.

Finally, I am not surprised at the outcome of this study, if it could be called that. The law creating the Commission gave two of the appointments to Delegate, Aiken, (father of the idea): one to the employees of the County Roads, one to the Governor, with the stipulation that he must appoint a county employee, one to the Judge, and only two of the County Commissioners, who will have to find the money to put such a system into operation. It may be there are persons in this group who feel that they stand to gain something from a Merit System that will automatically blanket them into a county position for the remainer of their enployable years.

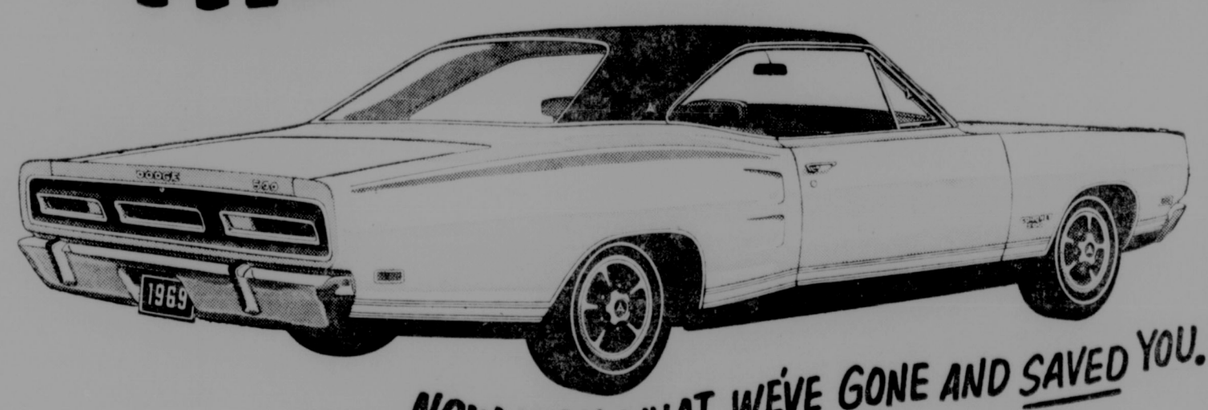
Public schools are closed today and Friday so that teachers may attend the 101st annual Convention of the Maryland State Teachers Association in Baltimore October 17, 18, and 19. Teachers are not compensated for the two days off, so they are not required to attend the convention, but many teachers are attending.

Special delegates elected by the County Teachers' Association are Dick Travis, president; Kenneth Keplinger, Bernice Kolb, Darrell Malone, and Foster Riggs. These delegates have the privilege of voting on matters that come before the Representative Assembly.



Specialized departmental meetings are being held, and numerous, comprehensive educational exhibits are on display.

Entertainment will include a concert Friday evening in the Civic Center Auditorium by selected music students from high schools throughout the state of Maryland. The concert will feature the All-Maryland High School Orchestra, directed by Allan Miller, conductor of the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra. The All-Maryland High School Chorus will be directed by Pierce A. Getz, professor from Lebanon Valley College, and Donald McGinnis, Director of Bands from Ohio State University will conduct the All-Maryland High School Band.

Various departmental meetings will be held during the convention.

Insurance Dept. Advisory Service Visit Scheduled

Maryland Insurance Commissioner Newton I. Steers Jr., has announced that a member of the State Insurance Department's Advisory Service will visit the Western Maryland area on Tuesday, October 22, from 9:00 a. m. until 1:00 p. m. in the Council Chamber of City Hall, 2nd flr., Cumberland.

The Advisory Service visits Cumberland on the third Tuesday of every month, in order to provide more convenient assistance to citizens of Garrett and Allegany Counties.

Three Trials Held In Circuit Court

Three trials, a criminal appeal, a juvenile, and a criminal case were held Tuesday in the Oakland Court Room, with Associate Judge Stuart F. Hamill presiding.

In the appeal case, Charles Edward Rhodes had appealed a July 8 decision of Oakland Trial Magistrate Robert M. Maroney, who found him guilty of improper turn signals and fined him $10 and costs.

Rhodes pleaded not guilty before Judge Hamill, who declared him not guilty.

The juvenile case involved a 17-year-old male who was charged with larceny of a parking meter valued at $90 from Oakland. The youth, who pleaded guilty, was sentenced to the Maryland Training School for Boys; that sentenced was suspended on condition he be of good behavior, abide by the law and make restitution of $90 through Wayne Wilt, probation officer.

The boy was also placed under the jurisdiction of Garrett County Juvenile Services for an undetermined period.

Robert E. Suter, a juvenile from the Friendsville area who was charged with carnal knowledge of a girl between 14 and 16 years of age, was tried in criminal court.

Although he pleaded not guilty, the court found him guilty. Sentence was withheld pending outcome of a pre-sentence investigation by the Maryland Parole and Probation department.

The citation will be presented both to Oakland and to the Grantsville postmasters at their respective buildings. Postmaster Guy Wm. Hinebaugh, Oakland, will receive the citation at 12:30 p. m., while Postmaster A. Emmons Warnick will accept the Grantsville citation at 3 p. m.

Introducing the 1969 Volkswagens.

They're harder to take than ever.

Once you couldn't give away a Volkswagen.

But times have changed.

Now people actually steal them.

To help stop this, we're putting a new ignition/steering wheel lock in every 1969 VW.

When you shut off the ignition and remove the key, it locks the front wheels in position.

So if someone ever breaks in and jumps the wires, he'll probably wind up just going in circles.

He may even end up going straight.

Of course, this isn't our only improvement for '69. There are 28 others.

Including an optional fully-automatic transmission for the Fastback and Squareback.

(The bug and Ghia have our optional automatic stick shift. Which we introduced earlier this year.)

Whichever VW suits you best, the best way to see all its changes is with a test drive.

Because, as usual, most of our improvements aren't on the outside where you can look at them.

They're deep down inside.

Where they make new VWs run better.

And where they don't make old VWs look obsolete.

The Why For Colored Leaves

Nature presents few color spectaculars such as an Appalachian fall. Dr. Kulow, an associate professor in West Virginia University's Division of Forestry, explains how nature does it in this article.

By Dr. Don L. Kulow

For a few weeks in September and October, West Virginia and the Appalachian region become a spectacular picture with brilliant oranges and yellows of maples; the deep red of oaks; and the gold of the poplars set against a dark background of mountain evergreens.

What causes this fiery display that is visible for a short time each year only in the northeast Continental America, northeast Asia and the lower tip of South America? What capricious brush tips a tree a gaudy orange one year, a yellow the next, and a red color the following year? Why do segments of the foliage change early as if acting as a test spot for an artist palette? Why do some trees or whole stands of trees suddenly turn color prematurely?

The exact reasons for these changes involve the complexity of plant physiology and color chemistry, but a simplified explanation is available.

Contrary to visible evidence, the basic color of leaves is yellow. This color comes from a carbon compound called carotene. It is also found in such things as carrots and squash and is transformed into Vitamin A in the human body.

During the growing season the yellow is masked by a green granular substance called chlorophyll that is formed in the cells that are exposed to the sun. The plant obtains food through a process of absorption and digestion of this material. If the plant is removed from sunlight, or the light is restricted, as in the shorter days of fall, more chlorophyll is absorbed tha nis produced and the carotene, or yellow, shows through.

The red colors are caused by an accumulation of sugars in maples and tannins in oaks in the presence of a complex material called anthocyanin. This substance has "chameleon" characteristics that are associated with the acid or alkaline conditions of the plant. If the condition is alkaline, the pigment is blue. If the condition is acid, the pigment is red.

With other chemicals present, the colors may be entirely different. If the fall days are sunny and bright followed by cool nights with temperatures of less than 45 degrees F the red colors will prediminate over the yellow carotene. The sunny days of course help manufacture sugar and tannins in the leaves, and the cool nights "signal" the tree is to grow a "corky abscission layer" between leaf stem and the twig.

This layer prevents the loss of moisture from the tree during the cold winter months and it also prevents the movement of food material from the leaf into other parts of the plant. The result is the red colors visible in the fall. A warm rainy fall will give few red leaves and a high proportion of yellow ones. The indecisiveness of fall weather will cause different shades of orange.

Sometimes individual leaves or branches, the side of a tree, or a whole stand of trees will change colors prematurely. This may be because of borers in the leaf stem, and mechanical injury to the branches. Differential coloring in the sides of trees is due to different amounts of light received from the sun. An entire tree or a whole grove of trees may change colors prematurely because of a fluctuating water table or because of the activities of man such as soil compaction during construction, logging, etc.

Trees generally exhibiting the brightest reds and oranges are the red and sugar maples, red and scarlet oaks, sumac, and tupelo. Yellow poplar, aspen and the maiden-hair (Ginkgo) generally make up the solid yellow component of the fall scene.

White oaks offer the deep rich reds while hickorys background the pictures with brown and tan and the beeches highlight it with an old gold effect. Perhaps the most kaleidoscopic tree of all is the sweet gum with its color range of gold, yellow, pink, and purple.

The spectacular glow of the autumn scene is truly a wonderful thing to see. The Appalachian region with its folding landscape and its mixed hardwood forest is supreme in this aspect . . . and listen, isn't that the bark of the gray squirrel, and . . . I think I hear a referee's whistle!

give Philco Color TV the Face Test

and compare!

23" picture measured diagonally.

How to give THE FACE TEST:

1. Look closely at some faces on the screen. Are they too red? Too green? Philco's special color circuit produces a wider range of flesh tones. It catches the subtle shades of color that make faces more life-like.
2. Try the tint control. Do the faces jump to violent red or green? If so, you'll have a hard time adjusting that set. Philco's color circuitry provides a wider range of flesh colors—gives you room to adjust skin tones more accurately.

Philco gets the faces right. The rest is easy.

Now with Philco Tuning Eye plus A.C.T. (Auto-lock Channel Tuning) Now you can fine tune Philco Color TV in an instant. Just turn the tuning dial until the lighted Tuning Eye narrows and flick the A.C.T. switch. Picture and sound come in sharp and clear every time.

No. 5726 Equity In The Circuit Court For Garrett County, Maryland

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

This is to give notice that on the 15th day of October, 1968, a Bill of Complaint was filed in the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, by the plaintiff against the defendants at the addresses hereinabove set forth. The object of these proceedings is to procure the passage of a decree for the sale of the real estate of Cora E. Miller, situate in Election District No., 16, Garrett County, Maryland, and for the payment of debts and claims filed against the proverty:

The bill states:

That during her lifetime and at the time of her death, Cora E. Miller was seized and possessed of a parcel of land situate in Election District No. 16 in Garrett County, Maryland, this property having been conveyed to the said Cora E. Miller by Orphans Court transfer in Proceedings No. 3249, this transfer being accomplished by deed dated December 8, 1958, and recorded in Liber 214, folio 345, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland; the Bill further describes the intermarriage of the various heirs; enumerated various debts outstanding against the said deceased Cora E. Miller; that Jack R. Turney qualified as administrator of the estate of Cora E. Miller on January 23, 1968, as will appear by reference to a certificate of letters filed as plaintiff's exhibit No. 2; that the personal estate of the decedent is insufficient to pay the indebtedness filed against the estate and that at the time of her death Cora E. Miller was indebted to the Garrett County Welfare Board in the amount of $12,674.96 representing amounts advanced to the said decedent during her lifetime as Old Age Assistance under the laws of the United States and the State of Maryland; and the said Cora E. Miller is further indebted to the Minnich Funeral Home in the amount of $365.00 and also unto divers other persons, and that said real estate is not of sufficient value to satisfy all claims against the estate of the decedent.

The Bill then prays for a decree for the sale of said real estate, for the sale of debts and claims and for general relief.

WHEREFORE, it is ORDERED by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, this 15th day of October, 1968, that plaintiff cause a copy of this Order to be inserted in a newspaper published in Garrett County, once a week in each of four successive weeks, before the 8th day of November, 1968, giving notice to the said unknown heirs who may be defendants of the object and substance of the bill of Complaint and warning them to show cause, if any there may be, on or before the 9th day of December, 1968, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

PROCLAMATION OF THE GOVERNOR OF MARYLAND DIRECTING THE PUBLICATION OF BILLS PROPOSING AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION OF MARYLAND

WHEREAS, at its regular session of 1967, the General Assembly enacted Chapters 245 and 474 proposing amendments to the State Constitution; and

WHEREAS, at its regular session of 1968, the General Assembly enacted Chapter 617, proposing an amendment to the State Constitution; and

WHEREAS, it is the duty of the Governor, under Section 1 of Article XIV of the Constitution, to order the publication of the bills proposing said amendments in advance of the General Election of November 5th, 1968; and

WHEREAS, there will be presented on the ballot at said election the following proposed amendments to the Constitution for adoption or rejection by the voters:

CHAPTER 245

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Article III of the Constitution of Maryland, title "Legislative Department," by adding new Section 40D thereto, to follow immediately after Section 40C thereof, providing for an optional procedure for the acquisition of land and interest in land by the Board of County Commissioners for Prince George's County for the construction or extension of county roads and streets, providing for a contingency by which this amendment may be void and of no further effect and providing for the submission of this amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for their adoption or rejection.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, (Three-fifths of all the Members elected to each of the two Houses concurring), That the following new Section 40D be and it is hereby proposed as an amendment to Article III of the Constitution of Maryland, title "Legislative Department," to follow immediately after Section 40C thereof; if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State as herein provided, to become a part of the Constitution of Maryland.

The General Assembly shall enact no law authorizing private property to be taken for public use without just compensation, to be agreed upon between the parties or awarded by a jury, being first paid or tendered to the party entitled to such compensation, except that where such property, located in Prince George's County, is in the judgment of the Board of County Commissioners of Prince George's County needed for the construction or extension of county roads and streets. The General Assembly may provide that such property, except a building occupied as a dwelling, may be taken immediately upon payment therefor by the condemning authority to the owner or owners thereof or into the Court to the use of the person or persons entitled thereto, such amount as the condemning authority shall estimate to be the fair value of said property, provided such legislation requires that the condemning authority's estimate be not less than the appraised value of the property being taken as evaluated by at least one qualified appraiser, whose qualifications have been accepted by a Court of Record of this State, and also requires the payment of any further sum that may subsequently be awarded by a jury. This section, if adopted by the voters in the year 1968, at the time it becomes effective, is void and of no further effect if the voters of the State prior thereto have adopted a revision of the Constitution of Maryland proposed by a Constitutional Convention.

SEC. 2. And be it further enacted, That the aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of this State shall, at the next general election, to be held in this State in the year 1968, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters thereof for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of this State, and at the said general election, the vote on the said proposed amendment shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For Constitutional Amendment" and "Against Constitutional Amendment," as now prescribed by law, and immediately after said election, due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment, as directed by said Article 14 of the Constitution, and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article 14.

VOLUME 92. OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, MD., OCTOBER 24, 1968 PER COPY 10c NUMBER 34.

Blame Yourself . . .

"People get the government they deserve", we are told in a recent advertisement of Warner and Swasey, precision machinery builders, in U. S. News and World Report. If you quarrel with your government in January, blame yourself for November.

The advertisement asks the following:

"Do you study each candidate for every office, go behind his words, insist on knowing his character, his principles, his intent? Do you do the same with every candidate for election and vote for the best man regardless of party?

"Do you watch your representatives vote, write them often on your ideas of what is best, compliment them when they do it? Do you write your government officials of your beliefs? Do you tell government how to save, not what you want?

"All this is what being a free man means — the obligation as well as the privilege of being a citizen of a free country. It's just that simple".

Good advice, as we prepare to elect our national representatives on November 5.

Grant Named Head Social Services Group In County

William W. Grant was elected chairman of the Board of the Garrett County Department of Social Services at a meeting last Thursday evening at the department's offices, with two recently appointed members of the board attending for the first time. The new members were Mrs. Helen Baumgartner and Joseph DiSimone.

Other board members attending were A. O. Riley and Ross Sines. Also attending was Robert W. Stemple, local department director.

At the election Mrs. Baumgartner was named vice-chairman.

Items on the agenda included orientation of new members, review and discussion of financial and statistical reports for September, and planning a joint meeting with the Social Service board for Allegany county to hear Haleigh C. Hobson, director of the State Department of Social Services, to acquaint officials with the budget for the next fiscal year. Mr. Hobson also will discuss the 1967 amendments to the Social Security act and their effect on county department. Date of the meeting is to be announced.

Five-Car Wreck Hospitalizes Gene H. Glotfelty, 17

A wreck involving five cars, four of which were unoccupied at the time, sent one person to the Garrett Memorial Hospital last Saturday night.

Injured was Gene Howard Glotfelty, Star Route, Oakland, who was taken in Officer Charles Wendlandt's police cruiser to the hospital, where he was x-rayed for possible skull fracture.

Glotfelty was driving a 1952 Ford west on Memorial Drive when he went off the road on the left side and struck cars parked in the American Legion parking lot.

Cars owned by Kenneth Metheny, Mt. Lake Park, and John Kurilla, Oakland, were estimated as total losses, as was Glotfelty's vehicle.

An estimated $150 damage was done to Wood Products Co. panel truck; and $10 to a vehicle owned by Mabel Hostuttler, Terra Alta.

The Glotfelty vehicle struck Metheny's and Wood Products Co. Vehicles, and in turn, the Metheny car hit Kurilla's and Kurilla's struck Hostuttler's.

Charges of driving under the influence of alcohol and reckless driving will be made against Glotfelty, according to Percy Lawton, city police chief.

In other accidents within the town limits over the week-end, one occurred on Friday and two on Saturday. No charges were made in any of the accidents, and no injuries were reported.

On Friday, William W. Sutton, Lanham, was attempting to make a left turn on Liberty when a vehicle driven by Kermit Reese Zinn, Reedsville, tried to pass him on the left, striking Sutton's front fender.

County To Return To Standard Time

Garrett County residents will lose that "extra" hour of daylight time at 2 o'clock this Sunday morning as the county returns to Eas[illegible]n Standard time with the balance of Eastern United States.

Residents are reminded to turn their clocks back one hour before retiring for the night, lest they find themselves arriving an hour early for church services on Sunday.

The county will join all other counties in Maryland for the return to standard time from the six-months period of daylight saving time. According to a law signed by President Johnson any area using daylight time in 1966 must apply it from the last Sunday in April to the last Sunday in October. Daylight time is applied uniformly throughout the nation except in those states whose legislatures have exempted themselves from the ruling.

There will be some slight changes in the Baltimore and Ohio train schedule, beginning next Sunday morning at 12:01.

The present time schedule and the changes for Sunday:

Eastbound, Train 32, now 11:38 a. m., will be 11:43 a. m., a difference of five minutes; train 12, now 6:36 p. m., will be 5:41 p. m., a difference of one hour and five minutes. Westbound: Train no. 11, 1:36 p. m., no change; train 31, now 9:27, will be 9:42 a difference of 15 minutes.

Telephone Co. Seeks Rate Hike

The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Maryland is seeking higher rates for telephone service.

It asked the Public Service commission last Friday to allow it a higher rate of return on its property which then would permit it to file a schedule of higher rates.

"Without a significantly higher finding, the company cannot obtain the investment dollars to do the service job ahead", a C. and P. spokesman said.

The commission was asked to resurvey the utility's property, place a fair value on it and to set a fair rate of return on that value.

L. Mercer Smith, vice-president and general manager, said the C. and P. then would file a schedule of rates and charges "which would yield such a return".

The company has been allowed to earn a miximum of 6.55 percent since 1966. "This rate of return is entirely inadequate to meet today's cost of capital", Smith said.

As supporting evidence, he said the utility recently was charged 6.675 percent on a $75 million debenture issue.

"Intrastate telephone rates in Maryland over the past 10 years have virtually not increased at all", Smith said. "Modest increases granted to the company in 1961 and 1965 were all but eliminated by rate decreases imposed upon us immediately thereafter in 1962 and 1966".

During the same decade, Smith said payrolls and other employe beneftis have gone up $30 million a year and the company paid $39 million more in taxes last year. "These increases have in no way been passed along to the telephone customer through price increases", Smith stated.

The C. and P., in addition, has spent $702 million in Maryland since 1960, Smith said.

Events Above The Mountain Top

By Paul S. Frank Jr.

October 24 - 30

The moon passes through its first quarter phase on Monday, October 28, at 7:58 a. m. During the week the moon is visible in the afternoon.

On Sunday, October 27, we return to standard time. The sun rises at 7:37 a. m. Daylight Saving Time today and sets at 6:26 p. m. Daylight Saving Time. Next Wednesday the sun rises at 6:44 a. m. standard time and sets at 5:19 p. m. standard time.

The return to standard time put us back in time with the sun. The loss of daylight this week is fourteen minutes as the sun drops lower and lower in the sky. However, unless we arise an hour earlier by the clock, we will lose an hour of daylight in addition to that lost as we proceed deeper into autumn and winter, since we will sleep through it.

There are five planets visible this week. The elusive Mercury should rise an hour before the sun on the 31st so it will be visible shortly before sunrise during the week. Jupiter rises several hours before the sun. Mars is high in the eastern sky by sunrise. Venus sets shortly after the sun. Saturn is already in the eastern sky by sunset having risen shortly before.

East of the summer triangle and south of Cassiopeia is "the square of Pegasus". This square, almost 18 degrees on each side, is the asterism that is easiest to locate in the constellation of Pegasus, the winged horse. On Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, Mr. Wolfe's seventh grade classes visit the planetarium to study the phases of the moon and eclipses and to study the planets. At 8:00 p. m. on Monday the Crellin P. T. A. visits the science center.

District School Classification Changes Southern

Changes in the classification of six schools, three in Washington county, two in Allegany and one in this county, were announced last Thursday at a meeting of the Maryland Secondary Public Schools Athletic association held in Baltimore, it was announced by Robert E. Pence, supervisor of physical education for Allegany county schools.

Southern High school, of Oakland, became a Class B school instead of Class A as in the past. This will put Northern and Southern High schools in the same class and in addition to playing for the county championship the schools will vie for the right to represent the district in the title play.

Other changes: Allegany High school, Northern Hagerstown High, and Southern Hagerstown were dropped from Class AA to A; Beall High will compete in class B instead of class A; Williamsport High of Washington county was dropped from B to C. The district comprises counties of Garrett, Allegany, Washington and Frederick.

Bladensburg High has the largest enrollment in the state with 1,302 boys in grades 10, 11 and 12. There are 34 class AA schools.

North Hagerstown is largest of the class A schools with an enrollment of 767, Catonsville is second, Bel Air, third, and South Hagerstown, fourth.

Allegany High is listed 11th with 609. Fort Hill is 21st with 509.

The No. 1 school in Class B is Southern of Oakland with an enrollment of 376 boys in the 10th, 11th and 12th grades. Beall is ninth with 291. Bruce High, Westernport, ranks 23rd with 220, Northern High is 26th with 208, and Valley, Lonaconing has 185.

Among matters discussed at the meeting were the certification of weights in high school wrestling matches, tentative dates for state basketball tournaments and the possibility of redistricting schools in the future.

High Court Hears Plea For Miller

The Sourt of Appeals of Maryland was asked last Wednesday to overturn the murder conviction of Gary Lee Miller, 18-year-old youth awaiting execution in Maryland's gas chamber.

Miller was sentenced to death for the murder May 28, 1967, of Judy Lee Ziegler, 20-year-old woman who gave him a ride as he hitchhiked from Frostburg to his home near Meyersdale, Pa.

Miller was only 16 at the time of the murder and was 17 when he was convicted and sentenced to death by Judges James E. Getty and Harold E. Naughton in Allegany county.

John C. Sullivan, Miller's attorney, concentrated his attack on a confession which police said Miller gave them but which he refused to sign.

In the statement Miller said Miss Ziegler picked him up as he hitchhiked, that they parked on a deserted road and that he stabbed her to death when she started screaming.

Miller was arrested the day after the murder in his ninth grade classroom at Meyersdale High school and was questioned by police for several hours with some breaks.

Sullivan argued that the statement came after questioning in an "environment. . . created for no other purpose than to subjugate the defendant to the will of his examiners".

"No statement obtained here from the defendant was truly the product of his free choice", he said.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Alfred J. O'Ferrall told the court, however, that there was no abuse on the part of the police and that Miller's "statement was given freely and voluntarily". The case was heard by six of the seven judges of the Court of Appeals.

Allegany county state's attorney, Donald W. Mason, assisted Mr. O'Ferrall in the state's presentation. Each side was allotted 25 minutes to argue its case and Mr. Sullivan was given an additional 15 minutes on rebuttal.

LBJ says he will not now make any attempt to replace Earl Warren as Chief Justice of the United States.

THE GAVEL IS HANDED by Mrs. Reuben Fazenbaker, President Garrett County Homemakers Council, to Mrs. B. O. Aiken, newly elected President. Mrs. Harold White, on the right, is the newly elected Treasurer. In rear are Mrs. Charles Bowman, outgoing Treasurer, and installing officer, Mrs. Jonas Beachy, District II Director.

Three Good Questions

To protestors who may be considering voting for George Wallace for President, Richard Nixon has posed these three questions:

1. Do you want to make a point or do you want a change?
2. Do you want to get something off your chest or do you want to get something done?
3. Do you want to get a moment's satisfaction by your vote of protest or do you want to get four years of action?

Along that same line Miss Ruth Pierce, Essex, sent a letter this week which says in part:

"I am amazed at the number of voters I have talked with who think to elect George Wallace to the Presidency in November will cure all of America's ills. After I point out to these people that Mr. Wallace is not the Messiah, some of them take a more realistic attitude as to how to solve the problems we are all so 'fed-up' with.

"Let's not kid ourselves about the candidacy of Mr. Wallace, but instead take a real hard look at his objective. He deserves a lot of credit for he has fulfilled his purpose and should be congratulated on his undertakings. When Mr. Wallace decided to seek the Presidency, he did so by telling the American people he would give them a chance to voice their dissatisfactions. The American public has done just that through political polls, press articles, etc. George Wallace has been a great success, so why doesn't he admit it, enjoy it and bail out of the Presidential race before he becomes an 'instant' failure.

"Mr. Wallace's efforts are recognized and I am sure will be given a lot of attention by the next U. S. President, but let's look at how Mr. Wallace could become an instant failure as the next U. S. President. To begin with President Johnson has just given the American people a lesson in how much power the President actually has without the consent of Congress and the Senate. He couldn't even get his friend, Abe Fortas, confirmed as Chief Justice of the United States, because the Senate would not confirm the nomination. Senators and Congressmen, if Mr. Wallace were president, would owe him no loyalty on any issues because he did not campaign for their election. They would not owe him any votes because of party loyalty because he will represent the Independent party, which is without Senators or Congressmen.

"Mr. Wallace is campaigning on Law and Order. Doesn't he realize that LAWS must be approved by the Senate and House of Representatives before the National, State or Local Police Officers will even attempt to enforce them.

"A large majority of the Voters just want to register their protest vote on November 5th by voting for Mr. Wallace. But what after that? Are these angry people going to waste the one privilege, on election day, that we all value so highly. Have they not had the opportunity to register their protest through polls, news media, TV etc. up to this time. It is now time to take a realistic approach to the problem of how we can bring about a change, instead of taking the attitude that one man is going to Washington, single-handed, after November 5th and rise up as the Messiah.

"Most of us will admit we are fed-up with the present situation. We need a change and we need it bad. Knowing that we will not get much of a change, in Cabinet Posts, Ambassadorships, or overall administration, if we elect Hubert Humphrey, let's take a good look at the candidacy of Richard M. Nixon.

"Richard M. Nixon wants to be President of the U. S. Anyone will agree that when a person 'wants' a job bad enough, he will prepare for it and execute it to the best of his ability. In loosing two campaigns, Mr. Nixon has learned, first hand, you have to give the people what they want in order to get their vote, and their vote is what counts when you are seeking public office. As bad as Richard Nixon wants to be President, he most certainly would want to be re-elected in four years. After each defeat Mr. Nixon has worked harder to qualify himself as the next President. He will also have one of the most capable men in America, Gov. Spiro T. Agnew, as Vice President. I honestly believe that with his experience and capability, if Mr. Nixon is elected President on November 5th, he will be a good President.

"An important factor in any President's success will be Senators and Congressmen who will support his bills. Therefore, it is important to elect, not only Mr. Nixon, but also Senators and oCngressmen who will be an asset to his administration. As I stated earlier, no President is going to run this United States government single-handed".

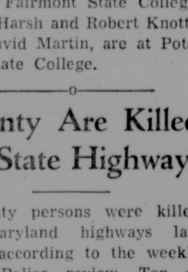
Twenty Are Killed On State Highways

Twenty persons were killed on Maryland highways last week, according to the weekly State Police review. Ten of those killed were drivers, eight were passengers, and two were pedestrians. Alcohol was a contributing factor in four of the deaths, speed in ten ,and "driver error" in all but one.



"So far this year 659 persons have lost their lives in Maryland highway accidents", commented Lt. Col. George E. Davidson, Deputy Superintendent of the State Police. "This represents an average of sixteen lives lost each week.

"There was nothing unusual about the causes of last week's fatal accident. They were the same causes that crop up week after week—excessive speed for conditions, driving while under the influence of alcohol, passing when unsafe to do so, failing to grant right of way, inattention".

Lt. Col. Davirson concluded: "As long as we continue to have such widespread lack of responsibility on the part of operators, we will continue to have a high fatality rate".

W. Va. Woman's Death Cause Still Not Determined

The cause of the death of Inez Marie Bambling, 27, of Chester, W. Va., whose body was found on Friday, September 13 in an abandoned stolen car in Garrett County, has not been ascertained by authorities.

Fred A. Thayer, state's attorney for the county, said he has not received a full report on the findings of the investigation by State Police or from Dr. Benedict Skitarelic, deputy county medical examiner, who performed an autopsy on the dead woman.

Dr. Skitarelic said the cause of the woman's death has not been ascertained as yet. State Police submitted a few items to the crime laboratory in Pikesville in connection with the death, according to Mr. Thayer.

On September 6, Frank Earl Brown, 40, formerly of Shaw, W. Va., near where the abandoned car and woman's body were found, was arrested at the Weston State Hospital and charged with grand larceny in the theft of the vehicle in which the body was found.

He is being held in the Hancock County, W. Va., jail for action of the grand jury of the January term of Circuit Court, according to Floyd R. Tarr, prosecuting attorney of that county.

Brown was given a preliminary hearing before a justice of the peace in Chester and bound over to the grand jury. He reportedly has made a statement in which the woman's death was not mentioned but in which he did say she had left Chester with him voluntarily.

The partially paralyzed woman had been missing from her foster home since August 23. Brown reportedly had worked for a race track near Chester and at one time roomed at the foster home where Miss Bambling lived.

Huskies Win Over Masontown High

Clark Glotfelty scored two of his team's four touchdowns last Friday night in leading Coach Jack Lear's Northern High School Huskies to a 27-6 victory over Valley High school of Masontown, W. Va., in the rain, mud and wind on the Garrett County field.

It was the sixth consecutive victory for the Huskies since they dropped their opening game of the campaign to Bruce High.

Eddie Bach's 30-yard run accounted for the Huskies' initial score in the first period and Glotfelty ran the extra point. Northern increased its lead to 14-0 at halfway point when a pass play executed by Wayne Georg and Gary Reichenbecher, covering 65 yards, produced the second six-pointer and Eddie Bach added the point on a run.

Glotfelty ashed 40 yards to paydirt in the third quarter. The pass for the extra point failed.

A 15-yard pass from Mike Tiberio to Pope set up Valley's score in the final quarter and on the next play Tiberio slammed over from the one. The kick for point failed.

Glotfelty registered the final score of the game on a three-yard run in the final period. Larry Brenneman ran for the extra point.

The Huskies will meet Berlin High school on Friday, the 25th on Berlin's gridiron.

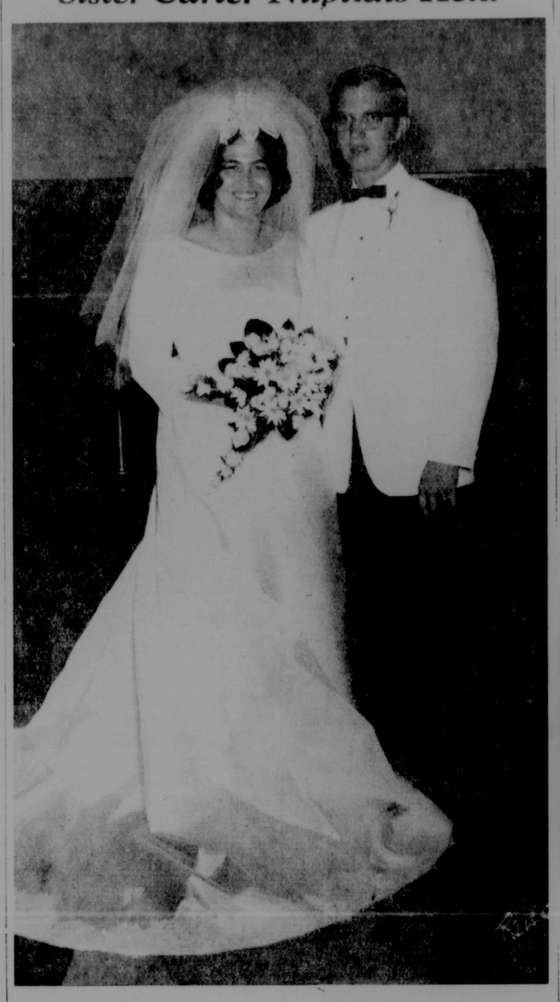
Free Licenses To Aged Residents Proving Popular

Free hunting and fishing licenses for Maryland residents who have attained the age of 70 years is proving a popular move by the Maryland Commission of Game and Inland Fish. The Commission received authorization to issue the free licenses to the septuagenarians at the last session of the General Assembly and they were instituted in time for this hunting season.

Through the first week of October the Department had issued a little more than 5,000 of the licenses, almost equally divided between hunting and fishing licenses. Many applicants received both.



Applicants for these licenses can save time if they obtain an application blank from the clerk of the court of the county, one of the Department's four regional offices or one of tre many license agents in sporting goods stores throughout the State, according to Charles M. Maize, auditor of the Department of Game and Inland Fish.

Maize points out that when the applicant writes to the Department for his application blank, one must be mailed to him and he then has to return it to the Department. This causes unnecessary delay in issuing the license.

Sisler-Carter Nuptials Held

Bonnie Belle Carter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Carter, 12 Beckley Road, Hagerstown, became the bride of Melvin David Sisler Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin D. Sisler Sr., of Mt. Lake Park, on Saturday, August 24.

The Reverend Darcey Lloyd Abbott performed the 2 p. m. ceremony which took place in the Williamsport Sunset Church of God.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Carter was a seasonal bride in an empire gown of peau de soie, ovaled at the neckline, with bracelet sleeves bordered in scalloped peau d'ange lace. The same lace appeared in the raised waistline enriched with seed pearls and crystal, and finally in scalloped bands on the spreading chapel train. Her headpiece was a blossom of pearl edged lace petals with crystal droplets from which fell a bouffant veil of starched illusion. She carried a triangular cascade of white rose buds and white daisies.

Patricia Ann Carter served as her sister's maid of honor. She wore a gown of pale yellow satin with an empire waist, A-line skirt and bell sleeves. Her headpiece was of matching satin and net. She carried a cascade of yellow and orange daisies. Bridesmaids were Sharon Leigh Rizer, Corriganville, and Mrs. Nancy Lawson, Baltimore. Their gowns were of orange satin in the same style as the maid of honor. They carried cascades of orange and yellow daisies.

The brother of the bridegroom, Kyle William Sisler, was best man. Ushering the wedding guests were Robert Norris, Severna Park; James Hudson, Cumberland; and Scott Lawson of Baltimore.

The bride's mother wore a navy ensemble with matching accessories and a corsage of white rose buds. The groom's mother wore a beige ensemble with matching accessories and a corsage of white rose buds.

A reception followed the ceremony in the Williamsport Community building. Presiding at the punch bowls were Mrs. Phil Carter and Mrs. John Amos, aunts of the bride. Serving the cake was Miss Maudie Sisler, aunt of the bridegroom.

For their wedding trip to Front Royal, Va., the bride chose a navy linen dress with white accessories and a corsage of white rose buds.

The bride is a graduate of Williamsport High School and is a senior at Frostburg College, where she is majoring in mathematics.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Southern High School and is also a senior at Frostburg College. His field of study is history.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Newcomer of Chambersburg, Pa.; Edward Carter, Hancock; Miss Maudie Sisler, Mrs. Stella Lowdermilk, Mrs. Beulah Sisler and daughters Janet and Joyce, Mrs. Jerry Hull and daughters, Bonnie and Barbara and Curtis Harvey, all of Mt. "We've enjoyed the comfort of a total electric home for 10 years for $27.46 per month!"

say Mr. and Mrs. Herman Offenberger, Marietta, Ohio.

Yes, the Offenbergers' average monthly cost for total electric living is a low $27.46. This includes lighting, cooking, water heating, clothes drying and everything for a family of eight!

Electric heat is the heart of a total electric home like the Offenbergers'. We like the even temperatures and the cleanliness of electric heat," says Mrs. Offenberger. Her husband agrees, and says, "We also like the individual heat control in each room."

The Offenbergers really enjoy the comfort and convenience of a total electric home. And, with a large family, the cleanliness of electric heating is even more appreciated. Only electric home heating is clean and safe as electric light, because it's flameless. Actually it's the only really new way to heat a home since time began.

TRAINING UNION ..... 6:30 p.m.

— WELCOME TO ALL —

No. It's just a rope . . . at the breaking point. But, frankly, it's a good illustration of how a man feels when his nerves are "worn to a frazzle."

The Church has never claimed that religion is a cure for frazzled nerves. But a man's Christian faith does this for him:

It shows him a Purpose in life more important than mere existence. It shows him a Power more effective than his own strength. It shows him a Future more rewarding than selfish gain. And it gives him courage more lasting than the sheer force of his human will.

With these spiritual resources, founded in the certainty that God understands and helps, a man never reaches "the breaking point." For when his human reserve is exhausted . . . he has only begun to tap the vast reservoir of Divine Strength.

THE CHURCH OF YOUR CHOICE CAN SHOW YOU THE WAY!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

HOME COUNTRY

Lesson for October 27, 1968

Background Scripture: I Peter 1:1-2, 10-25; 2:1-17. Devotional Reading: I Peter 1:1-12.

"Consider yourself. . .at home!" sings Artful Dodger to Oliver in the musical adaptation of Oliver Twist. For a while, Oliver does just that, making himself "at home" in a group of juvenile petty thieves and pickpockets. He soon realizes, however, that he cannot truly be "at home" there, for there is something better waiting for him.

Rev. Althouse

There is analogy here for our lives. We are constantly invited and tempted to make ourselves "at home" in this world. Yet the Christian must never forget that there is something better waiting for him. His stay here is but a sojourn, a brief stay.

That is why the writer of I Peter calls us "aliens" and "exiles." The two Greek words for these terms, paroikos and paridemos, describe someone who lives for a while in a country that is not his own. It is but his temporary residence. As one whose ultimate destination is a distant homeland, he must not do anything here that would invalidate his passport to the far country.

Thus the Christian must regard society differently than others. Its morals and values are not necessarily his own. His highest allegiance goes to another kingdom and thus he must be considered a sojourner, an alien. His residence here is but temporary. His citizenship, his passport have been issued elsewhere.

A chosen race

What then is the Christian's valid relationship to society? Shall he ignore the world in which he lives? Shall he hide from it? Seek to remain aloof from it?

No, says Peter. The Christian's alien influence must be felt here. For he is part of "a chosen race." Unlike the biological races of man, he does not become a Christian by virture of ancestry or heredity. He is part of this race because God has called him and he has responded. He is invited, not because of what he naturally is, but because of what, by the grace of God, he can become. Responding rightly to this call, he must be different.

We are also "a royal priesthood." "Royal" because we serve Christ the King, and "Priesthood" because we are intended to bring others into his service. The priest offers sacrifices and the Christian offers himself sacrificially for the sake of the King and his kingdom.

Christians are part of "a holy nation." To be "holy" means to be set apart from others for a particular purpose. As a "holy nation," therefore, we are a fellowship of those who have been marked for a particular mission in this world.

Finally, we are "God's own people." He has made us, called us, and set us apart so that we might belong to him and serve him alone. It is this loyalty to him above all else that marks us as aliens and exiles wherever we go in this world.

"When in Rome . . ."

All this, of course, has a purpose. We are "a chosen race," "a royal priesthood," a "holy nation," and "God's own people," so that we may be witnesses and agents of the home country in this world of darkness. Though this world is not our final destination, though we owe our allegiance to his kingdom alone, we must faithfully do our work of representation here if we are ever to return to that home country.

"When in Rome," goes the old saying, "do as the Romans do." But the Christian cannot content himself with simply "fitting in." If he is a disciple of Christ he cannot consider himself at home. He regards this world as "a nice place to visit," but he does not really want to live here. He will make it as much like the homeland as possible, but he will be ready to leave for the home country when the call comes.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our beloved husband, dad and granddad, Charles A. Barkman, who passed away five years ago, October 28, 1963.

When the evening shades are falling, dear,
I stand by the window watching evening stars and longing for you, my dear,
For I am alone and my heart aches with loneliness as I have to walk through life alone.
As the time goes by, we miss you more each day.
We often sit and talk about you,
dear, and wish you were with us again . . .
But God needed you more.
There are silent tears and heartaches for we loved you so much.
No one can ever fill your vacant place in our hearts.
Sadly missed by his wife,
Betty, daughter Carol Ann, and granddaughter, Baby
Carol.

—Adv. 34-1t.

Couple Wed

Miss Patricia Louise Keller became the bride of Mr. Arthur Clifton Matthias in a double ring ceremony at Grace Theological Seminary Chapel, Winona Lake, Ind., on Saturday, August 31.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Keller of Winona Like, Ind., formerly of Accident. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Merrel Darr, of Sunnyside, Washington.

Rev. William Smith, cousin of the bride, was the officiating minister, and was assisted by Rev. Charles Ashman, both of Winona Like. Traditional organ music was provided by Miss Zella Keller, aunt of the bride, who also accompanied the soloist Mrs. Edward Cole as she sang "The Wedding Prayer".

The altar was decorated with vases of yellow and white gladioli and palms, centered with fern as background for candelabra.

Given in marriage by her father the bride was attired in a floor length A-line gown of peau de soie, frosted with hand clipped Chantilly lace applique and empire waist. The bodice and long tapered sleeves of Chantilly lace were accented by scalloped neckline and pearl buttons. The detachable tubular train was also of handclipped and re-embroidered lace. Her elbow length veil of bridal illusion fell from a floral headpiece fashioned from handclipped Chantilly lace. The bride's gown and head piece were fashioned and designed by her mother.

The bride's bouquet was a cascade of moth orchids and miniature yellow rose buds centers surrounded by stephanotis and ivy which was carried on a white lace covered Bible.

Attending the bride as maid of honor, was her sister, Miss Elizabeth Keller, Winona Lake. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Alice Wagner, McHenry, aunt of the bride, and Miss Phyylis Hornev, Toppenish, Wash. All were attired in A - line gowns of mint green peau de soie with scalloped necklines and bell sleeves. A bow of forest green velvet ribbon accented the Empire waist, falling in streamers to the floor. The matching head pieces consisted of bows and illusion pouf veil of mint green. Each wore a pearl necklace, gifts from the bride, and carried a solitary yellow rose with ivy.

Best man was Gilbert Matthias, of Sunnyside, Washington, brother of the groom. Ushers were Randy Gillenwater, Akron, O., and Ed Doornbos, Chicago, Ill.

The bride's mother was attired in a pink double knit shift, with black accessories.

The mother of the groom was attired in a blue crepe skimmer with white accessories. Both wore corsages of white carnations.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Seminary Lounge. Miss Jerri Willson was in charge of the guest book. The color scheme was carried out in yellow and pale green. The three tiered cake was decorated with yellow roses centered with a miniature bride and groom, Miss Carol Willson presided at the punch bowl and Mrs. William Smith cut the cake. Assisting were Mrs. Isabell Zimmerman and Mrs. Betty Hall. The maid of honor attended the gift table.

For her going away outfit the bride chose a yellow A-line dress of linen and black accessories accented by the corsage lifted from her veil.

Mrs. Matthias is a graduate of Northern High School, Accident, and is now a senior at Grace College. Mr. Matthias was graduated from Sunnyside High School, and is also a senior at Grace College. The couple now resides at 1101 Kings Highway, Winona Lake, Ind.

Surprise showers were given by the girls of Grace College and the Social Committee of the Winona Lake Brethren Church.

A rehearsal party was held by groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Darr, in the Merrywood Recreation Room.

Ted Fearnow, Pennsylvania Glass Sand Corporation, addresses woodland owners at the Western Maryland Forest Improvement Conference, held at the New Germany State Park last Saturday, October 12. In the foreground, are J. T. Slocomb, Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, left, and Harry Hartman, Maryland Department of Forests and Parks, LaVale, co-chairmen of the conference.

Teacher Group To Meet

The annual fall meeting of the Garrett County Teachers' association will be held this evening, October 24, at 8 o'clock, in Southern High school. Dick Travis, president, said projects and activities would be discussed. Of special concern will be the new role of teacher welfare, and profesional negotiations with the Board of Education.

Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy and Greek shipping magnate Aristotle Onassis were married October 20 on Onassis' private island.

Wins Volunteer Red Cross Award

Mrs. Margaret McComas, well known resident of Oakland, was honored as the outstanding Red Cross volunteer for 1968 in this county, at the Maryland State Conference of Red Cross Chapters held at Easton this month.

She was awarded a special certificate by the conference chairman, Joseph Elliott, who cited Mrs. McComas' long service to the Red Cross and to her community.

She was especially commended for her work as local chairman of the Christmas Ditty Bag program for Vietnam, conducted by the American National Red Cross, a program carried on each year by Red Cross chapters, purpose of which is to insure delivery of a Christmas package to every serviceman in Vietnam. Mrs. McComas not only reached the requested quota but also exceeded it. Since Mrs. McComas was unable to be at the meeting at Easton, the certificate was delivered to her yesterday at her home by Brig. Gen. William A. Collier and F. J. O'Connor, acting on behalf of the Maryland Conference of Red Cross chapters.

Volkswagen announces automatic. Better late than never.

The Volkswagen Squareback and the Volkswagen Fastback are now available with a fully automatic transmission.

So now you can drive a Volkswagen and not even know you're driving a Volkswagen.

Except for a few reminders.

Like the 25 miles you get to a gallon of regular gas. The oil you still take by the pint. And the time and money you don't spend on anti-freeze.

Of course, the new automatic is strictly optional. Just like on most other cars.

But we've got something no other car offers even as an option. Electronic fuel injection.

And it's as standard as the electric clock, electric rear window defroster, 49-position front seats, front disc brakes and wall-to-wall carpeting.

All of which is enough to make you forget it's a Volkswagen all over again.

Before you buy any Color TV,

give Philco Color TV the Face Test

and compare!

23" picture measured diagonally.
295 sq.in. picture

How to give THE FACE TEST:

1. Look closely at some faces on the screen. Are they too red? Too green? Philco's special color circuit produces a wider range of flesh tones. It catches the subtle shades of color that make faces more life-like.

2. Try the tint control. Do the faces jump to violent red or green? If so, you'll have a hard time adjusting that set. Philco's color circuitry provides a wider range of flesh colors—gives you room to adjust skin tones more accurately.

Philco gets the faces right. The rest is easy.

Now with Philco Tuning Eye plus A.C.T. (Auto-lock Channel Tuning) Now you can fine tune Philco Color TV in an instant. Just turn the tuning dial until the lighted Tuning Eye narrows and flick the A.C.T. switch. Picture and sound come in sharp and clear every time.

Mrs. Stanley Stanton, leader, presented the topic, "Roots of Concern". The lesson endeavored to help the Christian woman to increase her awareness of the many-sided aspects of church and state relationships; to see how these relationships in education may directly concern her, and to become informed about some of the thinking of the Lutheran Church in this field.

Miss Leota Baker presided. In the used clothing drive for Lutheran World Relief, all donations of clean re-usable clothing are to be brought to the church by November 3. Several packages containing clothing and household items were sent to the Old People's Home, Zelienople, Pa.

Mrs. Kermit Glotfelty reported on highlights of the synodical convention of Lutheran Church Women at Thiel College.

No. 5726 Equity In The Circuit Court For Garrett County, Maryland

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

This is to give notice that on the 15th day of October, 1968, a Bill of Complaint was filed in the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, by the plaintiff against the defendants at the addresses hereinabove set forth. The object of these proceedings is to procure the passage of a decree for the sale of the real estate of Cora E. Miller, situate in Election District No. 16, Garrett County, Maryland, and for the payment of debts and claims filed against the proverty:

The bill states:

That during her lifetime and at the time of her death, Cora E. Miller was seized and possessed of a parcel of land situate in Election District No. 16 in Garrett County, Maryland, this property having been conveyed to the said Cora E. Miller by Orphans Court transfer in Proceedings No. 3249, this transfer being accomplished by deed dated December 8, 1958, and recorded in Liber 214, folio 345, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland; the Bill further describes the intermarriage of the various heirs; enumerated various debts outstanding against the said deceased Cora E. Miller; that Jack R. Turney qualified as administrator of the estate of Cora E. Miller on January 23, 1968, as will appear by reference to a certificate of letters filed as plaintiff's exhibit No. 2; that the personal estate of the decedent is insufficient to pay the indebtedness filed against the estate and that at the time of her death Cora E. Miller was indebted to the Garrett County Welfare Board in the amount of $12,674.96 representing amounts advanced to the said decedent during her lifetime as Old Age Assistance under the laws of the United States and the State of Maryland; and the said Cora E. Miller is further indebted to the Minnich Funeral Home in the amount of $365.00 and also unto divers other persons, and that said real estate is not of sufficient value to satisfy all claims against the estate of the decedent.

The Bill then prays for a decree for the sale of said real estate, for the sale of debts and claims and for general relief.

WHEREFORE, it is ORDERED by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, this 15th day of October, 1968, that plaintiff cause a copy of this Order to be inserted in a newspaper published in Garrett County, once a week in each of four successive weeks, before the 8th day of November, 1968, giving notice to the said unknown heirs who may be defendants of the object and substance of the bill of Complaint and warning them to show cause, if any there may be, on or before the 9th day of December, 1968, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

PROCLAMATION OF THE GOVERNOR OF MARYLAND DIRECTING THE PUBLICATION OF BILLS PROPOSING AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION OF MARYLAND

WHEREAS, at its regular session of 1967, the General Assembly enacted Chapters 245 and 474 proposing amendments to the State Constitution; and

WHEREAS, at its regular session of 1968, the General Assembly enacted Chapter 617, proposing an amendment to the State Constitution; and

WHEREAS, at its regular session of 1968, the General Assembly enacted Chapter 474, proposing an amendment to the State Constitution; and

WHEREAS, it is the duty of the Governor, under Section 1 of Article XIV of the Constitution, to order the publication of the bills proposing said amendments in advance of the General Election of November 5th, 1968; and

WHEREAS, there will be presented on the ballot at said election the following proposed amendments to the Constitution for adoption or rejection by the voters:

CHAPTER 245

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Article III of the Constitution of Maryland, title "Legislative Department," by adding new Section 40D thereto, to follow immediately after Section 40C thereof, providing for an optional procedure for the acquisition of land and interest in land by the Board of County Commissioners for Prince George's County for the construction or extension of county roads and streets, providing for a contingency by which this amendment may be void and of no further effect and providing for the submission of this amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for their adoption or rejection.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, (Three-fifths of all the Members elected to each of the two Houses concurring), That the following new Section 40D be and it is hereby proposed as an amendment to Section 1 of the Constitution of Maryland, title "Legislative Department," to follow immediately after Section 40C thereof; if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State as herein provided, to become a part of the Constitution of Maryland.

The General Assembly shall enact no law authorizing private property to be taken for public use without just compensation, to be agreed upon between the parties or awarded by a jury, being first paid or tendered to the party entitled to such compensation, except that where such property, located in Prince George's County, is in the judgment of the Board of County Commissioners of Prince George's County needed for the construction or extension of county roads and streets, The General Assembly may provide that such property, except a building occupied as a dwelling, may be taken immediately upon payment therefor by the condemning authority to the owner or owners thereof or into the Court to the use of the person or persons entitled thereto, such amount as the condemning authority shall estimate to be the fair value of said property, provided such legislation requires that the condemning authority's estimate be not less than the appraised value of the property being taken as evaluated by at least one qualified appraiser, whose qualifications have been accepted by a Court of Record of this State, and also requires the payment of any further sum that may subsequently be awarded by a jury. This section, if adopted by the voters in the year 1968, at the time it becomes effective, is void and of no further effect if the voters of the State prior thereto have adopted a revision of the Constitution of Maryland proposed by a Constitutional Convention.

SEC. 2. And be it further enacted, That the aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of this State shall, at the next general election, to be held in this State in the year 1968, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters thereof for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of this State, and at the said general election, the vote on the said proposed amendment shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendment" and "Against the Constitutional Amendment," as now prescribed by law, and immediately after said election, due returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendment, as directed by said Article 14 of the Constitution, and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article 14.

Christmas Special Set For Vietnam

Tons of Christmas gifts will be going to members of the Armed Forces in Vietnam by special ship this year, as the result a Joint Pentagon—Post Office venture.

A fast US cargo ship will be designated the "1968 SANTA CLAUS SPECIAL", sailing from Oakland, California next month with Christmas parcels.

To meet the sailing deadline and assure pre-holiday delivery of gifts sent with surface postage, items should be mailed during the October 14-November 9 period.

They should be marked "SANTA CLAUS SPECIAL" just below the stamps.

The "SANTA CLAUS SPECIAL" will sail during the latter half of November and stop at Da Nang, Qui Nhon, Cam Ranh Bay and Saigon, Vietnam. It takes approximately three weeks for a fast ship to cross the ocean.

All Gifts should be packed in strong containers with adequate cushioning and correctly addressed, including APO and FPO numbers.

There are several options available for mailing to the military which can save money. Post offices across the nation have free pamphlets available which outline the mailing programs for servicemen and women overseas.

Wed In Double Ring Ceremony

Pamela Jean Arnold became the bride of Harry L. Lewis Jr., on Saturday, September 14, during a double ring ceremony at the Loch Lynn Baptist Church, with Rev. E. H. Wilt, officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin J. Arnold of Twinsburg, Ohio, and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schlosnagle, Oakland. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Lewis Sr., of Loch Lynn.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full length, empire waist gown of lace with a lace bodice and long pointed sleeves, with a crepe overskirt. The chapel train, which attached at the shoulders, was also of lace trimmed with crepe. Her veil of nylon bridal illusion was attached to a headpiece of seed pearls and sequins. She carried a cascading bouquet of white carnations and white daisies.

Miss Janice Roth, cousin of the bride, of Aurora, Ohio, was maid of honor. She wore a full length A-line gown of autumn yellow with an attached train trimmed in light yellow. Miss Dorothy Goodwin, and Miss Cheryl Fiorilli, both of Twinsburg, served as bridesmaids. They were attired in full length gowns similar to the maid of honor in dark olive green cut velvet and light olive green crepe. Cindy Harvey and Robin Weeks, niece of the bridegroom, were flower girls. They wore dresses fashioned in white dotted Swiss accent with yellow satin bows. The attendants carried colonial bouquets of yellow carnations and white daisies.

Best man was Rodger Uphold, Cheverly. Ushers were Robert R. Ringer, Oakland, uncle of the bride, and Steven Perrine, Loch Lynn. Ringbearer was Walter L. Weeks Jr., Loch Lynn, nephew of the bridegroom.

Organist, Clifford DeWitt, played the traditional wedding music and accompanied the soloist, Miss Mary Ann Helbig who sang "The Lords Prayer".

A reception followed the ceremony at the Loch Lynn Community Hall. Persons assisting were Mrs. Roland R. Roth, Aurora; Mrs. W. Dale Schlosnagle, Twinsburg; Mrs. Robert R. Ringer, Oakland; all aunts of the bride; Mrs. Carroll Forman, Mt. Lake Park; Mrs. Cletis Beckman, Mt. Lake Park, both aunts of the bridegroom.

Fatal Tendency . . .

John Kushnerick, writing in the October issue of "Motor Age", has a sound message for the citizens of this country. A portion of his editorial opinion appears below:

"This is my land. It is a proud land. It was built by proud people. Those people who endured thousands of miles of ocean and were propelled only by the wind and by desire, had something inside them they had to let out. They had to give it to the land and to other people. They built a great nation. And they tried to pass on the product and the principles to the families they raised. Each generation improved on the work of the other.

"Today the land is filled with cries of 'justice'. But the word rings hollow in the throats of the chanters. And the looks on their faces are not the looks of the oppressed.

"There was a time in this land when justice meant that a man was paid what he rightfully earned and granted what he rightfully deserved. The measure of what was rightfully earned or deserved was determined

Airport Vital To Economy, Operator Says

Future Plans For Operation Outlined At Dinner Saturday

The county's airport at McHenry will prove to be a vital factor in the continued growth of the county's industry and tourism, business and civic leaders were informed last Thursday night.

Dale B. Nicholson, vice president of Nicholson Air Services, Cumberland, outlined his company's plans for the airport at a get acquainted dinner attended by about 60 persons at the Wisp ski lodge at McHenry.

The County Commissioners recently entered into an agreement with Lakeside Aviation, a division of the Nicholson company, to operate the county-owned airport.

Mr. Nicholson explained that his company decided to expand its operations to serve this county because of the evident potential of the airport. He said plans are under way for improvements to the 2,500-ft. paved strip. These include runway lights and hangar space. J. Ross Sines, president of the County Commissioners, said the board already had begun work toward meeting these needs.

Mr. Nicholson said cooperation of county officials and business people of the area had been excellent and that improvements already had been started at the airport. The commissioners also promised speedy removal of snow from the runway to keep it open during winter months.

He also pointed out that operation of the airport makes the services of the Cumberland air shuttle to Martinsburg, Baltimore and Washington more readily available to Garrett countians and that his firm already is supplying charter service to the local airport.

The McHenry airport already is being advertised nationally in aviation publications.

Charles Breighner, resident manager, who worked for Nicholson in Cumberland, came to the county in September, and lives at the airport. He is on duty 24 hours a day.

Ted Oaks, of Sterling Products, organized the dinner to introduce the new airport operators to interested residents. David Faust, of Ohio Valley Piper Sales, of Washington, Pa., spoke briefly and showed a color movie on general aviation.

Police Checking On Robbery Series

Authorities which include city, county and state police are investigating a series of breaking and entering violations that were perpetrated in the area last week-end.

Places of business involved were Southern States, Liberty street; Oakland Oil company, Liberty street; Farmers' Market, old Mt. Lake road; Arnold Brothers, near the Mt. Lake Park rail station; Southern High school and Center Street elementary school.

At Southern States a safe was badly damaged and some $10 in cash taken in addition to several items of clothing. The robber or robbers gained entrance by breaking an office window. They apparently left by a rear door. This was Sunday night.

The same night they broke a window and entered the Oakland Oil company. Apparently there was no evidence of anything taken.

The Farmers' Market was again entered Sunday night through a back window, the same place that the building had been entered several weeks ago. It was not known just what had been taken but no money had been left in the cash register.

The Arnold Brothers place of business in Mt. Lake Park was entered Saturday night or early Sunday by a back door, but it was not known what had been taken.

At Center street elementary school Sunday night, the culprits entered by a side window and apparently made the rounds of teachers' desks where they picked up perhaps $1.50. Mrs. Phyllis Williams, principal, said they had failed to gain entrance to the cafeteria and apparently left by way of the fire escape.

At Southern High school the thieves broke a glass and entered the greenhouse area, apparently in search of money. This was sometime between 3 p. m. Saturday and 3 p. m. Sunday. Carl Everly, vice-principal, said some small items were missing. They did not gain access to any other part of the school.

Two Area Men Die In Fall At Illinois Mine

Were Engaged In Construction Work When Tragedy Occurred

Two area young men were killed Monday, October 28, when they fell from a scaffold while working at a coal mining site near Waltonville, Illinois.

The dead were Paul Lee Knotts, 30, of Bayard, W. Va., and Jerry Grant James, 25, of route 2, Oakland, near Aurora, W. Va.

According to a report the two men were working on a construction of a concrete silo when scaffolding gave way and they fell 120 feet to their deaths. A third man was able to cling to the scaffolding as it fell and was not seriously hurt.

The men were working for the Rutman Construction Company of Upper Sandusky, Ohio.

Mr. Knotts was a native of Gormania, a son of Peter Knotts and Pauline Minnick Knotts, Bayard. He was a 10-year veteran of the U. S. air force. Besides his parents he is survived by his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Hobard Minnick, Gormania; a half sister, Mrs. Norma Cosner, Bayard; two half brothers, Teter Knotts, with the Air Force in San Bernardino, Calif., and Donald Knotts, Petersburg, W. Va. His body was being returned to the Minnich Funeral home in Oakland.

Funeral services will be conducted Friday morning at 10:30 from the Minnich Funeral home with Rev. Samuel Moore officiating. Interment will be in Bayard cemetery.

Mr. James is a son of Loyal Grant James and Ruth Agnes Kennard James, of near Aurora. He also is survived by several brothers and sisters. His body was being returned to the Hinkle Funeral home in Davis, W. Va.

Funeral services for Jerry James will be conducted Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock from the Hinkle Funeral home in Davis.

Michael James, brother of Jerry, was at the site of construction when the accident occurred.

James was born November 1, 1942, in Bayard. He served in the army six years and was a veteran of the Korean war, a member of VFW Post 55, Aurora, and the Methodist church.

Besides his brother and parents he is survived by two other brothers, Dale James, with the Marines in Vietnam; and Jack James, at home; two sisters, Mrs. Rose Ann Southard, Richmond, Va.; Mrs. Virginia Meyers, Hyattsville.

NEW LOOK COMPLETED—The new J. W. Jackson Ben Franklin store was officially opened this morning, in the building recently completed on the site of the one destroyed by fire on January 4. On hand for a ribbon cutting ceremony were Haig Jackson, part owner; John Kurilla, manager, and Mayor H. D. Swartzentruber. The new store completes the "new look" for downtown Oakland, providing an improved appearance since the fire destroyed the five and ten on Second street and four stores on Alder street last week. The Alder street stores reopened several weeks ago. In the photo, left to right are Mayor Swartzentruber, Mrs. J. W. Jackson, Mr. Kurilla, Mr. Jackson, J. P. Merrill, store operations manager for the Ben Franklin Stores, and H. D. Lindberg, area manager for the Ben Franklin stores.

Power Company Plans Addition For Area Plant

Unit Will Add 535,000 Kilowatt Capacity At Mt. Storm Facility

Virginia Electric and Power Company announced plans to add a third unit to its Mt. Storm mine mouth station in Grant County, W. Va. to help meet the rapidly growing demands of its customers. The new 535,000 kilowatt unit will bring the station's capacity to more than 1.6 million kilowatts.

Engineering on the new unit will begin immediately and construction will begin in 1969. The unit is planned to begin operation in March, 1973.

Mt. Storm station, placed in full operation in 1966, was built in the West Virginia coalfields near Garrett County to offset the cost of transporting coal, which amounts to nearly one-half of Vepco's total fuel cost.

Power from Mt. Storm is carried to load centers in central and northern Virginia and to interconnections with other utilities by the free world's first commercial 500,000 volt transmission system.

In 1961, Vepco was granted a permit by the Department of Natural Resources and a certificate of convenience and necessity by the Public Service Commission of West Virginia to construct and operate three units on the site. The station presently has two units, installed in 1965 and 1966. The cooling reservoir was built with sufficient capacity for a third unit.

The new unit, similar to the first two units, will burn coal obtained from mines in the area. The three units will burn an estimated 15,000 tons of coal per day.

Despite the relatively isolated location of the station, Vepco installed equipment to minimize any possible air pollution. High efficiency electrostatic precipitators were installed on Units 1 and 2, and a precipitator will also be installed on the third unit with a 99 percent collection capability.

Jury Finds Man Guilty Receiving Stolen Goods

A Glen Burnie man, formerly of this county, last week was found guilty of a charge of receiving stolen goods when tried in the Circuit Court here before a jury.

The sentencing of Elbert Ray Bittinger, who had been charged with breaking and entering and receiving stolen goods, was deferred pending the filing of a motion for a new trial.

The case stemmed from a burglary at the home of Jerome Laffey, near the Savage River Dam.

Following the conclusion of the trial a motion was made for acquittal on all three counts of the indictment. The judgment of acquittal was granted on the first count, denied for the other two. The jury found the defendant not guilty on the second count but guilty on the third count, of receiving stolen goods, knowing them to be stolen.

The motion for the new trial was filed by Jack R. Turney, attorney for the defendant. The motion declared that the verdict was against the weight of the evidence and that the court erred in its rulings on the evidence and in denying the defendant's motion for judgments of acquittal.

The court has set no date for a hearing on the motion for the new trial.

The Mt. Top Archery club will open its indoor season on Saturday, November 2, at 7 p. m., it was announced.

The indoor range is located on the third floor of the McLaughlin building, corner of Second and Alder streets, in Oakland.

Hallowe'en Parade To Be Held Tonite

Some 75 prizes are on display in the old five and ten building on the west side of Second street, in preparation for their distribution following the Hallowe'en parade this evening.

The club completed final plans last week and were engaged this afternoon in erecting booths and planning for the street carnival.

The parade will form on Fourth street, between Oak and Alder, then proceed on Oak to Third and from Third to Second by way of Center street. The paraders will circle the business district twice to give judges an opportunity to make their selection. Earl Clark is parade chairman.

Various games and concession stands are being set up and the street will be barricaded against all traffic other than pedestrians. There will be a cake walk following the parade. An Instamatic camera will be awarded as a main prize.

Two $25 U. S. Savings bonds will be given away, awarded by the First National and Garrett National Banks. Each contestant in the parade will be given a ticket before entering the parade and the savings bonds will be awarded at the conclusion of the parade on Second street.

Service Cancelled

The All Saints Day service which was scheduled for St. Matthew's Episcopal church on Friday, had to be cancelled, it was announced by Rev. W. Shelby Walthall, rector. Mr. Walthall was called to Fryeburg Academy, Fryeburg, Maine, where their son Edwin, a student there, is ill and in the infirmary there. He will be brought to his home here.

Regular worship services on Sunday morning at 8 and 11 o'clock will be conducted by William Grant, official lay reader for the church.

Some 483 U. S. daily newspapers support Richard Nixon.

Southern Hi Rams To Meet Huskies On Friday Evening

The annual football game between the Southern High Rams and the Northern High Huskies will take place this Friday evening, November 1, on the Southern High gridiron near the Dennett Road school. Game time has been called for 7:30 instead of the usual 8 o'clock. It will be the final game of the season for both teams.

This is the thirteenth game of their series. Southern holds an 8-4 edge in victories and has won the last two games, 42-0 in 1966 and 20-14 last year. Northern won games in 1965 and 1964 by scores of 19 to 6 and 33-6.

Coach Jack Lear's Huskies will go into battle with a 6-2 record, having lost to Bruce and Berlin. Coach LeRoy Bolding's Southern High gridders have won five and lost three, the losses being to Bruce, Parsons and Valley of Lonaconing.

Northern's victories have been against Terra Alta, Meyersdale, Valley of Lonaconing, Mountaineer of Davis, Kingwood and Masontown Valley of Preston county. Southern Rams have victories over Kingwood, St. Francis of Morgantown, Mountaineer, Terra Alta and Petersburg.

Absentee Votes Could Be Big Factor November 5

Voting by absentees in Maryland on November 5 could be a big factor in close contests, it was noted. Some 35,000 have been sent out to duly registered voters. Around 250 were mailed from the office of the Board of Supervisors from this county.

A check by the Associated Press showed that the number of absentee ballots requested this year will approach twice the amount cast in the 1964 Presidential election. It said the volume reflected the intense interest and probably heavy turnout of voters for the election.

Counting of the absentee ballots, available to those on military duty and others who know they will be outside the state on election day, will start when the official figures are tabulated, two days after the election, Thursday, November 7.

Montgomery county will have 10,000 absentee ballots this year compared to 5,000 four years ago. The potential state-wide absentee vote of 35,000 is the equivalent of the medium sized Maryland county.

J. W. Jackson Co. Opens in Finished Building Today

The J. W. Jackson company opened its recently completed Ben Franklin store on Second street this morning with an official ribbon cutting ceremony at 9 o'clock. The previous store was completely destroyed by fire on January 4, which also took four other business establishments on Alder street.

The J. W. Jackson store came to Oakland in 1933, established here by the late J. W. Jackson, of Lonaconing. In 1935 it moved to its present location. Following the fire it moved across the street to the site vacated by the Monongahela Power company, and continued business while the new building was under construction.

The new structure was constructed by William A. Shirer, contractor. It is a two-story building of brick and concrete block with a brick and glass front and is completely air conditioned.

J. Haig Jackson, secretary-treasurer of the J. W. Jackson company assisted in the pre-opening details, along with John Kurilla, manager.

Fire Destroys Trailer at Lake

Fire of undetermined origin early last Saturday morning, completely destroyed the double trailer home of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Sisler, formerly of Friendsville, on U. S. Route 219, just across the highway from Johnny's Bait House, Deep Creek Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Sisler had been residing near Elkins, W. Va., where he is employed as a tractor-trailer driver and spent their week-ends here. There was no one at home at the time.

A Fike milk truck driver noticed the home in flames as he passed the area about 4:45 a. m. and called Sheriff James E. Frantz, who notified the Deep Creek Lake Volunteer Fire company at McHenry. The company responded promptly but the flames were too far advanced and it was completely destroyed. It was not known whether the couple had insurance coverage.

Heavy Equipment To Battle Winter

Personnel of the State Roads commission district headquarters are preparing for the upcoming snow removal season with the main reliance on heavy duty equipment.

The use of snow fences has lessened somewhat as officials of the SRC determined that huge four-wheel drive trucks equipped with V plows and side wing plows and large snow blowers could handle heavy snows much more efficiently without relying on the snow fences.

However, William Goldsborough, resident engineer for this county, said some 25,000 feet of snow fence has been erected in the more stormy areas where experience has shown the winds cause heavy drifting.

All equipment is ready with automatic spreaders attached to trucks, side wing plows and V plows ready for duty. There are two snow blowers located at Oakland, ready to be dispatched to any point in the county. There are 17 trucks, two side wing plows, one in Oakland, one in Accident; two V plows, one in Oakland, one in Accident.

The SRC already has stocked a large quantity of chemicals and abrasives for use this winter. Mr. Goldsborough said U. S. routes 40 and 50 were being listed as bare pavement maintenance routes and he said his workmen would endeavor to keep both these roads bare at all times.

Last year some 4,000 tons of chemicals, (sodium chloride) were used, plus 12,000 tons of sand, as an abrasive. He stated that the commission planned to use this year for the first time in the place of sand, a

Woman's Death Not A Homicide

Homicide has been ruled out in the death of Inez Marie Bambling, 27, of Chester, W. Va., whose body was found September 13, in this county.

State's Attorney Fred A. Thayer said last week-end he was advised by Cpl. Milton G. Hart, criminal investigator for the Maryland State police, that both the Maryland police crime laboratory and the FBI had made negative reports on the material sent to them following the discovery of the body.

The woman's body was found in an abandoned stolen car in a dense section of woods off Route 135. Mr. Thayer said that with a negative report on the toxicology examinations it must be concluded there is no indication or evidence of homicide.

Dr. Benedict Skitarelic, deputy county medical examiner, who performed an autopsy on the dead woman, said the cause of death had not yet been determined.

Meanwhile, Frank Earl Browne, formerly of Shaw, W. Va., near where the abandoned car and woman's body were found, is being held by West Virginia authorities for grand larceny in the theft of the automobile. The case will be presented at the January term of court.

The woman had been missing from her foster home since August 23. She was partially paralyzed. Browne reportedly had worked for a race track near Chester and at one time roomed at the foster home where Miss Bambling lived.

Jury Awards $7,620 For Falconi Land

A jury returned an award of $11,000 in another condemnation suit filed in the Circuit court by the State Roads commission against Angelo Falconi and wife, of Canonsburg, Pa., who held property along the route planned for U. S. 219, near Deep Creek Lake.

This was the second suit filed against Mr. and Mrs. Falconi, a jury last week having awarded $12,500 for 4.35 acres of land. The state had offered $6,575, an amount which was rejected by Mr. and Mrs. Falconi.

In last Thursday's case the land involved .10 of an acre of land with an "A"-frame house on a portion of the property. The state in this case had offered $7,620.

At the trial Tuesday morning State's Attorney Fred A. Thayer nolle prossed the auto larceny charge and Terry entered a plea of guilty to the charge of escape. He was sentenced to serve three years in the custody of the department of Correction but the sentence was suspended and he was placed under the jurisdiction of the department of probation.

Soldiers Meet In Vietnam

Alvin A. O'Haver

Bradley C. Lewis

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin O'Haver, of Loch Lynn Heights, received word from their son, Pfc. Alvin A. O'Haver, that he and Pvt. Bradley C. Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lewis, of Loch Lynn, had met in Bien Hoa, Vietnam, and were spending some time together.

O'Haver and Lewis both went to Southern High school, both graduating in June, 1967.

O'Haver enlisted November 12, 1967 and took basic training at Fort Bragg, N. C., and advanced training at Fort Jackson, S. C., before going to Vietnam May 1, 1968. He is serving with Company A, 1st battalion 508th infantry of the 82nd ABN division.

Lewis enlisted January 2, 1968, and took basic training at Fort Bragg and advanced training at Fort Gordon, Ga., before going to Vietnam in July of this year. He is serving with Company A, 4436th signal battalion. His parents also were informed by letter that he recently was promoted to Sp-4.

The Coldstream Guard, Part III

The long march of Braddock's infantry, artillery, and wagons began in a laborious effort to reach Fort Cumberland, then regarded as the western outpost of the Maryland-Virginia plan for frontier defense. Here the wagon train met the other fighting forces, and a long delay was imposed upon the expedition. Thomas Cresap, termed the Rattle Snake Colonel because of some devious ways, was supposed to serve as sutler, providing the needed wagons and other equipment. He was criticized for charging exorbitant prices for spirits and wine, but perhaps Thomas knew that any liberty, even that of imbibing, must be cherished, and felt that his prices would serve to recognize value. Cresap did have loyalty in perhaps a more important line, for he had received a summons from the French, in all probability for trespassing constantly upon their Ohio country lands, but he refused to meet them.

Finally, the army moved out from the fort and over the wind gap which you drive through at the Dingle, this route being found by a scout to be superior to the lower route out from the Narrows in the LaVale valley. Just west of Big Savage Mountain was the crossing of Savage River, a short distance from the mouth of Carey Run where it meets the parent stream, and near a schoolhouse on the north bank of the river, then north of Henry Meerbach's house. The third camp was struck here in the bottom lands which would accommodate so many troops; then the army moved south of the present Route 40 and past the old Brad Blocher farm across Mud Lick. From here it was again a long climb across the ridges to Little Meadows at the old Stone House Farm, which was reached on June 18.

At this point Braddock took Washington's advice and divided forces, so that 1200 men proceeded toward Shade Run, west of Grantsville, while 850 men and 30 wagons advanced in slower stages with the baggage, stores, artillery, and even a herd of cattle which traveled with this army, as the axemen blazed the way under Lt. Col. Thomas Gage. Their route crossed Wolf Swamp, north of the New Germany Recreation Area, and Red Run, which lies to the west. From there the road scarred the Eli Stanton farm and then the Jennings Brothers Railroad line to the Casselman ford at Hickory Hole, about 300 yards above the site of the old stone bridge. These scars and one at Shade Hill were detected by a group of historians who retraced all of Braddock's Road and finished the sequence in photographs, the only complete one of which now exists in Germany.

It seems nearly incredible that the forces was able to surmount the existing high points in those days. Much real muscle power of man and horse was needed to transport the advance party's three Coehorn mortars, two six-pounders, four twelve-pounders, and four eight-inch howitzers. A nine-horse team was required for each howitzer, a seven-horse team for each twelve-pounder. 400 pack horses carried 30 days' rations, and 100 horses were taken as spare animals. When the column was reduced, the extent of the carriages was not often above a mile in length.

Washington owned Great Meadows, where you now see Fort Necessity, and thus knew the terrain, so that it took only until June 25 to reach this site. On the other side, it was necessary to let carriages down the hill with tackles before arriving at the most formidable part of the country, Chestnut Ridge. A watchful army now proceeded with caution, as Fort Duquesne stood not more than 40 miles away.

When you walk into a bank, you're only as big as they make you feel. We hope you've never been made to feel small in any bank, but if you have, then you know what we mean. But here you'll find the respect — the courtesy you like and expect. We preach this — but we also practice it. Drop in and see.

Disregard Last-Minute Moves . . .

There are always last minute moves by various political candidates to attempt to discredit and smear the opposing candidates, and in general very little attention should be paid to them by the voters.

Such last minute advertisements, handbills, etc., should be taken with a grain of salt.

The Baltimore Sun and News American have recommended the election of Richard M. Nixon for president, Spiro Agnew for vice president, Charles McC. Mathias for the U. S. Senate and J. Glenn Beall for Congress. Many other newspapers have endorsed the election of Nixon and Agnew. Their stand was taken some time ago.

Their election is essential for the best interests of this country. They should be given an overwhelming victory.

Fatal Tendency . . .

simply by what a man gave of his own talents. The system encourages, even demands, that a man give his best in many areas: creativity, hard work, ambition, thrift, honesty, and common sense. It asks that men use their fullest talents to receive their fullest rewards. What could be more just?

"The call for the new justice which echoes across the land seems more concerned with sharing what exists than with creating and building. It is concerned more with getting than with giving. It says: "Give me the portion of the goods that is mine. Give me the portion of the wealth. Give me the portion of the land. And, when you give me those things, you will have given me justice'. Each 'Seeker' is expert in sharing. Few will know what to do when the pot is empty. Wealth must be produced before it can be shared.

"The ranks of the marchers, the protestors, and their intellectual admirers are filled with those who have succumbed to the 'fatal tendency'. The tendency is to live at the expense of one's fellow man. That is unjust.

That is the paradox of our times.

"A guaranteed income, which so many seek, is an injustice. It is the product of a twisted logic which says that one man's need constitutes a demand on another more productive man to fill that need—not for an exchange, but simply as a right of the needy. That is not the kind of justice which built this land. Man's fatal tendency will never be diminished by that kind of justice. It will be fertilized and perpetuated.

"What can you do about it? Do what every man must do. Live your own life every day by the justice in which you believe. Run your business in a way that rewards the productive employes. Do not vote for those who espouse false justice. One man can do a lot. One vote can do a lot. The danger of not being an activist, every day, is that the other point of view will prevail".

Swiss Adv. Agency Tours County Area

Three representatives of a Switzerland-based advertising agency spent last week-end visiting Garrett County in connection with an advertising campaign for Philip Morris cigarettes.

The three, Roland Reiter, Oskar Rutsche and Lilo Nido, explained that their visit was part of a promotion dealing with Maryland's tobacco industry. Maryland produces 90 percent of the tobacco used in Philip Morris cigarettes abroad.

The advertising campaign will be viewed by people in France, Germany and Switzerland.

Although Garrett County does not produce tobacco, the group wanted to tour most of the state to create a contrast for the campaign. They compared the County to their homeland because of the mountains and farm lands.

Lynn Beckman, director of the local Promotion Council, met the group Saturday and took them on a tour of the area. They were shown the Amish settlement, Swallow Falls State Park, Deep Creek Lake, Wisp Ski Area, the Town of Oakland, H. Weber and Sons, Claude Wagner Jr.'s dairy farm and Thomas Johnson's beef farm.

The group planned a return trip in the spring to gather more information about the area.

His visit to Garrett county was the seventeenth one and he will complete his visits to other counties later this year.

Wm. Fitzwater III Attends FFA Meet

"Two major decisions were made at the National FFA convention in Kansas City, October 15 to 18", according to William Fitzwater III, president of the local chapter, who attended the convention as a delegate.

Delegates voted that girls could not be members of the national organization. The other change approved was a motion to reapportion the number of delegates from the different states. This will become effective the school year of 1969-70. Neither national rule will affect the local or state organization.

In the state of Maryland, girls can belong to the organization. Several girls already are members of the local chapter, it was pointed out.

Candidates of the two major political parties, Richard Nixon and Hubert Humphrey, were present at the convention. Mr. Nixon, the Republican nominee, spoke at one of the general sessions.

William, local delegate, is a member of the eleventh grade class which he serves as president. He is president of his homeroom as well as the local FFA chapter. He is assistant president of Region I FFA of Maryland this year. In the community he is an active 4-H member of the North Glade Club, which he serves as president. The last week of November he will represent the County at the National 4-H Dairy Conference to be held in Washington, D. C. He is a member of the Sand Flat Assembly of God Church where he is a C. A. member. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Fitzwater Jr., of Swanton.

WHEEL HORSE
tractor with snow thrower

He doesn't dig snow.

No wonder. In a minute, Wheel Horse tractor-powered snow throwers clear as much as 480 square feet of snow. Paths up to 37 inches wide, as fast as 160 feet per sixty seconds! Figure the square feet in your driveway and walks. You'll see how quickly Wheel Horse can clean them. Better yet, ask us for a free Snow-Power chart. It tells the size tractor and attachment best for the area around your house. Pick the right combination yourself.

WHEEL HORSE owners don't dig it. No matter the snowfall — light or heavy, wet or dry, any kind of snow — there's a Wheel Horse for your snow hang-up. Tractors, 7 to 14 horses, with all the goodies: electric starter, automatic shift, hydraulic lifting, headlights, you name it. Self-propelled throwers too. Look around you. The driveway's always cleaner on the Wheel Horse side. Let it snow.

Before you buy any Color TV,
give Philco Color TV the Face Test
and compare!

How to give THE FACE TEST:

1. Look closely at some faces on the screen. Are they too red? Too green? Philco's special color circuit produces a wider range of flesh tones. It catches the subtle shades of color that make faces more life-like.
2. Try the tint control. Do the faces jump to violent red or green? If so, you'll have a hard time adjusting that set. Philco's color circuitry provides a wider range of flesh colors—gives you room to adjust skin tones more accurately.

Philco gets the faces right. The rest is easy.

Now with Philco Tuning Eye plus A.C.T. (Auto-lock Channel Tuning) Now you can fine tune Philco Color TV in an instant. Just turn the tuning dial until the lighted Tuning Eye narrows and flick the A.C.T. switch. Picture and sound come in sharp and clear every time.

GEORGE P. MAHONEY SPEAKS

The big trouble with this country today is that too many people are refusing to recognize the existence of authority.

They reject the fact ... and seek to destroy the principle... that "government by the people", as established by the nation's founders, means government through representation.

They attempt to substitute mob rule for sound principles of democracy and at times they are successful.

There is tragedy in the yielding by some college and university authorities to the demands of unruly mobs of students who seize institution buildings...sometimes state or other government property.

It is an unhappy sight to see officials of governmental units yielding against their better judgments to the noisy throngs at the doors of constituted authority.

Almost unbelievable are the efforts to intimidate courts of justice and influence judges by the screaming mobs. Completely contradictory to our system of orderly government are the burnings and lootings that are substituted for the established remedies in the law for the righting of human injustices.

I assure you I seek no curtailment of the right of people to assemble and state their views and voice their protests.

Certainly, I would not stifle the right of petition...A right, however, which can be and should be exercised in a dignified and orderly manner.

I pledge to the people of Maryland that I will never be intimidated by mobs or influenced by noisy organizations who fly in the face of the popular will. The people who know me...know that to be true.

In the Senate of the United States, it will be a constant aim of mine to reestablish order in our society...and to restore the proper and prescribed powers of governments and authority to those who have been chosen legally to exercise them.

SICKNESS HAS NO OFFICE HOURS

If you are fortunate, sometimes when you are sick, there is no urgent rush for the medicine you need. Perhaps delaying the treatment will not seriously inconvenience you. But, as a rule, if you are sick, the sooner you begin taking a medicine, the sooner you will get relief. Delay can be dangerous. We dispense prescriptions as quickly as safety permits.

The wisest rule is to take every medicine your Doctor directs as soon as possible, as often as he specifies and unless he tells you differently, take all the medicine he prescribes until none is left.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

George P. Mahoney
THE MAN OF THE PEOPLE

The people of Garrett County need, more than anything else, a person to represent them, who will give them an honest answer and who won't forget they exist except when election time rolls around.

Garrett County is just as important to George P. Mahoney as the large metropolitan areas.

Mr. Mahoney is against any legislation that would take away the constitutional right to keep and bear arms.

Through Mr. Mahoney's efforts a number of tractor-trailer loads of food were sent into the county to be given to the needy people. If you can't remember this, ask your parents or grandparents. They will remember.

Mr. George P. Mahoney is not controlled by any political machine or party. He will always represent and vote the will of the people.

Vote Pointer 2-D for George P. Mahoney for United States Senator.

Voters, Democratic and Republican for Mahoney, you can pick up campaign literature at 323 E. Oak Street, or call 334-2987.

New Head Start Program To Open

A group of about forty-five Deer Park area residents met last Tuesday evening to plan for the opening of a new Full-Year Head Start to begin next month, and to be conducted in the basement of the St. John's Episcopal Church near Deer Park.

A temporary Policy Advisory Committee, made up of parents and other interested area residents, was formed to put the program in operation. It will assist in the general policy making, recruitment and enrollment of children as well as screening applicants for the three non-professional job openings.

This will be the second Full-Year Head Start in the County. The Community Action Agency last year had received a grant to operate the Head Start program in the Jennings community with an enrollment of thirty children. This year the agency received additional funds from both the County and the OEO in Washington to plan and implement a new Head Start program with an enrollment of fifteen children.

The new Deer Park program will follow the basic structural patterns. The class will enroll fifteen chidren. The staff will include a teacher, a teacher-aide, a cook, and a bus driver-custodian. In addition to the paid staff, volunteer help will be utilized.

The core of the program centers around educational and learning experiences of the child, medical and dental care, and involvement of the total family, according to Brad Rinard, Community Action Director.

Some 25,000 persons held an Anti-American parade in London.

Guidance Group To Institute Pilot Program

To Start Monday, November 11 At Southern High School

For the first time in the state, under cognizance of the Appalachian Regional Development Act a new and experimental guidance program will be initiated at Southern High school, it was announced by John J. Laughlin, guidance counselor.

The nine weeks' course will begin Monday, November 11. This was termed a pilot program. The new project will involve counselors and social studies teachers and will place emphasis on three major areas:

1. Existing and future educational career opportunities available to students and parents for economic growth in Appalachia;
2. Increased counseling service in both Junior and Senior High schools;
3. Greater communication between the school, community and industrial business.

Robert F. Rodeheaver, principal, said that Southern had three counselors, Ernest Spoerlein, senior counselor, on self understanding; Scott Ward, junior high counselor, on decision making; and John J. Laughlin, vocational counselor for educational and vocational opportunities.

Main purpose of the project is to support the total guidance program. Mr. Laughlin pointed out five ways in which to do this; to establish communication between school and employers; attempt to develop and coordinate a system which will enable students to make a successful transition from school to employment; develop and coordinate a follow-up system; provide career and occupational information for students; and provide support to counselors, teachers and administration in all aspects of guidance to make it a more effective aid to students.

Mr. Laughlin said he already had started on the first phase by contacting Oakland business people and major industries.

The guidance office, along with Miss Henrietta Lease and Paul Harr, social studies instructors, will work mainly with ninth and twelfth grade students on self understanding, educational and vocational opportunities and decision making.

The most important function, Mr. Laughlin said, will be to establish communications between school and community to effect a more smooth transition in the world of work.

The guidance program will be conducted by Mr. Spoerlein.

Leadership also will be provided by the Leadership subcommittee of the Maryland State Department of Education.

Should the program be successful, it was stated that possibly Northern High School personnel could be included in a similar program for next year, including a summer workshop.

Lake Park and Loch Lynn has been determined to be $183.72. With Accident, McHenry and Kitzmiller the total is not yet reported.

The frame lumber was fitted on the ground by Noah Zook, supervisor and with the help of neighbors. The old barn was destroyed by fire September 19, with an estimated loss of $16,000. The new barn was under roof and ready for use within five weeks of the time it was destroyed.

Dates Listed For 1969 Turkey Fete

The dates for the 1969 Autumn Glory Turkey Festival were released following a meeting of the board of directors of the Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion council, sponsors of the event. They are October 9, 10, 11 and 12, following the same format established this year, Thursday through Sunday.

The board named Tom Butscher to serve another year as general festival chairman. According to Lynn Beckman, executive director of the council, next year's festival will be "bigger and better", and that the program would be revised to smooth out the rough spots.

But he termed the first festival "not too bad at all".

He began lining up talent for next year which he said would include another teen dance, an adult dance, State fiddlers' championship, Grand Ole Opry Show, and a mammoth parade.

CRIME:

YOU CAN TURN THE TIDE.

Muggings, robberies, rapes and assaults have risen 88% in seven years. How can you prevent this wave of crime from becoming the wave of the future? Elect Richard Nixon President. Here is part of what he wants to do:

1. Restore the balance in the courts. Some of our courts have gone too far in weakening the peace forces as against the criminal forces. Too many guilty men are being freed on technicalities.
2. Appoint an Attorney General dedicated to rooting out organized crime in America. A crackdown here—including the safeguarded use of wiretaps—is long overdue.
3. Help localities improve the quality of their police protection with bloc grants from Federal tax funds.

Nixon knows that the first civil right of every American is the right to protection from crime and violence.

THIS TIME, VOTE LIKE YOUR WHOLE WORLD DEPENDED ON IT.

Strategy

It's Tim's move, and he is taking a long time thinking it over. In chess, if you're a good player, you don't play quickly. If you do, your opponent may outwit you.

Military strategy, they say, is based on the rules of chess. So are many of the "higher games" in business and finance. Yet, when it comes to life itself, the rules of chess apply in only a limited way. In life, you can't be totally objective. You can't exist on logic alone.

The Church teaches that though we surely need logic in order to live successfully, we also need compassion, tolerance, love, understanding, and the strength that comes with faith.

Although life is not a game, we must have the help and strength of the Church to discover those rules that will determine our ultimate destiny.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS
International Uniform Sunday School Lessons
BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

THE KEY

Lesson for November 3, 1968

Background Scripture: I Peter 1:3-9, 2:18-25; 3 through 5.
Devotional Reading: I Peter 5:1-11.

Nothing so surprises some Christians than the fact of suffering. "What did I do to deserve this?" they ask in both bewilderment and indignation. "How can God do this to me? How can he let this happen?" In vain they search their memories for the remembrance of some sin that might explain or justify their present plight.

Rev. Althouse

Suffering seems to them an evidence that something is wrong, either with them or with God. Either they have made a mistake or he has. That there might be some other explanation seems never to occur to them.

Predictable consequence

Why? Is it because Christianity encourages us to inevitably regard suffering punishment for sin? Of course not. Christ on the cross is the classic example of undeserved suffering. If ever anyone had the right to protest his suffering, Jesus did. Who would have been more justified to ask, "What did I do to deserve this? How can God let them do this to me?"

Despite the fact that Jesus was obedient to the will of his Father, he suffered. In fact, we might even say he suffered because of his obedience. It was the predictable consequence of his loyalty. And so it may be for all of us who seek to follow him. If we are obedient disciples, we are likely to find the cross a consequence of our obedience.

Indeed the writer of I Peter warns us: "Beloved, do not be surprised at the fiery ordeal which comes upon you to prove you, as though something strange were happening to you." (I Peter 4:12 RSV) Anyone who understands the meaning of discipleship ought not to be surprised when suffering comes upon him. There is no crown without a cross.

More than physica.

Of course, there are different kinds of suffering. We tend to think only in terms of Jesus suffering on the cross, of Paul being persecuted, of Roman Christians dying in the arenas of Rome, of reformers dying at the hands of the Inquisition, and of missionaries undergoing terrible hardships in far-off lands. All of this makes the experience seem pretty remote — long ago and far away.

Yet suffering, according to my dictionary, means "to be subjected to pain, distress, injury, loss, or anything unpleasant." Thus, it can mean physical pain, but it doesn't have to. Suffering can also mean emotional distress or any unpleasantness. Even Christ's suffering on the cross was more than merely physical.

Rejoice!

Therefore, although we may not be called upon to bear physical pain for the sake of the Gospel here in America, we may still be called upon to bear periodic distress, rejection, ridicule, and unpleasantness. Sometimes these kinds of suffering are more frightening and insidious than mere physical pain. Often it is easier to die as a Christian martyr than it is to live as a Christian witness.

But Peter's counsel for the sufferer is not merely a negative "Don't be surprised." Along with the "Don't" there is also a "Do!" ". . . rejoice in so far as you share Christ's sufferings, that you may also rejoice and be glad when his glory is revealed." (I Peter 4:13 RSV) Suffering is a terrible foe and the only way to prevail over this enemy is to refuse to let him take away our faith and joy. If we can sincerely thank God for the privelege of suffering with Christ, the power of suffering will be broken. It is like defusing a deadly weapon. Our joy destroys its power to defeat us.

Here, then, is the two-edged key that enables us to meet suffering:

Don't be surprised . . . and . . . Do rejoice!

SECOND STREET OAKLAND, MARYLAND

Some 250 Attend Stockholder Dinner Of First National

Approximately 250 persons attended a stockholders' dinner meeting of The First National Bank of Oakland held at the Wisp dining room at McHenry, last Saturday.

Organ music was provided by Mrs. Merritt Feather and the invocation was given by Rev. Lawrence Sherwood, Pastor of St. Paul's Methodist Church.

George K. Littman, President, presided and welcomed guests following the dinner. Vocal solos were rendered by Mrs. John I. Robinette, accompanied by Mrs. Robert T. Williams, both of Cumberland.

Courtney R. Tusing, Vice President and Trust Officer, gave the shareholders a report of the progress of the construction of the new branch office in Grantsville and Friendsville and also made a report on the growth in size and services of the Trust Department. A comparative statement of condition was presented each guest and James C. Lemmert, Vice President and Cashier, discussed in detail the various items making up the financial report. Mr. Lemmert also gave a report on the increased popularity of the BankAmericard credit program, which has been sponsored by the bank for the past several months, stating that more than 80 business firms in the area now welcome these cards for purchases and that more than 3,500 persons on the Mountain Top are now cardholders.

Richard G. Stanton, Assistant Cashier, gave an explanation of the bank's recently installed audit control system, which includes verification of deposit and loan accounts. Earl J. Clark, Assistant Vice President and Manager of the Installment Loan Department, reported that the installment loans have now been converted to computer and all bookkeeping is done in that manner making it a more accurate and speedier operation. He stated that the bank services more than 4,500 monthly installment loans, at the present time.

The stockholders were also informed of the recommendation of the Board of Directors that a stock dividend of 25 percent be declared to the present stockholders, following which 250 new shares of stock are proposed to be offered for sale. It was pointed out that the principal reason for the increase in capital was due to the growth of the bank, which was nearly doubled in the past five years and is now a $24,000,000.00 institution. The increase in capital was felt to be in keeping with the growth so that the proper ratio of deposits and loans to capital be maintained, Mr. Littman explained.

Six years ago, dividends paid by the bank were based upon a 70 cents per share annual declaration, while current dividends on the stock amount is $1.60 per share.

A special meeting of the stockholders is being called for November 12, for the purpose of considering these recommendations, and if acted upon, the capital stock will be increased after the first of the year.

Souvenir gifts were presented to each guest at the dinner.

County Is Ninth In Bond Sales

Garrett County has provided over 75 percent of its quota of Series E and H Savings bond sales, it was reported for September. The county stands 9th among the 23 counties and Baltimore state with a total of $270,126 sold. The quota for the entire year is $358,000.

The September amount was $15,165. The total for the nine months compared to $234,665 for the same period last year.

Throughout the state a total of $80,991,095 was reported from January through September, of 72.4 percent of the quota of $111,900,000.

In first place was Somerset county with $140,591, or 90.1 percent of its quota of $156,000. Baltimore county was second and Charles county was third. Allegany county stood 21st.

George K. Littman, chairman for the county bond campaign, reported that recent legislation permits redemption of Savings Notes or Freedom shares in the same manner as Series E bonds.

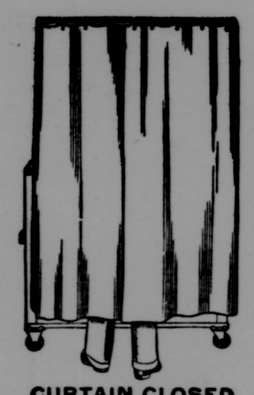
FACSIMILE OF OFFICIAL BALLOT

FOR GENERAL ELECTION NOVEMBER 5, 1968

VOTER ABOUT TO CLOSE CURTAIN



Each candidate's voting pointer is located just above his name; a voting pointer must be turned down over the name of each candidate for whom you wish to vote, and left down.

The machine is so arranged that you cannot turn down more than the proper number of voting pointers for each office. You cannot spoil your ballot by voting for too many candidates.

In an office to which more than one candidate is to be voted for, you can turn down the proper number of voting pointers, but no more, even if one is directly under the other.

No votes are registered until the Red operating lever is moved to open the curtain. You can make as many changes as you desire while the operating lever is at the right side.

No one will know how you have voted, because the movement of the Red operating lever returns the voted voting pointers to their unvoted position before the curtain begins to open.

CURTAIN CLOSED VOTER VOTING

DIRECTIONS FOR VOTING

1. Move the Red Operating Lever to the right. (till bell rings)
2. Turn down a Voting Pointer over the name of each candidate you wish to vote for. LEAVE THE POINTERS DOWN.
3. Move the Red Operating Lever to the Left.

Southern High school Highlanders scored a pair of touchdowns in the second quarter and another in the third, but stumbled a fourth period rally by the Vikings of Petersburg on the West Virginia gridiron.

The Vikings played part of the second quarter and all of the third and fourth periods without the services of their first string quarterback, Tom Porter, who sustained a broken arm during the second period. Mike Turley finished out the half and Greg Sherman did the signal calling after intermission.

Pat Flanagn opened the scoring in the second period, when he plunged over from the one yard line. Southern's defense was bolstered by Bosie Grant, Darrell Kitzmiller, Al Marucci and Joe Ashby. The four managed to throw the Vikings going eight yards in the fourth quarter. Allan Hawk pulled the Vikings to within a touchdown of Southern when he scored from the two. Both efforts to point were stopped.

Southern's defense was bolstered by Bosie Grant, Darrell Kitzmiller, Al Marucci and Joe Ashby. The four managed to throw the Vikings going to the outside.

Southern is now 5-3 and will entertain Northern Friday night at Oakland.

Petersburg has the edge in first downs with 15 compared to 9 for Southern, but Southern gained 255 yards compared to 173 for the Vikings.

Berlin High School Mountaineers cracked the 6-game winning streak of Northern High school Friday night, handing the Huskies their first defeat of the 1968 season by a 12 to 0 victory last Friday night in the rain and snow at Berlin, Pa.

It was the first time Northern was blanked in 22 games. The Huskies were last shut out midway in the 1966 season by Southern of Oakland 42-0. Last Friday night's setback was the second for Coach Jack Learn's eleven, having lost the opener to Bruce High of Westernport.

Jack Dreese scored both touchdowns for Berlin, one in the first quarter from 58 yards out and the other on a 9-yard run in the second quarter. Dreese also scored the extra point in the third period. Both tries for the extra points failed, the first on an incompleted pass and the second on a run.

Northern drove to the Berlin 1 yard line twice during the game. A fumble halted the first effort deep in Berlin territory and the Huskies missed a first down by a foot on the second.

The Garrett county team lost Delbert Swartzentruber, Robert Forsney, the latter now residing in Baltimore. Also attending was Frederick Reis, of Va. The award was presented to Ballenger, son of Oakland lodge, and Harry Buckley, of Oakland, a sojourner here and member of the Masonic lodge in Thomas, W.

Electoral Slates Picked For Nov.

The three parties in the November 5 presidential election have completed selection of their electoral slates.

The state's Democrats met in Baltimore last Wednesday to select their electors. The Republicans and George Wallace's American Party had previously picked their electors.

The electors receiving the majority of votes cast will meet in Annapolis on December 16 to vote for the candidate they represent. Unlike electors in some states Maryland's electors are bound by law to vote for the candidate to which they are pledged.

Gov. Spiro T. Agnew, himself the Republican vice-presidential candidate, will be required to certify which ticket received the majority of votes, based on official returns.

The number of electors from each state is determined by the number of U. S. Representatives that state has plus its two senators. Electors range from a minimum of three in states such as Wyoming to 43 for New York.

Though voters will actually cast their ballots for the electors, the names of each of the candidates, Hubert Humphrey, Richard Nixon and George Wallace, will appear on the ballot.

On the Wallace slate, however, former Gov. Marvin Griffin of Georgia, will be listed as Wallace's running mate rather than Curtis E. LeMay. Griffin's name was on the petition filed in Maryland to place the Wallace party on the ballot and by the time Wallace had switched to LeMay it was too late to change the ballots.

Results of the electoral voting at 50 state capitals are compiled and forwarded to the president of the U. S. Senate, Vice President Humphrey.

On January 3 Humphrey will read the roll call of the college at a joint session of Congress, formally recording whether he or one of his opponents received the 270 electoral votes needed to win. If none of the three candidates has the 270 majority the House of Representatives will elect the president and the Senate will pick the vice-president.

Should Humphrey win, he will be in the position of declaring himself president. Should Nixon win Humphrey will be in the same position as Nixon was in 1960 in having to declare his opponent the winner.

No. 5726 Equity In The Circuit Court For Garrett County, Maryland

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

This is to give notice that on the 15th day of October, 1968, a Bill of Complaint was filed in the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, by the plaintiff against the defendants at the addresses hereinabove set forth. The object of these proceedings is to procure the passage of a decree for the sale of the real estate of Cora E. Miller, situate in Election District No. 16, Garrett County, Maryland, and for the payment of debts and claims filed against the proerty:

The bill states:

That during her lifetime and at the time of her death, Cora E. Miller was seized and possessed of a parcel of land situate in Election District No. 16 in Garrett County, Maryland, this property having been conveyed to the said Cora E. Miller by Orphans Court transfer in Proceedings No. 3249, this transfer being accomplished by deed dated December 8, 1958, and recorded in Liber 214, folio 345, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland; the Bill further describes the intermarriage of the various heirs; enumerated various debts outstanding against the said deceased Cora E. Miller; that Jack R. Turney qualified as administrator of the estate of Cora E. Miller on January 23, 1968, as will appear by reference to a certificate of letters filed as plaintiff's exhibit No. 2; that the personal estate of the decedent is insufficient to pay the indebtedness filed against the estate and that at the time of her death Cora E. Miller was indebted to the Garrett County Welfare Board in the amount of $12,674.96 representing amounts advanced to the said decedent during her lifetime as Old Age Assistance under the laws of the United States and the State of Maryland; and the said Cora E. Miller is further indebted to the Minnich Funeral Home in the amount of $365.00 and also unto divers other persons, and that said real estate is not of sufficient value to satisfy all claims against the estate of the decedent.

The Bill then prays for a decree for the sale of said real estate, for the sale of debts and claims and for general relief.

Everything's within walking distance.

Load up a Volkswagen Station Wagon with goodies from the butcher, the baker and the light bulb maker.

And it won't take a lot of huffing and puffing and climbing over seats to get to them.

It will merely take a few footsteps.

Unlike other wagons, ours has an aisle from the front seat to the back seat.

So once inside, you don't have to go outside to get from one end to the other.

Think of the possibilities.

On trips with the kids, you can break up gang wars in a matter of a few steps.

And for once, you won't have to leave the car to stretch your legs.

A Volkswagen Station Wagon with an aisle will seat you and six of your friends nicely.

Without an aisle, it seats 9.

More talking.

Less walking.

PROCLAMATION OF THE GOVERNOR OF MARYLAND DIRECTING THE PUBLICATION OF BILLS PROPOSING AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION OF MARYLAND

WHEREAS, at its regular session of 1967, the General Assembly enacted Chapters 245 and 474 proposing amendments to the State Constitution; and

WHEREAS, at its regular session of 1968, the General Assembly enacted Chapter 617, proposing an amendment to the State Constitution; and

WHEREAS, it is the duty of the Governor, under Section 1 of Article XIV of the Constitution, to order the publication of the bills proposing said amendments in advance of the General Election of November 5th, 1968; and

WHEREAS, there will be presented on the ballot at said election the following proposed amendments to the Constitution for adoption or rejection by the voters:

CHAPTER 245

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Article III of the Constitution of Maryland, title "Legislative Department," by adding new Section 40D thereto, to follow immediately after Section 40C thereof, providing for an optional procedure for the acquisition of land and interest in land by the Board of County Commissioners for Prince George's County for the construction or extension of county roads and streets, providing for a contingency by which this amendment may be void and of no further effect and providing for the submission of this amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for their adoption or rejection.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, (Three-fifths of all the Members elected to each of the two Houses concurring), That the following new Section 40D be and it is hereby proposed as an amendment to Article III of the Constitution of Maryland, title "Legislative Department," to follow immediately after Section 40C thereof; if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State as herein provided, to become a part of the Constitution of Maryland.

The General Assembly shall enact no law authorizing private property to be taken for public use without just compensation, to be agreed upon between the parties or awarded by a jury, being first paid or tendered to the party entitled to such compensation, except that where such property, located in Prince George's County, is in the judgment of the Board of County Commissioners of Prince George's County needed for the construction or extension of county roads and streets. The General Assembly may provide that such property, except a building occupied as a dwelling, may be taken immediately upon payment therefor by the condemning authority to the owner or owners thereof or into the Court to the use of the person or persons entitled thereto, such amount as the condemning authority shall estimate to be the fair value of said property, provided such legislation requires that the condemning authority's estimate be not less than the appraised value of the property being taken as evaluated by at least one qualified appraiser, whose qualifications have been accepted by a Court of Record of this State, and also requires the payment of any further sum that may subsequently be awarded by a jury. This section, if adopted by the voters in the year 1968, at the time it becomes effective, is void and of no further effect if the voters of the State prior thereto have adopted a revision of the Constitution of Maryland proposed by a Constitutional Convention.

SEC. 2. And be it further enacted, That the aforegoing section hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of this State, and at the said general election, to be held in this State in the year 1968, be submitted to the legal and qualified voters thereof for their adoption or rejection in pursuance of directions contained in Article 14 of the Constitution of this State, and at the said general election, the vote on the said proposed amendments to the Constitution shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the words "For the Constitutional Amendments" and "Against the Constitutional Amendments" as now provided by law, and, immediately, after said election, all returns shall be made to the Governor of the vote for and against said proposed amendments, as directed by said Article 14 of the Constitution, and further proceedings had in accordance with said Article 14.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, (Three-fifths of all the members of each of the two houses concurring). That the following amendment be and the same is hereby proposed to Section 40A of Article III of the Constitution of Maryland, title "Legislative Department," the same if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State, as herewith provided, to become a part of the Constitution of Maryland, and to read as follows:

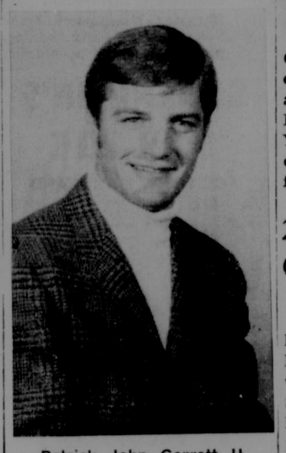
Sketches Of New Teachers Continue



Biographical information on new teachers in the Garrett County School system is being provided by the County Teachers association through Mrs. Joan Lambert, public relations committee chairman.

Sketches this week include those of Russell W. Yocum, George Wesley Lovelace Jr., and Patrick John Garrett II.

George W. Lovelace Jr.

Teaching sixth grade at Accident Elementary is George Wesley Lovelace Jr., who moved to Garrett County from Wardensville, W. Va., when his father, a minister, was transferred to the Friendsville United Methodist Parish. Mr. Lovelace was graduated from West Virginia Wesleyan College, Buckhannon, where he was the recipient of several scholarships, among them the Burgess Property Scholarship. Mr. Lovelace is living in Friendsville and is a member of the First United Methodist Church there. He is interested in hunting, fishing, snow skiing, and sports cars.

Patrick John Garrett II

A resident of Deer Park, Patrick John Garrett II is teaching fifth grade at Accident Elementary. A native of Baltimore, Mr. Garrett received a B.S. degree in elementary education from Frostburg State College and did his student teaching at Frost Elementary. He is engaged to Miss Clare Borjes, a senior at FSC. Mr. Garrett is interested in all sports, especially basketball, and he enjoys working with children. He stated that he came to Garrett County to teach because of the "relaxed atmosphere in the county".

Russell W. Yocum

Russell W. Yocum is teaching seventh and eighth grades at Route 40 Elementary school. He received his B.S. degree from Frostburg State College after attending Potomac State College. His previous experience includes teaching at Cresaptown Junior High School and Fort Ashby High School. Mr. Yocum is married and has four children. He resides with his family in Rawlings.

22 Are Killed On State Highways

Twenty-two persons were killed on Maryland highways last week according to the weekly survey published by the State Police. Seven of those killed were drivers, ten were passengers, and five were pedestrians. Alcohol was a contributing factor in six of the deaths, speed in thirteen, and "driver error" in eighteen.

"There is increasing alarm over the number of persons being killed in highway accidents", commented Lt. Col. George E. Davidson, Deputy Superintendent of the State Police, "and this alarm is certainly justified. However, these deaths are newsworthy and receive considerable publicity, but too often we tend to forget that for every person killed just about sixty-two others are injured. Many of the injuries incapacitate a person for the remainder of his life.

"So far this year 681 persons have been killed on Maryland roads. This means that well over 42,000 persons have been injured. We'll just let this tragic record speak for itself".

Events Above The Mountain Top

By Paul S. Frank Jr.

October 31 - November 6

On Monday, the moon will be full at 11:43 p. m. This full moon is called the hunter's moon. During the week the moon will rise about when the sun sets and be visible until sunrise.

The sun rises at 6:45 a. m. today and sets at 5:18 p. m. Next Wednesday it rises at 6:52 a. m. and sets at 5:11 p. m. Daylight grows fourteen minutes shorter during the week.

All five planets visible to the unaided eye are visible during the week. Mercury reaches its greatest western elongation of 19 degrees and will rise about an hour before the sun today. During the week it may be seen as a morning star. Tht other morning planets are Mars and Jupiter. Mars rises about four hours before the sun while Jupiter rises about three hours before the sun.

The bright object low in the southwest, just after sunset, is Venus, the third brighest object in the sky. The other planet visible in the evening sky is Saturn. It may be found in the east, southeast of the square of Pegasus.

On Tuesday the Taurid meteors will be at their maximum at about 3:00 a. m. Fifteen meteors may be seen per hour. This is double the normal rate of meteor occurrence.

From the northeast star in the square of Pegasus, two lines of stars extend toward the northeast, terminating near Perseus. This area of the sky contains the constellation, Andromeda. Andromeda is chained to the rocks of the sea coast awaiting the monster sent by the god, Neptune, at the bidding of his daughters. They were jealous of Andromeda's mother, Cassiopiea, who thought that she was very beautiful. Andromeda was rescued by Perseus.

Today the Allegany County Outdoor School visits to study the north circumpolar constellations. Friday Mr. Wolfe's seventh grade from Southern visits to study the planets as does Mrs. Holiday's fifth grade from Friendsville which will study the solar system. On Monday the third grade from Grantsville visits to study the relationship between the earth and the sun and the moon. These classes are Miss Opel's and Mrs. Snyder's.

THE REPUBLICAN

"Bring Us Together" . .

One of the closest elections in years has just been concluded with Richard M. Nixon being declared the winner. The winner this week is a most humble person, appreciative of the tremendous help accorded him by millions of people, and thankful for the United States of America, a country which permits a normal transfer of authority in a peaceful manner. Mr. Humphrey was gracious in defeat. Once again only a few thousand votes separated the two candidates in the popular vote total.

In his brief acceptance speech around one o'clock Wednesday, he mentioned being aware of one of the most touching signs which he saw during his campaign. The sign carried by a young lad in a small Ohio town, said, simply, "Bring Us Together".

That, said Mr. Nixon, will be one idea which he will endeavor to carry out during his campaign, for those of all colors and creeds. We believe the man will do just that. There is nothing more needed at this time than to reunite the country and to improve its world image. He plans an open administration, available to persons of all political faiths. We anticipate a fruitful four years under the administration of our incoming president and vice president, Richard M. Nixon and Spiro T. Agnew.

State Supports Humphrey Bid For President

His Majority Was Fewer Than 18,000 Votes In Unofficial Returns

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey ran ahead of Richard M. Nixon in Maryland by fewer than 18,000 votes, according to complete but unofficial returns from Tuesday's election. The official canvass starting today will include about 35,000 absentee ballots and some others cast for president only by short-term residents.

In unofficial returns from all of the state's 1,599 voting units, Humphrey had 519,890 votes and Nixon 502,600. Third party candidate George C. Wallace, got 177,524.

Heavily Democratic Baltimore city gave Humphrey the edge despite the fact that Nixon carried 20 of the 23 counties in Maryland, home of Nixon's running mate, Gov. Spiro A. Agnew. Nixon had a substantial lead in early Maryland returns but in Baltimore City, which reported late, Humphrey outran the GOP candidate 175,989, to 80,538. Democrats outnumber Republicans 5 to 1 in Baltimore and one-third of the city's registered voters are Negroes.

A major surprise was Wallace's poor showing in Maryland. He not only failed to carry a single county but he finished last in every county but one where he outpolled Humphrey but was behind Nixon. In the 1964 presidential primary, the former Alabama governor carried 16 counties although losing to Brewster, running as a stand-in for President Johnson.

College Property Purchase Will Be Finalized Soon

At a recent meeting of the Board of Education sitting as a Board of Trustees for the Garrett County Community college, the board authorized its attorney to finalize the purchase of the Community college site and requested Johannes and Murray, the college architects, to submit preliminary alternate plans for study by the board at the earliest possible date.

The purchases were delayed pending the clearing of titles of some of the properties involved, because the state refused to approve the land unless titles were clear.

Mathias Ousts Brewster For Senate Seat

Charles McC. Mathias Jr.

Charles McC. Mathias Jr., overcame the loss of Baltimore City and two small counties in Tueday's election to oust the Democratic incumbent, Daniel B. Brewster from the U. S. Senate seat in a race complicated by a third candidate, George P. Mahoney.

Mathias, 46, who had served four terms in the House, called for bombing pause in Vietnam before President Johnson ordered it. Brewster, wealthy and socially prominent 44-year-old, had not lost an election in a dozen campaigns. He followed the Johnson administration line on Vietnam.

Unofficial returns gave Mathias 535,072 votes and Brewster 434,972. George P. Mahoney, who became an independent after losing seven state-wide races as a Democrat, polled 147,787.

Mathias made one of his strongest showings in Baltimore county, Brewster's home where he outpolled Brewster 103,419 to 68,465. The Republican winner also ran well in his native Western Maryland and in Montgomery county.

He told supporters after his victory that he accepted the triumph in a "sense of humility because there is a tremendous job to be done".

Nixon-Agnew, Mathias, J. Glenn Beall, Jr., All Favored

Garrett Countians favored the Republican ticket all the way in Tuesday's general election, giving large majorities to the Nixon-Agnew slate for president and vice-president, Charles McC. Mathias Jr., for the United States Senate and J. Glenn Beall Jr., for Congress from the Sixth district.

Vote Carries Agnew Into Vice-President Office In Tuesday Election

Republican Richard M. Nixon was elected 37th President of the United States on Tuesday, defeating Democrat Hubert H. Humphrey with narrow wind-up victories in California, Illinois and Ohio.

The 55-year-old former vice president went over the top at 11:35 a. m. EST by capturing Illinois' 26 electoral votes for a total of 287 votes in the electoral college. Earlier he closed in on the White House by taking his native California with 40 electoral votes and Ohio with its 26 votes.

Four states were still in doubt last evening, Alaska, Maryland, Missouri and Washington. Nixon and his running mate, Spiro T. Agnew, had put together a dramatic victory over Humphrey with 30 states in his electoral column.

The popular vote race was a virtual deadlock and the final result was delayed by hours after the polls had closed.

George C. Wallace of the American Independent party, was a distant third.

Shortly after 10 a. m. Wednesday, Humphrey telephoned Mr. Nixon to concede the election and promised his total support to the new President-elect. He told his friends in his Minneapolis hotel suite, "I don't want any sympathy from any of you".

Nixon's victory reversed in a sense his razor-thin loss to John F. Kennedy in the 1960 presidential race and completed a remarkable political comeback. After losing to Kennedy Nixon was defeated by Edmund G. Brown for governor of California. Nixon then became an attorney in New York.

Now, six years later, he has won the White House with 17 more electoral votes than needed. Incomplete votes from the other four states could add to

J. Glenn Beall Jr.

Republican J. Glenn Beall Jr., of Frostburg, Minority leader in the House of Delegates, won election to the House of Representatives on the basis of unofficial returns in a hotly contested race with Frederick County Democrat, Goodloe E. Byron.

Unofficial returns in the Sixth District gave Beall 68,284 and Byron 61,668, a margin of 6,616 votes.

Mr. Byron is state senator from Frederick County. Their contest was for the Sixth district seat which has been occupied since 1961 by Frederick Republican Charles McC. Mathias Jr., who was elected to the Senate in Tuesday's general election.

Beall's home county of Allegany gave him 16,697 to 10,920 for Byron. Garrett County gave Beall 4,134 to Byron's 1,622, and Carroll County gave Beall 9,516 to 6,078 for Byron. The eight Howard County precincts, which lie in this district gave Beall 4,302 to Byron's 2,457.

Mr. Byron carried his home County of Frederick by 12,904 to Beall's 10,592. Washington County gave him 16,448 to Beall's 13,381, and 19 of 22 Baltimore County precincts reporting gave Byron 11,232 to Beall's 9,661.

When the 91st Congress convenes in January Mr. Beall will step into the position held for a number of years by his father, former U. S. Senator J. Glenn Beall Sr. The elder Beall served in the House of Representatives from 1943 to 1953, and in the Senate from 1953 to 1965.

The complete unofficial returns for the Congressional race showed the following:

It's the best deal in town. In fact, you can figure a Gas dryer will save you well over a hundred dollars compared to drying clothes with electricity.

Your Federal Income Tax

The Republican, in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service, Baltimore District, will publish each week in this column, tax information that will enable taxpayers to become more familiar with the Federal income tax laws.

Questions and Answers

Q. I just finished paying some big medical bills. What records should I keep in case I get audited?

A. You should have sufficient records to show that the expenses were deductible and that they were paid in the tax year for which the return was filed.

Keep your cancelled checks or receipts that will establish the amount of the expense, the date paid and the purpose. It is a good practice to have a special envelope, cigar box or similar place where tax records can be stored. This will make it easier to prepare an accurate return next year.

Generally, to be deductible the expense must be paid for the prevention, treatment, diagnosis or cure of a mental or physical defect or illness.

Q. I am due a refund but a question about my Social Security Number has held it up. If it comes after I move will the Post Office forward it?

A. The Post Office will forward the refund check to your new address providing you have filed a change of address card with them.

Q. I play the drums and from time to time I play with a combe at local dances. Do I have to pay tax on the money I make?

A. Yes. Income tax from this source should be reported for federal income tax purposes.

Q. I have a selling job where I report to the office at the beginning and end of the day. My boss doesn't pay my driving expenses. Can I deduct them on my tax return?

A. If you have to use your car on business then the costs can be deducted. However, the costs of geting to and from your job are personal and not deductible.

You may deduct the actual expense including depreciation, or if you prefer, a standard rate of 10c a mile for the first 15,000 miles of business use and 7c a mile thereafter. Related parking fees and tolls may be deducted in addition to the standard mileage rate.

Q. How do I report the money I received for trees I cut from my property and sold?

A. You may elect to treat the cutting of the trees as a sale or exchange of a capital asset. For details copies of Documents 5048, Sales and Exchange of Assets, and 5050, Depreciation, Investment Credit, Amortization Depletion, may be obtained at your local IRS office.

The Department of Agriculture also has a publication on this subject. It is Handbook No. 274, "Federal Income Tax Tips for the Small Timber Owner", and is available from the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. 20402 for 35c a copy.

Q. I did not have to file an estimated tax declaration this year because enough was taken out of my paycheck to cover my taxes. Does the new surtax change that and should I file an estimated declaration now?

A. In July employers started withholding income taxes at a higher rate to keep taxpayers on a current, pay-as-you-go basis. The additional amounts withheld should approximate the final tax liability for most taxpayers.

If you did not file an estimated tax declaration for 1968 because withholding was expected to amount to 80 percent or more of your tax liability for the year, you may want to review your tax situation. It is possible that the tax surcharge, which can increase your tax by 7 and one-half percent, will make you liable to a penalty for underpayment of estimated taxes.

Local IRS offices have copies of estimated tax forms and worksheets taxpayers can use to figure their 1968 tax liability under the new tax law.

Q. I joined a country club this summer so that I'd have a place to take my customers to play golf. Can I deduct my country club expenses as a business expense?

A. Some of your country club expenses may be deductible as a business expense. These would include the cost of your business lunches and any other entertainment expenses you have which qualify as a business expense.

If you use the country club more than 50 percent of the time for business purposes then you can also deduct that portion of your annual dues which is directly related to the active conduct of your business. Membership or initiation fees paid once for membership privileges are generally considered a capital expense and are not deductible.

To show you use the club more than half the time for business purposes keep a record of the days you and your family use the club's facilities, and indicate whether for business or personal purposes. You do not count the days the club is not used in determining whether it was used more than 50 percent for business.

Q. Tips are a good part of my weekly earnings. Do I have to keep a record of them for tax purposes?

A. Tips are income and must be reported on your tax return. They should also be reported to your employer when they amount to $20 or more in a month. Based on these reports, your employer will withhold the necessary income and Social Security taxes from your regular wages.

Use Form 4070, Employee's Report on Tips, available at IRS offices to report tip income to your employer.

Q. I'h being called in for an audit or my return. Do I have to bring the person who helped me fill it out?

A. No. this is not necessary. A major concern in any examination of a return is that the items listed can be supported by the necessary records. A tax advisor is not needed to help a taxpayer provide this substantiation. However, there is no reason why you can't bring your advisor if you wish.

Q. I've been told that there is a tax advantage in having shares of stock registered in both the husband's and wife's name. Is that rights?

A. Yes. The owner of stock is generally entitled to receive up to $100 in tax-free dividends. Therefore, if stock is jointly owned, each could receive up to $100 in dividends tax free.

Q. I get $25 a week from my ex-husband to support my boy. Who gets to claim him for tax purposes?

A. Since your ex-husband provides more than $1,200 support during the year he would generally be entitled to claim the dependency exemption, unless you provide more than half the child's total support.

For the rules on claiming a child of divorced or separated parents, a free copy of Document No. 5013, Personal Exemptions and Dependents, may be obtained at your local IRS office.

Around noon Wednesday the popular vote stood: Nixon, 29,161,060, of 43 percent; Humphrey, 28,925,546, also 43 percent; and Wallace, 9,058,546, or 13 percent. The electoral vote at that time was Nixon 287, Humphrey 172 and Wallace 45. Four states, with 34 votes, remained undecided.

Mr. Nixon will have to work with a Democratic Congress. In the Senate Republicans picked up a net gain of four seats but fell short of taking control. With a tight race in Oregon still undecided the lineup was 58 Democrats and 41 Republicans. In the House Republicans scaled down by five seats a commanding Democratic edge. The final result was expected to be 243 Democrats and 192 Republicans.

Thomas B. Finan received 1,341 votes for the Maryland Court of Appeals judgeship and Thomas M. Anderson received 771 votes for the Court of Special Appeals judgeship.

The four questions presented to the Garrett County voters were voted down substantially.

The unofficial results for question 1, Prince Georges land, was 361 in favor and 974 against; question 2, Anne Arundel land, 317 in favor and 1,067 against; question 3, Baltimore judges, 436 in favor and 954 against; question 4, open housing, 429 in favor and 1,222 against.

All returns are unofficial but all twenty precincts made reports within an hour after the voting booths closed. Official returns will be tabulated today with some 233 absentee ballots to be counted and added to the unofficial totals.

Voters of the county turned out in record numbers to register a 72.4 percent voting record. Hardly twenty-five percent voted in the primary election in September. The Republican majority in the county is some 60.2 percent with the Democratic voters totaling some 38.7 of the total registration. Both Republicans and Democras were in about the same ratio, with slightly more Republicans voting than Democrats.

1,000 Programs . . .

In the 13 years since the second Hoover Commission made its final report, the number of federal civilian employees has grown by half-a-million, the Federal budget has doubled, domestic spending has increased by 170 percent, and the number of Federal programs has grown by leaps and bounds.

No one, anywhere, knows exactly how many federal programs there are. Nowhere is there a central repository where meaningful information on all operating Federal programs can be found. Congress itself does not have available sufficient information to determine whether or not those programs are effective, or if new ones are needed.

Similarly the executive branch does not have available enough information to determine whether there is overlap, duplication or lack of coordination. As many as 10 Cabinet-level departments and 15 agencies have programs devoted essentially to the same area of activity. More than 470 programs on education are operated by 25 different departments and agencies. At least 211 operating programs for college and graduate students are operated by 15 departments and agencies.

Some 117 programs concerning natural resources are spread among 12 departments and agencies. There are 112 programs providing assistance to the poor, 43 programs that relate to child health and welfare, and 74 that relate to economic and business development.

What is known is that there are at least 1,000 programs costing $20 billion a year.

These are facts developed by Representative William V. Roth Jr., and his staff, over a period of eight months. He reported the results of the study in the Congressional Record for June 25 and July 16. Now we know why we have taxes, and more taxes, taxes on taxes, and surtaxes.

Congressman Roth, a Republican from Delaware, has introduced a "Program Information Act" requiring the President to present annually to Congress a compendium of federal assistance programs. And he strongly urges an "Executive Reorganization and Management Act", creating a modern Hoover-type commission. Both proposals have been co-sponsored by more than one-fourth of the House membership, and have the unanimous approval of the Governors attending the July conference.

Maybe these would accomplish something. But remembering the "love's labor lost" which attended the two Hoover Commissions, we would like to see the Congress start tightening the purse-strings.—U. S. Press Association, Inc.

WASHINGTON AND Small Business

BY C. WILSON HARDER

Sophisticated Gold Rush

In California gold rush days, an anonymous prospector uttered an ungrammatical sentence that became famous: "Thar's gold in them thar hills."

As his word spread from coast to coast, it was embellished to the effect that gold was just lying on the ground, waiting for someone to come along and pick it up. To their dismay, many prospectors found this to be an exaggeration.

Now another gold rush is on and the destination this time is Washington, D.C. Many of the prospectors are local and state government officials, and men representing corporations and foundations. The word passing among them is, to paraphrase the 49'er, "There's gold in those Federal agencies, just waiting for us to ask for it."

This gold rush is largely based on the new-fangled thing they call "Federal grants-in-aid," or simply, Federal grants. These are written into programs like highway construction and urban redevelopment, and provide funds usually matched or supplemented by state or local governments.

This type of joint expenditure has become so popular in the last 15 years that some 20 billion dollars a year of Federal money is now spent this way.

The Federal grant system has been widely criticized for giving the Federal bureaucracy too much power over the states, since the states must conform to Federal regulations to receive this money, and also because of the inefficiency, red tape, and duplication which abound.

Amazingly, no one until recently knew how extensive these Federal programs are. But a freshman Congressman from Delaware, William V. Roth, had his staff do an exhaustive study of Federal assistance programs. He found a total of 1,050 Federal aid programs, not counting those of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, which refused to cooperate in the study.

And welfare assistance has replaced highway construction as the biggest Federal grant-in-aid program!

But most illuminating, he found that state and local governments, universities, foundations and corporations hire professional consultants to search for the nuggets of taxpayers dollars hidden away in Federal bureau caverns. Most public grants are awarded to those with skilled consultants.

In the capital, this is known as "grantsmanship" which is something like Monopoly, only using real dollars from taxpayers, played in a red tape jungle. Small business, of course, can't afford to play.

San Francisco Mayor Joseph Alioto, avidly pursuing Federal dollars, now wants his city to drop its veteran Washington lobbyist and divert his salary to the Stanford Research Institute for a scientific search for Federal subsidies and grants.

Bloomington Garbage Dump Is Closed

The garbage dump near Bloomington was closed by the County Commissioners and health department last Friday, November 1.

The commissioners planned to operate a landfill project in the area. A strip mine job about a mile above Bloomington has been tentatively decided upon as the site, pending approval by the Maryland health department.

The landfill site would be available for the use of the residents of Bloomington and vicinity free of charge, transportation to be at the cost of the individual resident.

The problem was discussed at a meeting of the board with Bloomington residents, and later the commissioners met with the Bloomington Improvement association at Bloomington.

Since the use of the Bloomington dump has decreased, it was pointed out that rats had become a problem. The commissioners said an exterminator would be used to rid the rats.

Citizens Are Urged To Visit Schools

Citizens are being urged to visit their schools next week, American Education week, November 10-16, for a look at the teacher and the school. Open house is being observed in the schools as the American Legion, PTA and U.S. office of Education join the National Education association in sponsoring the event.

There is a special theme each day:

Sunday, November 10, "Schools that stimulate moral and spiritual values"; Monday, "Schools that strengthen the nation", in special observance of Veterans' Day; Tuesday, Nov. 12, "Schools that aspire to Quality Teaching";

Wednesday, Nov. 13, "Schools that provide equal opportunity"; Thursday, Nov. 14, "Schools that Foster lifelong learning"; Friday, Nov. 15, "Schools that promote economic prosperity"; and Saturday, Nov. 16, "Schools that strive for healthy personality developments".

Mrs. Joan Lambert, secretary of the county teacher association, pointed out there was little doubt that the quality of each child's education was determined by the teacher who stands before him in the classroom. She declared the school system recognized that educational needs of all youth could not be met by a single uniform program of instruction, so the curriculum provided differences so that all might have equal opportunity to develop their potentialities.

She stressed that education should serve as a means to a satisfying personal life and should develop the individual to the full extent of his potential.

4-H Names '68 Winners

Smith — Miss Olson — Miss Husbands — Miss Seymour

Three girls and a boy from Montgomery and Prince George's counties have earned all-expense paid excursions to the 47th National 4-H Congress to be held Dec. 1-5 in the Conrad Hilton Hotel at Chicago.

Selected for their skills in various 4-H projects by the Cooperative Extension Service, the trip winners are Adis Olson, 17, of Silver Spring; Beth Seymour, 17, of Bethesda; Carolee Husbands, 16, and Bob Smith, 17, both of Hyattsville.

A complete revamping of her room with eye on furniture selection and overall decor was the home improvement project chosen by Miss Olson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Olson. Her award was donated by The S&H Foundation, Inc.

She has also won blue ribbons in food preparation projects in the county fair and has served as a judge in various contests in horticulture and home improvement.

Miss Seymour, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Seymour, submitted a project in breads for which she baked more than 191 loaves and operated her own bake shop at a profit. Her Chicago trip is sponsored by Standard Brands Incorporated.

A budgeter of both time and money, Miss Husbands, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Husbands, has served as treasurer for various local organizations including her school student council and church youth organization.

Her project in home management, sponsored by Tupperware, also required keeping strict tabs on her time which was spent attending meetings, sewing, giving 4-H demonstrations, and planning activities for her club.

Serving as a junior leader for the last two years in his local 4-H Club, Smith, son of Mr. Mrs. Terence Smith, restored a 1932 Model B Ford. He made extensive repairs on an auto belonging to a fellow 4-H'er to round out his work in the automotive field.

Sponsored by The Firestone Tire & Rubber Company, he will go to Chicago with additional credits in electricity, marksmanship, photography and citizenship.

All high school juniors except Miss Husbands, who is a sophomore, the congress delegates will have a chance at college scholarships when their records are judged with other participants from 50 states and Puerto Rico.

This year 1,650 4-H'ers will gather with 900 adults for the annual event. There are now more than three million 4-H members throughout the United States.

Commenting about her 4-H experience Miss Seymour said that, "Helping hands move a job along and helping hands trained in 4-H skills are in demand everywhere."

In explaining one way in which he extended his 4-H knowledge to others, Smith said he once attended a meeting of the local 4-H girls club where he instructed them in how to change a tire. He said he not only taught them that necessary skill, but also got his tires rotated in the process.

Income Minus Taxes Minus Inflation . . .

Are you earning more and having less to spend? The figures indicate that most of us are in that unhappy position.

A 1968 income of $14,282 is necessary if a married man with two children is to have as much left for himself ad family as he had from a $5,000 income in 1939, according to the National Industrial Conference Board. Current taxes, most of them deducted before he even sees his paycheck, deplete his earnings by $2,083. Inflation gobbles up $7,258—more than half of his wages. He has only $4,941 left, which is precisely what he retained after taxes when he was making $5,000 a year.

Alas, there is more to the story. In 1939 the national debt was less than $46 billion; today, it exceeds $350 billion. The $309 per capita national debt in 1939 was only $1,236 for a family of four; but it now totals more than $7,000 for the same family.

Thomas Jefferson believed that our nation had advanced beyond the notion that a father had a right to sell his child as a slave. On that premise, he expressed a trust "that we shall all consider ourselves unauthorized to saddle posterity with our debts, and morally bound to pay them ourselves". But Jefferson's principles have receive scant consideration, either in the White House or the halls of the Congress, for more than 30 years. The last five administrations have all committed the injustice he "trusted" they would not do.

According to Congressman Otto E. Passman, our national debt now exceeds by $43 billion the total national debt of all other nations of the free world. Some of those nations have accepted our "foreign aid" to reduce their own national debt, either directly or by using the funds to balance current budgets.

Runaway federal government spending has depleted the earnings of every taxpayer, increased taxes and fostered inflation which consumes even what we have saved. Literally millions of Americans who have never indulged themselves with any extravagance have seen their savings wiped out by the extravagance of their government. Other millions, too young even to vote, are going to be saddled with the deft. Inflation is the most crucial problem facing the new administration.—U. S. Press Asociation, Inc.

Queen Elizabeth II of Britain opened a new parliamentary session October 30 amid traditional British pomp and pageantry.

Route 40 Homemakers To Meet November 13

The demonstration will be different ways to cook vegetables.

Chairmen appointed for 1968-69 include: Clothing, Mrs. Carl Klink and Mrs. Richard Koch; Family Life, Mrs. James Carey, Mrs. Edwin Robeson; Foods, Mrs. Elwood Klotz and Miss Leanna Layman; Home Furnishing, Mrs. Lillian McKenzie and Mrs. Harold Setzer; Home Management, Mrs. Frances Brode and Mrs. Harold Crowe; Cultural, Miss Clara Layman; Citizenship and Civil Defense, Mrs. Robert Murray; Health and Safety, Mrs. Anthony McKenzie; International Relations, Mrs. Richard Koch; Music, Mrs. Edwin Robeson and Mrs. Robert Murray; Membership, Mrs. James Meese and Mrs. Harold Setzer; Fair, Mrs. Joseph Kooser; Community development, Mrs. Richard Koch, Mrs. Earl Opel, Mrs. Edwin Robeson and Mrs. Harold Crowe. Mrs. Earl Opel is committee member on the County Clothing project.

There will be an Executive Board Meeting, Nov. 19, at the Bittinger Community building.

Food chairman and hostesses will be Misses Clara and Leanna Layman, Mrs. Laura Klotz and Mrs. Elizabeth Kooser.

Mummers Take Part In Hallowe'en Event

There was an unusually large turnout of mummers for the annual Hallowe'en parade held last Thursday night, October 31, in Oakland. The event was sponsored by the Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions club. There was the normal crowd of watchers.

Some seventy-five prizes were awarded to the paraders after their procession through the business district of town. There was a cake walk and various concession booths on the streets.

Assisting in the parade were both the junior and senior bands of Southern High school. Winners of Savings bonds were Julia Crosco and Kimberly Trickett. A camera also was presented to Walter L. Davy.

Wallace's third party has been repudiated by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Mass.

WINNING FLOAT—Above is the winning float in the homecoming parade last Friday night on the streets of Oakland, sponsored by the Southern High school groups. This was a play on "Smoking is hazardous to your health" and included health officials as a background on the float. "Playing Southern High is hazardous to your health," said one sign but apparently Northern did not take this warning seriously as they ended up with a 40-6 victory over the Southern Rams. The winning float was presented by the Future Nurses of America group. Second place was won by the Future Teacher group, and third by a 10th grade French class.

Elwood Groves was named mayor, Mrs. Beulah Sisler, clerk, and William R. Kelley and George T. Perrine, councilmen.

Close Trash Dump Near Bloomington

The trash dump just south of Bloomington, has been closed, it was announced by Charley B. Miller, sanitarian for the County Health department. A pest control firm has already been working on the sanitary closing of the area, he said, and any further trash being put there would nuify the work that has already been done. hung up?

Lots of things can hang you up if you still dry clothes the old fashioned way. Like rain, snow, kids, pets, dust and dirt. But a flameless electric dryer dries beautifully any time, gently tossing out wrinkles to eliminate ironing. It's perfect for permanent press. Electric drying is economical, too. Only 3.6¢ per load, total cost. All dryers use electricity. Flameless dryers use nothing else. See your LBE dealer and get rid of that hang up.

The Coldstream Guard, Part IV

Part IV

Because of the pressure brought against French military forces in the whole East by the four simultaneous attacks of the British, M. de Contrecoeur, commander at Fort Duquesne, had to man his own defenses against Braddock. As he was going to withdraw forces, a captain, Lienard de Beaujeu, expressed the wish to resist as the army forded the Monongahela at a distance of eight miles. A party of 250 French and 650 Indians moved out on July 8 toward Turtle Creek.

When Braddock had passed over Chestnut Ridge, the obstacle past Great Crossings, he forced great precautions for the march. Troops were placed on small surrounding hills to reconnoiter lest there be a rear attack. When the force arrived at about 25 miles from Duquesne, Rush Creek presented precipiced banks where wagons and weapons could not pass; Braddock left this ridge and descended to an elbow of the Monongahela, where two fordings were necessary. At nearly one o'clock, as the fording was made, the French suddenly appeared, with war cries and a wave of Beaujeu's hat. However, Beaujeu was one of the first to receive a mortal wound, and many Canadians fled the fighting. Captain Dumas now took command of the French fighters, as did Charles Langlade of the Indians, as they used the woods, plus rocks, and two ravines for an ambush, while fire from a small hill on Braddock's right began to deal out death.

General Thomas Gage's men of the advance unit fell back upon the main troops. Further confusion was rendered by the small twelve-foot space which left so little room for the British to move about or brandish any weapons. Twice they were so confused that they fired on their own troops. Washington told, in a letter to his mother from Fort Cumberland, "The officers behaved gallantly in order to encourage their men, for which they suffered greatly. The Virginia troops showed a great deal of bravery and were nearly all killed, for I believe out of three companies that were there, there is scarce 30 men alive. The dastardly behavior of those they call regulars exposed all others that were inclined to do their duty to an almost certain death, and at last, in despite of all efforts of the officers to the contrary, they broke and ran as sheep pursued by dogs, and it was impossble to rally them". By reports, 100 men had fled after being once stopped.

Sir Peter Halket had begged Braddock to maintain action on his flanks, but the latter did neither this nor the act of permitting the colonials to leave ranks to fight in ambush. With threats and blows they were beaten back into line.

The baggage was attacked and all of the aides except Washington had been shot down before the signal for retreat was given. Braddock was wounded following this command, and one English and two American officers carried him across the river. In this battle of little more than two hours, involving about 1,460 British and American soldiers, all of Braddock's field officers were killed and 63 of his 89 commissioned officers were killed or injured. He died within a short time, to rest in a foreign soil, the victim of what may be termed arrogance or blindness. 456 British soldiers were killed and 421 were wounded. The enemy casualties were a shocking 60.

The British tried to establish a place for rallying and treatment of the wounded, following Washington's return from Dunbar's camp, which they reached on July 11.

It was a sad consequence that after these French victories, in all but the one English attack, the Indians rose to aid New France to the extent of alarming colonists along the frontiers of Maryland, Pennsylvania, and Virginia. Those hearty people finally spoke vehemently enough to their respective legislatures, and during the next two years, we and Virginia built two hundred blockhouses to guard mountain passes, while Pennsylvania stretched a line from the northern Susquehanna to the frontier forts, Ligonier and Bedford. In 1760 a military road was authorized to connect Fort Frederick and Fort Cumberland.

So the British finally won and fortified their victorious holdings, while Pittsburgh became a focal point in the settlement of the Ohio Valey, which was the reason for the advance across the Alleghenies. The discovery of coal and iron ore was to bring it industrial glory and an influx of new people again in the next century. But that is another story.

As she called out the parts of the horse, each member marked on his paper where he thought those parts were. Sharon Fike used a model horse to demonstrate the parts of the horse after the paper work was done.

Test Soil Now; Avoid Spring Rush

Are you wondering if the soil in your fields, lawn of garden has all the elements your plants need. If you are planning to have soil tested, why wait for the springtime rush

Fall is an excellent time to take soil samples, says Dr. Alan Bandel, Extension agronomist at the University of Maryland.

The free testing service is becoming more popular each year as more people begin to recognize the value of liming and fertilizing according to test results, Dr. Bandel says. "But most people don't think much about plowing, and seeding or liming and fertilizing until early spring".

In January the rush begins, he explains. Normally the soil laboratory is flooded with samples from January to April. This large number of samples may delay test results at a time when delay can be costly.

With lime and fertilizer recommendations made in the fall, you have time to plan and take advantage of possible reduced fertilizer prices or early delivery discounts.

Any Maryland resident can get a free analysis of the phosphorus, potash and magnesium in the soil as well as a determination of the pH tacidity or alkalinity) and lime and fertilizer recommendations.

For further information and soil sample boxes, contact your county Extension service listed in the telephone book under County Government, or the Soil Testing Laboratory at College Park.

The information sheet accompanying sample boxes tells how to take samples and submit them to the laboratory.

Clark Glotfelty ran for five touchdowns and Wayne George passed to Gary Reichenbecher for the other as Coach Jack Lear's Northern High school Huskies smothered Southern High school Rams last Friday night at Oakland by the score of 40 to 6 and won the county football championship.

The victory was the seventh against two losses for Northern and the 40-point total was the Huskies' high for the season. The victory gave Northern its first leg on the county championship trophy which has been won by the Southern Rams the past two years. The trophy must be won three times for a team to gain permanent possession.

Glotfelty begin his 30-point scoring splurge in the opening period by tallying on a nine yard run. Larry Brenneman booted the extra point. A nine yard pass from Wayne Georg to Gary Reichenbecher produced the other NHS td in the first period.

Northern reeled off 21 points in the second quarter and Glotfelty accounted for all three six pointers on runs of 16, 30 and two yards in that order. Georg registered two extra points on runs and passed to Reichenbecher for the third.

Pat Flanagan averted a shutout for the Rams when he went in from the two but the pass for the extra point failed.

A fifteen-yard aerial from Georg to Glotfelty concluded the scoring in the final quarter. The Huskies had a wide edge in first downs 15 to 8, and gained a net of 386 yards compared to 128. The defeat was the fourth for Southern against five wins as both schools concluded their season.

The game was Southern's Homecoming event, and was preceded by a parade in the Oakland business district, and concluded by a dance in the Southern gymnasium on Saturday evening.

AN AGING PROBLEM
"CRUMBLING" BONES

Osteoporosis is a loss of calcium in the bones. The bones become less solid. This can cause more frequent fractures. Some changes in the joints may result, causing arthritic type pains. Women past their menopause are susceptible because hormone changes can result in a calcium loss, without sufficient replacement of new calcium to the bones.

Relief is slowly possible. Your physician may prescribe a special vitamin supplement to encourage depositing of calcium. Often intake of hormones is helpful. The diet should include calcium-rich foods.

Trophy Winners Announced In Fishing Contest

Eight fishing contest winners have been awarded trophies by the Deep Creek Lake Promotion Council, in connection with the contest held throughout the summer months in the area. Two of the trophy winners set state records with their prize catches.

Simon Cogley, Oakland, broke the state record for brown trout with his 33-inch fish. Another state record for length was for a largemouth bass, 24 and one-half inches, caught by Charles Carr, McHenry. Carr's record was broken shortly thereafter.

Fred McGee, Connellsville, Pa., won a trophy with a 28-inch walleye.

Smallmouth bass winner was P. D. Harper, Morgantown, W. Va., who had a 20 and one-half inch catch.

Eugene Zieglar, Larimer, Pa., landed the longest Northern Pike, which measured 36 inches.

The longest crappie was taken by Paul J. Kohn Jr., Pittsburgh, Pa.

Roy Barnes, of Midlothian, won with a 27 inch chain pickerel.

An Oakland man, Bob Daugherty, won the trophy for yellow perch with a 14-inch fish.

John Marple, of Johnny's Bait House, was official measurer for the contest. According to Mr. Marple, the reason ten percent of the fishermen catch 90 per cent of the fish is because the ten per cent work 90 per cent harder.

He also recommends "To put a little fun in your life, try fishing".

12 Are Killed On State Highways

Twelve persons were killed on Maryland highways last week, according to the weekly survey published by the State Police. Nine of those killed were drivers and three were passengers. Alcohol was a contributing factor in five of the deaths, speed in four, and "driver error" in all of them.

"One of the most frequent causes of highway accidents is failing to grant right of way", noted Lt. Col. George E. Davidson, Deputy Superintendent of the State Police. "This violation was responsible for the loss of three lives on Maryland highways last week. These drivers paid a high price for their inattention, and we would certainly do well to profit from their mistakes".

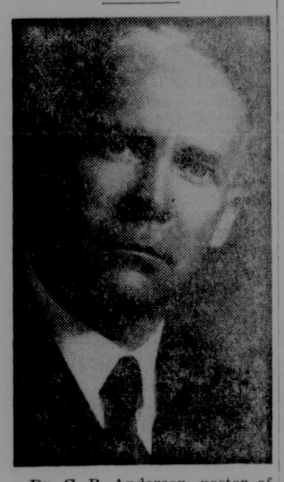
Bloomington Given Permission To Use Allegany Landfill

A letter from the Allegany County Health Department concerning Bloomington residents' use of Allegany County Demonstration Landfill was presented to the County Commissioers at their October 28 meeting.

According to the letter, Bloomington residents could be allowed to dispose refuse at the Landfill located near Westernport, free of charge, on a trial basis until January 1, 1969.

If the Bloomington residents desire to continue use of the Allegany facility after January 1, the charge of $1.00 per year per capita would apply.

Commissioner John Ross Sines made the motion that the Board go on record as opposed to transportation of garbage or solid wastes in any manner from other states or distant points in Maryland to be disposed of within the limits of Garrett County. The motion was passed unanimously.



A suggestion was made by Robert Rudy and Charles Bender, representing the Garrett County Development Corporation that a qualified person be hired as Planner for Garrett County. Federal funds are available for part of the salary and expenses and approximately $7,500.00 would come from the County in cash or kind. No definite action was taken on the proposal.

A resolution directing and authorizing the County Director of Civil Defense to prepare a comprehensive plan for emergency and Disaster control was signed by the Board.

Ralph Beachley was re-appointed to the Garrett County Sanitary Commission for a term of two years with unanimous approval of the Commissioners.

The best kept secret in Washington, D.C.

What's the most popular car among diplomats in Washington, D.C.?

Put that question to a diplomat and you get a very diplomatic answer.

In other words, they don't tell.

So we did some snooping around on our own and contrary to public opinion, the car most diplomats buy is neither very big nor very fancy nor very impressive.

Hint: It can be bought and serviced in 140 countries throughout the world.

Hint: It costs $1749* in the U.S.A.

Hint: It has tremendous resale value.

Final hint: It gets around 27 miles to the gallon and uses no antifreeze whatsoever.

At last count, there were over 1200 diplomats and embassy staff members driving this little car throughout Washington.

So that story about big important people driving only big, important-looking cars may not be altogether true.

On the other hand, if big important people would rather have you believe they drive only big, important-looking cars, that's all right with us.

We won't let the bug out of the bag.

SHORT OF A MIRACLE

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Rome's Coliseum, partly tumbled into ruin, is considered one of the wonders of the world. It was built in 80 A. D.—and that is a long time ago, to be sure. Yet it is but a second when measured against the ages that have passed since God created the world.

The Coliseum—wonder that it is—is also visible proof of the limit of man's accomplishments. We consider it nothing short of a miracle that something built by man has endured that long. Yet those things created by God remain endless and eternal.

God's works should, indeed, fill even the wisest of us with wonder, with awe, and with gratitude. We tend to take them all too much for granted. We tend, at times, to forget them—and even to forget Him—entirely.

Discover God again, in the church of your choice and in the process, rediscover yourself.

WHO FORGETS?

Lesson for November 10, 1968

Background Scripture: 2 Peter.
Devotional Reading: 2 Peter 1:12-21.

Rev. Althouse

One night several years ago I ran out of gas on the Taconic Parkway between Poughkeepsie and New York City. By day the Taconic Parkway is a beautiful and scenic ride through the rolling country of Westchester and foothills of the Oatskill Mountains; by night it is one of the darkest and loneliest of thoroughfares.

Fortunately, a few minutes after I coasted to a standstill, a state police car came up behind me and the patrolman offered to push me some seven miles down the road to the state police barracks where he would telephone a gas station for me. When we reached the exit that led to the barracks, I pulled my car off the road to wait while the officer went ahead to phone for a service truck.

Because someone forgets!

An hour and fifteen minutes went by and help had still not come. My companions and I had waited patiently at first, but as the night grew colder we began to be concerned. Had the policeman forgotten us, someone wondered? Oh no, we were certain he wouldn't have done that. But when another twenty minutes had passed, I decided to walk to the barracks and find out what had happened to our promise of assistance.

The officer, I found, was not there! He had been sent on another call and, in his haste, had apparently forgotten about us. Understandable, but how unpleasant to wait for help that doesn't come because someone has forgotten you!

This was a feeling shared by some Christians in the early years of the Christian Church. The Apostle Paul had taught the Church to expect that Christ would "return" in the near future. They had thus looked eagerly for his coming. Yet, he did not come and some of them began to ask: "What has happened to the promise?" Had Paul been mistaken? (Actually, Paul had somewhat revised his expectation.) Was Jesus still to return? Had he forgotten them? What kind of hope were they to hold to in these times of hardship and persecution?

Always scoffer.

The letter we know as 2 Peter was written to answer these people. First of all, says the writer, Christians must understand that the presence of scoffers does not mean that the Christian Hope will not be fulfilled. There have always been scoffers and there always will be those who jeer at the faith and expectations of others. So what else is new?

Remember the past experiences of those who have waited upon the Lord. Remember the scoffers who ridiculed Noah and his "silly" ark. How they made fun of his conviction of imminent world destruction. How long he waited for that assurance to be fulfilled—but it did come!

Our problem, of course, is that God does not measure time as we do. What to us seems many years of waiting is for him but a "second," a minute interval in eternity. Our impatience is understandable, for we see things in the perspective of the short-run, while his is a long-run view.

What of our promise?

We need to remember that others in other times have also been disheartened by long waiting. Tyrannical men and fearsome powers have risen up to threaten both the Church and civilization, yet in the long-run, none of them have prevailed. In his own good time, God has swept away the Ghengis Khans, the Alexanders, the Cyruss, the Caesars, the Napoleons, the Hitlers, the Stalins and so many others. These "giants" have all turned to dust while God and his kingdom have continued on to the final fulfillment.

God will keep his promise, but what of us? If we are to wait patiently, that does not mean we are also to wait passively. It is not enought to wait for God to do his part; we must do our part too.

No, God does not forget; we do!

NHS Jr. Chorus Will Offer "Ballad Of Brawn Michael

The Junior Chorus of Northern High School will present as its main production of the year, "The Ballad of Brawn Michael", on Friday, November 15 at 8 p. m. Mrs. Lucille Sines is director of the program.

The story takes place in the mythical town of Peddler's Way, Ireland, where Matt Donovan (Randy Thomas) is ruler.

The first scene features Lehna (Patty Sisler), a young, redheaded witch whose wish to become mortal will be fulfilled only after she finds love and converts a non-believer to a belief in witches. Donning clothes of an Irish lad, she is sent to Meg the Crone (Becky Tressler) in Peddler's Way, with four spells to use and a bag of gold.

Brawn Michael Dawson (Lonny Savage), a self-sufficient young man, owns the supposedly haunted Woods of Shillelagh. He plans to use the land to set up a factory to produce Dawson's Mixture, the Elixir af Youth and Joy.

Lehna becomes Michael's lad and Michael becomes Lehna's non-believer whom she plans to convert.

Donovan, penny-pinching owner of the town schooner and cannery, clashes with his men over wages and also with Michael. How Michael provides work for the men and is converted to a believer in witchery is revealed during the remainder of the play.

Other characters in the production include Doc Flanagan (Lee Coddington), leader of the fishermen; Grinch (David Livengood), Donovah's hired man; Constable (Barney Teats); Molly Flanagan, (Patty Bender) a lovely lass who takes Michael's eye; a Leprechaun, (Charles Thomas); and the minstrel (Brenda Sines), who weaves the thread of the story.

Before you buy any Color TV,

give Philco Color TV the Face Test

and compare!

Model 6650WA
23" picture measured diagonally.
295 sq.in. picture

How to give THE FACE TEST:

1. Look closely at some faces on the screen. Are they too red? Too green? Philco's special color circuit produces a wider range of flesh tones. It catches the subtle shades of color that make faces more life-like.
2. Try the tint control. Do the faces jump to violent red or green? If so, you'll have a hard time adjusting that set. Philco's color circuitry provides a wider range of flesh colors—gives you room to adjust skin tones more accurately.

Philco gets the faces right. The rest is easy.

Now with Philco Tuning Eye plus A.C.T. (Auto-lock Channel Tuning) Now you can fine tune Philco Color TV in an instant. Just turn the tuning dial until the lighted Tuning Eye narrows and flick the A.C.T. switch. Picture and sound come in sharp and clear every time.

Events Above The Mountain Top

By Paul S. Frank Jr.

November 7 - 13

On Friday at 4:00 a. m. the moon will be 252,300 miles from the earth. This apogee is the farthest that the moon will be from the earth this month. On Wednesday the 13th the moon will pass through its last quarter phase at 4:12 a. m. The moon rises in the evening during the week.

The sunrise occurred at 6:52 a. m. today. The daylight ends with sunset at 5:10 p. m. today. Next Wednesday the day begins at 7:00 a. m. Sunset is at 5:05 p. m. The daylight has lost thirteen minutes during the week.

Four planets are visible to the naked eye during the week. Two visible in the evening on opposite sides of the sky are Saturn and Venus. Venus, visible in the southwest, sets within two hours of sunset. In the east the bright object in Pisces, the fishes, is Saturn, which is well up above the horizon.

Before sunrise Mars and Jupiter are visible. They rise about four hours before the sun; however, Mars rises first. Jupiter is the brighest of these two planets, which are moving from Leo into Virgo.

In Andromeda, just next to the Milky Way and two stars into Andromeda from the northeast corner of the square of Pegasus, a faint hazy patch of light can be seen on very clear nights. This is a galaxy usually called the Great Nebula in Andromeda. It is 2,100,000 light years from us and is very similar to our own galaxy, the Milky Way. Although not the closest galaxy to ours, it is the third brighest galaxy in the sky and the only one visible to Garrett Countians.

On Monday the Crossroad School PTA from Horse Shoe Run will visit the Planetarium at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday Mrs. Snyder's and Miss Opel's third grade classes from Grantsville visit to study the seasons.

Arts Camp Planned In State Program

A summer arts camp for high school students in this county is one of a number of projects approved by the U. S. Office of Education in a Maryland plan by which the state education agency will administer a federally funded program to encourage creativity in the state's schools.

State control of the program follows three years of federal administration during which Maryland schools received $7 million for innovative educational programs.

Other projects in the program include an unusual pre-school program in Southern Maryland, a mobile trailer to promote effective classroom use of visual aids in Baltimore county; a middle school organization study in Howard county and a supplementary services center on the Eastern Shore.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to our friends, neighbors and relatives and especially to the doctors, nurses and staff at Garrett County Memorial Hospital for their kindness and sympathy shown at the death of Charles H. Ludwig.

No. 5726 Equity In The Circuit Court For Garrett County, Maryland

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

This is to give notice that on the 15th day of October, 1968, a Bill of Complaint was filed in the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, by the plaintiff against the defendants at the addresses hereinabove set forth. The object of these proceedings is to procure the passage of a decree for the sale of the real estate of Cora E. Miller, situate in Election District No., 16, Garrett County, Maryland, and for the payment of debts and claims filed against the proyerty:

The bill states:

That during her lifetime and at the time of her death, Cora E. Miller was seized and possessed of a parcel of land situate in Election District No. 16 in Garrett County, Maryland, this property having been conveyed to the said Cora E. Miller by Orphans Court transfer in Proceedings No. 3249, this transfer being accomplished by deed dated December 8, 1958, and recorded in Liber 214, folio 345, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland; the Bill further describes the intermarriage of the various heirs; enumerated various debts outstanding against the said deceased Cora E. Miller; that Jack R. Turney qualified as administrator of the estate of Cora E. Miller on January 23, 1968, as will appear by reference to a certificate of letters filed as plaintiff's exhibit No. 2; that the personal estate of the decedent is insufficient to pay the indebtedness filed against the estate and that at the time of her death Cora E. Miller was indebted to the Garrett County Welfare Board in the amount of $12,674.96 representing amounts advanced to the said decedent during her lifetime as Old Age Assistance under the laws of the United States and the State of Maryland; and the said Cora E. Miller is further indebted to the Minnich Funeral Home in the amount of $365.00 and also unto divers other persons, and that said real estate is not of sufficient value to satisfy all claims against the estate of the decedent.

The Bill then prays for a decree for the sale of said real estate, for the sale of debts and claims and for general relief.

WHEREFORE, it is ORDERED by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, this 15th day of October, 1968, that plaintiff cause a copy of this Order to be inserted in a newspaper published in Garrett County, once a week in each of four successive weeks, before the 8th day of November, 1968, giving notice to the said unknown heirs who may be defendants of the object and substance of the bill of Complaint and warning them to show cause, if any there may be, on or before the 9th day of December, 1968, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

Clerk of the Court

Veterans' Day Passes Quietly

Veteran's Day passed quietly in Oakland with nothing unusual planned to observe the occasion. It was so quiet that it was not until after 9:30 that the American flags were displayed along the downtown business district.

The day has only become known as "Veterans' Day" within the past few years. It was first observed as "Armistice Day", which commemorated the signing of the armistice which ended World War I, supposedly the war to end all wars. The observance later was to include all other wars since that time in which Americans fought.

Two Receive Crime Combatting Awards Tuesday

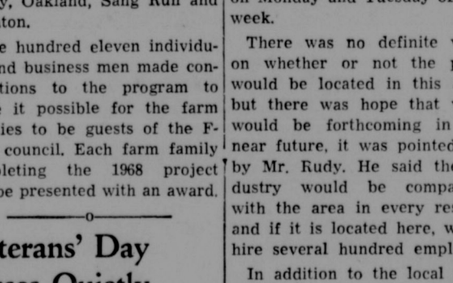
Oakland Police Chief Percy Lawton and Sheriff James E. Frantz received certificates from the Maryland Crime Investigating Commission in recognition for their valuable assistance in combatting crime and delinquency, at a brief ceremony in the city hall in Oakland on Tuesday afternoon.

The certificates were presented by William Sellman and Halley Crews, special agents of the commission.

The agents are also in Oakland to discuss arrangements for a Law Enforcement ball to be held in Baltimore, November 23. Chief Lawton and Sheriff Frantz are chairmen for Garrett county.

The crime commission agents plan to call on local businessmen for distribution of educational material. Proceeds from the ball will be used by the commission to conduct educational programs to aid local law enforcement agencies to combat crime and delinquency.

Business Leaders Discuss Possibility Of New Industry



Members of the Garrett County Development corporation headed by Irvin R. Rudy Jr., president; and members of the Industrial committee of the Mt. Top Chamber of Commerce met with representatives of a national business firm which had expressed interest in the Oakland area for a plant location, on Monday and Tuesday of this week.

There was no definite word on whether or not the plant would be located in this area, but there was hope that work would be forthcoming in the near future, it was pointed out by Mr. Rudy. He said the industry would be compatible with the area in every respect and if it is located here, would hire several hundred employes.

In addition to the local committees industrial representatives of the Monongahela Power company and the State of Maryland, along with an industrial plant locater, attended all sessions.

The participants from outside the area were met at the county airport Monday afternoon. Evening sessions were held Monday and Tuesday with an all-day session on Tuesday with the Mayor and Town Council of Oakland, the superintendent of schools and other business leaders. The visitors were taken to Cumberland Wednesday morning for return to their various destinations.

All of this was a follow up of a labor survey that was made in the area last April.

TO STAR IN PLAY—Charles Thomas, Patty Bender, Patty Sisler and Lonnie Savage are among the principal characters who will appear Friday evening, November 15, at Northern High school, in the production, "The Ballad of Brawn Michael."

Death Ruling Is Upheld In Miller Case

Youth Was Convicted In 1967 Of Murder Of Judy Lee Ziegler

The Maryland Court of Appeals on Tuesday upheld the death sentence given Gary Lee Miller for the 1967 murder of a 20-year-old Pennsylvania girl.

The six judges hearing the appeal rejected unanimously arguments that there was not enough evidence to convict him and that the lower court erred in permitting the state to use as evidence a confession given by Miller.

The 18-year-old youth was convicted in Allegany County Circuit court of the murder May 28, 1967, of Judy Lee Ziegler, route 1, Salisbury, who gave him a ride as he hitchhiked from Frostburg to his home in nearby Meyersdale, Pa.

Miller was only 16 at the time of the murder and was 17 when the death sentence was imposed by Judges James E. Getty and Harold E. Naughton.

John C. Sullivan, Miller's attorney, had argued before the Court of Appeals that the typed statement which Miller refused to sign should not have been read to the jury and questioned whether it was given voluntarily. He also contended the state did not prove that Miller "knowingly and intelligently" waived his right to remain silent when he gave the statement.

The opinion of the Court of Appeals said that the question of whether a confession should be admitted is "a matter for the trial court to decide and the determination will not be disturbed on appeal unless there is a clear abuse of discretion". "We find no such abuse here", it said.

The opinion also said there was "no obligation that Miller was mistreated while he was in custody", and that "Uncontradicted testimony established that Miller was advised of his constitutional rights. . ."

The high court acknowleged that a confession alone would not be sufficient evidence to return a conviction, but said Miller's account of the murder was supported both by the evidence and by the testimony of other witnesses.

Mathias Visits Oakland During "Thank You" Tour

U. S. Senator-elect, Charles McC. Mathias and his wife, Ann, visited Allegany and Garrett Counties Saturday, November 9, for a "thank you" tour following Tuesday's election.

The Mathias bus made a stop in Oakland Saturday evening to thank voters and to shake hands.

Twenty-four stops were scheduled in the six Western Maryland Counties covering approximately 600 miles.

Mathias was greeted by J. Glenn Beall Jr., who was elected to Congress, at the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

Traveling with the senator-elect were his wife, and their two sons, Charles, 9, and Robert (Rob), 7; State Senator, Tom Anderson of Montgomery County; William Emerson, an administrative assistant, John Fogarty, his press assistant, and J. Glenn Beall who had joined the tour in Cumberland.

Leaving here the bus made the return trip to Hagerstown.

All in Readiness For Northern Play

All is in readiness for the production of "The Ballad of Brawn Michael", to be presented tomorrow evening, Friday, November 15, by the members of the Junior chorus of Northern High school, at the school. Curtain time is 8 o'clock.

The play is under direction of Mrs. Lucille Sines, music instructor. The story takes place in the mythical town of Peddler's Way, Ireland, and concerns witchcraft, love and intrigue. Photographs of some of the main characters appear in The Republican today.

America's Pioneer 9 spaceship began its assignment as robot while orbiting the sun.

Official Returns Confirm Winners

Official returns for the November 5 election were tabulated by the Board of Election Supervisors last Thursday and showed only a few changes in the unofficial figures, but the absentee votes added considerably to the winning candidates.

Some changes were noted in the amendments for the Jennings district and for the U. S. Senate race in the Kitzmiller district. There were only slight shifts in the votes in Swanton, Elbow, and Accident. Mathias lost some 68 votes in Kitzmiller while Humphrey lost 58 and Mahoney 23. This ended up with Mathias getting 116 votes there to 125 for Humphrey and 54 for Mahoney.

There were 233 absentee ballots tabulated with eight of them spoiled because of improper markings. Six of the spoiled absentee ballots all had check marks instead of an "X" in the squares. Election board members emphasized that instructions on how to make a ballot are included in the letter sent to the absentee voters which definitely states that a voter must not use a check mark. There was writing on two of the ballots which caused them to be rejected.

McCarthy received two write-in votes for president while Lindsay and Curtis LeMay received one vote each for president.

The official count showed Nixon and Agnew having over a two to one majority, while Mathias and Beall ran almost three to one in their races for U. S. Senate and House of Representatives respectively.

The official tabulation, including the absentee ballots showed the following totals:

For President—Nixon-Agnew, 4,021; Humphrey-Muskie, 1,933; Wallace-Griffin, 818.

For U. S. Senate—Mathias, 4,085; Daniel Brewster, 1,478; Mahoney, 764.

For Congress—Beall, 4,312; Byron, 1,673.

For Judge, Finan, 1,517.

For Judge, Anderson, 921.

Amendments

All amendments were defeated.

Amendment 1, 437 in favor; 1,040 against.

Amendment 2, 376 in favor; 1,166 against.

Amendment 3, 551 in favor; 987 against.

Amendment 4, which was a referendum, 518 in favor, 1,308 against.

With the counting of the absentee ballots there was an increase in the percentage of the electorate going to the polls and the latest figures showed that 76 percent of those registered actually voted, one of the best records in years.

Hearings Set On Pollution Control Nov. 29

Proposed amendments to regulations governing the control of air pollution, including one that would exempt small users of coal, will be aired at a meeting of the Board of Health and Mental Hygiene November 29 in Baltimore. The meeting will be open to the public.

George Ferreri, technical adviser and assistant in the division of Air Quality Control, said the proposed amendements were developed to help ease the impact on Western Maryland economy as a result of meetings with the Air Quality Control advisory council and review of comments made at a public hearing on August 28.

Of particular interest to the local area is the amendment which would exempt any unit burning less than four tons of coal per hour, from the regulations, including residences, schools, hospitals, small businesses and other users of coal such as that produced here.

Mr. Ferreri noted that regulations must still apply to the larger users of coal as the main contributors to air pollution.

The effect of the regulations on the economy of the area is of prime concern to Western Maryland, especially in regard to the coal producing regions of Garrett and Allegany counties which produce no coal with one percent sulphur or less.

The amendment which would exempt small users would help to alleviate this concern as will the use of stack desulphurization devices in industry. A number of these devices are now under investigation and are being tested by industries.

The Health Department feels that many industrial users of coal will go to stack devices in order to comply with regulations rather than seek other sources

Bank Resources Near 45 Million

Total Almost Five Million Greater Than Report In May Of This Year

Banks of Garrett County in this week's issue of The Republican, show resources of almost $45 million dollars and bank deposits of almost $41 million.

Exact figures are available for The First National Bank of Oakland and the Garrett National Bank in Oakland. If resources of the Grantsville branch of the Liberty Trust company of Maryland were added the total might reach as high as $55 million but that company's figures show no breakdown for the county's branch office.

The First National Bank statement showed resources of $24,223,870.86, an increase of more than $2 million. It shows deposits of $22,281,982.41, surplus of $650,000, undivided profits of $437,721.94, with a capital stock of $350,000.

The Garrett National statement showed resources of $20,691,229.07, an increase of over $2 million. It showed deposits of $18,608,836.46, surplus of $900,000, undivided profits of $161,505.10, and reserves of $109,506.03. It has a capital stock of $350,000.

Detailed statements appear on another page of today's issue.

Counterfeit Counts Face Ohio Trio

Three men from Cleveland, Ohio, were arrested in this county several days ago on charges of false pretense and are being held for federal authorities, who will prefer counterfeiting charges against them.

The trio passed bills in this county which had $20 markings transferred to $1 bills.

They apparently failed to realize that the photograph of Andrew Jackson appears on the $20 notes and George Washington on the $1 notes.

Those arrested in the case are Phillip Earl Taylor, Kenneth Swanson and Collins Thompkins. All are Negroes. County authorities said they would apply detainers against the men, pending the outcome of the federal hearing. The hearing was postponed from Tuesday and the three are in the county jail here waiting until a new date is set.

Merchandise will be on display and a three-day ordering service from Philadelphia will be put into operation according to the management.

Early Snow Covers Mountain Top Area

Garrett County's first major snow of the season fell during the week, announcing the onset of the winter season.

The Oakland area received 10 to 12 inches of snow causing the closing of all Garrett County schools Wednesday. The storm was worse in the eastern section of the state.

Snow plows were working all day Wednesday and a County Road's official said special crews would be in working force last night. High winds caused drifting and a number of county roads were clogged.

All state roads are open and workmen were given a rest last evening while graders and blowers were put into action.

Long stretch on U. S. Route 40 was reported as the worst spot on the State system. The road was not closed but visibility was zero and a number of car drivers became confused, according to William Goldsborough, roads engineer here.

Last Thursday's weather picture called for steady rain with partial clearing about mid-morning.

Snow flurries and drizzle were seen Friday with temperatures ranging from 32 to 37 degrees.

Saturday and Sunday were cool and clear with 30 degree readings.

Monday's outlook called for clear skies and continued cold.

Tuesday and Wednesday were cold, with the first measurable amount of snow falling on the mountain top. Temperatures ranged from upper 20's to lower 30's for the most part.

This morning's low was recorded at 26 degrees, however a warming trend, a chance of rain tomorrow, and 50-degree readings is forecast.

Some 150 persons, fair superintendents, department heads, and guests attended an appreciation dinner held by the County Fair board last Saturday at the Wisp ski area.

The annual meeting of the stockholders will be held on Tuesday, November 26, at which time the financial report will be presented.

Supreme Court Rejects Plea In Land Case

Firm May Strip Mine At State Park Property In County

The U. S. Supreme Court rejected on Tuesday a plea by the Maryland Department of Forests and Parks as well as the Board of Public Works of Maryland that it act to prevent strip mining of a large tract of land in this county.

State officials had sought a review and ultimate reversal of Maryland court rulings that the George's Creek Coal and Land company may operate a coal mine on the upper eastern face of Big Savage mountain.

"It is common knowledge", Maryland Attorney General Francis B. Burch said in a petition filed last August, "that where strip mining has taken place the land stripped, as well as the entire area, is often in effect, destroyed. Not only is the land stripped, for all practical purposes, often of no further use, but in addition, the stripping causes water pollution, the damage of which is felt far from the stripped area".

He added: "Action must be taken by the federal judiciary to preserve America's great natural resources".

The Garrett County Circuit Court, through Associate Judge Stuart F. Hamill, in June, 1967, declared the company had the right to remove coal from the land by any conventional mining method, including stripping". The Maryland Court of Appeals affirmed the decision last May.

Burch had urged the Supreme Court to act "in order to prevent further ravaging of America's great natural resources".

The property in question is in the Savage River state forest. The coal company had applied in 1964 for permisison to remove the coal under a mineral reservation in a deed from the company for coal, clay and other minerals and all oil underlying the property, giving the company the right to mine and remove the material to market. The Board of Public Works in December, 1964, approved the application and a permit was issued. But in February, 1965 the Board of Forests and Parks declined to ap-

Student Voices

The voice of the students of Southern High school, through its creative writing group of the Southern Speech association, is planning to provide a series of editorial comment each week on a variety of subjects.

The one submitted this week by Michael Posey, adviser to the Speech association was provided by Randy Overdorff and is entitled "America Needs the Best".

His remarks follow:

By Randy Overdorff

"America has a good thing going—its schools" has been chosen as the theme of American Education Week. But in this world of international competition and lack of communication, is a "good thing" enough? Shouldn't the youth of the United States, the most powerful and influential nation in the world, have something better?

Too often, people are eager to cut expenses on education. They feel that we already have a good thing in our schools, and that there is no need for any substantial improvements in our educational systems. Often, the contention is that there are better places for money to go; the kids are smart enough already. Sometimes there is open opposition to an increase in educational funds, as was seen in Garrett County last year. People simply don't want to make a monetary sacrifice for the improvement of their children's learning conditions.

Another example of the lack of concern for education in this area is the proposed community college. What ever happened to it? Since last year everyone seems to have forgotten that plans were made. Why was this project which could improve the education and therefore improve the futures of many area youths abandoned? Most important, why haven't the residents of Garrett County taken action to insure the success of projects such as these?

This is a problem that all Americans should be facing. Too many people are becoming too satisfied with our system of education. Too many parents think visiting the school during Education Week fulfills their duty to improve their children's opportunities for learning. Too many people just don't care.

It's true, America does have a good thing going in its schools. But it is our duty to see that we don't stop at that. If there is to be a bright and free future for its citizens, "good" isn't good enough. America needs the best.

Garrett County Receives Tax For Distilled Spirits

A check in the amount of $2,929.50 was obtained by Garrett County for its share of the state's distilled spirits tax collection for the first quarter ending September 30.

The amount of 5,859 gallons was delivered in Garrett County with distribution at 50 cents per gallon totalling $2,929.50. This is an increase of 16.07 per cent over the same period last year.

Comptroller of Maryland, Louis L. Goldstein stated that receipts from distilled spirits for October 1968 had increased 22.16 percent, that wine had increased 2.94 percent, and that beer had increased 7.49 percent from October 1967.

The total number of gallons delivered in Maryland was 1,810,774 equalling $905,387.00 at 50 cents per gallon, providing an increase of 13.07 per cent.

The October and December quarter usually provides the highest yield as liquor stores prepare for Christmas sales.

"The Swan" Sails At Deep Creek

Perhaps one of the most picturesque and creative sights familiar to Garrett County and summer lake residents is a 21-foot pontoon boat that operates on Deep Creek Lake named "The Swan".

"The Swan", which was designed and built in 1962-63 by D. Noel Obenshain, has the head of a Swan which stands 14 and one-half feet above the water level and can be lowered when passing under a bridge or at night.

The Swan's red and green eyes are used as running lights and a motorized tail feather moves up to carry the stern light at the tip.

The beak opens when electric air horns are sounded.

"The Swan" however is not the only invention of Obenshain who is a research associate at West Vaco's Laurel Research Laboratory.

During the past 20 years Mr. Obenshain has been granted 44 U. S. and foreign patents mostly for machines or instruments to be used in the paper industry.

Obenshain also designed his own automobile, the "Raindrop" in 1938. The car, operated by four-cylinder Indian motorcycle motor, measured 130 inches long, 70 inches wide and 65 inches wide.

He also designed the exterior and interior of his lakeside home, the "Donovista" which is fronted by a mammoth sun dial. The sun dial stands nine feet high and weighs 1,700 pounds.

A native of Covington, Va., Obenshain was born November 28, 1906. Because of a lack of funds for college his formal education ended with his graduation from high school in 1924.

Even now, he is engaged in the development of a new device for cooking corn-on-the-cob so as to retain flavor and nutrients. He is also experimenting with a new type of eye glasses.

March Of Dimes Leaders Attend Orientation Meet

Prevention of birth defects was the topic of an orientation meeting of the National Foundation, held in Washington, D. C., last week-end. Attending were D. Lester White, campaign director for this county, and Verna J. Harvey, county chairman.

Newly developed preventive measures were discussed at the March of Dimes session which was attended by some 200 volunteer leaders from Maryland and neighboring states. They were told there is now a vaccine that can prevent the birth defect known as Rh blood disease which afflicts an estimated 10,000 children each year. It was emphasized that much progress had been made toward preventing birth defects and their disabling after effects.

Also in the final stages of testing is a vaccine against German measles (rubella), a disease that can cause defects in her developing infant if contracted by a woman early in pregnancy.

More than 250,000 American children are afflicted with birth defects each year, but research is bringing a reduction in this toll.

The annual campaign occurs around the first of the year.

prove the permit. The case was heard in the Circuit Court on April 24, 1967.

In expressing his opinion Judge Hamill declared the sole issue was construction of mineral reservation and determination of whether or not the reservation was broad enough to include strip mining. He pointed out strip mining was known and practiced in 1931 and as far back as 1919.

He said the terms and phraseology were broad enough to include any known method of mining coal and that the original parties had no regard or concern for surface of the rugged, mountainous and unimproved land.

of coal with low sulphur content.

The compliance deadline of July, 1970, only requires that those who would be in violation of the air pollution regulations submit a plan for compliance at that time and a reasonable timetable for the plan to become effective.

Dr. Elmer L. Hill, deputy state health officer, and Conrad Zimmerman, air quality control supervisor for Western Maryland, said the cooperation received from industries indicate that they will do their part to give Marylanders the clean air they deserve.

All fuel oil also will have to meet the one percent requirement by 1970.

Regarding health hazards of sulphur dioxide, Mr. Ferreri said that a study of effect on health has been under way for many years and that all evidence at hand indicates that levels should be controlled. High sulphur dioxide levels have been recorded in the Allegany county area that can be detrimental to the health of elderly persons and those suffering respiratory or cardiac diseases

The annual effort for pre-Christmas subscriptions for the Garrett County Summer Theatre began on November 1 and will continue until December 31, it was announced by Charles L. Briner, subscription chairman.

Up until December 31 the price will be $16.50 for the season ticket which will contain nine admissions. There will be eight plays during the 1969 season. After December 31 the price of the ticket will be $18.

Tickets are available from members of the American Association of University Women, Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions club, Oakland Rotary club, Business and Professional Women's club, Jr. Woman's Civic Club and the Oakland Civic club. Mr. Briner stressed the availability of gift subscriptions as Christmas presents.

This coming season will be the 15th one for the Playhouse, all under the direction of Gene Yell, associate professor of drama at the University of New Mexico.

Briner pointed out two recent instances where former participants in the summer theatre had gone on to productions on T. V. E. J. Peaker is in a weekly TV series and in the movie, "Hello Dolly". Helen Page Camp was on TV in October in "Wild, Wild West".

Commissioners Will Air Road Question

A right of way problem was one of the matters discussed at a recent meeting of the County Commissioners.

Finally.

Now you can do what you never did before in a Volkswagen:

Nothing.

Yup. We've gone and put a fully-automatic transmission in a Volkswagen.

In fact, we put it in two Volkswagens (as an option). The Fastback. And Squareback.

So now you can drive anywhere in a VW without having to shift for yourself.

Just put the lever in 3. (What everyone else calls DRIVE.) And drive. Like you would any regular car.

Except with our automatic, you'll have to do one thing you don't do with someone else's automatic:

Stay away from gas stations more often.

Because you'll need gas less often. One gallon takes you not 10 miles. Or 15.

But 25 miles.

So now you can do what you always did before in a Volkswagen:

Save money. Automatically.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my son, Pfc. Kenneth E. Noland, whose birthday was this coming Sunday, November 17. Kenneth lost his life in Vietnam, June 23, of this year. He would have been 20 years old, November 17.

Your gentle face and patient smile
With sadness we recall
You had a kindly word for each
And died beloved by all.
The voice is mute and stilled the heart
That loved us well and true.
Ah, bitter was the trial to part
From one so good as you.
You are not forgotten loved one
Nor will you ever be,
As long as life and memory last
We will remember thee.
We miss you now, our hearts are sore,
As time goes by we miss you more,
Your loving smile, your gentle face,
No one can fill your vacant place.

His Mother, Mrs. Betty Wolfe and Sister, Libby and family.

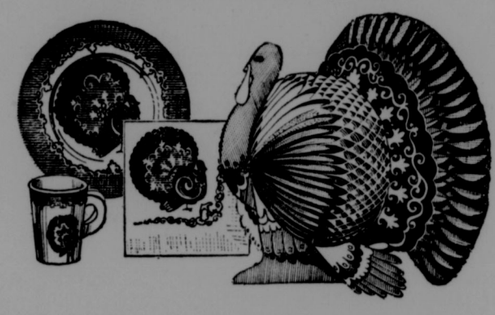
Eighteen Killed On State Highways

Eighteen persons were killed on Maryland highways last week according to the weekly survey of the State Police. Eight of those killed were drivers, two were passengers, and eight were pedestrians. Alcohol was a contributing factor in six of the deaths, speed in six, and "driver error" in thirteen.

"Eight of the persons killed on Maryland roads last week were pedestrians", commented Lt. Col. George E. Davidson, "and this certainly points up very tragically that pedestrians, as well as drivers, have a responsibility in maintaining highway safety.



"It it also noted that two of the pedestrians had been drinking. This points up, also, that a pedestrian should curtail his drinking when he plans to walk on or near a highway".

Heating Equipment Inspection Advised

A complete inspection of heating equipment in the home was suggested this week by Harold L. Schell, chief of the Oakland Fire department, before prolonged cold weather arrives.

The fire chief offered a check list for home heating inspection:

Be sure heater is vented to fireproof chimney, make sure no debris obstructs opening into chimney; be sure chimney is clear; make sure vent pipe from heater to chimney goes up, not down; seal place where smoke pipe enters chimney with cement or plaster.

Be sure there is a supply of outside fresh air enters room where a heater is in use; use safety thimble whenever a smoke pipe passes through a wall; don't use gas stove for room heating; have heating equipment installed by qualified mechanic.

The chief also warned against use of small space heaters and water heaters that are not vented. He suggested fliters should be changed at least twice during the heating season.

November 14 - 20

On Saturday, the sixteenth, the Leonid meteors will be at their maximum at 7:00 p. m. This meteor shower will best be observed in the early morning, especially since Leo rises only a few hours before the sun. There will be about twenty-five meteors seen each hour at the maximum. This is four times the average hourly rate on any night during the year.

Don't forget to call the Garrett County Science Center at 334-3991 if a fireball is observed. A fireball will be a very bright fiery object streaking across the skies. There may be sounds heard accompanying the fireball. It is important to report such observations in order that these phenomenon can be better understood as many observations are examined.

Next Wednesday the moon will be passing through its new phase at 3:20 a. m. During this week the moon will rise in the morning hours of darkness between midnight and sunrise. By 7:00 p. m. on the same date, the moon will be as close to the earth as it will come this month. This perigee is at distance of 222,100 miles from the earth.

Today the sun rose at 7:01 a. m. and sets at 5:04 p. m. Next Wednesday it rises at 7:08 a. m. and sets at 4:59 p. m. Today there are ten hours, three minutes of daylight, while next Wednesday there will be nine hours, fifty-one minutes of daylight.

Four planets are in position to be seen by the unaided eye during the week. In the evening Venus may be viewed in the southwest. It is the third brightest object in the sky and in the constellation of Scorpius. Saturn can be found in the east, the brightest object in the eastern portion of the constellation of Pisces.

In the morning Mars can be seen in the constellation of Virgo in the east. Jupiter also can be seen in the same part of the sky. Jupiter is the brightest of these two planets found rising four hours before the sun.

Today Westernport Elementary School visits the science center to study the skies. Friday, Monday and Tuesday Mr. Wolfe's seventh grade from Southern High School will study time and position, and the stars. Also, on Friday there will be an egg drop at Friendsville School.

Hunter Accommodations Will Be Listed By Dept.

The Department of Game and Inland Fish for the State is continuing its service of providing names of Garrett County citizens who indicate their desire to take hunters during the season, particularly the deer season.

The Department receives every autumn, numerous requests for accommodations for hunters in rural areas of the county especially for accommodations desired during the deer season, according to William E. Harman, of the department, at Flintstone.

Mr. Harman said these requests come largely from the metropolitan areas of Baltimore and Washington.

In past years the department has provided a list of people wishing to take hunters, so that interested hunters may make the contacts. Mr. Harman indicated the list needed to be updated for the season.

Any person interested in taking hunters may be placed on such a list by submitting their names to Mr. Harman, Department of Game and Inland Fish, Flintstone, 21530. He said the information should include the name, address, telephone number, number that can be accommodated, and the price.

Such names will be available at the Annapolis office of the Department to answer these inquiries, Mr. Harman said.

A giant radio telescope picked up bursts of static from a galaxy 2000 light years away. In them, scientists discovered these simple words:

"Earthmen, your planet is in danger. As your morals decay, your great cities slowly crumble. You will see wars and civil strife."

"But we offer you hope," the ancient message continued. "A new world. We can give you knowledge and bring you the peace for which you have searched so long . . ."

Science-fiction?

Not entirely.

There is a message that originated in a distant place over 2000 years ago. It describes the world as it is today, and it offers hope for the future.

The Bible, inspired by God, is a very real message, one that you can begin reading today. Then go to church on Sunday and meet the Author there.

ABOUT SHINGLES
(HERPES ZOSTER)

Shingles is a virus infection attacking the nerves. Usually it is a "one sided" disease, since nerves branching out of the spinal cord spread out on each side. It is characterized by a vesicular eruption and severe neuralgic pains arising in the affected nerve root ganglia.

Shingles are more frequent in males and while it may happen to anyone, it is more common after 50. After about the fifth day the eruptions usually dry up and scab. A painful neuralgia may last for years. Diagnosis is difficult in the pre-eruptive stage. A physician is needed.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

TO BE SURE

Lesson for November 17, 1968

Background Scripture: I John 1:5 through 2:6; 3:1-10; 3 John.
Devotional Reading: I John 4:1-11.

The couple sitting next to us was served a most unusual, but appetizing dish. The long table we shared with them and perhaps seventy other people was one of several that filled the large Salzburg hall where amateur Tyrolean groups were performing their delightful folk music and dances. I was intrigued by the couple's order. Since they were obvisouly Austrians, I addressed them in my faltering but undaunted German, adding what I assumed to be a Bavarian accent.

Rev. Althouse

"What do you call that?" I wanted to know, glancing at the food the waitress had set before them. My question met with blank stares. They weren't hostile, nor indifferent — no, it was obvious they hadn't understood me. Surely my German isn't that bad, I asked myself! So I tried again with the same result. Once more, this time pointing to their food, I asked slowly and distinctly and without any attempt at accent. When it was obvious that we still were not communicating, I smiled an embarassed smile and turned away. As I did, I heard the woman say in the precise, clipped accent of the British: "I think the German gentleman was asking about our food, but I'm not sure."

Quite different

I had been so sure they were Austrian and they were equally certain about me. And we were all wrong. How deceiving appearances can be. How difficult it is to be really sure when we set out to identify someone on the basis of what we have assumed he would be like.

If, for example, you were given the responsibility of surveying your neighborhood in a five-block radius to determine the number of Christians residing there, at first glance it would seem a relatively simple task. You'd simply go door-to-door, asking people if they are Christians — a little embarassing, perhaps, but not difficult.

But, hold on a minute: you were instructed to find out how many are Christians, not how many say they are. That's something quite different and much more difficult. In fact, it's impossible, for how can you really determine who is a Christian and who isn't? If you were checking on tuberculosis, you could give everyone an x-ray. Or if you are checking on heart disease, an electrocardiogram. Or if poor eyesight, an eye-chart. But what tests can you use to determine a person's commitment to Jesus Christ?

Guidelines

The writer of I John gives us some guidelines by which we may measure Christian commitment, although these are intended primarily for the evaluation of our own faith, not that of others. The writer lays down a general principle: God is light and where there is darkness in someone's life there is separation from God.

Well, that's all very fine, John, but rather vague an unspecific. Can't we be more precise than that? So John becomes more specific and perhaps we would have preferred that he had remained vague:

First, ". . . if we walk in the light, we have fellowship with one another". (I John 1:7) One cannot be close to God and separated from his fellow men.

Secondly, a Christian acknowledges his sin and need for God's mercy. (I John 1:8-10). One sure indication of "darkness" in a person's life is his assumption that, because he does this or doesn't do that, he is a "pretty good fellow" in God's sight.

Third, a Christian is one who keeps the commandments of Christ. Jesus himself said this (John 14:23).

Finally, "He who abides in him ought to walk in the same way he walked". (I John 2:6) There needs to be some likeness between the way he lived his life and the manner in which we live ours.

None of these, John makes clear, depends much upon words: "If we say . . . and do not . . ." If one wants to be really sure, we will look, not so much to what is said, as to what is done.

Education Week Being Observed

American Education Week, traditionally scheduled for the week in which Veterans' Day falls, is an annual event designed to focus public attention on the needs and achievements of the nation's schools. It serves to increase public understanding and appreciation of the schools, to encourage parents to visit their children's schools at least once a year, to secure civic and community support for measures to improve the schools, and to help students gain an appreciation of what the schools are doing for them.

AEW was instituted in 1921 by the joint action of the American Legion and the National Education Association to enlist the help of the public in eliminating the high proportion of illiteracy and poor physical fitness prevalent among America's youth during World War I. The U. S. Office of Education and the National Congress of Parents and Teachers became co-sponsors in 1922 and in 1938, respectively. Beginning with President Harding's special proclamation in 1921, AEW has been proclaimed almost every year by the President of the United States.

Parents and other interested citizens who have not yet done so are invited to visit Garrett County's schools during the remainder of AEW, November 10-16.

A Boeing 727 National Airlines jet, carrying 58 passengers and a crew of seven was hijacked by a Negro wearing an American Black Panther uniform.

VOLUME 92. OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, MD., NOVEMBER 21, 1968 PER COPY 10c NUMBER 38.

Few Want To Serve . . . .

The thirst for power is habit forming, and all too many Americans are drunk with it. So states an advertisement of Warner and Swasey, makers of precision machinery, of Cleveland. Too many people want to run the country and too few want to serve it. The thought is a good one.

Continuing: "There may be no sense of power in writing careful, constructive letters to your Congressmen; in getting to know and show your respect for your children's teachers; in running for your town's council and getting really to know the men on it; in soliciting funds and votes for the candidates you have made sure will work best for decent government; in volunteering for hard work in Red Cross or Family Service or Little League; in managing a business so it grows and provides more good jobs; or in doing your own work, important or drab, so well you pay your own way, and are not a burden on your country.

"The people who live such lives are the true Americans. No names in history books, perhaps, but without them, no country".

Weather Is Mixed On Mountain Top

The past week's weather picure called for a varied mixture of rain, sunshine, and snow, but in general, cold temperatures prevailed on the mountain top.

Forty-degree readings were recorded last Thursday with cloudy skies.

Friday brought more of the same, temperatures in the lower 40s and cold.

Saturday and Sunday were cold with partial cloud cover. Slight rain fell in the area Saturday night.

Monday's high reached 55 degrees with a steady rainfall for most of the day. Temperatures began to fall by early afternoon and the overnight low dropped to 28 degrees.

Tuesday brought cold, blustery winds and continuous snow flurries, causing hazardous driving conditions throughout the county.

Mercury readings varied only slightly, ranging between 20 and 25 degrees, throughout the day Wednesday. The sun peeked through occasionally, but snow flurries fell again by late afternoon.

This morning's temperature reading stood at 18 degrees. Tonight's low is expected to drop to the lower 30s.

Tomorrow's forecast calls for highs in the upper 40s and lower 50s with fair skies and a warming trend.

Filsinger was charged with operating a vehicle in a reckless manner and with driving while under the influence.

Three Are Turned Over To Marshal

The three Cleveland men charged with passing counterfeit $20 bills in this county two weeks ago were taken into custody yesterday by the U. S. marshal for transfer to Baltimore.

They had waived their hearing before U. S. Commissioner James Alfred Avirett last Thursday and had been held in jail in lieu of $10,000 bonds each pending action of the Federal district court in Baltimore. Another story concerning the three appears on anoher page of today's issue.

Deer Horns Are 100 Years of Age

A set of deer horns, handed down in the Mason family for five generations, will be on display at the Browning Hardware store on Third street, during the deer season, it was learned this week from Charles W. Mason, Jr., of route 2, Oakland.

Just one hundred years ago Alex Mason, great grandfather of Charles Jr., killed an 8 point buck in the Swallow Falls state forest. The horns were preserved along with a small portion of the scalp. It was first handed down to Alex's son, Wade H. Mason. It was then handed down to Charles W. Mason, Sr., and Charles Mason, Jr., and this week, holding the horns for a picture was Charles Andrew Mason, fifth generation.

The date "1868," is carved on the horns but is not distinguishable in the photo. A little bit of hair is still attached to the base of the horns. Alex Mason was a surveyor in Garrett county for many years and his son, Wade Mason, was a rural mail carrier for the Oakland post office. Charles Mason is a farmer who, with his wife, has become a Farming for Better Living winner, and also received the young farmer award of the Jaycees of Frostburg.

2 Area Men Tried On Criminal Docket

Two persons were tried during the week on the Criminal docket with Associate Judge Stuart F. Hamill presiding.

The sentence was suspended on condition he be of good behavior, abide by the law, and stay away from the 14-year-old girl until she becomes of age.

Suter was placed under the supervision of the Maryland Department of Parole and Probation and ordered to abide by the rules and regulations of that department.

John Leslie King pleaded guilty to two charges of grand larceny. King stole $115 worth of turkeys from the residence of Wilbur and Herbert Hoover Myers, Kitzmiller, on two different occasions. Outlook for Deer Season Favorable

The Maryland regular firearms season for deer will begin on Saturday, November 30, and will continue until Saturday, December 7, skipping Sunday, December 1.

The outlook for hunter success is rated as good in practically all of the state, according to officials of the Game and Inland Fish commission.

Most observers think the kill would be at least as high as in the 1967 season and possibly higher. Last year the total kill was 9,510 with 5,132 being taken by hunters in the regular buck season.

It was estimated that the Western region may experience a larger buck kill than last year. The increase was expected if hunter pressure stabilizes. It was pointed out that hunter pressure over the past few years had been decreasing in Western Maryland.

William E. Harman, manager of the Western region said he expected the kill of bucks to be about the same but that more deer might be taken in Garrett County. The best hunting in the wesern region will be in Garrett County, plus Green Ridge, Dan's Mounain and Warrior mountain areas in Allegany county and the western end of Washington county.

It was announced that for the first year a muzzle loaded firearm may be used to hunt deer but the muzzle loaded firearm must be at least 40 caliber and must use at least 60 grains of black powder.

For the fifth straight year there will be an eight-day deer season. Last year there were 541 bucks killed. During the season it is lawful to kill a male deer with two or more points to one antler and spike bucks with three inch antler. The small game season will be suspended during the deer season but will be resumed on December 9. The limit is one buck per year per hunter. A hunter successful during the bow and arrow season would be ineligible

The award was presented last Thursday night at the annual FFBL banquet held at Southern High school cafetorium, Oakland.

The Benders have 46 Holsteins and 20 replacement heifers in their dairy herd and the milk production averages 14,026 lbs. among DHIA records. They raise all their own feed.

They plan to make further improvements to their farm buildings and to remodel their home. In their farming booklet which they turned in to the program chairman, they remarked that farming was mostly a hard time but "many small and large blessings are received. Farmers and their wives need more encouragement to keep improving and the FFBL program does this for us".

They hope to have their farm home open for vacationers when their children are older.

There were seventy-seven farm families enrolled in the program this year and most of them were present for the banquet as guests of the sponsors and county business and professional persons.

Gift certificates contributed by county businesses were distributed to each enrollee and L. Bush Swisher, project chairman of the program sponsored by the Monongahela Power company, announced the winning family. The extension service is co-sponsored of the project.

In addition to the purple ribbon, the winning family will receive further recognition at the regional round-up in Morgantown in early December.

BY C. WILSON HARDER

Tweedledeedee, Tweedledeedum

From the sound of its title, one would assume that the Federal Economic Development Administration would be a hard-nosed sort of an agency concerned with the creation of new industry and new jobs.

But apparently, this bureau shares with many other federal bureaus a complete disregard as to how the taxpayers' money should be spent. It is now announced that the Federal Economic Development Administration is going to give San Francisco a grant of $150,000 to make a study on the feasibility of tearing down the almost brand new Giant baseball park in that city and building a new one in another location.

Some ten years ago San Francisco spent several millions of dollars building Candlestick Park as part of the inducement to get the New York Giants to move West.

But the new San Francisco mayor, Joseph Alioto, has never liked the ballpark built during the regime of one of his Republican predecessors. He wants to tear it down and spend about $42 million on a new one, even though taxes on San Francisco's home owners have zoomed double, treble and more.

Of course, there are some complaints that Candlestick Park gets overly windy at times, and there is some who say this accounts for the failing attendance at Giant games. But on the other hand, the fact that only once in ten years have the Giants won the pennant may also be a factor in this matter of attendance.

Now, as it is understood by all, a city obtaining a major league ball team has to provide a park to play in, usually floating a bond issue for this purpose. Presumably, rental paid by the club will in time amortize the cost to the taxpayers.

But on the other hand, if a club fails to draw the crowds, soon there are no payments from the club, and in fact, the club may move to another city which happened when the Milwaukee Braves sauntered on down to Atlanta.

Thus, asking the citizens of a tax-burdened city, with a high level of unemployment, to put up $42 million dollars that they may never get back is quite a thing in itself.

But leaving that aside, it is even more remarkable when a Federal agency, presumably concerned with the development of the economic health of the nation, will put up $150,000 in Federal funds to make a study on whether or not a perfectly good and almost brand new ball park should be torn down, and a new one built.

* * *

Obviously, unless they change the rules of the game, no more than nine San Franciscans can be gainfully employed any afternoon or evening, whether they play at the present ball park, or a new one. In other words, the Federal Economic Development Administration is willing to spend money for a study that can never create any more jobs. Perhaps this agency should be renamed to something like the Federal Tweedledeedee for Tweedledeedum Agency.

to hunt during the regular season.

The four deer checking stations show a change from last year, at Edwards garage, Grantsville; Matt Storey's on Deep Creek Lake, near McHenry; Savage River Inn, Bloomington; and Bob's Mt. Top Tire and Sport shop in Oakland. Deer must be checked as soon as possible after being killed. It is unlawful to remove the head or hide or other parts except the internal organs, or cut up the meat until the deer has been checked. It was pointed out that deer killed in Garrett County must be checked in Garrett County.

Baker represented the Liberty Trust company, Maurice Brookhart, Garrett National, and Richard Stanton, the First National.

The awards included: to Mr. and Mrs. Harley Brenneman, superior achievement in recreation; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mason Jr., superior achievement in family planned activities; Mr. and Mrs. Dean Rush, superior achievement in dairy improvement; Mr. and Mrs. Brooks Hamilton, outstanding young farm family; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lichty, superior achievement in record keeping; Mr. and Mrs. William F. DeWitt, superior achievement in swine production. A special gift from the banks went to Mr. and Mrs. Guy S. Stanton for outstanding achievement in the Farming For Better Living program. Mr. and Mrs. Gerald H. Glotfelty were awarded the door prize.

The main speaker was L. S. Hartley, from the Industrial Development division of the West Virginia department of Commerce, who spoke on the importance of understanding.

Mr. Hartley who was agricultural agent for the Baltimore and Ohio railroad and manager of agricultural development for the company, prior to retirement, declared "Most of our troubles, trials and tribulations are due to lack of understanding, misunderstanding or both, and knowing a lot of things that just aren't a fact".

He spoke of the rapid changes occurring in the world in the last twenty-five years, and emphasized that change was one thing that people could not stop. Change was something a person could ignore, fight, follow or lead.

A lot of a person's troubles he placed on faulty judgment, wrong conclusions and the failure many times to realize life's real values. Our own attitudes could do much to solve our problems, he declared.

The Rev. Wm. Ernest Fox provided the invocation with Linda Schlossnagle Sanders providing organ music during the dinner.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of a dear son and brother, Eddie Humberson, who was killed three years ago, November 23, 1965.
Always in our memories
Our loved one we will keep
He sleeps upon a lonely hill
And leaves us here to weep
When our life on earth has ended
And we are laid to rest
We share some glad tomorrow
With the one we loved the best

Coach Kuhn Views Basketball Prospects

"The loss of six varsity basketball players from last year's squad through graduation means that we are faced with the problem of rebuilding", according to Tom Kuhn, new coach of basketball at Southern High. turning—Pat Flanagan and Ed Poling.

Those players carrying over from last year's varsity are: seniors, Randy Overdorff, Dave Bosley, junior, Eugene Harman and sophomore, Fred McClellan. Mr. Kuhn said, "We also have many very good players coming up from the junior varsity and junior high basketball teams".

Kuhn told this reporter about this year's new look of the varsity. The new look features red blazers and white turtleneck pullovers. This uniform will be worn to away games by the Southern basketball team. The players will also be sporting their traditional one inch haircut.

Southern's Athletic department is attempting to get twenty games scheduled instead of the usual 18 games played.

A new feature planned for home games will be a halftime show. This interesting show will be a game played by pre-high school children using 8 foot baskets.

Mr. Kuhn also said that the start of practice will be mostly conditioning of Southern's varsity. He says that we lack the size needed to control the boards, therefore they will have to hustle to make up for this deficiency in height.

Mr. Kuhn hopes to better the 3-16 record that last year's varsity tallied.

Basketball Schedule

The schedule as arranged includes the following:

December 6, Union High, home; 11, Aurora, home; 13, Bruce, away; 17, Valley, away; 20, Tunnelton, home.

January: 3, Union, away; 6, Terra Alta, away; 10, Northern, away; 14, Terra Alta home; 17, Elk Garden, away; 21, Bruce home; 14, Valley, home; 28 Kingwood, away.

February: 4, Elk Garden, home; 7, Northern, home; 11, Mountaineer, home; 19, Tunnelton, away; 21, Aurora, away.

The management is endeavoring to schedule two more games, one on Friday, January 31, and Friday, February 14.

Thanksgiving Is Proclaimed By President Johnson

President Lyndon B. Johnson last Friday delivered his Thanksgiving Proclamation.

In it he declared that in the coming Thanksgiving holiday period Americans looking back on the tumultuous events of 1968 "may be more inclined to ask God's mercy and guidance than to offer him thanks for his blessings".

The events this year "deserve our remembrance, and give us cause for thanksgiving", he said.

In formally proclaiming Thursday, November 28, as Thanksgiving Day, Johnson cited such events as:

"The endurance and stability of our democracy, as we prepare once more for an orderly transition of authority;

"The renewed determination on the part of millions of Americans, to bridge our divisions;

"The beginning of talks with our adversaries, that will, we pray, lead to peace in Vietnam;

"The increasing prosperity of our people, including those who were denied any share in America's blessings in the past;

"The achievement of new breakthroughs in medical science and new victories over disease".

Johnson said those events "inspire not only the deepest gratitude but confidence that our nation, the beneficiary of good fortune beyond that of any nation in history, will surmount its present trials and achieve a more just society for its people".

"In this season", he added, "let us offer more than words of thanksgiving to God. Let us resolve to offer him the best that is within us—tolerance, respect for life, faith in the destiny of all men to live in peace".

Which car costs less than $10,000?

If you have especially sharp eyes, you'll notice the little telltale emblem on the car in the upper right hand corner.

It says VW. (Which is your first clue.)

But even though the Maserati Ghibli (lower left), the ISO S-4 (upper left) and the DeTomaso Mangusta (lower right) are $10,000-plus sports cars, they have a lot in common with our $2299 * Karmann Ghia: Looks.

Which is not entirely accidental since our body was designed by the Ghia Studios of Turin, Italy, the people who build the bodies for the other three. The difference lies under the hood.

In most $10,000 sports cars, you get a gleaming assortment of complex, precision machinery enabling you to drive at least twice as fast as most laws specify.

In the Karmann Ghia you get a Volkswagen.

Which is precision machinery of a slower, less troublesome variety, yet fast enough to attract the attention of every highway patrolman in the country.

So if you're looking for a beautiful $10,000 sports car that's more dependable than fast, you can get yourself a Karmann Ghia.

And over $7,000 in change.

It's oven-cleaning day. So there you are: soaping, scraping, scouring, wire-brushing. Well, it's time you graduated to the flameless electric range that cleans itself, ma'am. Receives Letter From Vietnam War Zone

Corporal Roger L. Smith, member of the U. S. Marine Corps, stationed in the war zone in South Vietnam, has sent a mimeographed letter which apparently was distributed to many men in the armed forces, for them to send back to newspapers in the states.

Since the letter carries the thoughts of many service men in that area, portions of the letter are being reprinted:

"From the beginning of time people have fought for the right to be free. Freedom has never been won lightly but is paid for with blood and heartache of patriots. Perhaps this is the way it should be, for we do not value what we win too easily.

"Although the price of liberty is high, there is a pride that is found in no other country. The pride of a man is his country for what it is and what it stands for, and the pride of a man in himself, for what he is and for what he and his sons can be. We take freedom for granted in this country. We forget all too soon the struggles of the past for this most precious of commodities.

"Today one looks at the many so-called 'peace demonstrations' and wonders if the demonstrators have forgotten what won them the right to dissent. If fellow Americans had not had the courage to fight for freedom in the past, the demonstrators would not have the opportunity to voice their objections now.

"I don't like the idea of war but my father fought in the second world war and now I am fighting in Vietnam. I know that sometimes the cost of peace is higher in the long run than the price of war. Peace at any cost is no bargain. Too often such a peace only results in a bloodier conflict at another time. But I want to say I am very proud of everyone over here and I want to thank every last one of them. Not only are we serving our country now but we are perhaps insuring that our younger brothers will not have to serve in a few months. Walk proudly with head held high, and plan never to give up".

Events Above The Mountain Top

By Paul S. Frank Jr.

November 21 - 27

On Tuesday the moon will be at its first quarter at 6:49 p. m. During the week the moon will rise between sunrise and noon.

Sunset is at 4:59 p. m. today; it rose nine hours fifty minutes earlier at 7:09 a. m. Next Wednesday the sun will rise at 7:15 a. m. and set nine hours forty-one minutes later at 4:56 p. m. During this week the daylight has decreased nine minutes.

If the weather is clear, four planets may be found among the stars without the aid of a telepscope. In the evening low in the southwest Venus may be found. It is very bright, the third brighest object in the sky. In the east Saturn gleams among the faint stars of Pisces, the fishes.

The predawn hours present, in the east close to each other in the constellation of Virgo, the planets Mars and Jupiter. They rise about four hours before the sun. Jupiter is the brighter of this pair of planets.

Very low in the southern sky can be found the eighteenth brightest star in the sky. Its name is Fomalhaut which means mouth of the fish. This star is the mouth of the Southern Fish. Pisces Austrinus. The stream of water represented by a winding line of stars from the jar of Aquarius ends at Fomalhaut.

Fomalhaut is fourteen times brighter than our sun. It is twenty-two light years away from us. This star is about twice as hot as the sun and somewhat larger although it is basicly the same type of star. Its name is pronounced Fo' malo.

Today Westernport Elementary School visits to study the sky.

On Tuesday and Wednesday Mr. Wolfe's seventh grade from Southern studies space exploration.

Self-Help Benefits . . .

The political campaign which finally came to an end on November 5, served to remind us, again, that this is the age of the "big benefit". Scarcely a candidate failed to register his generous attitude toward Social Security benefits, Medicare benefits, welfare benefits, and on down the list.

Taxpayers are conditioned to expect promising politicians to bandy about proposals for increasing this or that taxpayer-financed benefit program by so many millions—or billions—of dollars. Yet with all this emphasis on Federal Government benefits we may be guilty of overlooking a self-help benefit program in which millions of Americans participate by choice. Private enterprise has some million-dollar and billion-dollar benefit programs, too.

At hand is a press release from the insurance people, Mutual of Omaha, which drives home the point. On October 31 that company delivered a $532 health insurance benefit check to a disabled, self-employed mason contractor in Cornwall, New York. That monthly check brought the total of the company's benefit payments to $3 billion. In fact, the company states that it is now paying out an average of over $5 million in benefits every week.

That announcement prompted a look in the 1968 World Almanac, and we found that 19 million persons enrolled in the Federal Government's Medicare program in the first year of operation. But the Almanac also notes that two years ago the Health Insurance Institute reported that no less than 158 million persons in this country had arranged for hospital insurance on their own, and paid for it out of their earnings, voluntarily. Undoubtedly the number has grown since 1966.

This one company, the aforementioned Mutual of Omaha, has paid out more than $1 billion in benefits to policyholders in the past 4 years, a figure which documents that in this great country of ours the American way is still voluntary self-protection.

It appears to us that most Americans seem to be aware that, while political promises may buy votes, it is self-insurance that buys protection. The "big benefit" in this world is still the one that we earn, or pay for ourselves.—U. S. Press Associaion, Inc.

Discontent Shown In Turkey Season

Following the conclusion of Maryland's 1968 wild turkey season, the Western Maryland Wildlife federation expressed sharp discontentment in the management program for wild turkeys.

There were some 299 birds checked in by successful hunters, showing that Garrett County accounted for three unbanded birds; Allegany county 185, 91 of which were banded; and Washington county 111 with 85 banded. Percentage-wise the total kill of true wild birds amounted to 41 percent of the over-all kill. The wild turkey season was in effect only in the three western counties.

Federation officials pointed out that a number of these kills were made practically within sight of a truck that had transported game farm reared birds to a release point.

A spokesman for the federation felt that estimates of total wild turkey population previously made were somewhat exaggerated. He said many of the leg bands on birds checked in by hunters were worn thin, indicating that the turkeys had been in the forest for a considerable period of time, so they could not be considered as part of the approximately 400 game farm reared birds that were scheduled for release this year.

Federation officials felt that a drastic improvement must be made in Maryland's wild turkey management program. The members also felt the season ended when it should begin since the birds are in the process of gaining additional weight during September and October. The Federation plans to conduct a game survey during the winter and make a report to the state game management officials.

Juniors Plan Play

Taming of the Brats, a three act comedy by Earl Louis [illegible], has been chosen by Mrs. Jean Grose as the junior class play for this year at Southern High school.

Mrs. Grose starts her sixth year as the junior class play director and her second year as the advisor to the junior class.

Ten speaking parts are required in the play. They are Lattie, the maid, Barbara Wilt; Mrs. Nagel, Pam Frantz; Mr. Nagel, Joe Ashby; Jess Pomeroy, Wayne Dunbar; Jerry Hewes, Richard Ridder; Dave Martin, Don Sincell; Louise, Joy Hinebaugh; Myrtle, Beverly Rice; Jess's girl friend, Marilyn Niner; and Janise, the brat, Karin Crone.

Student directors are Mike Weeks and JoDella Sell. Students in charge of the stage are Barry Snyder, Bob Rudy, and Randy Rodeheaver. Makeup will also be handled by the students.

The setting of the play takes place somewhere in the summer and over a period of two weeks.

Rehearsals will be held at night and after school. The cast will be working for the date of December 7, the date of the evening performance. Dress rehearsals will be presented to the student body during the week previous to the public showing.

Section of I-70 To Be Open Nov. 27

Maryland's last remaining uncompleted section of Interstate Route 70, between Frederick and Hagerstown, will be opened to traffic following 11:30 a. m. dedication ceremonies on Wednesday, November 27.

U. S. Senator-elect Charles McC. Mathias is expected to cut the ribbon opening a 15.4 mile section of I-70, built at a cost of some $18.6 million.

The formal ceremonies will be held by the State Roads Commission at the interchange with Myersville Road, which is approximately halfway between Frederick and Hagerstown and about ten miles west of Frederick.

Between Frederick and Hagerstown, I-70 totals 20.2 and cost about $27.7 million to build. A 4.8-mile section west of Frederick was opened September 25.

Jerome B. Wolff, the Commission's chairman-director, said the route of I-70 and the National Freeway generally follows U. S. Route 40, the historic road westward, which was America's "superhighway" of the Nineteenth Century. He said the Cumberland to West Virginia section of the National Freeway, about half of the $200 million project, is being built west of Cumberland.

2 Oakland Youths Honored Nov. 16

Dennis DeBerry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orris DeBerry, and Miss Mary Elizabeth Elliott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Elliott, Oakland attended the Maryland District of Optimist International Youth Appreciation Awards Banquet in Baltimore Saturday, November 16. Accompanying the two were James Preston of the Oakland Optimist Club and his wife Betty.

Youth Appreciation Week is traditionally held the second Monday thru Saturday in November.

Several items are considered in the selection of contestants for Youth Appreciation Awards. Among these are school work, church and local activities, and general service to the community.

This year's State Award Night was held at the North Point Gardens in Baltimore. More than 370 Optimists, Youth and guests from Maryland attended the dinner and dance. The main address was given by Charles A. Moyland, State's Attorney, for the city of Baltimore.

This marks the third year the Oakland Optimists have sent representatives to Baltimore.

Y.A.W. is a time set aside to show appreciation to the 90% of the youth of the nation, who will be leaders of tomorrow.

Your Federal Income Tax

The Republican, in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service, Baltimore District, will publish each week in this column, tax information that will enable taxpayers to become more familiar with the Federal income tax laws.

Questions and Answers

Q. I want to make a contribution to my political party. Can I deduct it on my tax return

A. No, the law does not allow an individual to take a deduction for contributions to political parties.

Q. I made a profit when I sold my house. Is it true I won't have to pay tax on it if I use the money to buy another house?

A. On the sale of a personal residence, the tax on any gain from the sale is postponed providing you purchase and occupy another home within a year at a price equal to or greater than the "adjusted" sale price of your old home. This section of the law is discussed at length in IRS Document 5017, Selling Your Home, available at your local IRS office.

Q. I'm buying U. S. savings bonds to help pay for my son's education. How should I go about this so I don't have to pay tax on the interest?

A. The interest earned on a savings bond should be reported by the owner of the bond. If you purchase the bonds in your child's name as owner then any tax liability will be his. Unless the interest earned on the bonds and his other income amounts to $600 or more, no return need be filed by him.

If you have your child elect to report the bond interest each year rather than wait until the year they are cashed in, then your child should file a return showing this bond interest the first year you start the plan. No further return will be required until the child has $600 or more income a year. Keep a copy of this first return to show that the interest has been reported on a yearly basis.

This transaction is a gift to your son. If you give more than $3,000 to him during the year, you may be liable for Federal gift tax return.

Q. I claim my two daughters as dependents even though they live with my former wife. Can I still claim them for withholding purposes?

A. Yes, you can, if they qualify as your dependents. As a general rule, you may take as many exemptions for withholding purposes as you claim when you file your return.

Q. On my job I get paid on a commission basis. Is it right for my boss to be taking Federal tax out of what I earn?

A. Yes. Earnings from commissions are subject to the same withholding requirements as wages and salaries.

Q. When is the next Social Security tax report on household employees due?

A. October 31 is the filing deadline for third quarter reports on household employees.

Q. How do I go about putting in a claim for a refund?

A. Enter your claim on Form 1040-X, Amended U. S. Individual Income Tax Return. Copies of the form and instructions for completing it are available at local IRS offices.

The new Form 1040-X is simpler to complete than previous claim forms or amended returns since only the information that is new or changed needs to be entered. Claims filed on this form are given special attention and, in most cases, can be processed much faster than heretofore.

Q. What conditions have to be met before you can deduct an educational expense? I'm thinking of signing up for a course that will help in my work.

A. For education to be a deductible item it must either be required to keep your present salary, status or employment or it is taken to maintain or improve the skills required in your present work. Education taken to meet the minimum educational requirements of your present job or that qualifies you for a new job or business is not deductible.

If you believe the course qualifies, a letter from your employer which states the purpose of the course you are taking will help substantiate your claim for an educational deduction. Receipts, cancelled checks and bills for the tuition, books and other expenses of the night course can establish the amount you spent.

Thirteen Killed On State Highways

Thirteen persons were killed on Maryland highways last week according to the weekly survey published by the State Police. Seven of those killed were drivers, three were passengers, and three were pedestrians.

Alcohol was a contributing factor in six of the deaths, speed it five, aad "driver error" it ten.

"As we approach the end of the year, we find that highway fatalities in Maryland are 4% greater than for the same period in 1967", noted Lt. Col. George E. Davidson, Chief of Operations for the State Police. "This percentage represents twenty-eight lives lost; twenty-eight lives that could have been saved if drivers and pedestrians had properly exercised their responsibility to maintain safety on the highway".

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Clarence A. Friend, Jr., November 18, 1965.
We have lost, but God has gained.
One of the best sons, the world contained.
To have, to love, and then to part,
Is the greatest sorrow of our heart.
Please God, forgive a silent tear,
A constant wish that he were here.
There were others, yes we know,
But he was ours, and we loved him so.
Sadly missed by
Dad, Mom and Family
—Adv. 38-1t

To Be Thankful

It used to be that a picture like this could only mean harvest time — big orange pumpkins, shiny red apples, colorful stalks of Indian corn. And, of course, a turkey in the pantry.

But what about today? You can buy apples almost any time. Pumpkins are available in a can twelve months of the year. And you can buy a frozen turkey as easily in July as in November.

We Americans take for granted what was a real treat in our parent's time. But in the midst of this material plenty, there is a danger of spiritual famine. To keep the proper perspective, to appreciate the gifts of life to the fullest we need the Church and the story it has to tell us.

Maybe you can't be a pioneer — a Pilgrim. But you can follow your forefathers' example at Plymouth that first November. You can utter genuine thanks in the church of your choice.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ... ... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

THE SPOILED GAME

Lesson for November 24, 1968

Background Scripture: I John 2:7-11, 3:11-18. Devotional Reading: I John 4:15-21.

It is Ernest Hemingway in his novel, A Farewell To Arms, (Charles Scribner's Sons), who describes what many people call "love" as a kind of game.

I knew I did not love Catherine Barkley nor had any idea of loving her. This was a game, like bridge, in which you said things instead of playing cards.

Rev. Althouse

How much of what is called "love" is in reality simply a game which people play by saying the right things and going through the right motions? To love someone may merely mean that we want them for some selfish purpose. Love affairs, whatever else they may be, are often lacking in love itself. People speak of loving chocolate sundaes, of being in love, of making love, and all the while they use the same word when they repeat: "For God so loved the world . . ."

Meaning of love

Someone has proposed that the word "love" ought to be removed from our vocabulary and that new words be given to convey the different meanings for which love is currently used. Unfortunately, this is not very likely to happen. Perhaps the next best thing is to try to do whatever we can to communicate more adequately what the Christian faith means when it speaks of "love."

Christians, like politicians, often speak in vague generalities. They talk of hope, faith, and love without making it specifically clear what they mean by these terms. Certainly, when the Christian says that "God so loved the world . . ." he does not mean what is meant when someone says that they would "love" to do "this" or "that." So what do we mean?

The writer of I John is quite specific in communicating what "love" is to mean. When he writes that we are to "love one another" (3:11), he refuses to leave us with vague generalities.

Something you do

For example, "By this we know love, that he laid down his life for us". (I John 3:16 RSV) The writer of this epistle might have tried to describe "love" with words alone. Instead, however, he points to something quite unambiguous: Jesus' offering of his life for us. The man without love takes life, but the follower of Jesus Christ, like the Master himself, is one who gives life for the sake of others.

For many people, love is merely something which is said: "I love you." Yet, necessary as is one's declaration of love, the loving act is far more persuasive. As Hemingway indicated, one may play the "love game" with words instead of cards. Often the words are lies, intended or unintended. Thus: "Little children, let us not love in word or speech but in deed and in truth". (I John 3:18 RSV) Love is truly something you do, much more than something you say.

Furthermore, love is no less required of us than it was of Jesus: ". . . and we ought to lay down our lives for the brethren". (I John 3:16b) Of course this "lay down our lives" is also likely to become a generality, so the writer goes a step further in making clear the meaning of love: ". . . if anyone has the world's goods and sees his brother in need, yet closes his heart against him, how does God's love abide in him?" (I John 3:17 RSV) The act of "laying down our lives," does not necessarily mean dying for someone; it may mean living for someone, a task which sometimes may be even more difficult than dying.

The spoiler

The writer makes it very clear, too, what hate is. Hate is an emotion that blinds the hater: ". . . the darkness has blinded his eyes" (I John 2:11). It robs him of the truth, of seeing things as they really are. Furthermore, "Anyone who hates his brother is a murderer". (I John 3:15). But it is the hater who murders himself with the poison of his hate, smothering his own soul, and snuffing out his own eternal life.

He has made it all too clear what love and hate are. He has spoiled our game, for he has taken away the luxury of our ignorance.

CURRENT NEWS ABOUT LEG CRAMPS

Intermittent claudication is a painful cramp in the leg. It generally occurs in the calf muscle or thigh while walking. Its usual cause is insufficient blood supply due to hardening of the arteries. During hot, humid weather a great loss of salt may be a cause.

It is presently impossible to cure hardened arteries. But you can walk slower, take certain leg exercises and your Doctor can prescribe medicines which dilate the blood vessels. Sometimes, if there is an obstruction at some point in the large arteries, you may need surgical help.

New Gun Law to Be Effective Dec. 2nd

The Gun Control Act of 1968 requires the registration before December 2, of machine guns, sawed-off shotguns, sawed-off rifles, silencers and deactivated war trophies as well as destructive devices.

Irving Machiz, district director of the Internal Revenue for Maryland, said the law defines "destructive device" as an incendiary or poison gas bomb, grenade or rocket having a charge of more than four ounces; any missile having a charge of more than one-quarter ounce; any mine or similar device; and any cannon, anti-tank gun, bazooka or any other type weapon which may be converted to expel a projectile.

A grenade or similar device without powder or detonator, that has been kept as a souvenir is not required to be registered. Persons having any type weapon described or who have questions about a similar weapon should contact the IRS office. Weapons are not to be brought to the office, it was pointed out.

"Miss Carrie" Is Now Home To Her Eternal Resting Place

When the wheels of Baltimore and Ohio passenger train No. 11 came to a halt at the Oakland depot on Thursday, November 7, the life of an amazing Garrett Countain had completed the cycle. "Miss Carrie" was home. She was Mrs. Carrie Browning Glotfelty, aged 98, wife of Joseph T. Glotfelty Sr., who had died November 5 at the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph T. Glotfelty Jr., Silver Spring, where she had resided since the death of her husband in 1955.

Mrs. Glotfelty was back near the spot where, as a young lady, she had attended Glades hotel balls, and back to the spot where she had started on her honeymoon on November 9, 1897.

Her life was an unusual one and accounts of it are made available by her daughter, Mrs. Eleanor Robey, of White Plains, Charles County, who, a few years ago spent over a week with her, making notes and copying the things which Mrs. Glotfelty recounted.

Carrie Lelia Browning, only child of Stephen and Margaret Ellen Casteel Browning, first remembered the home of her maternal grandparents, William and Charlotta Brandt Casteel at Sang Run where she was born October 28, 1870. By 1873 the grandparents had moved to Oakland where Mr. Casteel operated sawmills and built a boarding house, a two-story and attic dwelling of clapboard. An unusual feature was a well under the house. In later years this house became the home of another Casteel daughter, Mrs. Andrew Gonder, and is now the apartment next to the Lutheran church, on Second Street.

About that time Stephen Browning bought a tract of land southwest of Oakland called "Small Meadow", and also built a clapboard house with stone-walled basement, a ground floor of one large room, and one above, the same size.

In 1876 Stephen brought his wife and daughter to the home. By 1882 he had added extensive additions to the original house and had other buildings under construction. This was the home of Mrs. Glotfelty from age six until 1965.

Her earliest recollection of this home was of "being afraid", a characteristic that plagued her throughout her life.

William Casteel educated all his children: Margaret Ellen, eldest, Morgantown Female Seminary, class of 1864; Mary Martha, (Mrs. Gonder) and Elizabeth Jane (Mrs. Dr. Keller), attended Goucher. Stephen Browning husband of Margaret Ellen Casteel, was twelve years older than his wife, being married in Cumberland, then the county seat, July 13, 1866.

An early love for riding horses was acquired by Carrie Browning. Among her childhood recollections is of riding to invite neighbors to corn huskings, barn raisings. The barn on the Glotfelty farm was raised when she was about 12. Hattie White, later Mrs. Charlie Newman provided extra dishes for the feasting, which she brought on horseback. Peter P. Gortner built the barn. As she grew to a young lady a side saddle and Victorian style riding habit were "Miss Carrie's" trade mark. Nell Browning, (Mrs. Andrew Helbig) was her riding companion. A line of well bred horses and ponies were enjoyed by the family.

Another early recollection of Small Meadow, later renamed "Deep Spring", was about rattlesnakes and how numerous they were. Rattlesnakes were wont to push up the lids of items in the old milkhouse and coil themselves in the cool, dark shelter, on top of the goodies. To cut down on rattlesnake population the neighborhood men would go to Rattlesnake Den to shoot them in spring and fall. The dens were in the rocks along the river, between the Dilley farm and Crellin. Yough river and Snowy Creek provided fishing.

Until 1883 the road from Deep Spring to Oakland was over the Old Braddock road. After 1883 the road was laid out to the east of the Browning farm, to Cherry Creek. After Crellin was settled the road became the Crellin road. Not until 1920 was the present route laid out.

The Browning house was enlarged to twelve rooms by 1900. An unusual addition to the shop building was "the cabbage scaffold", used for raising cabbage to keep the plants from getting "clubfoot". The scaffold was a good six feet above ground and reached by a stair. The cabbage scaffold was a favorite childhood play place for Carrie.

In 1882 the Adrian Glotfelty family moved from Bumblebee ridge near Flatwoods to Piney Bottom at Underwood, which had been Ashby land, in later years the Luther Nine farm. The Glotfelty (Gladfelter) family was Swiss. The Underwood log church was just beyond the present building. It was the gathering place for religious and social contacts.

Carrie Browning was twelve and Joe Glotfelty sixteen when they first saw each other in Underwood church. His light curly hair and the fact that he wore kid gloves attracted Carrie, and the friendship ripened into love, which lasted for 58 living years.

Ice cream socials, cake walks, spelling bees, bob sled rides, picnics and fiddlers' contests were recreational activities of young and old. Revival meetings, camp meetings, prayer meetings, corn huskings, sauerkraut makings, barn dancings, quilting parties, apple butter stirrings, and carpet rag cuttings were all included. Aside from Underwood the Old South Point school on the Abe Spiker lane, was a favorite gathering spot for socials not held in homes.

In 1888 Joe Glotfelty went to Montana where he remained until 1897. At noon on November 9, 1897, Joe and Carrie were married. They stood on a large rug, made of the hides of nine gray wolves the groom had shot in Montana, in the parlor of the Browning home. Dr. John Robinson played the organ, Rev. John M. Davis was minister.

During the years when Joe was in Montana Carrie enjoyed the company of other young people. Balls at the Glades hotel were a highlight of activities. It was not unusual to drive in buggies from Oakland to Elkins. Grandmother Browning habitually walked to Oakland wearing her large bed-size wool shawls or her plush capes, carrying her goods for trade at Offutt's store. Later she had a buggy and horse. They were familiar on the roads, as was Mrs. Greely Hyde and her fine horses.

Schools were always a problem. Normal school sessions were held in Oakland, taught by well educated men and people would qualify as teachers by attending. Carrie qualified and taught at Fairsweep. Sessions were "quarters" at first, three months of school for which parents subscribed $3 for each child and $5 if there were two children in a family.

Fairsweep school was at the top of Russell Hill. Wensel, Sollars, Spiker, White, Myers and Bowers children attended. Etiquette and good manners were a part of every proper young lady's upbringing.

After their marriage Joe and Carrie lived with the Brownings. They then bought the Mehan farm. In the meantime the Browning farm was being improved. A new spring house was being done when McKinley was shot in Buffalo, N. Y., in 1901. In 1907 both Brownings died and Mrs. Glotfelty then assumed full responsibility for all work at the large home and for the routine care of her acre-size garden of vegetables. She also operated a dairy produce market to a list of Oakland customers, delivering once a week by horse and buggy. Mr. Joe cured all pork with his own brown sugar and hickory smoked method. In summer he butchered fresh lamb and raised large flocks of sheep. In summer they were turned out in Offutt's woods.

Mrs. Glotfelty's only namesake is Lelia Schoch Sproles Carr, of Angleton, Texas.

Past her 98th birthday, Mrs. Glotfelty was laid to rest be-

3 Waive Hearing As Counterfeiters

Three Cleveland, Ohio, men charged with passing counterfeit $20 bills in this county last week were remanded to the Allegany county jail at Cumberland when they were unable to post $10,000 bonds each, pending action of the Federal District Court in Baltimore.

Taken to the office of U. S. Commissioner James Alfred Avirett from the county jail at Oakland last Thursday, the three waived their hearing before the commissioner. The three are being held in the jail at Cumberland until they can be turned over to the U. S. marshal for transfer to Baltimore.

Held under $10,000 bond are Philio Earl Taylor, 33; Collins Thompkins, 24; and Kenneth Swanson, 30.

Mr. Avirett was informed that the three men passed bogus $20 bills at Keyser Ridge, Deep Creek Lake and Oakland. They were accused of clipping off $20 notations from legitimate bills and pasting them on $1 bills, disregarding the fact that $20 ills contain a picture of Andrew Jackson whereas $1 bills contain the likeness of George Washington.

The three men were arrested November 6 by Tfc. John W. Hopf and Tfc. Donald A. Smith of the Maryland State police. They first were arrested on a state false pretense charge and the federal count was filed later.

Rush-Uber Vows Exchanged

Miss Gretchen D. Uber became the bride of Barry C. Rush during a double ring ceremony performed by Rev. Rogers Fike and Rev. Vernon Yoder in a candlelight service at the Bear Creek Church of the Brethren, Accident, at 7:30 p. m., on Saturday, November 2.

The altar was decorated with vases of white gladioli and pompons and lighted with cathedral candles in silver candlebra with white tapers and southern smilax. The family pews were marked with white satin bows.

Miss Uber is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Uber, Swanton, and Mr. Rush is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Deane Rush, Hoyes.

Organist, Eugene Marsh, cousin of the bride, accompanied James Pierce, Wilmington, Dela., soloist, in singing, "Because", "O Perfect Love", and "The Lord's Prayer".

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an A-line gown of silk organza styled with a boat neckline, an Alencon lace bodice with seed pearl trim and long tapered sleeves. The back of the gown was highlighted with a detachable chapel train of silk organza attached at her waist. Her headdress was a blossom of pearl edged lace petals with crystal droplets from which fell a bouffant veil of starched illusion. She carried a bouquet of red rosebuds with white streamers. Her only jewelry was a pearl pendant, a gift of the groom.

Miss Sharon DeWitt was maid of honor and Miss Deborah Blodgett, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Mary Marsh were bridesmaids. Miss Paula Bittinger, cousin of the bride, and Miss Rebecca Blodgett, sister of the bride, were junior bridesmaids. Miss Elaine Suit, sister of the bride, was flower girl.

The maid of honor wore a red velvet sleeveless dress with an A-line waist. Her headdress was a matching bow and net. She carried a nosegray of white pompons touched with red.

The bridesmaids wore moss green and gold velvet sleeveless dresses with an A-line waist. They carried yellow and bronze pompon nosegays. The junior bridesmaids' dresses were a white bodice of acetate and nylon lace with a dainty cameo pin and stand up collar, shirred black cotton velveteen skirts sashed with a gay pink ribbon. Their flowers were cascades of yellow pompons with white ribbons.

The flower girl wore a dress with white bodice of dacron cotton and a mandarin lace collar. Her shirred navy blue cotton velveteen skirt was sashed with a gay blue ribbon. She carried a white basket of yellow rose petals with a white bow. Her headdress was a sequinned tiara.

Richard Friend served as best man. Ushers were Sam Friend and Mack Rush, brother of the groom. Dana Rush, also a brother of the groom, was the ring bearer.

The bride's mother wore a navy blue ensemble with matching accessories and a white orchid. The groom's mother wore a two-piece lace rose ensemble with matching accessories and a white orchid.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Accident Fire Hall. The bride's table was centered with a 4-tiered cake decorated with red rosebuds and ornamented with a miniature bride and groom.

Presiding at the bride's table were Mrs. Kate Woods, cousin of the bride, Mrs. Judy Rush, sister-in-law of the groom, Mrs. Phyllis Marsh, cousin of the bride and Mrs. Louise Pope.

Attending the guest book were Mrs. Sharon Bowers, sister of the groom, and Miss Ruth Wilt, cousin of the bride.

Miss Annie Wilt, cousin of the bride, and Miss Carol Blodgett attended the gift table.

For her going-away ensemble, the bride wore a two-piece green lame suit with an autumn haze mink stole and beige accessories.

The couple will reside at the Bland Trailer Court, McHenry.

The bride is a graduate of Bruce High School and Catherman's Business School and is employed by the C & P Telephone Company, Oakland.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Northern High School. He served in the army from January, 1966, to January, 1968, and is now employed by W. H. Fratz, Inc., Accident.

Student Voices

Combatting Apathy

Let's talk about apathy and let's talk about Southern High School. Many persons in his area are ignorant of the fact that there are problems facing student-teacher relationships at Southern. Many more persons are aware of a few problems at the school, but are content to let them continue unalered. Throughout the rest of this essay, I'm going to examine Southern's students, their parents, the administration, the problems, and the solutions.

First, consider the parents. Most parents don't consider the school. In conceiving the extent of parental apathy present at Southern, consider attendance during last week's American Education Week. Out of the approximately 2500 parents of Southern s students in the area around Oakland, only 21 bothered to visit the school. When less than 1 percent of all parents visit the school then we can't turn to them for a solution to problems when the majority couldn't care less about whether a problem was present or not.

Second, consider the students. A majority of students show and have shown for the past few years great apathy toward working out school problems. Most are content to follow the school policies with which they agree, and violate those with which they disagree—even if tney are punished.

Third, consider the administration. Southern High's administration is better this year than ever before. It is quite capable of dealing with the school's problems if it so desires. Mr. Rodeheaver (in particular(is extremely interested in the students and their problems.

What are these problems and policies to which I've been referring? They include the communication gap between teachers and students, student hair and dress codes, school policies on smoking and chewing of gum, student conduct. There are many other problems which may not seem excessively pressing, but which also can and should be eliminated.

Can anything be done? At present Mr. Rodeheaver has requested the student council to investigate the possibiliy of more student control of the cafeteria. This is a step in the right direction, but not enough. So, I suggest the following: A "Congress" for reforms will be established at Southern composed of one representative from each homeroom. This group will meet and consider the problems that they have, and will draw up a list of suggestions to be considered by the administration.

This proposal can work in Southern, I'm convinced of this because we do have rational students who can come up with rational solutions to our problems, and because we have an administration which cares about the student and is not afraid to experiment in order to improve.

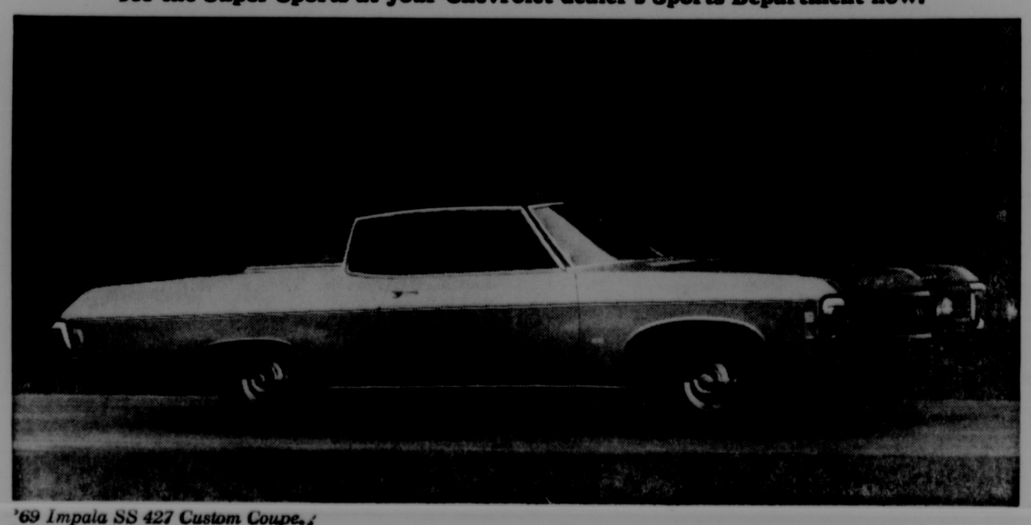
Chevrolet's got a big surprise for the guy who'd buy a sports car if only it had more room. It's the Impala SS 427.

Like all Impalas, it comes with a 119-inch wheelbase, Astro Ventilation and full door-glass styling. Like all Chevy Sportsters, it comes with a beefed-up suspension and grabby red-stripe wide oval tires.

Under the hood, it's more of the same. We tucked in a 427-cubic-inch 390-horsepower Turbo-Jet V8.

That means it's the kind of car you can take for a workout even if you're just going to work.

There's driving excitement in these other packages too: Corvette Stingray, Chevelle SS 396, Camaro SS, Camaro Z/28 and Nova SS.



Vaaarrrrroooooooooomm!

Listen for it at your Chevy dealer's Sports Shop.

THE REPUBLICAN

VOLUME 92. OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, MD., NOVEMBER 28, 1968 PER COPY 10c NUMBER 39.

Thanksgiving, 1968 . . .

The first presidential proclamation of a day of Thanksgiving in the United States was made by George Washington in 1789. The day was set aside for prayers and thanks for the new constitution. Abraham Lincoln was the first president to set an official Thanksgiving day, to be observed each year on the last Thursday of November, issuing the proclamation October 3, 1863. Since that time the Nation has joined on one day in offering its prayers of Thanksgiving and in remembrance of the small band of religious fugitives who landed at Plymouth Rock in 1620.

The excitement in their little homes on that Thanksgiving day must have been pretty much as it is today, with tantalizing smells of roast turkey and pumpkin pie, the bustle of eager children, attendance at church, and other activities.

Before the Pilgrims sat down to their feast they observed the true meaning of Thanksgiving. They gathered together in their meetinghouse to give thanks to God for the blessings they had received, for survival through a long year of hardship and to pray for strength and courage to keep their faith in this strange, new land.

This Thanksgiving is an excellent time to take your family to your house of worship. A quiet hour of prayer and thanks should make your holiday so much more meaningful. And it would be a good idea for all of us to reflect on that original Thanksgiving scene, and help us rededicate our lives to sound principles, good deeds, human values, cooperation, peace, and prosperity for all mankind.

Wherever you are—whatever your beliefs may be --take time to offer your words of thanks, just as the Pilgrims did more than 300 years ago.

Of the 26 convictions, 18 were the result of pleas of "guilty", and six pleaded "not guilty." Of the 16 not guilty pleas, eight were convicted.

A list of the major categories of crimes involved: forgery, 7; grand larceny, 6; assault and battery, 5; auto larceny, 3; murder, 2; carnal knowledge, 2; burglary, 2; rape, 2; arson, 1;

Hunter Influx Due Saturday In County

Woodland areas are expected to resound with the blast of rifle fire starting Saturday morning, November 30, and continuing through Saturday, December 7, with a pause during Sunday, December 1.

Hundreds of hunters from the metropolitan areas will join local sportsmen in stalking the white-tails. The number of hunters in this county has decreased since the deer are more widespread throughout the state than in former years. However, officials of the Game and Inland Fish commission are expecting a higher kill of bucks than last year.

It was erroneously reported last week that the small game season would be suspended during the buck season. This was not correct. The small game season will continue as usual during the buck seaon, which is different from former years.

The limit is one buck per year per hunter. A hunter successful during the bow and arrow season would be ineligible to hunt during the regular season.

The deer checking stations show some change from last year. There will be no checking station at Friendsville this year. The stations include Edwards garage, Grantsville; Matt Storey's Deep Creek Lake near McHenry; Savage river inn, Bloomington ;and Bob's Mt. Top Tire and Sport shop in Oakland.

Deer must be checked within 24 hours after being killed and it is unlawful to remove the head or hide or other parts except the internal organs, or cut up the meat until the deer has been checked. It was pointed out that deer killed in Garrett County must be checked in Garrett County.

The club will cooperate fully with the Deep Creek Fire company at McHenry, which is sponsoring the first snowmobile championship races in the state, to be held this winter at the fair grounds at McHenry.

Sunshine and Rain In Weather Picture

Sunny days and seasonable temperatures have for the most part summed up the weather picture, although some amount of precipitation was seen on the Mt. Top during the past week.

Last Thursday was a sunny day but cold temperatures prevailed with 22 to 34 degree readings recorded.

Friday brought more sunshine and warmed temperatures as the mercury rose to 43 and 45 degrees. However, a brisk wind tended to make the day appear cooler than it was.

Saturday was warm and sunny with occasional cloud cover toward early afternoon. Reports of light rain were made in parts of the county, Saturday night.

Sunday was a dreary day with rain falling steadily all day. Temperatures varied from the upper 40s to lower 50s.

Monday's sky was overcast with mercury reading ranging from 30 to 35 degrees.

Tuesday brought the sunshine once again. Yesterday's low was 27 degrees in the early morning, but the temperature got as high as 51 by late afternoon.

Wednesday morning's temperature stood at 40 degrees and drizzling rain fell steadily throughout Oakland and surrounding areas. There were some flashes of lightning Wednesday morning.

Forecast calls for a cooling trend, with temperatures dropping Wednesday afternoon and evening.

Snowmobile Racing To Be Inaugurated This Year In Area

Garrett County, Maryland's Winter Mountain Top Playground, will be the home of the first sanctioned snowmobile racing south of the Mason-Dixon line when the first race is held January 18 and 19. This was announced by Ron Bourgeois, Executive Secretary for the United States Snowmobile Association in Boonville, New York. Bourgeois also announced that the Garrett County race would be the first ever held in the State of Maryland.

This event, named the Maryland State Snowmobile Championships, will feature both stock and modified machines in oval, speed obstacle and cross country racing. The cross country run will pit man and machine against the elements on a 10 mile marked course.

A $1,200 purse is up for graps in this first event. The Deep Creek Lake Volunteer Fire Department, sponsors for the race at McHenry, expects more than 100 machines to enter during the two day meet. In addition to the large purse being offered, trophies will also be awarded to the winners. The race will be run on a quarter-mile track near the Fair Grounds at McHenry.

Snowmobile racing is becoming one of the largest fun sports in the nation, according to fans. Average racing speeds have been recorded at 60 miles per hour on an oval track. Cross country speeds have been clocked at 100 miles per hour.

More information may be obtained on the event by writing to the Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council, Inc., at Oakland.

Miller Appeal to U. S. Court Eyed

The case of Gary Lee Miller, 18-year-old youth awaiting execution for the slaying of Judy Lee Ziegler in May, 1967, may be taken to the United States Supreme Court.

Miller's attorney, John C. Sullivan, was in Washington Tuesday checking into the possibility and obtaining necessary forms and data to take the appeal to the high tribunal.

Maryland's highest court, the Court of Appeals, refused to overturn his conviction in an opinion this month. It upheld the death sentence returned by Judges Harold E. Naughton and James S. Getty in Allegany County Circuit Court.

Miller, of Pocahontas, Pa., near the Northern Garrett County border, was convicted of killing Miss Ziegler, 20, Salisbury, Pa., after she gave him a ride as he was hitchhiking to his home from Frostburg on May 28.

The state court in a unanimous opinion, rejected arguments that a confession by Miller should not have been admitted as evidence, that it was not given voluntarily and that the state had failed to prove that Miller was fully aware of what he was doing when he gave the statement.

"The determination of whether a confession is admissible is ordinarily a matter for the trial court to decide and its determination will not be dis-

Damages of $1000 In Two-car Mishap

Approximately $1,000 worth of damage was caused early Tuesday morning when a two car mishap occurred at the intersection of Eighth and High Streets, Oakland.

John Leo Flanigan, 54, Baltimore, was operating a 1968 Ford heading south on Eighth Street, and pulled from a stop sign into the path of an oncoming car.

The second car, a 1965 Simca, operated by Frank Luther Blamble, Gormania, W. Va., who was driving east on High Street collided with the Flanigan auto. Damage to the Blamble car was estimated at $800, while damages to the Flanigan car was $150. No one was injured.

The Flanigan car was supposed to be traveling in front of a transporter carrying a tank from the Oakland National Guard Armory, so as to signal other drivers of the approaching transporter.

Future of Graduate Program Listed For Frostburg

Dr. Nelson P. Guild, Dean of the College at Frostburg State College, released "An Open Letter to Present and Prospective Graduate Students" to explain the current status and the future of graduate degree programs at the College.

Stating that the letter was intended to correct "many inaccurate or false rumors" concerning the College's position on graduate education, Guild reviewed the history of graduate programs at Frostburg State College and added that "Frostburg State College is not interested in terminating its graduate program."

"Its administration and its faculty are both interested in and committed to continuing and expanding graduate programs, but only if the College can meet the standards of quality we know to prevail in the general academic community, and only if the State of Maryland is prepared to make an unmistakeable commitment to quality graduate instruction", Guild said.

The Dean explained that Frostburg's graduate program has always been operated on a financially self-sustaining basis, and pointed out that such a method of operation has reduced the quality of the program, has forced the College to offer graduate work off the campus to generate income, and has jeopardized the College's accreditation status.

Frostburg requested state funds for its graduate program in 1967, but the College was forced to eliminate the request because of the magnitude of budget cuts imposed on all state agencies. In Frostburg's case, the original total college budget request of $3.6 million has been reduced by one million since last fall.

The letter explains that the College and its graduate faculty are committed to terminate all graduate programs in 1969 if the College fails to receive state support in the budget beginning next July 1. Dean Guild explained that "for the College to limp along in embarrassed disregard of widely accepted standards of quality education would be only to waste valuable human resources on a fruitless exercise in mediocrity".

The seven-page letter is being mailed, along with revised graduate regulations, to all graduate students on the College's mailing list. Other persons wishing to have a copy may request one by writing to Dr. J. Russell Snyder, Director of Graduate, Extension and Summer Studies, at the College.

Barrier to Exotic Furs

In its rush toward adjournment, between appropriations and Supreme Court nominations, Congress may well take time to strike a blow against current women's fashions.

Any hope that Congress might legalize the mini-skirt, or set Federal standards for skirt length, which is one of today's most vexing problems, apparently has ended. So far, no Congressman has introduced legislation along these lines.

However, what Congress is going to do is outlaw the importation of many of the exotic skins and furs which now adorn style-conscious women. The huge demand for leopard and chetah skins, for example, has resulted in wholesale killing of these animals. Use of exotic furs and skins in coats, hats, handbags, even undergarments has resulted in plundering of animals around the world.

Zebras, orangutans and polar bears are in current fashon, which means their average life expectancy has been shortened considerably.

In East Africa, greedy poachers are violating local laws to supply thousands of leopard skins for maddest mod creations.

Reportedly, in South America the vicuna faces near extinction. The vicuna had the misfortune to receive so much publicity a dozen years ago when a vicuna coat given to Presidential Aide Sherman Adams touched off a political scandal. South American governments have been trying to protect the vicuna ever since. Its skins are used for rugs.

Foreign governments, unable to enforce their own laws protecting these animals, have appealed to the U.S. for help. Bills near passage would make it a Federal crime to import, dead or alive, any animal on the "endangered list" drawn up by the Interior Department.

Everything between Aardvark and Zebu must be on the proposed list, which reportedly covers almost 1,000. species.

Violators would face a $500 fine, confiscation of the goods.

Over objections from pet shops and fashion designers, the halting imports of "endangered species" will be generally applauded as a conservationist measure. But apparently Congress will make no move to restrict any other imports, despite abundant evidence huge quantities of such things as steel, plywood, beef and dairy products hurt U.S. business.

More than a score of industries have pleaded for higher tariffs, import quotas or other limitations on foreign cheap-labor products. To no avail. Instead, further U.S. tariff reductions are due under international agreements, and full-blown inflation is aggravating the nation's import-export balance.

But, admittedly, protecting endangered American business is more controversial than humane proctection of animals.

Church League To Hold Practice

The newly formed Church Basketball League will hold its first practice session Saturday, Nov. 30, at the Southern High School gym, at 9:00 o'clock. All teams that have handed in their entry application, release forms, and entry fee may hold practice at that time, according to Commissioner Tom Crogan.

To be held at the same time and place will be a meeting of the League Commission including Coach Tom Kuhn, Alfred "Blue" Marucci, and Tom Crogan, and the adult advisors for the various teams.

Varsity players from the Southern High School Basketball team will conduct the practice sessions. Another practice session is to be held Saturday, Dec. 7, at 9:00 o'clock, for all eligible teams, at the Southern gym.

League play is slated to get underway Dec. 14, and continue on consecutive Saturdays until all teams have played each other twice for a total of 14 games each.

An awards banquet will be held at one of the League Churches at the conclusion of the season in March.

Two berths remain open in the League, any church interested in entering the League may contact any one of the three men on the commission.

The League is being sponsored by the Mt. Top Ministerial Association.

Mr. Thayer revealed that in addition he had assisted in prosecution of removed cases involving accessory to murder from Baltimore; rape from Queen Anne's county, twice; perjury from Allegany county; and kidnapping from Montgomery county.

He said two paternity cases had been docketed and four reciprocal enforcement of support petitions. Juvenile cases numbered 71. Magistrate cases in which the State's Attorney was involved amounted to 80.

Mr. Thayer praised the effectiveness of officials of the sheriff's office, state police and town of Oakland, and the services of Wayne Wilt, juvenile probation officer, for the showing made.

turbed on appeal unless there is a clear abuse of discretion", the opinion said. "We find no such abuse here".

The court said there was nothing to indicate the statement was not given voluntarily. It said Miller was told twice that he had a right to an attorney, that he was allowed to see his parents and that "there has been no allegation of misconduct on the part of the officers during the short periods of interrogation". The opinion disposed quickly of Miller's contention that the evidence was insufficient to convict him. It said his confession was supported both by the evidence in the case and by the testimony of other witnesses.

In passing the death sentence, the youth was remanded to the custody of the commissioner of correction and the date of his execution set during the first week of January, 1968. Subsequent appeal action delayed it.

Should all appeal efforts fail a new date would be set by the Allegany county court.

France.

He enlisted into the Second World War in 1943 and served under the dispatch service once again, while stationed in Clayborn, La. He was discharged in 1944.

From 1934 to 1937, Cover carried the mail in the Sang Run area, in 1937, the Hazelton, W. Va. route was added and in 1941, he was the carrier for the Oakland, Hazelton, and Sang Run areas for two years.

Upon his discharge from the armed service in 1944, Cover decided to embark on a new idea which is still a hobby of his, coal mining. He opened his small custom coal mine in 1944 and kept it running until 1961. In July of that year he returned to the Post Office and has since that time carried the mail for the Oakland to Accident route and surrounding areas.

Coal mining, and mail carrying however, are not the only interests of Mr. Cover as he served as Constable for a number of years during three different terms. He also held the office of Trial Magistrate for a term of two years.

Cover and his wife, Hilda reside in Friendsville and the the parents of eight children, nine step-children, and are the grandparents of 34.

Besides mining for his own private use, Cover enjoys hunting, and says he is also quite a handyman around the house.

Other community activities include teaching Sunday school at the Christian Church of Friendsville.

When asked if he had any plans of retiring in the near future, Cover replied, "Retiring is not in mind at all, I'd rather wear out than rust out". He went on to say that he attributes his long life and good health to "puting God first in everything". According to Cover's philosophy, we should, "Ask God for strength each day, live just for today, and don't worry about tomorrow".

Agnew To Resign After January 1st

Vice President elect Spiro T. Agnew confirmed Tuesday night that he would not resign as governor of Maryland at least until the first of the year.

And he said in a statement that if he could not complete his administration at that time, he would wait until the legislature meets in regular session on January 15.

Agnew said that his prime telligent transfer of the govergoal would be the orderly, innorship with the least interruption and disruption that these unprecedented circumstances would permit.

"This is my goal and to attain it I must first complete the affairs of the present administration in a manner that will provide the greatest assistance to my successor."

Agnew said he would not under any circumstances remain in office beyond January 15. Agnew said that the budget for the 1970 fiscal year was in an advanced state of preparation. "Naturally, it reflects to a large degree the policies and priorities established during my administration," he said. He added however, that he had instructed his budget director, James Slicher, to keep the leadership of the general assembly "fully appraised of budget requests and recommendations."

The open church wedding will take place Sunday, Dec. 8, at 2 o'clock, in the Bethel Methodist church, Mt. Lake Park, with Rev. James F. Remley, pastor, officiating.

Friends and relatives are invited. A reception will follow immediately at the Loch Lynn Aid hall.

Preston Co. Man Held for Murder

John Wayne Simpson, 30, of Preston, W. Va., in neighboring Preston county, near Kingwood, on Tuesday was arrested and charged with the bludgeoning death of his sister, Mrs. Sarah McNear, 40, also of Preston, who was found unconscious in a wooded area Monday night and died later in University medical center in Morgantown.

Neil A. Reed, prosecuting attorney of Preston county, said Simpson was being held in the county jail without bond and had been bound over to the March term of the grand jury.

Sheriff Wade A. Graham received information by telephone Monday evening that Mrs. McNear had been assaulted. State police fould the woman unconscious in the wooded area and was taken to Preston Memorial hospital, Kingwood, and later transferred to Morgantown where she died shortly before 10 p. m., Monday. An autopsy was ordered.

Twenty Are Killed On State Highways

Twenty persons were killed on Maryland highways last week according to the weekly survey of the State Police. Ten of those killed were drivers, three were passengers, and seven were pedestrians. Alcohol was a contributing factor in ten of the death, speed in ten, and "driver error" in fourteen.

"Seven pedestrians were killed on Maryland roads last week," noted Major Paul J. Randall, Acting Chief of Operations of the State Police, "and during the winter months persons walking on the highway will face considerably more hazards than they encountered during the summer.

"It is much more difficult," Major Randall continued, "to maintain one's balance on slippery roads; on extremely cold and windy days persons tend to walk with their heads down; dark clothing worn by the pedestrian makes it much more difficult for the operator to see him; and, also, fogged and frosted windshields obscure vision.

"It's the pedestrian's responsibility to adjust to these difficulties which he will face during the winter months."

Vepco Announces Contract Awards On New Project

Virginia Electric and Power company today announced that it has awarded contracts to Brown Boveri and Company, Ltd., of Baden, Switzerland, to supply a turbine-generator and to Combustion Engineering, Inc., of Windsor, Conn., to supply steam-generating equipment for the third unit at Vepco's Mt. Storm Station.

Plans to construct the third unit at the mine mouth station in Grant County, W. Va., were announced by Vepco on October 30. Engineering will begin immediately, and construction will begin in 1969, with full operation scheduled for March, 1973. The project will cost approximately $65 million.

The 535,000 kilowatt unit will bring the station's capacity to more than 1.6 million kilowatts.

The first two units at Mt. Storm were installed in 1965 and 1966. The third unit similar to the first two, will burn coal obtained from mines in the area. The three units will burn an estimated 15,000 tons of coal per day.

Brown Boveri, established in 1891, has manufacturing facilities and sales offices throughout the world and its products range from nuclear generating equipment to household appliances. Its American headquarters are in North Brunswick, N. J. Recently Brown Boveri and North American Rockwell announced that they are considering a joint venture in the United States.

Other announced major turbine-generator customers of the Swiss firm are American Electric Power Company, the Tennessee Valley Authority, the City of Los Angeles and other utilities, both private and public.

Combustion Engineering, Inc., supplied the steam-generating equipment for the first two units at the Mt. Storm Station. The design of the third unit will be similar to the first two.

The Treaty The Russians Want

For many Americans, the nuclear non-proliferation treaty before the U. S. Senate is profoundly confusing. "Non-proliferation" sounds like gobbledeygook and frequently produces disinterest where it doesn't result in confusion. Yet this treaty, ostensibly designed to halt the spread of nuclear weapons, is a very important matter. If it is ratified by the Senate, the security of free peoples will be gravely endangered.

The control of nuclear weapons is a desirable objective. Since the first atomic bomb was exploded, the U. S. has sought a reasonable policy of control. But the Soviet Union sees control of nuclear weaponry in the context of its own plans for political domination and military conquest.

The U. S. public should ask why the Soviets have agreed to the non-proliferation treaty? The answer, based on the evidence of communist actions, is that the Soviet Union regards the treaty as a means of curbing the defense potential of America's allies in the cold war. Specificially, the Soviets see the non-proliferation treaty as a guarantee that West Germany will never obtain any nuclear defenses. And as one of the central themes of Soviet foreign policy is the neutralization of West Germany and its eventual subordination to the USSR, they recognize the treaty as a major step forward for the communist cause.

Even as the treaty was reported out by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, which is dominated by senatorial "liberals" such as Sen. W. J. Fulbright, the Russians were asserting a "right" to intervene in West Germany. Free men everywhere were confronted with the spectre of new Soviet aggression directed against the people of West Berlin.

Viewed either in terms of short-run or long-range situations in Europe, it would be shocking and disastrous for the Senate to ratify the non-proliferation treaty. This action would signify to the West Germans, who already are fearful that the United States may seek an accommodation with the Kremlin that costs them their freedom, that Germany can never expect to have the type of defenses that provide the only effective guarantee of security in the atomic age.

Ratification of the treaty, coming on the heels of the Russian invasion of Czechoslovakia, would cause the spread of fear throughout all of America's beleaguered allies in the cold war. As Richard Nixon pointed out recently, ratification now "would leave the impression that we approve the action of the Soviets" in Czechoslovakia. If America signs a treaty with the Soviet Union at this point, it will be grasping a hand that bears the blood of the engulfed Czech people.

The nuclear non-proliferation treaty has been five years in the drafting and discussion stage. Both the Kennedy and Johnson administrations have helped shape it. The draft treaty is illustrative of the illusion fostered by these administrations — the illusion that the Soviets are mellowing and genuinely want peace.

It is increasingly apparent that the American people in the November election will reject the political course taken by the Kennedy and Johnson administrations since 1961. The American people unquestionably want a tougher line in dealing with the Kremlin. To force through a nuclear non-proliferation treaty, scant weeks before a new President is chosen, is an act on a par with Mr. Johnson's last-ditch political effort to impose Abe Fortas as Chief Justice.

If the West Germans discover that they are to be permanently treated as second-class citizens in the NATO alliance of free peoples, they may become bitter and angry and turn away from the United States. How can the United States legitimately and fairly agree to deny nuclear arms to the Germans when both the French and the British possess such weapons?

Behind the effort to ratify the nuclear non-proliferation treaty is some curious thinking that surely is not in accord with what the people think in this country. The reasoning implicit in the treaty is that it's better to trust the Russians than the West Germans, who are standing up to the Russians. As for trusting the Russians, and believing their words about peaceful co-existence, who can think of trust in the face of what has happened in Czechoslovakia?

Thus the American people who are going to the polls this November may properly conclude that any Senator who votes for ratification is guilty of being soft on communism. The non-proliferation treaty is the treaty the Russians want.

Decorate With Suds In Heavenly Touch Ext. Agent Suggests

With Christmas near, save small empty juice cans to transform into pretty angels to decorate table or mantel, it was suggested by Mrs. Freda Denison, extension agent for home economics.

First, turn the cans over and cover them with a special "suds-snow" made by wetting a handful of packaged soap (or detergent) with a little warm water, then whipping with a hand beater or electric mixer to make dense suds. Next, cut wings from gold, silver, or white paper; smear glue along their edges; and shake on glitter just before the glue dries. Press these wings against the suds-snow, and they will adhere permanently as it dries to a hard finish.

To form angel heads, stir more soap (or detergent) to the thick suds, mold this mixture into small balls, and set them atop the cans. Before the mixture dries, imbed trimmings for eyes and mouth.

Colorful Handprints

A towel imprinted with a grandchild's handprints makes a Christmas gift cherished by sentimental grandmas and aunts.

Start by spreading a solid-color towel flat on a table covered with newspapers. Next, put a little textile paint into a shallow aluminum pan. Then let the child dip his hands into the paint and gently shake off the excess. The final step is to firmly place his hands—fingers spread—on the towel. This process may be repeated to add handprints at random all over the towel.

When finished, the young artist can blot some of the paint from his hands with paper and then scrub them immediately with soap and water.

3 Complete Trip Along C & O Canal

Three members of Boy Scout Troop 82, have completely hiked the C and O Canal towpath on bicycles. The towpath extends from Georgetown, Washington, D. C., to Cumberland, a distance of 184.5 miles.

Those completing the entire distance are Gary Reckner, Franklin Schwing and Paul Frank, scoutmaster. Two other members of the troop who have completed over two-thirds of the distance are John Glotfelty and Matthew Storey III. Additional bike hikes will be planned along the canal by the troop, according to Mr. Frank..

The trip took six days of cycling, an average of thirty miles each day. Two nights were spent camping on the canal camp sites. The first hike was taken last June with the most recent hike last Saturday. Five members of the troop cycled 35.5 miles from White's Ferry into Georgetown in six and one-half hours. Mr. Frank said the most difficult trip was made Oct. 18 and 19 from Harper's Ferry to White's Ferry, some 26.1 miles, which was completed in a drenching rain on both days with a night spent on the tow path.

Transportation to the canal was provided by Owen Bach, Mrs. Gerald H. Glotfelty, Mr. and Mrs. John Reckner Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Schwing, Mr. and Mrs. Matt Storey Jr., and Mrs. Paul Frank. Harry P. Collier loaned a trailer for transporting bicycles.

Troop 82 had a board of review Nov. 18. A court of honor and parents' night is set for Monday, Dec. 2, at 7:45, at the Accident fire hall. Interested boys are invited to visit a troop meeting held on Monday evenings at 7 at the fire hall.

A RAINBOW MAY BE A DANGEROUS SIGN

If at night you often see a rainbow around the street or car lights, this may be a warning signal of a possible glaucoma. It is only one of the symptoms and is not a positive diagnosis. But to protect against blindness, you should immediately consult a physician.

If the diagnosis is early, many cases of glaucoma can be controlled by weak solutions of miotics, increasing the strength until the best reacting formula is found. When the tension cannot be lessened, immediate surgery may be imperative.

Listen, Americans!

By DR. GEORGE S. BENSON
President—National Education Program
Searcy, Arkansas

In his "history" of revolutionary Black Power in the United States, James Forman, director of SNCC's "International Commission", writes in the international Communist press that armed revolution is the method to be used in destroying the American system. His article in the recent issue of the magazine, "Tricontinental", published in Red Havana, significantly spotlights the value to World Communism of Communism's victory in Cuba and particularly the continuing existence and expansion of the Red island fortress before the eyes of a seemingly helpless U. S. A.

"The Cuban revolution, occurring only ninety miles from our shores", Forman writes, "demonstrated to many young blacks that revolution was possible and that total social change could not be voted in, but came only after an armed revolution. . ."

"A whole new rhetoric and a new set of attitudes as well as policies emerged at that time", he chronicles. "The phrase 'civil rights movement', long moribund, died forever with the birth of 'Black Power'. The issue was not legal rights but power to make basic changes".

Forman traces the growth of the revolutionary Black Power movement (with segments being led by Elijah Muhammed, Malcolm X, Rap Brown, Stokely Carmichael, Robert F. Williams and others) to its open alliance with international Communism in the world-wide "struggle" to destroy "capitalism and American imperialism". The year 1967, Forman says, "might be called the year of internationalization for revolutionary Black Power".

Forman reports on the visits of Stokely Carmichael to Communist bastions such as Cuba, North Vietnam and Guinea to confer with Castro, Ho Chi Minh, Sekou Toure and other Red bosses. He says Fidel Castro summed up the attitude of all the Red international hierarchy. He quotes Castro: "The revolutionary vanguard within the United States will arise from the most mistreated, the most exploited and oppressed of the Negro sectors".

Forman in his article uses the propaganda technique of World Communism in excusing armed aggression ("rebellions") as being defensive actions. "American Imperialism", he says, is trying to enslave, is oppressing most of the people of the earth, but particularly the Negroes in America. This is the un-wavering "line" of international Communism. The alliance of revolutionary Black Power in the United States, Forman says repeatedly, is with the Communist forces waging "wars of liberation" such as Ho Chi Minh and the Vietcong are waging against the U. S. in South Vietnam.

"Our struggle", he says, "is clearly against racism, capitalism and American imperialism, whether it is directed against black people abroad or at home. Mounting resistance (by Black Power revolutionary forces) breeds repression, but repression will only heighten the resistance".

The revolutionary and his cohorts are operating within our nation, brazenly declaring their alliance with World Communism. The torch has alreatdy been set to our cities. When will our government leaders face these facts?

Car Repair Course At Grantsville Is Set to Continue

An auto body repair course has been set up in Grantsville for men who are out of high school and want to pursue a trade but need training and practical work experience.

The six month course is being taught at the Grantsville garage under supervision of the Maryland Department of Employment Security with John Sinko, Cumberland, as instructor.

Charles Briner, office manager of the Department of Employment Security in Oakland, said the course was set up because there is always a shortage of employes in the auto industry, especially in the areas of auto body repair and auto mechanics. He said that the current course may be followed by one in mechanics.

There are 14 men enrolled in the course at present, selected by the Employment office. They are being trained in all phases of auto body repair from simple straightening to complete refinishing of both exterior and interior.

Enrollees receive salaries based on work experience and marital status. They work from 8 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. with a daily work sheet filled out by each man at the close of the day.

Facilities for the course are rented by Garrett County Board of Education which also purchases the necessary materials and employs the instructor. Mr. Sinko said six automobiles had been completely repainted since the course began on September 30. The program is scheduled to run until March 28 when certificates of completion will be presented to the men completing the course. Prospective employers will have the opportunity to see the work done by the enrollees.

Questions and Answers

Q. Is a gift of food or clothing to a charity deductible? I gave some things to some Boy Scouts when they came through our neighborhood collecting for a local church.

A. Yes, gifts of food, clothing and other property to a charitable group are considered a contribution which may be deducted. The amount of the deduction would be the fair market value of the property donated.

Q. I'm working a few hours at night in a local department store. Is there any way I can stop them from taking Social Security tax out of my pay since my regular job gives me full coverage?

A. No. Each employer is required to withhold Social Security taxes on the first $7,800 of income paid each employee during 1968.

If more than $343.20 is withheld from your wages for Social Security in 1968 because you worked for two or more employers, the excess should be taken as a tax credit on your 1968 income tax return.

Q. I'm a full-time student and don't expect to have a paying job anytime before the end of the year. Can I file my tax return now to get back the money withheld from my paycheck last summer?

A. No, an income tax return cannot be filed until the end of the tax year. Even though you may not work or receive income during the rest of the year, a tax return is required to be filed on the basis of a ful tax year.

Q. My income is quite a bit higher than I expected it to be this year. Is it too late to file an estimated tax return?

A. No. If your situation changes after September 1 you should file declaration of estimated tax and make the required payment by January 15. To obtain a copy of an estimated tax declaration send a post card to your District Director and ask for Form 1040ES, Declaration of Estimated Tax for Individuals.

However, if you file your 1968 return and pay in full the balance of tax due by January 31, 1969, you need not file the required declaration or make the January 15 payment.

Q. I started working this Fall. Will enough be taken out of my paycheck to cover the new surtax as well as the regular income tax?

A. For most people, withholding will be sufficient to satisfy their federal tax liabilities this year as it has in the past.

Withholding rates were adjusted in July to take care of the tax surcharge. As you started work after that date, tax will have been withheld at rates set to satisfy your federal income tax liability.

The new tax surcharge will have an effective rate of 7 and one-half percent in 1968. Although the tax surcharye rate is 10 percent it is in effect for only 9 months of the year for individuals. The surcharge on corporation income is in effect for the entire 12 months of 1968.

Q. Our country place was damaged by lightning. Can we deduct the loss?

A. If the loss exceeds $100 and is not covered by insurance you may be entitled to a tax deduction. Generally, the loss is the difference in the value of the property before and after the lightning struck.

For details a copy of Document No. 5174, Disasters, Casualties and Thefts, may be obtained at your local IRS office.

Q. Why isn't a check made out to cash acceptable as proof of a charitable contribution?

A. To substantiate a deductible expense your records must indicate, among other things, the purpose of the expense, to whom paid, as well as the amount.

A check made out to cash or to yourself gives no indication by itself of the nature of the expense. This kind of check must be supported by other records, such as receipts, to be useful in proving any deductions you claim.

A check made out to a specific organization, a charity for example, may well be sufficient to establish that a deductible contribution has been made.

Q. I've made a substantial pledge to my church's building fund. Can I take this deduction on my 1969 return if it is to my advantage?

A. Deductions for charitable contributions can only be taken for the tax year they are actually paid. If you pay all or part of your pledge this year then you must take the deduction on your 1968 return for the amount actually paid. To take the deduction on your 1969 return you should postpone your payments until 1969.

Q. My father died last March. Will a 1968 tax return have to be filed for him?

A. A return will have to be filed if his income was $600 or more for the year ($1,200 or more if he was 65 or over). If a return is required, it should be filed by the executor or administrator of the taxpayer's estate of his legal representative. It may be helpful for you to get a copy of IRS Document No. 5446, "Decedents", available at your local IRS Office.

Q. My son has a small scholarship that covers part of this college tuition. Will he have to report this as income or will I since he is my dependent?

A. Most scholarships are not taxable. If your son's scholarship happens to be taxable, however, it will be counted as his income not yours. He would report it on his own return.

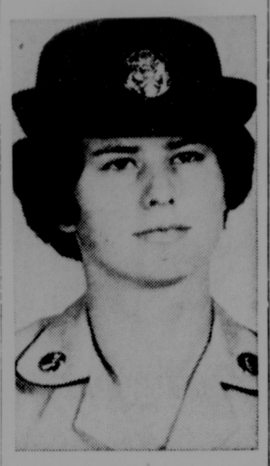
To find out whether your son's scholarship is taxable or not, check with the person or organization granting it. Information on the tax status of scholarships may also be obtained at your local IRS office, ask for a copy of Document No. 5045, "What is Income"?

Q. I just started in business for myself after years with a large company. Would the fact that I'm covered by Social Security prevent me from setting up my own retirement plan?

A. No, a self-employed person covered by Social Security is eligible to set up his own retirement plan.

Q. My paycheck was a few dollars higher last time even though my gross earnings were the same. Are taxes lower?

A. No, the only recent change in federal tax withholding rates was the 10 percent increase resulting from the surcharge.



Your net pay could be higher if Social Security taxes are not longer being withheld from your wages. An employer is required to withhold Social Security taxes only on the first $7,800 paid. After that total is reached, these taxes are not longer withheld so that the net amount of an employee's paycheck will go up.

Events Above The Mountain Top

by Paul S. Frank Jr.

November 28 - December 4

This Thanksgiving Day finds the sun rising at 7:17 a. m. There are nine hours and thirty-eight minutes of daylight since the sun sets at 4:55 p. m. Next Wednesday, December 4, there are nine hours and thirty-one minutes of daylight as sunrise is at 7:23 a. m. and sunset is at 4:54 p. m. The days continue to grow shorter as seven minutes of daylight are lost this week.

The moon will be full at 6:26 p. m. next Wednesday. During the week the moon rises between 1:30 p. m. and 4:30 p. m.

Venus, Mars, Jupiter, and Saturn are visible to the planet observer during the week. Venus is on the eastern edge of Sagittarius and sets about two hours after sunset. Saturn is well up by sunset in the constellation, Pisces, and sets after midnight. Mars rises about three hours after midnight and is in Virgo. Jupiter rises two hours after midnight in the constellation of Virgo.

After sunset the constellation, Cassiopeia, can be found high in the northwestern sky. It is in the Milky Way. This constellation looks most like a "W". It will be upside down or nearly so in the early evening.

Cassiopeia was a mythological queen who thought that she was very beautiful. She bragged so that it angered the Gods. They sent a monster to attack her kingdom. The monster, it was found, could be appeased through the sacrifice of the queen's daughter. The daughter, Andromeda, was chained to the rocks of the seacoast to await her fate. However, she was rescused by Perseus who also married her. Of course, they lived happily ever after.

In the science center this week Mr. Wolfe's seventh grade will study space exploration on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Monday. Monday Mrs. Johnsoan's third grade from Center Street will study Satellie orbits. Tuesday and Wednesday, Mrs. Myer's and Mrs. Blake's fifth graders from Dennett Road will study Satellite orbits.

Schools Dismissed

The public schools of the county dismissed for the Thanksgiving holidays on Wednesday afternoon at 12:30. Classes will resume on Monday morning, Dec. 2.

I-70 Section Is Opened To Traffic

Interstate Route 70, which was opened to traffic Wednesday, Nov. 27, between Frederick and Hagerstown, is expected to carry nearly four times as much traffic by 1985.

Jerome B. Wolff, chairman-director of the State Roads Commission, said I-70 will not only become Maryland's major east-west highway "but will relieve the congestion on old U. S. Route 40 and improve traffic circulation throughout the metropolitan areas of Frederick and Hagerstown". The opening is expected to aid travel from Garrett County to Baltimore.

He said an estimated 10,000 vehicles a day will use portions of I-70 near the two cities, diverting traffic from U. S. 40 which now carries 12,000 to 13,000 vehicles a day. The figure will rise to about 37,000 vehicles by 1985.

For rural sections of I-70, traffic volume will increase from an initial 8,000 vehicles per day to some 32,000 vehicles per day by 1985.

Participants in the opening ceremonies included U. S. Senator-elect Charles McC. Mathias, who cut the ribbon.

"You Should See The Other Guy!"

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

As a boy it was so easy to justify a fight. Publicly you gloated over your opponent's bloody nose (and privately you wished that his had been the black eye with its more-lasting embarrassment). But, somehow, the victory alone excused the battle.

As an adult how do you view the matter? Would the possibility of bloody victory be sufficient justification for attempting to beat the tar out of some irritating neighbor? You might be arrested for disturbing the peace . . . assault and battery!

But that is not the real reason we control brutal impulses. The real reason lies deep in our Christian heritage:

—a sense of human dignity . . .
—respect for fairness and justice regardless of might . . .
—the belief that peace can be a blessing for weak and strong alike . . .
—that patient understanding can enrich life.

Rooted in the same Christian faith are other great principles of life which challenge men's hearts and minds. We seek to understand and apply them as we worship God in our churches. They are essential in a world still threatened with a return to the black eye and bloody nose . . . or something worse.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

International Uniform Sunday School Lessons

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

IN THE FLESH

Lesson for December 1, 1968

Background Scripture: 1 John 1:1-4; 4; 2 John.
Devotional Reading: Hebrews 2:14-18.

Some people today, as we have noted before, are disposed to dispense with the divinity of Christ. To them, Jesus was simply a "good man," "a great teacher," "our perfect example," "the most Godly man who ever lived," — but still a man!

Rev. Althouse

There is another heretical temptation, however, that leads people to the opposite extreme. It is the temptation to disregard the humanity of Christ, to forget that Jesus was truly a man. This was evident a few years ago in the reaction of some people to the motion picture, The Gospel According to St. Matthew. Some objected bitterly to the film's depiction of Jesus as very much a man. Quite accustomed to the Hollywood bathrobe dramas in which the figure of Jesus is little more than a phantom, it was hard for some to think of him in such human terms.

"Very man"

This is not a new problem in the life of the Church. It is a controversy that has often plagued Christianity. In the fifth century A.D. there were Christians who emphasized only the divinity of Christ. They said that Jesus only "seemed" to be human. As a divine being in human disguise, he did not really get hungry as men do, he only "seemed" to get hungry. He also only "seemed" to get thirsty, tired, and tempted. He was, they said, a God who only looked human in appearance.

In time, the Church branded this concept as heresy. The Council of Chalcedon in 451 A.D insisted that Jesus was "very man," ("very" meaning really). It declared that his manood was complete. He didn't seem to be a man, he was a man. He is, they said, "of one substance with us as regards his manhood; like us in all respects, apart from sin."

The writers of the four Gospels also took pains to indicate that Jesus did not just seem to suffer on the cross, but that he really suffered and really died too. Thus in the so-called Apostles' Creed we are very careful to spell it out: ". . . suffered under Pontius Pilate, crucified, dead, and buried . . ."

By this you know

This same concern to preserve the truth of Christ's humanity is found in both 1 and 2 John. "By this you know the Spirit of God: every spirit which confesses that Jesus Christ has come in the flesh is of God . . ." (1 John 4:2 RSV) And again in 2 John 7: "For many deceivers have gone out into the world, men who will not acknowledge the coming of Jesus Christ in the flesh; such a one is a deceiver. . ."

Why is this so important to the writer of 1 and 2 John? Why has the Church always been so concerned to preserve the doctrine of his humanity? Why is it so important for the writer of the Gospel of John to say: "And the Word became flesh and dwelt among us . . ." (John 1:14)? What does it matter for God to have come "in the flesh"?

Only a man

If Jesus had not been fully human, he would have little attraction for us. We could dismiss the price he paid on Calvary with the knowledge that he didn't really suffer. We could ignore his example and teachings, dismissing them as lying beyond human capabilities. We would not likely go to him with our problems, our concerns, our heartaches, nor accept his comfort and counsel: for what could a divine being know of the sufferings of men?

Because Jesus was fully human as we are, because he knew all that we know and experienced all that we experience, we cannot ignore the call he gives us. When he says "This is what you can become," we can take him seriously, for he has first-hand knowledge of us. Only a man, fully human, could inspire us to realize the full potentialities of our humanity. Because he became what we are, we are called to become what he is. That's why it is important that the Word became flesh.

Your first thought is that Chevy is a good looking pickup . . .

½-ton Fleetside pickup

Here are some second thoughts:

work truck

We could add hobby hauler to the list. Chevy trucks are great for rock hounding. Collecting antiques. Etcetera.

The point is: They're as versatile as anything on the road. Or off. Especially, four-wheel drive versions. They go anywhere.

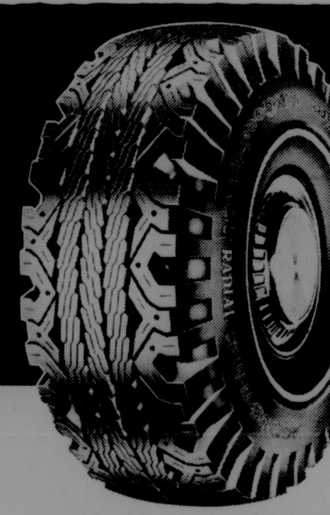
playmate

Wherever you go, you go in style. Sleek front end features a new aluminum grille. In back, there's a new 8½-ft. box on some models. Great for big campers.

Great under the hood, too. Six or V8. Standard on V8 models is a big 307 cubic-incher.

second car

Under the rugged chassis, coil springs take care of bumps. Inside, thick foam seats take care of you.



There's a lot more. And more you can order. Like: power steering and air conditioning. See your Chevrolet dealer for all the facts and the good word on low price.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white, floor length gown fashioned with long sleeves of lace and a high neckline. The satin bodice and skirt were overlayed with transparent nylon and a long satin bow adorned the empire waist and back. A bouffant veil of bridal illusion fell to shoulder length from a crystal crown. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and white pompons.

Sandra Casteel, Hazelton, W. Va., was maid of honor. Donna Upperman, Bloomington, was flower girl.

Best man was Arthur Stratan, Toledo, O. James L. Lewis brother of the bride, and Ricky Hamblin, brother of the groom, seated guests. Ring bearer was Robert E. Lewis, brother of the bride.

A reception followed at the Luke Recreation Hall. Vickie Fortney registered guests while Patricia Hamblin, sister-in-law of the groom, served punch. Sherry McIntyre served cake.

A graduate of Bruce High School, Westernport, the bride is employed by the Department of Transportation in Washington.

Mr. Hamblin is a graduate of Green High School, Ohio, and is serving with the army at Fort George G. Meade.

The couple resides at 1518 North 12th Street in Arlington, Va., until they move to Akron, Ohio, in April following Mr. Hamblin's discharge from the service.

To become successful in this life we must attain self discipline, knowledge, and effective communication. Self-discipline is gained through application. Knowledge is gained through education. Effective communication is gained through association and analysis. Involvement in programs in which we are interested is the most logical way we can improve ourselves to the point of genuine success. By involving ourselves in worthwhile activities we are actually forcing success into our lives.

Let us first examine self-discipline. Self-discipline is developed through application. Becoming involved is certainly an ideal way to channel our energies into a selected field or fields. For you see, we are able to choose our own areas of interest. And, if we are self-disciplined in one phase of life, this self-discipline will carry over to other areas.

Next, we move to the topic of knowledge. We all realize the value of education, but do we realize its value in relation to the attainment of knowledge? Again, we find that self-involvement offers the opportunity to become more knowledgeable through education. By becoming involved, we are doing something just a little bit better. We are being educated, thus increasing our knowledge.

Last, but not least, we turn to the area of communication. Since association and analysis are necessary prerequisities for effective communication, we should attempt to be in contact with people. Becoming involved with people is essential, for we must be aware of the fact that we will forever be involved in numbers — not alone. We will be associating and analyzing many different types; therefore, our power of effective communication will increase.

So, we can see that reaping the benefits of involvement will bring success to the human race.

T. B. Seal Sale Drive Nets $8,832

The Allegany-Garrett Tuberculosis association has received $8,832.83 up to Monday in its annual Christmas Seal campaign, according to Mrs. Elizabeth Nave, campaign chairman.

Returns are running slightly ahead of figures for the same date last year when $7,531.11 was collected.

Allegany county residents have contributed $7,562.78 this year, compared to $6,361.61 for the same date last year. From Garrett County $1,270.05 has been received, up from $1,193.50 for the same period in 1967.

The association mailed 27,000 envelopes with Christmas seals to residents of the two counties earlier this month. Residents were being asked to make their contributions as soon as possible. Reminders will be mailed in December.

Funds collected in the once a year campaign are used to provide chest X-rays, service to patients, health education, public information and research.

The problem of loneliness among Volkswagen Station Wagon owners.

We built the Volkswagen Station Wagon like a box. With 176 cubic feet of space inside, behind the front seat. That's a lot of space. (61 cubic feet more than in the largest conventional wagon.)

Most of the time that great amount of space is great. Whenever you've got something to take with you, such as a wife, some kids, and an occasional mother-in-law or two. An incredible number of odd-shaped objects will go inside.

And when you've really got a lot to take with you, such as all the aforementioned, plus suitcases for all the aforementioned, the space inside a VW wagon surpasses great and goes all the way to magnificent.

But those times you're driving all alone, you really know you're alone. The wagon can seem awfully empty.

However, it'll never make your wallet seem that way. Whether you're carrying something or not, you're always saving money. Because the VW wagon gets up to 23 miles per gallon of gas, takes less oil than conventional wagons, and no antifreeze.

Just think of that when you're faced with the problem of occasional loneliness. And about how much better that is than the problem of claustrophobia among conventional station wagon owners.

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT

Southern States Industrial Council

A Mandate For Change

Though the presidential election had a photo-finish, it represents a mandate for major change in government policies. It was a close victory for Richard Nixon; but to get the real significance of the election one has to count the votes that went for George Wallace. Considered together, as they ought to be, the Nixon and Wallace votes represent a big majority of Americans who disapprove of the policies and programs of liberalism.

Whether the Nixon victory was big or little, the electorate decided that it is time for a change. The Great Society was repudiated, as were the specific solutions offered by the Johnson - Humphrey administration. It is clear that a majority of citizens don't like the way the war has been conducted in Vietnam. They don't like violence in the streets and anarchism on the campus. They don't like inflation that robs the ordinary citizen of his earnings.

Mr. Nixon will not have an easy time when he takes office January 20. His administration will inherit the terrible fiscal mess created by the Kennedy and Johnson administrations. Enormous sums have been wasted in the last eight years, such as the $6 billion poured into the War on Poverty without good results. Unforunately, American taxpayers will have to pay the bills for the last two administrations for many years to come. They also will be paying for these wasteful programs in the form of inflation.

On the financial front, the need is to cut federal spending. The Office of Economic Opportunity, which runs the War on Poverty, should be abolished as an initial step to save resources. Foreign aid should be brought to a halt, except where it involves the security of essential military allies of the United States. The federal payroll should be pruned of unnecessary help recruited by the Kennedy and Johnson administrations.

Many, many things need to be done. For example, the Post Office Department should be placed on a pay-as-you-go basis under businesslike administration.

It is likely that Mr. Nixon will bring businessmen back into government and be business-oriented in his thinking. His experience of high-level government was during the Eisenhower administration when experienced businessmen were regarded as a national asset. All government programs need across-the-board appraisal from business teams, so as to weed out programs that retard the free enterprise system. No government can create prosperiy for the United States. But the Nixon administration, if it makes the righ decision, can help create the right climate for enterprising citizens and companies.

The response of Congress to the new administration will be of critical importance. Fortunately, the election returns indicate that the conservative coalition will be stronger than ever. The conservatives have picked up some good allies, such as Senator Edward Gurney (R-Fla.) and Barry Goldwater of Arizona, who will be welcomed back to the national scene. Those who believe in responsible government also have reason to rejoice at some of the retirements ordered by the voters, such as Senators Wayne Morse of Oregon and Joseph Clark of Pennsylvania.

The new administration certainly will have reason to be mindful of the increasingly important role of the Southern States in the national political picure. Mr. Nixon could not have been elected without the electoral votes of such Southern States as Florida, South Carolina, North Carolina, Virginia, Tennessee and Kentucky. The next administration should include leaders drawn from the South.

The new administration also will be politically wise if it takes note of the tremendous conservative protest vote given to former Gov. George Wallace. The new President will have to bear in mind that, in a political sense, he has need of attracting those voters during the next four years. This can only be done by strong White House action in behalf of a conservative program.

Always, there is a battle for the mind of an administration. The same type of battle can be expected in the months ahead. Conservatives need to keep up their activity so that their views get both a hearing and top-flight reception at the White House.

Music Department, Speech, Present Program Tuesday

An assembly completed the observance of Thanksgiving at Southern in the gymnasium, Nov. 26. This followed the annual Thanksgiving dinner of turkey and all the "fixins".

The program was a joint effort of the senior band, directed by Richard Clever; the senior chorus, directed by Mrs. Carolyn Wilt; and the Southern Speech Association, advised by Michael Posey.

The program opened with "The Pledge of Allegiance", composed by H. R. Wilson and sung by the combined choruses. "No Man is an Island", by Whitney S. Kramer was sung by the junior high chorus.

The four orations were accompanied by music by the band and chorus. "I speak for Democracy", written by E. Evans was given by George Tusing. "This Wondrous World" by Shelton Fuller was sung by the senior chorus.

Kim Liller read "My Country", by R. Davenport. The senior chorus sang "This is America", by B. Headlee. The senior band then played "El Capitan", by Sousa.

Rita Shrout read "Give Thanks for What?" by W. Croffut. Randy Overdorff gave an original composition, "Thanks For America".

The senior chorus sang "The Nation's Prayer" by C. Franck, with Lisa Eary sololist. The band played "America the Beautiful" and the senior chorus closed with "The Lord Bless You and Keep You", by P. Lukin.

Paragraph Opinions . . .

"The police, in our opinion, have been disarmed. No longer can discipline be maintained on our streets when our security forces have been stripped of their instruments to maintain law and order. A hard-nosed approach to this problem is, in our opinion, the only approach toward correcting the self-appointed right to violate the laws of this nation that are designed to protect those who desire to obey them".—Towando, Pa., Review.

"Many people are beginning to have serious thoughts about the results of permissive education and upbringing. The monkeys, it seems, have no doubts on the score. Perhaps they're brighter. At the University of California, an anthropologist studied monkey tribes in India. She discovered, for instance, that 'if infant monkeys deviated even slightly from the pattern that adult monkeys prefer, they are punished without fail and at once by being struck or bitten. The young monkeys soon learn to avoid annoying adults'. Maybe those monkeys are really smarter than we are". —St. Albans, Vt., Messenger.

"It was not strength but weakness that impelled the rulers of Russia to order the military occupation of Czechoslovakia. It was the weakness born of fear —the fear that, unless it were stamped out with a ruthless, overwhelming use of force, the movement toward liberal economic reforms and political democracy in that small country would gather increasing European satellites, and jeopardizing not only the external but even the internal security of Russia herself. Fear is a factor in the actions and reactions of all nations, of course, including the United States. But there is a fundamental and too-often forgotten difference between the international policies of the USSR and the USA. It is no less than the difference between totalitarianism and individual freedom.

Czech students staged "sit-ins" at several universities in protest to Communist take-over.

GC Commissioners Discuss Custer Road Problem

The Custer Road problem was the only matter discussed at a recent meeting of Garret County Commissioners at the Court House, Oakland.

A request was presented to the Commissioners by Sam Thomas and Bryson Thomas that something be done about the Custer Road. There has been a difference of opinion between Mr. Thomas and William Paragoia about the right of way. Mr. Thomas maintains the road is not public.

Also present at the meeting in addition to the Board and the Thomas', were Attorneys W. Dwight Stover and Lewis R. Jones. Mr. Stover represented the Board and Mr. Jones represented Mr. Paragoia. Mr. Stover as the Board's attorney resigned as attorney to Mr. Thomas. Mr. Paragoia was not present.

The Board recommended that the matter be taken to the Court for settlement. The matter concerns having the county plow snow on the Custer Road so that the Paragoia children may get to school. Mr. Thomas stated that he would not give permission to plow the road, but would not object to or try to stop the road from being plowed.

Czech students burned and ripped Soviet flags in Bratislava.

Already? . . .

It is a basic law of the land that a man is innocent until proved guilty. The public generally adopts that attitude in matters of crime; but not in politics. Any criminal, no matter how grave the charges or overwhelming the evidence, is freely acknowledged full protection under the law. Millions of Americans witnessed the televised slaying of Lee Harvey Oswald. But Jack Ruby was unanimously accorded the right to a fair trial.

Should a President-elect receive less?

We have just gone through a hotly-contested and emotional election campaign. The entire drama, from New Hampshire to the final tally, has been reported by the greatest army of reporters, commentators, propagandists and pundits in world history. From now until January 20 should be a time for reflection on where we have been and where we are going—what our goals are for the years ahead. We have a new President-elect and he, too, is entitled to a fair trial. Any pre-judging is unfair.

No one can say with finality what kind of President Mr. Nixon will be; but that fact has not stilled shrill voices which would deny him fair trial. Many of these are partisans of defeated candidates, of course. Others are chronic dissenters who would rather shout from the grandstand than participate in the fray.

One group that seems particularly over-anxious calls itself H.O.P.E.—Help Organize People Early. It is busy distributing campaign buttons for Senator Edward Kennedy in 1972. His demonstrable qualities of leadership seem to be restricted to the fame he has gained from the tragedies that have befallen his family. A new presidential campaign right now hardly bespeaks concern for the monumental problems our nation faces, but father a partisan idolatry.

We very much doubt that we will always agree with the policies of the new President. But we do know one thing: he is entitled to a reasonable period of time in which to prove himself. There will be a chance to judge him in the Congressional elections of 1970. There will be a chance to convict him or reward him in 1972. And surely everyone can wait at least until he gets down to his desk on January 21. —U. S. Press Association, Inc.

CERTIFICATION OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

I hereby certify that the figures given in this report are true and correct to the best of my knowledge and belief, and that they can be verified from the records of the Garrett County Board of Education.

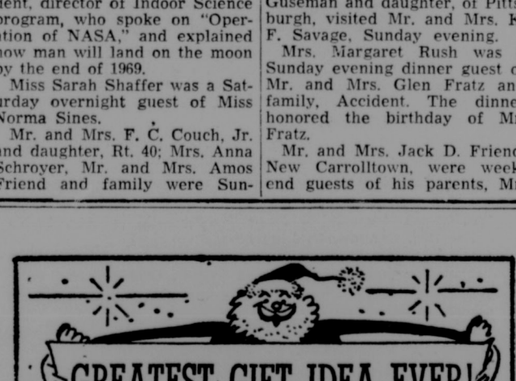
Garrett County Board of Education
Oakland,
Maryland
Gentlemen:

We have examined the statements of receipts collected and expenses disbursed and related cash accounts of the Garrett County Board of Education for the year ended June 30, 1968. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly, included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary under the circumstances.



In our opinion, the accompanying statements and exhibits fairly present the Garrett County Board of Education's cash position at June 30, 1968, and income collected and expenses disbursed by the Board of Education the year then ended on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

Respectfully submitted,
(sgd.) George McLaughlin
Certified Public Accountant

Still Free Enterprise . . .

Thirty-five years ago the direction of the federal government was sharply changed, and the construction of the welfare state and the planned economy was begun here. During this time the standard of living and general level of well-being and affluence of the average U. S. citizen have been immensely improvd.

Many people assume that this improvement has been because of the actions taken by government. Milton Friedman, in an issue of Newsweek magazine, expresses the opinion that this is an erroneous observation and that the advances which this nation have made have come about despite the intervention of government and not as a result of it.

In order to prove that government has been the moving force in creating a better life for the common man, Mr. Friedman points out that it would be necessary to prove that comparable improvement was never made in the absence of "a welfare state and planned economy policies". Is New Trooper

John Edward Foley, Oakland, was in the 61st recruit class of the Maryland State Police academy, consisting of 51 members, which were graduated at the headquarters in Pikesville last Friday.

Trooper Foley, a son of Mrs. Hester Foley, was graduated from Southern High school in 1964 and has been assigned to Waterloo barracks.

Principal speaker was Edwin R. Tully, special agent in charge of the Baltimore office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Mr. Tully told the group that cooperation among various law enforcement agencies in Maryland was one of the best in the nation. He suggested that the new troopers keep the basic concepts of policing uppermost in their minds at all times to maintain the high standards and tradition of the Maryland State Police.

Two Are Injured During Emergency Train Stop Sunday

The 17-mile grade, several miles west of Bloomington, in Garrett County was the scene of an unusual freight train accident which hospitalized a B and O conductor and flagman, Sunday, Dec. 1.

The injured conductor, W. J. Shaffer, Cumberland, was admitted to Potomac Valley Hospital, Keyser, with a possible right knee injury.

The flagman, B. D. Towler, also of Cumberland, sustained a contusion of the left leg. He was treated and released from the hospital. Both men were riding in the caboose of the train which was ascending the mountain.

The mishap occurred when the knuckle of a coupling on one of the empty coal cars on the front end of the train slipped over, causing the train to separate. The train went in to emergency braking and slack action occurred in the 170 empty coal cars. The two injured men were jostled in the caboose when the train came to a stop.

A helper was dispatched from Keyser to the scene of the accident and the two men were taken to west bound yards at Keyser in the caboose and then removed to a waiting ambulance.

The incident occurred about 5:50 p. m. on Big Curve east of Bond. The freight train continued its trip three hours later.

County Receives $52,933.64 From Income Taxes

Checks totaling $21,988,785.05 were mailed to Baltimore City and the twenty-three counties of the state this week, representing a distribution of local income tax revenue, it was announced by Comptroller of Maryland Louis L. Goldstein.

The law directs the Comptroller to make a distribution of local income tax from quarterly withholding receipts and declaration of estimated tax payments. The distribution is from the third quarter of 1968 withholding and estimated income receipts.

Garrett County received $52,-933.64, with Allegany Couty receiving $408,342.64.

The above distribution was based on the local income tax rates imposed by Baltimore City and the counties for the calendar year 1968, which were certified by them to the Comptroller. Garrett County's rate was listed at 45 percent.

Fire Guts Home Of Elmer Liller

Explosion of a skillet fryer, which subsequently caught a plastic type ceiling and spread flames rapidly completely gutted the one story frame home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Liller, near Loch Lynn, last Friday afternoon, causing damage estimated at $20,000.

Mr. Liller said damage on the home was approximately $15,-000, with some $5,000 loss on the contents.

Oakland firemen answered the alarm at 2 o'clock and dispatched two trucks to the scene. Firemen used water from a nearby creek to provide two booster lines in fighting the flames. Sam Myers, one of the firemen sustained a cut finger from broken glass.

The home was located on the Smouse road, south of Loch Lynn Heights, some three miles from Oakland.

Firemen listed two other alarms during the week. They were called to Hutton on Sunday afternoon, Dec. 1, when there was a burning automobile belonging to Leroy Guthrie. There was no damage. It was not known who turned in the alarm.

There was a flue fire at the home of Neil Sanders, South Third St., on Saturday afternoon at 1:15, but there was no damage.

277 Deer Slain First Four Days Of Buck Season

Season Started Fairly Lively Last Saturday, But Tapered Off Sharply

Two hundred seventy-seven bucks were slain during the first four days of the 7-day season, it was learned this morning from Harold Harman, from the Mt. Nebo game reserve. The number was totaled from the four deer checking stations in the county.

This was some short of the deer kill for the first four days of last year. The deer season started last year on Friday which gave two days before Sunday and resulted in 450 bucks being slain in the first five days of the season. But Mr. Harman pointed out that the season starting on Saturday gave out of county hunters only one day here before the week-end.

Game wardens said that the pressure is still off as far as the number of deer hunters is concerned, and there was a lot of talk about the timing of the season and the special $5.50 deer stamp that is now necessary for any hunters, in addition to the regular hunting license.

Many hunters and business people of the county began clamoring for the season to begin on Monday and end on Saturday, rather than a day or two before a Sunday stoppage. They claimed the economic picture had been hurt by this method. With the opportunity to come up from the cities for just one day of hunting, they did not plan to make an overnight stay and did not plan to come to spend a few days.

Mr. Harman explained that the special deer stamp had been the result of legislation during the last session of the legislature. Many complaints were being voiced this week in regard to the additional amount necessary for hunting bucks.

There was some difference this year in reporting the kill. It is no longer necessary to list the residence of the hunter, merely whether or not the li-

Weather Is Varied

Unusual Happening

An unusual weather event occurred suddenly this morning about 9:30 in the midst of a heavy snowfall. There was a vivid flash of lightning with accompanying thunder a short time later. This was followed by heavier snow and high winds, which continued for perhaps twenty or twenty-five minutes.

There was an accumulation of snow of about two inches up to 10 o'clock this morning. More snow was forecast with dropping temperatures.

Oakland and surrounding areas experienced a mixture of weather conditions during the past week ranging from sunny, warm days and balmy spring-like nights to snow flurries and high winds. A heavy snowstorm was under way this morning.

Overcast skies and temperatures in the 40s were called for last Wednesday. Rain fell most of Wednesday night with reports of lightning toward early morning.

Thursday, Thanksgiving, dawned sunny and warmer than usual. By early afternoon the sunshine faded and partially clouded skies moved into the picture. By Thursday evening, skies had cleared and temperatures raised once again re-

From Indian Blood Review

By the late Author and Historian
FELIX G. ROBINSON

It is extremely rare as a social phenomenon, especially because of the ethnic heterogeneity of the United States, that from the root of one family tree has grown up the life of an entire community.

But this is not all. Evelyn Olsen, a native daughter of Friendsville (descendant of Old John Friend) who most of her life has lived in California, has succeeded with historical events to identify the origins and growth of this mountain community with the expansionist movement of America from Tidewater westward during the formative years when the country was being welded into a nation.

The theme of INDIAN BLOOD runs like a mainstream through the entire story. It is not alone the blood strain within the Friend family but a sense of affinity with Indian life and ways in relation to the land. It is very seldom that an historian dealing with American history shows such as intelligible appreciation of the red man's culture; most books have taught generations of school children that the Indian was a bloodthirsty savage who could never conform to the ways of civilization.

Since there is a growing interest in the early customs, modes of life and manners of the earlier generation, Olsen's INDIAN BLOOD recounts numerous 'mechanics' and material of the pioneer existence that have disappeared and have been wholly forgotten; the making of a house, the virtuosity of a horse, the growing of foods and herbs; their preservation; the necessary vocations including many crafts. And then there are fragments of Youghiogheny river colloquialisms.

One is amazed to read an itemized description of the flora and fauna of the virgin land. . .a plethora of creative magnificence that she has preserved in prose-poetic phrases that upon reading one is reminded of the 'flashing of genius'. This is truly another unique quality of the book — that she can describe nature interlaced with history, both accurately and beautifully. And she evinces great courage in following the geneaological ramifications of this prolific and hardy family.

One cannot possibly find a single instance where another Maryland community has been so carefully documented and eloquently written. INDIAN BLOOD is a major contribution to not only Garrett County but to Maryland history.

Here is a book on Marvland history that should be exploited by the Maryland Historical Society—for it can go far in overcoming the prolonged historical illiteracy of Marylanders. It is a book that should be in the library of every Garrett County home. . .

It must be admitted that Friendsville, like all Appalachian Mountain communities, must share the blame in the exploitation of the mountain's once vast natural resources—and that the resultant semi-wasteland must be confronted with new cultural resources on the part of the sturdy remnaut of the parent stems. This interpretation is strongly implied in INDIAN BLOOD. . .

Evelyn Olsen has written a book of authentic, local history where at the end of each chapter she records her source material. But she takes this authentic history and weaves it into a story with the literary flair of novelist — and keeps the reader as excited as though a love theme were interwoven to give the story an added suspense.

. . . Olsen gives a spiritual and loving understanding of her community—and does it with good taste. There is no display of flattery or the pontifical and pompous bragging of one's family. She identifies the Friend family not only wtih the community but with numerous families that it was associated with in the course of its development. This kind of literature will have duration. . .

The team winning the county championship will progress to the district tournament. In former years Southern represented the county in class A district competition while Northern represented the county in class B district games.

Still Free Enterprise

strictions, and millions of immigrants came to our shores, most often without particular skills or prospects and in a state of poverty. As Mr. Friedman put it, "History records few if any example of a comparable transformation of poverty-stricken millions into prosperous workers and an affluent middle class. This remarkable performance owed much to the wise governmental policy—the policy of noninterference—but owed nothing to either welfare state or planned economy policies".

In Mr. Friedman's view, much of the social and economic legislation passed since 1933 has had the effect of interfering with individual freedom of action and the productive efficiency of American enterprise. He concludes that progress of the ordinary man has "been a product of the enormous opportunities provided to all by a competitive free-enterprise system", and he expresses the view that "recent improvement has occurred despite a mass of ill-considered mischievous legislation. It will continue even if that legislation is retained. But it would proceed more rapidly and its benefits would be spread wider if that legislation were repealed".

The old answers that arose in the years of the depression are not likely to answer the new questions of the present and future. Our national income continues to increase toward $900 billion a year, but almost half of the most recent gain is not real. It is measured in terms of inflated dollars. Jobs and high living standards depend on high productivity, but the ability to produce depends on the ability to sell. It depends on markets. Already rising prices in the United States are cutting into our ability to sell American goods in foreign markets. Pressure mounts for more government interference and the false protection of import controls.

The confrontation between liberal and conservative will continue in the United States, even though old political alignments are changing as shown in this election year. The nation is in a period of unprecedented change on all fronts. It is appropriate that we should at this time examine our history and the sources of our strength. There is much to support the view that we should also take a hard look at the political assumptions and cliches by which the majority of us have lived for a generation of time. — Industrial News Review.

Blood Clot Keeps Reichenbecher From Game

A blood clot in the left calf has sidelined Gary Reichenbecher for the opening games of the Northern Huskies basketball schedule, it was learned yesterday.

He is expected to be sidelined for at least the first game and possibly the second and third games. It will be only the fourth time in his three year scholastic career that he will miss competing.

Coach Pat Wolfe said his center had been out for a week and a half with the injury. When he returns Northern will have a a formidable forward wall. Reichenbecher will be flanked on either side with a pair of 6-2 forwards in seniors John Braskey and Roger Sisler. Braskey weighs 205 and Sisler is 170.

In the backcourt Coach Wolfe has inserted Jim Thomas, 5-9 senior; and either Wayne Georg, 5 ft. or Larry Brenneman, 5-10 as the other guard. Until Reichenbecher returns Wolfe has moved Braskey to center and Brenneman to forward.

The 'Hunger' Smear

The blackening of the reputation of the United States is carried out in a variety of ways in this time of protest and truth-twisting. But none of these is more unfair and vicious than the presentation of America as a land of hunger and of starving children.

Fortunately, some congressional leaders have moved quickly to counter the deliberate tarnishing of America's reputation. Thus Rep. W. R. Poage (D-Tex.), Chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, has condemned as "inaccurate and misleading if not blatantly false" a recent report that lists 256 "hunger" counties in the United States. This report, released by the Office of Economic Opportunity, cited some of the most progressive counties in the country as "hunger" counties.

Unfortunately, some members of Congress are using such misleading reports to push the federal government into bigger food giveaway programs. U. S. Rep. Frank Horton of New York is one of these Congressmen. He said that "hunger is an American national emergency. It must be treated as a national problem, with the accompanying federal initiative".

Now, it cannot be disputed that some children go to bed hungry in this country, but that's a very different thing from describing America as a land of hunger. Furthermore, the reason that some children are hungry is not because of a failure in our economic system. No economic system, no set of government regulations, can give each child in this land responsible, hardworking parents. This is where the problem lies.

The advocates of federal food programs do not want to talk about it, but the fact is that such hunger as exists is largely the fault of parental failure and of weak moral fiber. Many of the children who are on insufficient diets in urban or rural slums are children born out of wedlock. The mothers in many cases are teenagers. No father is known, or the father refuses to accept any responsibility. Every social agency in the nation is familiar with this situation.

Yet the "liberals" decline to recognize this situation because they would have to accept the fact of irresponsibility on the part of the people involved. They would have to acknowledge that some elements in our society are unfit for parenthood and have no feeling of responsibility for children brought into this world.

Feeding children is not a federal responsibility. It is the responsibility of parents. Yet many children are brought into this world before their parents are prepared to feed them. No thought is given to how these children will be cared for, fed, clothed or housed. The children are simply dumped on society, and the taxpayers are told that they have a "sick society" because they don't provide larger welfare payments and more extensive food stamp programs.

This is not the only aspect of the problem that the "liberals" prefer to avoid. Numerous speeches are made about the poor diet of urban and rural slum children, how they subsist on gifts and lack of vitamins. But nothing is said about the money that slum-dwellers spend on alcohol. Liquor stores in slums always do a rush business. It is possible on a weekend to see long lines of slum-dwellers at those stores stocking up on drink for the weekend. This means that the adults in the family are spending money that should go for foodstuffs.

What this evidence proves is that such hunger as exists in America today is overwhelmingly the result of individual irresponsibility. An unfortunately large number of people are second-class citizens in that they don't accept responsibility for their own families. They look to Big Government to be super-parent for those who don't assume their share of the burdens.

Much is said these days about sharing affluence and dignity and about social justice. Well, the ends of justice aren't served when responsible citizens have to carry the irresponsible on their backs, when productive citizens are taxed and taxed to cover up the delinquency of adults who aren't fit for parenthood or first-class citizenship.

As for affluence, it can't be created by distributing more handouts, by redistributing existing wealth. Affluence will spread only as the desire to work spreads among those who currently are uninterested in making sufficient effort to give themselves a decent life.

As for human dignity, that also is a result of an individual's personal efforts and personal integrity. Congress can't give dignity to a citizen by legislative act, by passage of a new Civil Rights law, for example. Dignity is an inner quality that manifests itself outwardly through conscious striving, respect for law and by self-reliance as opposed to dependence on Big Government. It is desirable that all Americans have dignity and a share in affluence. But individuals have to win these things for themselves. No one can do it for them.

Missionary Serious After Car Accident

Miss Susie Thomas, a missionary to Japan for eighteen years, is in a critical condition at Sagara Hospital, 31-3 Matsubara Cho, Kagoshima City, Japan. She was hospitalized on June 20, 1968, for injuries to her neck and back received in a car accident.

Before going to China as a missionary, Miss Thomas taught school in Preston County. When the war broke out between China and Japan, the missionaries were forced to leave. They went to the Philippines, thinking they would be permitted to return in a few months, but Pearl Harbor was attacked and two hours afterward Baguio in the Philippines. She was a prisoner of war in Santo Tomas, and later in Bilibid Prison, for over three years, during which time she was not permitted to write to her family or receive mail.

Her life, as well as other internees, was saved by a shipment of Red Cross food and medicine that the Japanese allowed to get through to them.

In 1945, she was one of the American civilians freed from Japanese Prison camps in the Philippines. She received a citation from President Truman, for her work with the children, and her heroic service to other members of the prison camp.

After her starvation in the prison camp, she was unable to pass the rigid medical examination to go to Japan under the sponsorship of the Church of the Brethren. In 1954, she went on her own to Kyushu, the southermost main island of Japan, a region where there were no Christians, and opened a faith mission, which is supported by interested friends.

Besides her missionary duties, she visited hospitals, taught an English class at a local high school, did medical and relief work and for a time conducted a Bible radio program for children.

She was going to one of her missionary circuits when her car was hit from the rear by a transport truck. The hospital at Kagoshima City, where she has been hospitalized for almost six months, is about fifty miles from her home.

Miss Thomas received her A.B. Degree from Fairmont State College, M.A. Degree from New York University, and also studied at Bridgewater College, Union Theological Seminary, Columbia University. She holds a Ph.D. Degree from Bob Jones University, Greenville, S. C.

Her eighty four year old father lives with her sister, Mrs. Park W. Dennis, Brandonville, W. Va., a teacher at Northern High School. She has four brothers. An uncle, Rev. C. R. Thomas, lives at Friendsville.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Continuing discussions of the gold situation causes many people to suspect France's DeGaulle is plotting against the U.S., leading to many demands to force France to pay it's world war I debt.

* * *

This opens up interesting speculations on the operation of the American democracy. Every school youth is taught the American system is one whereby its government is sensitive to the wishes of the people.

C. W. Harder

But actually France was let off the hook on its war debt if it would forgive the reparations due it from Germany. This giving away of money was done without the consent of the people.

Then at the end of World War II, again without the consent of the American people, and without the knowledge of most of them, America pledged away its national right to change the value of its currency.

In short, it was agreed that if all nations would peg their currency to the U. S. dollar, the U. S. would then maintain a gold price at $35 per ounce. But Britain, France, others, can, and did, revalue their currency which is a sovereign right. But unknown to the people of the nation, the American government signed away this established right of all nations, so that come heck or high water, the American nation can be kept on the brink of monetary disaster.

Thus, the United States, in affect, without the knowledge of its people, set itself up as the banker to the world, a role of requiring responsibility.

But instead of exercising such responsibility, political leaders, egged on by labor barons of uncertain motives set to work to see who could outdo each other in spending.

A close and logical parallel can be drawn to all this. There are a number of well known banks in this nation. In all of them people have confidence in them, and no one is afraid to deposit funds in them. But these banks, as well as all others, do reflect prudent management.

But let even the largest bank in the United States consistently publish statements showing a deficit, and it can be assured there would be a bank run.

Thus the U. S. is in the silly position where pocket handkerchief nations such as Holland, Belgium, Switzerland and others who could all be fitted in the state of Texas, with perhaps a slight assist from Alaska, are demanding a tax increase in America. Unfortunately, oriented to European patterns of consumption, they fail to understand U. S. consumer consumption is this nation's economic foundation, and that any further sopping up of consumer spending power could trigger a fantastically severe depression. If the American democracy is to survive, it will only be because the people again take over the control of their affairs and there is a general ousting of the fatuous theorists in Foggy Bottom who have too long acted in stealth without the peoples consent.

Listen, Americans!

By DR. GEORGE S. BENSON
President—National Education Program
Searcy, Arkansas

The American press has lately led the way in pointing out the bad in Communism, but, like the public, it has a short memory, is substantially influenced by wishful thinking and by an unrelenting, massive stream of cunning Soviet propaganda. Although the press has access to the day-to-day record of Soviet Communism's evil nature and evil deeds — in its own "morgues" — it falls victim time and time again to the delusion that a smiling Russian Bear must be a good Russian Bear.

Since the New York Times in recent years has so frequently supported the idea that Soviet bosses have discarded their schemes for conquest, that they now respect all nations' desires for independence, and want to live decently in a peaceful world, we recall below the Times editorial of September 24, 1960. (Khrushchev, whom the Times had helped to greet royally in New York a year before, 36 months after his bloody crushing out of freedom in Hungary, came to New York in September 1960 on a rampage. He shouted down distinguished speakers at the U.N., beat his shoe on the desk, played ring-master in a circus of performing Communist puppets from 15 nations which were and still are held in the Red steel-trap).

"The use of lies and falsehoods by Communists", said the Times, "is nothing new and normally does not require special comment. But Nikita Khrushchev's use of the big lie technique before the U. N. General Assembly yesterday had a breathtaking impudence which made it a special insult to the intelligence of all mankind.

"The lie was as simple as it was enormous: the head of the greatest colonial empire of the present day told the people of the world he has no colonies, and spoke sanctimoniously as the enemy of colonialism. The man who ordered the Hungarian Revolution throttled in blood (NOTE: But the Times didn't say, "And whom the U. S. greeted with open arms sometimes afterwards") dared weep crocdile tears over the fate of the many states now members of the U.N. who have been given their freedom with no struggle of any kind in recent years. It was a shameful performance.

"Let us look at the Soviet Colonial Empire.

"It consists of two parts. One part is made up of states nominally independent, but enmeshed so completely in Moscow's military, political and economic power that they cannot act with true independence. These states are: Poland, East Germany, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Rumania, Albania, Bulgaria, Outer Mongolia, North Korea. (NOTE: The Times failed to mention several other puppets.)

"The other part of the Soviet colonial empire is made up of the non-Russian people and lands which were first subjugated by the Czars, incorporated into their empire, then subjugated by Lenin and Stalin, so that today they are still vassals of Moscow. Many people live in the prison of nations that is the Soviet Union today, but the chief ones among them are the following:

"Ukranians, Byelorussians, Lithuanians, Latvians, Estonians, Armenians, Georgians, Azerbaijanis, Uzbeks, Turkmen, Kirgiz, Tadzhiks, Tartars, Yakuts, Buryats".

In point of fact, the Soviets got what they demanded in U.N. reorganization.

In point of fact, they disregard any U.N. decisions they don't like. And in point of fact, their second murdering of Czechoslovakia should not have surprised anyone, for the nature of evil is unchanging; Godless Communism cannot change the blackness of its nature and its deeds. When will we learn?

We give Chevy pickups strength without the trucky muscle-bound look. And you'll find a Chevy a pleasure to drive.

Let's say you select a CST (Custom Sport Truck) . . . or the long wheelbase Longhorn pickup that's made especially for kingsize camper bodies. Just add things like air conditioning and bucket seats and you have more luxury than you'll find in the average second car.

Let your Chevrolet dealer tell you all about the smooth ride, the long-lasting toughness and particularly the low cost of a new Chevy pickup. After all, good looks aren't everything!

Twenty-five Killed On State Highways

Twenty-five persons were killed on Maryland highways last week according to the weekly survey published by the State Police. Eight of those killed were drivers, nine were passengers, and eight were pedestrians. Alcohol was a contributing factor in five of the deaths, speed in thirteen, and "driver error" in eighteen.

"Last week the twenty-five persons killed on Maryland highways jumped this year's total to 768, an increase of forty-five over the same period in 1967,", noted Lt. Col. W. H. Conroy, Deputy Superintendent of the State Police.

"Failing to grant right of way, on the part of both drivers and pedestrians, stands out as the major cause of these fatalities. Violation of other basic safety laws — excessive speed for conditions, crossing center line when unsafe to do so, making an improper turn, drinking and driving — also contributed to the high fatality rate".

Speaking of Justice . . .

The professional hard-wringers are at it again.

Discussing the skyrocketing crime rate and the need for law and order at a press conference the other day, J. Edgar Hoover was asked about justice by one of the reporters. The FBI chief suggested that justice was incidental.

Whatever amount of carping may be made about the observation will not provide justice for those who are murdered, raped or robbed and denied the protection they have paid for through taxation and to which they are entitled. Is it justice that statutory punishment is nullified through legalistic legerdemain? Is it justice that a man who admits his crime should escape its penalty?

We have heard a great deal in recent years about poverty being responsible for crime. Some of the chief exponents of that theory have wrapped themselves in a cloak of alleged humanitarianism and urged that they be given access to the public treasury with the assurance that they could buy the bandits off. They haven't put it quite that bluntly, but it is the burden of their appeal.

The record, however, doesn't seem to confirm their representations. During a period when steadily increasing amounts of public money have been devoted to alleviation of poverty — and that in a period hailed as one of great prosperity — the rate of crime has accelerated beyond belief.

Great Britain has had a similiar experience, according to Lord Justice John Passmore Widgery, of that nation's Court of Appeals. Addressing the American Bar Association, in Philadelphia, he admitted he had accepted the view that, with the welfare state established in his country, crime would taper off. Somewhat ruefully, he conceded that, in spite of all that had been done to eliminate slums and wipe out poverty, the evidence revealed that crime is continuing to rise in Britain about as fast as it is here.

And when another speaker suggested that we must rely more on public housing and more handouts to combat crime, Judge Widgery commented: "Anyone here who believes that relief of poverty will bring a decrease in crime is in for some kind of disappointment."

We've known a lot of poor people; and they weren't criminals. But no one encouraged them to believe that they could get — or take — something for nothing. — U. S. Press Association.

Plea To High Court Made Last Friday In Miller Case

First legal steps have been taken in the procedure of seeking a review of the Gary Lee Miller murder conviction and death sentence by the U. S. Supreme Court.

Miller's attorney, John C. Sullivan, who has filed as an indigent, is serving without fee other than traveling expenses. Sullivan filed two briefs last Friday.

The first was a motion to stay the issuance of a mandate by the Maryland Court of Appeals which denied Miller's appeal of the Allegany County Circuit Court murder verdict and death sentence in the slaying of Judy Lee Ziegler, 20, Salisbury, Pa. The appeal was denied in early November.

The second motion filed by Sullivan, Friday, requested that the Appeals Court provide a transcript of the record of the proceedings.

Mr. Sullivan would then petition the Supreme Court and submit a brief. The Attorney General of Maryland would have the right to file a counter brief, then the Supreme Court would decide whether to accept the case for the argument.

Miller, of Pocahontas, Pa., near Garrett County, who was then 17, was convicted of first degree murder of Judges Harold E. Naughton and James S. Getty on November 16, 1967. He was ordered to suffer death by gas during the first week of January 1968. The appeal to the Court of Appeals stayed the execution.

Since the execution date has passed, the local court would be required to set a new execution date when the Appeals mandate is received. Mr. Sullivan has moved for a stay of Appeals Court mandate, in effect a stay of execution, pending his petition for a writ of certiorari to the Supreme Court.

The State of Court Appeals rejected and spurned the arguments that a confession by Miller should not have been submitted as evidence, that it was not given voluntarily, and that the state had failed to prove Miller was fully aware of what he was doing when he gave the statement.

It was also found there was nothing to indicate the statement was not given voluntarily and that Miller was twice told he had the right to an attorney and was allowed to see his parents. It was said there was "no allegation of misconduct on the part of officers during the short periods of interrogation". The Appeals Court also disposed the claim for insufficent evidence.

Execution Date Delayed

The setting of a new execution date for Gary Miller was delayed by agreement of the Maryland Court of Appeals, Tuesday, Dec. 3.

The delay was requested by Miller's lawyers to allow them enough time to take an appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court.

The Court of Appeals upheld last Nov. 12, the death sentence given Miller in the 1967 murder of Miss Ziegler of Frostburg.

An order to indefinitely hold up the mandating of the Nov. 12 decision was signed by Chief Judge Hall Hammond, Tuesday. A new execution date cannot be set until the high court ruling is mandated to Allegany County Circuit Court.

TVA Does It Again . . .

An announcement by the Tennessee Valley Authority of the second increase in its electric rates in two years brings up a number of interesting points that should not escape the notice of citizens and taxpayers who have provided funds for the nation's most glittering example of government in the electric power business. To begin with, TVA simply notified its customers that rates would be increased. There were no extensive hearings such as an investor-owned, taxpaying utility must face. The rates of investor-owned companies are set by regulatory agencies. In the case of TVA, there is no public service commission standing between power consumers and the decisions of TVA management. The decision is announced and that is the end of the matter.

Another interesting point in the most recent TVA rate increase is the reason given for it, namely, ". . .to meet continuing rising costs of material, interest, labor and fuel and expenditures for air and water quality-control facilities". Significantly, no mention is made of rising taxes and for good reason. The Tennessee Valley Authority is largely tax exempt. Unlike investor-owned, taxpaying utilities, it is free of the worry of the rising taxes that have first call on the earnings of the investor-owned power companies. The only thing TVA has in common with the private companies is inflationary cost increases which no one, not even TVA, can escape.

Recent tax increases on top of inflation have compelled many investor-owned utilities to seek compensatory rate increases. Ironically, the most enthusiastic supporters of more government in business must stand aside in embarrassed silence while TVA boosts rates despite record-breaking power sales and revenues—even as they strenuously oppose any rate increases by private companies to meet the same costs that TVA cites as the reason for higher rates.—Industrial News Review.

A Fact of Life . . .

A New York restaurant has celebrated 100 years of operation by serving meals for one day at their 1868 prices. Here is the 100-year-old price list: corned beef and cabbage, 4 cents; veal cutlets, 5 cents; beef steak, 4 cents; roast chicken, 10 cents; pie, 2 cents; coffee, 1 cent. During its one-day centennial observance, the restaurant lost $5,000 for one very obvious reason. The meal that cost 12 cents a hundred years ago is now $9.50. Another indication of the decline in the value of the dollar is the current "living wage" which is estimated at about $125 per week for an average American family. In 1904, a Committee of the Chicago Bureau of Charities agreed that no family could live comfortably on less than one dollar a week per capita.

While the foregoing statistics may appear irrelevant today, they do serve to illustrate a fact about the U. S. economic system that few seem to appreciate. That fact is that in spite of inflation, living standards have risen uninterruptedly year after year as a result of increasing productivity. The rise of mass production and mass distribution in a free competitive market have been the major contributing factors in preserving the purchasing power of the dollar. Many years ago, the nation's more progressive retailers, notably the chain stores, introduced the merchandising philosophy of moving the greatest possible volume of goods at minimum prices. This philosophy is basic to the merchandising system today. It has been a logical development of the free market. Our competitive mass distribution system is the surest guarantee that consumers will continue to enjoy maximum benefits of high productivity. Fortunately, a hundred years ago freedom in the marketplace was an accepted fact of life. If we are wise, we will accept it as a fact of life today — and seek to protect it against the invasion of over - regulation—Industrial News Review.

Daigle- Wilt Vows Said November 23

Wedding vows were exchanged Saturday, November 23, by Nancy Lee Wilt and Steven Edmond Daigle during a double ring ceremony performed by Rev. Gerald C. Huhn, at the Mt. Calvary Lutheran Church, Westernport.

Organist, Mrs. Edward M. Miller played traditional music.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Wilt, Swanton. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Helen Ray, Westernport, and Robert Daigle, New Hampshire.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street-length empire, A-line gown of white lace over satin, styled with short set-in sleeves of lace. A bouffant shoulder length veil of bridal illusion fell from a satin bow. She carried a nosegay of white carnations centered with yellow roses and stephanotis.

December 5 - 11

Today the moon will be 252,600 miles from earth. This apogee is the only one this month; therefore, this is the farthest that the moon will be from earth during the month. This week the moon is between 'ts full and last quarter phases. It rises between 5:00 p. m. and 11:00 p. m. during the week.

Sunrise was at 7:24 a. m. today. The daylight lasts until about one-half hour after sunset, which is at 4:54 p. m. Next week sunrise is at 7:29 a. m. while sunset is at 4:54 p. m. The daylight hours continue to shorten as we lose five minutes of daylight during the week.

Four planets are visible to the unaided eye. In the evening Venus and Saturn are seen. Venus is in the southwest It is the brightest object in that part of the sky; however, it sets about three hours after sunset. Saturn is high in the east. It is the brighest object in its part of the sky and is visible into the early morning hours.

The predawn hours bring Mars and Jupiter into the eastern sky. Jupiter is the brightest of the two and rises first, about an hour after midnight. Mars rises about two hours after midnight. Both of these planets are in Virgo, the maiden.

Southeast of Cassiopeia one can find a small, narrow triangle, which marks the cap of Perseus, the hero that rescued Andromeda from the monster. Perseus extends from Cassiopeia toward a bright star to the south called Capella. The second brightest star in Perseus is a variable star called Algol, the ghoul.

On Monday a youth group from Salisbury will visit the science center at 7:30 p. m. Mrs. Hoye will bring the first grade from Crellin to study causes of day and night on Wednesday.

Yes___No___Though I do worry, I feel there's a way to prevent it.

Yes___No___Sometimes I antagonize people because of my actions or attitude. I know there must be a way to correct this.

Yes___No___It seems contrary to reality, but I feel that real happiness is something apart from wealth, power, or fame.

Yes___No___There must be a practical way of raising my family in a better world.

A "yes" answer to any of these questions is definite proof of God's concern for you. God talks to man by making him "feel" and "know" of a better way of living. You feel discontent about present conditions, you sense "something better," somewhere.

That's God talking to you. Listen to him. Come to church this Sunday. Read His Living Word in the Bible. This could be the chance you've been waiting for.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
. . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

DARK DAYS

Lesson for December 8, 1968

Background Scripture: Revelation 1 through 3.
Devotional Reading: Revelation 1:4-8.

"It is a gloomy moment in history," writes an editorialist. "Not in the lifetime of most men has there been so much grave and deep apprehension. Never has the future seemed so incalculable than at this present time. The political cauldron seethes and bubbles with uncertainty. Russia hangs, as usual, like a cloud — dark and silent upon the horizon of Europe . . . It is a solemn moment, and of our trouble, no man can see the end."

Rev. Althouse

Yesterday's paper? No, these words, so contemporary in their sound, were written by an editorialist one hundred and ten years ago and appeared in the October, 1858, issue of Harper's Weekly. This voice from the past helps to remind us that the bleak conditions of our world today are hardly something new under the Sun.

Always in crisis

It is not only in the realm of international affairs that we find these recurring problems. For example, more than two thousand years ago, in 394 B.C., the philosopher Socrates wrote of a problem that sounds all too familiar: "The children now love luxury. They show disrespect to elders and love chatter in place of exercise. Children are now tyrants, not servants, of their households . . . They contradict their parents, chatter before company, gobble up dainties at the table . . . and tyrannize over their teachers."

Both the editorialist and the philosopher bemoan the dark days that gave befallen their world, just as editorialists and philosophers and many others do today. There are many in our own world who have little doubt but that the world is coming apart at the seams and are wondering whether it can have much time left before disaster is total and final. That is hardly a new fear, for society, it seems, has always been in crisis. There have always been dark days from which it has seemed the world could scarcely emerge.

In contrast, the writer of Revelation possessed an unfailing confidence and faith about the future. He knew that the churches of Asia Minor were being subjected to all kinds of threats and pressure. He knew that some Christians were wringing their hands in dispair, thinking the days of the Church were numbered.

Fear not.

Some churches were putting up a good fight against the dark forces — they needed to be encouraged to continue. Some were making serious mistakes — they needed to be corrected. Others, like the church at Laodicea, seemed to have "thrown in the towel" — they needed to be saved from destruction. It was for these reasons that John wrote the unusual book which we know as Revelation.

"Fear not," he says, addressing the seven churches in Asia Minor. (Revelation 1:17) He does not mean that they have nothing about which to be concerned. That would be dishonest counsel for he knew that there was lots of trouble ahead for them. He recognized the problems and forsaw the dangers, so that his "Fear not" was not an assurance that these were not real, but that the vindication of God was even more real. The churches would not be spared their dark days, but they would be given the power to be victorious in them.

Hold fast!

Thus, Revelation is a communication of hope to Christians who are, like ourselves, surrounded by hostile, challenging forces. It is written for those who scan the horizon of the future for some sign of encouragement, of promise, of hope. And their hope, he say, is in Christ who in God's own good time will conquer. "I am coming soon; hold fast what you have, so that no one may seize your crown". (Revelations 3:11 RSV) The dark days of those to whom Revelation was first addressed are so similar to our own. And their hope is our hope too: the victorious Christ!

New Governor Will Need A Majority Vote for Election

Attorney General Francis B. Burch said last Friday that a majority vote of those present and voting would be needed when the General Assembly selects a new Maryland governor to serve until 1970.

In an opinion released at a news conference Burch also said that a quorum of 93 members of the legislature must be present, that the Senate and House of Delegates meet in a single assembly to act, and that it must be by voice, not secret ballot.

"It is our opinion that a governor must be elected by a majority of all of the votes cast on the question, and not by a mere plurality of the votes cast", the opinion said. "We find no authority for the proposition that a constitutional majority is required for such election.

Gov. Spiro T. Agnew, Republican vice president-elect, has said he will resign as governor during the first 15 days of January. The General Assembly convenes for its regular 70-day session January 15 and Agnew has said he would call a special legislative session if necessary. The governor is expected to be a Democrat because Democrats outnumber Republicans 152 to 33 in the General Assembly.

Burch has removed himself as a candidate. Among half a dozen who have announced, House Speaker Marvin Mandel is given a strong advantage.

Delegate B. O. Aiken, of Accident, said in his opinion Mr. Mandel was the best person being considered for governor and that he planned to vote for him. Among the candidates are Senator William S. James, president of the Senate; Harry R. Hughes, majority leader; Louis Goldstein, comptroller; Dale Anderson, Thomas Hunter Lowe, Edward T. Hall and Rogers Morton, the latter a Republican.

The Attorney General felt there would be 183 to 185 members present and it would take 93 votes for election.

The requirement that House and Senate meet together, Burch said, "was clearly the intent of the framers of the Constitution of 1851 as well as authors of the Constitution of 1867, and the view of 1959 legislature which adopted amendments. It was also found that a single assembly was convened on each of the three previous occasions in 1874, 1886 and 1947 when the General Assembly met to fill a vacancy in the office of governor.

Student Voices

The 'Helpful' Parent?
by Dennis DeBerry

What does the average parent expect from his teenager in school? The most frequent answer is, "The best that he can do". For the parent realizes the necessity of a secondary education in the growth of a mind and attitude. But how much does the parent really assist the student so that he may do his best? The typical answer is, "Very little".

In order for the student to grow mentally, he must have the necessary breathing room and academic freedom. A flower crowded by the dominance of another flower soon withers. So, the student must be given and must accept a sense of responsibility toward his academic duties. But how often is this essential freedom given to the student? The response is, "Infrequent!"

The parent's demand that the teenager do his very best and obtain the most that the subject has to offer. Yet, the parent objects to the student spending extra-curricular time and effort on the subject in order to further his talents in it! For example, a parent forbids his teenager to play football because of the nightly practice. The parent's complaint is that football is too time consuming. The same thing is true in the extra-curricular areas of drama, basketball, debate. Unknowingly, the parent really objects to the student's own development and advancement.

In such an instance is the parent really assisting the child with the proper attitude? Is the parent really helping the child to do his BEST? The parent should remember that these activities, such as sports or speech, serve a purpose in the development and advancement in the student's secondary education. The parent must know that if they refuse these opportunities to their teenager they refuse learning, advancement and development. By refusing him extra-curricular activities, are the parents actually benefiting the child's growth and advancement so he may do his BEST? The answer to these questions is obviously, "No!" There is no way the parents can assist the child's learning processes by refusing him learning experiences.

The student's wise budgeting of time can solve this parent-student dilemma. The parent should appreciate the student's effort to allot his time so that he may participate in these activities. The student should be allowed to pursue his interests and obtain as much as the activity has to offer!

PLAN NOW FOR A HEALTHY CHRISTMAS

This year, before you select gifts for your relatives and friends, be just a little selfish and get a gift for yourself first. Go to your physician and treat yourself to a complete health check-up.

It is a wonderful feeling when the physician gives you "a good report." And you do not feel too bad if he mentions some little problem for you to take care of. For, health check-ups are taken to uncover little problems before they become big ones. You can have a healthier and therefore happier Christmas.

Figure it up. By the time you're 65, you'll have earned a tidy fortune. But, you'll probably have spent most of it, too. So, between now and then, you should provide for an income upon reaching retirement age, plus protection for your family if you should die before then. ■ Our retirement plans are designed to accomplish both for as little as $1 a week. ■ A quick phone call will bring you specific details on low rates and the full story on Woodmen of the World's outstanding program of fraternal and social benefits.

Also investigate Woodmen's Health and Accident and Income Protection plans.

CERTIFICATION OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

I hereby certify that the figures given in this report are true and correct to the best of my knowledge and belief, and that they can be verified from the records of the Garrett County Board of Education.

Garrett County Board of Education
Oakland,
Maryland
Gentlemen:

We have examined the statements of receipts collected and expenses disbursed and related cash accounts of the Garrett County Board of Education for the year ended June 30, 1968. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly, included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary under the circumstances.

In our opinion, the accompanying statements and exhibits fairly present the Garrett County Board of Education's cash position at June 30, 1968, and income collected and expenses disbursed by the Board of Education the year then ended on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

Respectfully submitted,
(sgd.) George McLaughlin
Certified Public Accountant

We didn't make it any easier to look at. Just easier to drive.

You'd never know it to look at it, but that's a Volkswagen without a clutch pedal.

What it does have is something called an automatic stick shift. "Automatic" because you can drive it up to 55 mph without shifting at all. "Stick shift" because you shift it when you go over 55. Once.

And that's just to help you save gas. (In keeping with a grand old Volkswagen tradition.)

As a matter of fact, this Volkswagen still gives you 25 miles to the gallon. It still takes only an occasional can of oil. And it still won't go near water or antifreeze.

If it were anything but a Volkswagen, you'd probably pay dearly for all this luxury.

Instead, a Volkswagen with an automatic stick shift costs a mere $1884*

All of which reinforces what we've been saying for 20 years.

Looks aren't everything.

VOLUME 92. OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, MD., DECEMBER 12, 1968 PER COPY 10c NUMBER 41.

Time For Review . . . .

The disappointing deer season for many hunters of the state has brought forth an avalanche of protests. Whether these protests are warranted is a matter to be determined, but perhaps this is the time for an intensive review of the matter.

Of course the hunting pressure has dropped considerably. Apparently there are plenty of deer in almost every county in the state, making it unnecessary for hunters to come to Western Maryland to satisfy their hunting desires. This naturally makes it bad economically for this area, because hunters used to come here by the hundreds and prepare to spend several days. Now it's mostly a one-day affair for hunters from other sections and they don't need board and room.

There has been much beefing about the law passed at the last session of the legislature requiring an outlay of $5.50 for an extra deer stamp in order to hunt, in addition to the regular hunting license. Many hunters are wondering why and insist it provides a good climate for persons to break the law, as if there were not already enough people who disregard regular laws and hunt regularly out of season.

Many hunters complained they saw no deer, buck or doe, leading them to wonder how much damage was caused by the doe season of previous years and the

Four Listed On Criminal Docket

Four cases were listed on the criminal docket of Oakland Magistrate, Robert M. Maroney during the week. Trial was held Monday, Dec. 6, where four of the five cases heard pertained to the Maryland game violations.

An Accident man, Lyverl R. Snyder, forfeited collateral in the amount of $10 and costs for a charge of carrying a loaded gun in his vehicle.

Edison R. Durst, Accident, forfeited $10 and costs on a charge of hunting without a license, and forfeited $20 and costs on a charge of hunting without a big game license stamp.

Report of State Comptroller Lists Data on County

Maryland State Comptroller, Louis Goldstein recently released the twenty-first annual report of the retail sales tax division for the year ending June 30, 1968. Listed below are some of the figures pertaining to Garrett County.

Garrett County received $77,625.10 from one half the total state tobacco tax revenue. The State's total receipts amounted to $25,192,147.00, of which the state is entitled to one-half. The other 50 percent is divided among the 23 counties and Baltimore City on the basis of population.

Retail sales and use taxes amounted to $423,916.20, which, plus $72 in license fees and minus $119.21 in refunds, allowed a balance of $423,868.99 in the general fund. That was 29 percent of total collections. On an average this is $74.75 for each of the 5,671 county returns. Average in 1967 was $70.43.

The following is a breakdown of the sales and tax collections, listing first 1968's collections then figures for 1967, and lastly, the percent of increase or decrease* over 1967.

Two Plead Guilty To Breaking and Entering Station

Two Kitzmiller young men, Kenneth Leurain Stalnaker, 18, and John W. True, 19, entered pleas of guilty this morning in Trial Magistrate Robert M. Maroney's office in Oakland to a charge of breaking and entering the Ross Service station at Kitzmiller and the Kitzmiller Elementary school on or about December 10.

They admitted stealing $80 from the Service station and a case of soda pop and radio from the school.

Both were sentenced to one year under the supervision of the Commissioner of Correction on each of two charges, but the sentences were suspended upon condition they remain of good behavior and enter the service. Officials said that the two were preparing to enter the service this week and had sought some funds for this purpose.

20-In. Snowfall Covers Area

Light And Fluffy Covering Falls In Period Of Two Days

Garrett County was completely buried under a twenty-inch snowfall which occurred Sunday and Monday, but fortunately the winds were moderate and there was school as usual on Monday morning.

The heavy snowfall was confined mostly to the mountain top with much lesser amounts in the lowlands and practically no snow either at Keyser, Cumberland or Morgantown, in the surrounding area.

Both state roads and county roads crews were kept busy in keeping the highways open to traffic. The snow was light and there was only minor drifting which made it possible for highways to remain open and schools to function normally.

The Oakland State Roads commission office noted 18 inches by Monday morning and an additional two inches during the day. The snow emergency plan went into effect Sunday but driving conditions continued to remain fair and the emergency plan was lifted Monday evening.

U. S. routes 40 and 50 were 25 percent bare with other roads covered during Monday but this was changed on Tuesday with skies partially clearing.

The temperature however took a big drop Monday night with a nine below zero being recorded in Oakland on Tuesday morning. The temperature never got above 16 all day.

The official low for Monday night was 10 below zero with 17 and one-half inches of snowfall or .29 percent precipitation, according to statistics compiled at the local weather station at Webers.

Throughout the area the following was noted: LaVale had about an inch, Cumberland just a trace, mountains to the east had three inches; Washington County and the rest of the state had only flurries; Mineral County had four inches, Grant County three to ten; Tucker 12 to 14 inches; Pendleton, eight inches; Preston 12 inches, and Randolph 10 to 15.

Snow flurries began early last Wednesday afternoon with 27 degree readings. By Thursday at 10 a. m., accumulations of 2 or more inches of snow had covered the Oakland area. Cold weather and snow continued to fall throughout the day Friday.

A warming trend was forecast for the balance of the week.

The steadily falling snow eased up a little on Saturday but low temperature readings prevailed. Sunday brought the snow once again which accounted for the heavy snowcover in

Seminar Is Held About Alcoholism

The Garrett County Mental Health Clinic sponsored a seminar on Alcoholism on Wednesday, Dec. 4th. Approximately 50 representatives of Health and social agencies in Garrett and Allegany Counties attended the meeting, which was held at Will O' the Wisp, Deep Creek Lake.

Dr. Maxwell N. Weisman, Director of the Division of Alcoholism Control of the Maryland Division of Mental Hygiene, spoke on "The Physiological, Psychological, and Social Aspects of Alcoholism". Other speakers were Mrs. Gertrude L. Nilsson, Coordinator of Services to Alcoholics for the Division of Mental Hygiene, and Willard O. Foster Jr., Consultant on Industrial Programs, also with the Division of Mental Hygiene. There was, in addition, a panel presentation on local alcoholism programs with representatives of the Allegany County chapters of Alcoholics Anonymous and Al-Anon and the Garrett County Health Department.

The consultants from the Division of Mental Hygiene and from Alcoholics Anonymous and Al-Anon are available to help set up a program in Garrett County to implement the new state legislation which stipulates that alcoholics must not be jailed for public drunkenness but must receive medical treatment, it was stated by Dr. Weisman.

Man Is Beaten, Robbed Last Week

Pierce Glotfelty, a twenty-four year veteran of the armed forces, who retired early this year, was beaten and robbed some time last Tuesday and left unconscious in the city parking lot just off Second street, Oakland. Police investigation has revealed no definite suspects as to who were involved.

The man was treated first by a local physician, then sent to Garrett County Memorial hospital and last Friday was taken to the Veterans' hospital at Aspinwall, Pa., near Pittsburgh.

The man evidently was kicked in the face repeatedly, sustaining crushed cheek bones, a broken nose and possible broken jaws. Glotfelty told a relative that when he regained consciousness at one time he saw someone's foot near his face, but he lost unsciousness again. When he regained consciousness he went to his home and went to bed.

He resides with a brother, Don Glotfelty, Old Deer Park road, and since February, has been employed at the Glotfelty Restaurant, Second street, Oakland.

Aiken Heads Strip Mine Advisory Unit

Delegate Benjamin O. Aiken of Accident, sponsor of the 1967 strip mine law, was named chairman of a new advisory committee to draw up recommendations for changes in the law during a conference Friday night in Annapolis.

Conflicts between state government departments over administration of the 1967 law and the law ieself were made public at a session of the Legislative council committee on natural resources.

Among recommendations presented by Spencer T. Ellis, director of the Department of Forests and Parks, was one urging a larger Bureau of Mines staff or transferring sediment and acid drainage control to the Department of Water Resources. Ellis said his recommendations were agreed upon by his department and the Department of Water Resources, Game and Inland Fish and the Maryland Geological Survey.

The result of Ellis' recommendations was that the members of those departments felt the Bureau of Mines was not protecting Maryland's interests. Another recommendation was transfer of mine reclamation and revegetation to the Department of Forests and Parks.

Del. Aiken told the committee he was dissatisfied with the law and its administration by the Bureau of Mines. Aiken said "strip miners are running roughshod over everybody in the country", despite the law.

He suggested a limit be set on the time a strip mine could be left open. He also urged backfilling be required as mining operations proceeded.

Two Robberies Reported Over Past Week-end

Two robberies were reported in the area over the week-end.

The Carnation Milk Company of Oakland was broken into between Saturday, Dec. 7 and Sunday, Dec. 8, it was discovered by James L. Fitzwater, of Swanton, when he arrived at the plant Monday morning.

Entry was made through the east door of the plant. A filing cabinet was broken into. Thieves apparently used some kind of bar to pry the filing cabinet door open, it was reported by Oakland State Police, who investigated. A small amount of money was taken. The records were not disturbed.

The second robbery occurred at the Post Office in McHenry, between 12:30 p. m. Saturday and 8:20 a. m. Monday. Thieves gained entry by breaking down the front door. Once inside, the thief or thieves entered the mailroom and proceeded to break open the safe. Fifty-nine dollars in cash were taken in assorted bills, mostly one and five dollar bills. Approximately $6000.00 in stamps were left in the safe. Trooper Robert Lashley of the Oakland State Police investigated both robberies.

1st National Bank Declares Dividend

The Board of Directors of The First National Bank of Oakland has declared a cash dividend of eighty cents per share from the earnings of the last six months of 1968, it was announced by George K. Littman, President. This represents a regular dividend of fifty cents per share plus thirty cents extra. This is the same amount declared in June, 1968, making a total of $1.60 per share for the year and compares with $1.50 per share declared during 1967.

In addition to the cash dividend, the stockholders have approved a 25% stock dividend, payable on or about January 10, 1969. Mr. Littman further stated that the Board had authorized a transfer of $100,000 to the surplus account making a total surplus of $750,000, and with the capital stock outstanding, at the present time, of $350,000, will make a total capital and surplus of $1,100,000.

Following the stock dividend, the present stockholders of the bank have been offered new stock of 6,250 shares for which they have the option of subscribing in proportion to the number of shares owned providing their subscriptions are received on or before Dec. 12.

After the sale of the new stock, the capital accounts of the bank will reflect a capital stock of 50,000 shares at $10.00 par for a total of $500,000 and a surplus account of $1,000,000 in addition to undivided profits of approximately $200,000.

Mr. Littman stated that the growth of the bank to $24,000,000 in resources and the increase in its earning capacity, as reflected above, indicates that the bank is more than keeping pace with the growth and progress of Garrett County and the Mountain Top area.

366 Deer Killed In 7-Day Season

Number 175 Less Than Last Year; Fewer Hunters In Woods

Three hundred sixty-six bucks were killed in Garrett County during the seven-day open season, which ended last Saturday evening, according to records compiled at the checking stations. This was 175 less than the 541 bucks reported killed last year.

This is an unofficial record and may change when all records are checked. The total compared to 609 in 1963, 577 in 1962, 620 in 1964. The county's record kill was 804, reached during the 1960 season which was for a complete six-day season. For 1961 and 1962 an extra Saturday was allowed but five years ago the season was extended to nine days. It was reduced to eight days four years ago and was moved to the day after Thanksgiving for the beginning of the season. This year the season was reduced to seven with the extra Saturday allowable following Thanksgiving.

The unofficial kill in the district was reported at 1,103 for the counties of Allegany, Garrett and Washington. This year's season was a day less than a year ago when a total of 1,350 kill were reported.

In addition to Garrett County's 366, Allegany had 463 compared to 584 a year ago; and Washington 274 compared to 228 a year ago.

Town Seeking Title For 543 Acres For Dam

Letters Mailed To Property Owners Offering $101,820 For Acreage

Letters were sent out to property owners around the Broadford Run dam this week, offering stipulated amounts for clear title, preparatory to construction during 1969.

The entire property desired for the multi-purpose dam is 383.7 acres for the dam itself and 160 acres for the buffer zone around it.

The Mayor and Town Council of Oakland, through its attorney, William W. Grant, Jr., has offered $81,459 for the dam properties and $20,361 for the buffer zone properties. The Mayor and Town Council is executive agent for dam 6 for land acquisition.

Mr. Grant said a meeting of property owners was held last week where they were informed of the acquisition plan.

Of the amount involved $38,815, or 47.65 percent will be provided by the Soil Conservation Service; $23,289, or 28.59 percent, by Appalachia funds, with $19,355 or 23.76 percent, by local sources. Of the local amount Mr. Grant said some $8,000 would be provided by the Department of Water Resources, leaving some $11,000 to be provided by the town.

Property owners involved included those of J. A. Jackson, Homer L. Bennett, Charles Burrell, town of Mt. Lake Park, Edward Fitzwater, Irving Wolfe, Mary N. Bennett, Arlington Fries, Francis J. Rice, James T. Gower, Leo Kreyenbuhl, James Gower, Jr., Schmidt Brothers, Troy Smith, Earl Carrick and David Sweitzer, for the dam property, with several of the same ones plus Mary Offutt estate and Francis Sanders for the buffer zone.

Mr. Grant said a meeting also was held with the town councils of Mt. Lake Park and Oakland, concerning the proposed dam. Some 140 acres of the dam and buffer zone would be located in the corporate limits of Mt. Lake Park.

Formal approval of the project is expected at a hearing in Annapolis on January 14 before the Department of Water Resources, Mr. Grant added.

Purpose of the dam is for flood control, Municipal water supply and recreation. It was anticipated that construction of the dam would begin in 1969. Design of the dam was prepared by the Soil Conservation Service which will provide 500,000 gallons daily for municipal water supply. Mr. Grant said the dam when full would provide 150 days of water supplying 500,000 gallons daily. Those concerned with the project were hopeful they would be able to advertise for bids by this spring with construction to be completed by the summer of 1969.

Local sponsors of the dam include among others, the Mayor and Town Council of Oakland
